The Grand Division of Sons of Temperance held its quarterly meeting in Milford on the 26th ult. During the afternoon session a resolution was passed requesting every clergymen in the State to preach upon the subject of temperance on the first Sabbath in March.

On the night of the 28th ult., two churn peddlers put up at the house of Wm. Moore of Hebron, leaving the next morning. Before the 31st ult., Mr. M. missed a pocket-book containing a considerable sum in twenty dollar bills. On Monday one of the men, named Boynton, went to Bristol, and purchased a watch, paying for it in twenty dollar bills. He then tried to buy other goods, offering bills of the same value. Suspicion being excited, he said the money had come to him by express, which proved not to be the case. Boynton was arrested and carried to Haverhill jail, after an examination.

At the present term of Dartmouth College there are four hundred and twenty-nine pupils.

Mrs. Jabez Holmes (nee Miss Anna Buck of Upton, Mass.) died at Nashua last week, aged 90 years and 11 days. This unusual longevity is nearly matched by that of a brother, Amos Buck, who reached ninety-one years before dying in 1860. Moses Buck, a surviving brother in Upton, is considerably over eighty.

The Cantata of the Hay-makers is to be brought out at Nashua.

The S. J. Court commenced its February term in Dover on Tuesday, Judge Smith presiding.

—By a coincidence, wonderful or otherwise, the State Central Committees of the Democratic and Labor Reform parties happened to meet in Concord, on the same evening, Tuesday last. This happening on purpose was highly appropriate, considering the circumstances. It is understood that the Democratic leaders have concluded to lie low and let Goodale, Robison & Co., go ahead and bag what game they can for them.—Statesman.

—"I am afraid you will come to want," said a lady to her daughter. "Have come to want already," was the reply; "want a nice young man."

South Carolina.—Col. A. K. McClure writes an interesting letter from Columbia, descriptive of the Legislature of South Carolina, from which we make the following extracts:

The Senate Hall designed to echo the eloquence of the Hamptons, the Rhetts, the Hammonds, and other distinguished sons of chivalry, has been fitted up in modest elegance, and eighteen whites and fifteen negroes fill its chairs. As a body, it is but little below some Northern Senates I have seen, in point of intelligence, and among its members are able men of both races.

The most notable negro in the Legislature is Senator Wright. He is a full-blooded negro, of medium size, with a finely chiseled face and a handsomely developed head. He came here with the certificate and seal of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, as an attorney-at-law. His features and form are fairly Caucasian in all save color, and he speaks fluently and forcibly. He is eminent for his integrity, and devotes himself intelligently and earnestly to the advancement of his race and State.

On the right of the Senate chamber sits a tall, gaunt, full-blooded negro, black as midnight, with the regular Southern negro dialect, and the awkward gait of a field hand. He is Senator Nash, the representative of the Capitol District, and successor to Wade Hampton. He is quite intelligent, although entirely uneducated, and was, in olden times, the best hotel porter in Columbia. Senator Cain sits near the centre aisle, and boasts of no discount on his African blood. He is a tolerable debater, and an ardent preacher of the Methodist persuasion. A little in front of him sits Senator Swails, a light quadroon, and a hasty graduate of the country free-schools of the Cumberland Valley. He is doubtless remembered by many of the citizens of Chambersburg. He writes a beautiful hand, and speaks quite intelligently.

The hour of noon is indicated by the plain mahogany circular clock above the door, and the Senate is called to order. A very plain, jet black, white chokered man stepped up on the Speaker's stand, and called the Senators to their devotions. A more simple, beautiful and appropriate prayer I have never heard than Chaplain Adams offered for his dubious flock, and stricken Commonwealth.

The House is composed of nearly two-thirds negroes who were once slaves, and every possible shade is to be found.

Temperance Laws Eighty Years Ago.—The following statute, which is condensed from the original, was passed by the New Hampshire Legislature at the annual session in 1792, which was held that year at Dover, Josiah Bartlett being Governor. It will be seen that our ancestors had very different ideas on the subject of temperance from those entertained to-day.

An Act to Encourage the Manufacture of Malt Liquors.—Whereas, the manufacture of malt liquors in this State, will tend to promote agriculture, diminish the use of ardent spirits, and preserve the morals and health of the people: Therefore, be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, that if any person or persons shall hereafter within this State erect, or if already erected shall continue, any building or other works for the manufacture of malt and malt liquors, or if any person or persons shall hereafter erect, or having already erected shall continue, any buildings or other works for brewing malt liquors,—such works shall be exempted from all taxes; and the owners of such works shall also have an abatement in their taxes of as many poll taxes as such works, in the opinion of the selectmen of the town where such works are erected, shall usually employ of workmen or apprentices liable to pay poll taxes.

This act was to continue in force ten years.

Musical.—Rev. Luther Keene's church in Franklin, Mass., have taken a step in the right direction in the matter of singing. A general praise meeting was appointed for last Friday evening in place of the regular prayer-meeting: other congregations were invited to join, and the old church was well filled, at least 500 being present. Prof. Tourjee was engaged to address the meeting and lead them in praise. His lecture, which occupied an hour, brought home to the mind, and heart too, just the instructions and stimulus needed. He showed the place and power of praise in worship, and earnestly recommended Congregational singing, to be led and sustained by a well-trained choir.

His lecture was listened to with intense interest, after which, a half hour was spent in genuine Congregational singing; and a praise meeting of half an hour is for the present to precede the regular weekly prayer-meeting. New voices have already been added to the choir, weekly rehearsals appointed, a change of books decided upon, and best of all, a deeper conviction produced that praise is not an appendage to worship, but one of its most vital parts.—Recorder.

Gen. Fitz John Porter is making fresh efforts to be restored to his place and rank in the army. It would be an unpardonable weakness on the part of the government to pardon the weakness and treason of a public servant in the face of the enemy at the most trying hour of the rebellion. The Democratic party is staunchly loyal to its record in its persistent sympathy for Gen. Porter, but men loyal to the country in her hour of peril can ill afford to brook the insult which his restoration would be to them. Treason is not a crime to be forgiven. Had Porter received the justice of the profession of arms, as understood and practiced throughout the civilized world, he would not have been alive to-day to implore pardon.—Charlestown Advertiser.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"
SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB
SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest Brown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild in color and in weight, that a large one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY
CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior in the market. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS
HAVE BEEN IN GENERAL USE for the United States for over 110 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.
If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.

The Chronicle.

A CHINESE WEDDING.—As anything in the way of matrimony is always more or less interesting to ladies, it may not be amiss to incorporate in a fashion article a description of a Chinese wedding which came off recently at Grass Valley, California.

Tin Ti made his appearance at the church first and alone. It is not hightoned among the Chinese for the bride and groom to be present together at the marriage ceremony. He was dressed in a dove-colored blouse, knee breeches, blue stockings, fancy shoes and embroidered skull cap. Tin Ti having departed from the church, the bride came up in gorgeous toggery, having her hair set up in a ridge across the middle of her head, from front to back, with paste and large gilded pins, some six inches high, 'allee same rooster's head,' as an irreverent Chinaman spectator remarked. Below her head she wore a frock, which hung loosely from her shoulders, and was made of fine silk. This was looped up under her left arm to one dollar's worth of gold buttons.

The bottom of this rig was about a foot from the ground, and below it were white stockings and fancy shoes, with soles three inches thick. It was manifest to witness that she was agitated, and that her nerves were anything but steady. One American present thought she was agitated because it might not agree with her health to be made an honest woman so suddenly. Another said she was as pretty as a 'spotted pup' in her diffidence. She was, in spite of all remarks, put through in shape, according to the notion Mr. Wan Lee and Joshes have of the marriage ceremony, and then she was turned loose to find the balance of herself."

From "Beauties and Celebrities of the Nation."

At a levee where Miss Benton and the daughter of General Scott attracted much attention, the lovely Miss Woodbury of New Hampshire was surrounded by satellites. She was called "the most beautiful lady that graced the east room." Another report styles her the belle of the city, to whom "the palm is always given;" "very handsome and very popular, dancing well," and charming in conversation.

At Newport and other summer resorts she was the reigning belle and the star of admiration, and always surrounded by a host of admirers. Her captivating style of beauty was always dwelt on with rapture. On one occasion her rich dress was described as corn-colored silk covered with lace, with a splendid necklace and six large bouquets which had been presented. "Bright and beautiful" ever, her presence was the ornament of every assembly. "A face so refined and sweet, a person so sylph-like, could only exist in harmony with a lovely soul."

Her appearance as "Queen of the Gypsies," at a fancy ball in Washington, in a picturesque dress, dispensing fortunes to her numerous admirers, created a great sensation. One observer wrote: "As for her grace, we have seen a whole battalion of admirers surrender their senses at witnessing her movements in the waltz and polka."

Dear Sir:—Having positive proof that you are rapidly approaching death's gate, I have therefore thought it not imprudent to call your attention to the enclosed advertisement to my abundant stock of ready-made coffins, and desire to make the suggestion that you signify to your friends a wish for the purchase of your burial outfit at my establishment.

—In ye year of our Lord 1770 ye following law was repealed in merrie old England. What a pity it is not in force to-day!—"Whosoever shall entice into bonds of matrimony any male subject of Her Majesty's, by means of rouge, white paint, Spanish cotton, steel corsets, crinoline, high-heeled shoes, false hips [or false palpitators?], shall be prosecuted for witch-craft, and the marriage declared null and void."

—This is the latest explanation of the phrase, Nine tailors make a man: In the olden time the strokes of the passing bell were "teller," and as nine strokes indicated the death of a man, while three announced that of a child, and six that of a woman, the words "nine tellers" were easily perverted into nine tailors.

—Measures for a return to specie payments should be the first in order in all financial schemes. After that shall be accomplished, the funding of the debt at a lower rate of interest could be attempted with a good prospect of success.—Advertiser.

—Doubtful—that a lady on putting on her corset is like a man who drinks to drown his grief—because in so-lacing herself she is getting tight. Is it not rather the corset than the lady that gets "on a bust?"

—A prominent citizen of Adrian, Mich., lost his pocket-book, containing $3,500. When the finder, a young man, returned it to him, the overjoyed citizen offered the young man a cigar for his trouble.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on Patent Applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The reported attempt to assassinate Prince Arthur in New York was a hum.

Official advices from Mexico show that the Juarez administration is becoming very unpopular, and that a general revolution is at hand, which may result in the annexation of the Republic.

Arthur is snow bound.

The President has nominated his father, Jesse R. Grant, to be Postmaster at Covington, Ky.

PARIS has had another sensation. Rochefort was arrested as he was on the point of entering a political meeting in Rue de Flandre, running from Belleville to La Vielette. He made no resistance, but soon after immense crowds of his partizans began to barricade the streets, confiscating omnibuses and other vehicles for that purpose. Several barricades were taken possession of by the police without trouble, but at the Rue du Faubourg du Temple they were repulsed. One of the commissaries was dangerously wounded and one policeman killed. The excitement spread thoughout the city. The troops were ready for a conflict and 300 rioters have been arrested.

The disturbances were renewed on Wednesday. More barricades were erected and there were desperate fights with the police.

SAN FRANCISCO BAY VIEWS, No. 3.—This view we will take from Rincon Hill, towards the point near the St. Mary's Hospital. Immediately below, the Pacific Mail Co.'s extensive wharves and warehouses spread out before us, and we see the monster steamers lying at their berths, taking cargo for Panama, or Japan and China. The steamship Japan has just arrived, having on board three hundred Chinamen and two hundred and fifty Chinese women, and this makes quite a din and confusion of tongues; there is great excitement amongst that race when a steamer arrives.

The custom-house officers do a good business on such days. For instance, the inspectors are now examining five suspicious looking baskets, containing stones not unlike granite. The officer hesitates, but a tap from his hammer exposes a concealed opening, and the result is some seventy-five pounds of opium seized. Other searches reveal as much more; so John Chinaman don't make much in smuggling this drug, as our experts are getting too sharp for them.

We look down to the left, toward the point where may be seen the U. S. Marine Hospital. This building is four stories high and some two hundred feet long, and is quite a conspicuous object in this part of the city. The St. Mary's is nearer the summit of the hill, is 75 by 123 feet on the ground, and four stories high; cost $100,000, and is only partially completed in size,—when done will be near 250 feet in length.

A little further down are located the large coal yards; and beyond these, at the Folsom Street wharf, are the North Pacific Transportation Co.'s steamers,—the Montana, destination Portland, Oregon; the Continental, for Mexican ports; and for Honolulu, the Idaho. The wharves along this part of the city front afford accommodation to vessels of the largest size. Much of the lumber from Mendocino, Port Orford, Puget Sound and other places, is piled upon the piers on Stuart Street, at the foot of Beale Street, and still further beyond at the foot of Third and Fourth Streets.

Near by are saw-mills, planing mills, sash, door and blind factories, — all driven by steam; and the whiz and hum of their machinery denotes that they are not idle. In this part of the city, near the water, are located iron and brass foundries, machine shops, glass cutting and staining shops, and the shot-tower where shot and lead-pipe are turned out to the trade. The gas works occupy several parts of blocks with their various buildings and gasometers. On Kings Street a linseed-oil mill is now turning out the pure oil of flax seed and of the castor bean.

The bay here curves around into the mouth of Mission Creek, which at this point is more than a mile in width; and as the water is shallow, a bridge has been built, connecting Potrero Point and the end of Fourth Street. The South San Francisco & Bay View horse cars pass over this bridge, and the company have made an extensive cut through the hill at the end of this bridge, and built another one of equal length, from the rope-walk to South San Francisco.

Mission Rock is about half a mile out in the bay from the foot of Third Street, and many who cannot catch fish from off the bridges, seek this spot to find them. Sailboats are plenty around South Beach wharves, and the yachts and shell regatta boats sport in this part of the bay. There is a good stretch for them here. From Third St. wharf to Hunter's Point and back is about ten miles; from the same starting point to North's shipyard and back is about six miles; and this is the most common water course for the shell racers.

About the center of the long bridge is a wharf, having a cattle pen where "beef on the foot" is landed; as the cattle are so wild and full of fire, they are not allowed in the city, but are driven over to the Potrero slaughter-houses and there prepared for the market. At the end of the bridge numerous small craft are built, consisting of ferry boats river steamers, barges and sloops.

Looking up the Creek we see the steam "paddy-cars" unloading sand on the flats at the foot of Sixth and Seventh Streets,—they have graded up much of these once useless flats, and made it ready for the use of this rapidly growing city. Near the water, between Fifth and Sixth Streets, is the French Hospital, 100 feet square and two stories high; and two blocks this side is the German Hospital. Beyond Sixth St., on Brannon, is seen the gold and silver refinery, with its tall chimneys; and near by are the acid works. A block further on is "Butcher Town," then tanneries, distilleries, &c.

To the south the Potrero Hills rise to such a height we can see no further. On the hill sides the industrious poor have built many nice little homesteads, and in their vicinity a soap factory is in operation. Near the water and just above the long bridge, is the Pacific Match Factory, turning out 100 gross of Lucifers a day. The wind is blowing freshly, and has chased away all the fog which frequents the bay during the fall and winter months. In the absence of that article, old Sol comes out with his Sunday clothes on, and that is enough for the vapors to "dry up," his away to the clouds, and sail off in the upper currents towards the north pole. The atmosphere is bright and clear, and far down the bay the Coast Range looms hugely up till lost in perspective. We see Alameda County stretching down to the Livermore Pass,—a gap made by Dame Nature, for the western Pacific Railroad to pass through into the San Joaquin, the pride of all our golden valleys.

THE MORMON WOMEN at Salt Lake City have held a mass meeting, to protest against the passage of Mr. Cullom's Anti-polygamy bill, introduced in the House of Representatives a few weeks ago. This circumstance is cited as a singular exception to the prevailing "Women's Right" movement. One of the speakers at this Salt Lake indignation meeting is reported to have said, "I am thankful that I have the privilege of being one of the recipients of one of the greatest principles ever revealed to man for his redemption and exaltation, —namely, plurality of wife." The remarks of all the speakers at this singular Woman's Convention were all to the same point.

Harriet Cook Young wanted "the world to know that the women of Utah prefer virtue to vice, and the home of an honorable wife to the gilded pageantry of fashionable temples of sin." Mrs. King declared that the women would not "turn traitors to their husbands, their brothers and their sons." Mrs. Phœbe Woodruff, who has been a Mormon for thirty-six years, said they were "sealed to their husbands for time and for eternity," and would not submit to such an outrage upon their religion as was proposed in Cullom's bill. Mrs. Pratt was "willing to let her blood be shed" for her husband. Mrs. Snow, whose grandfather was a revolutionary soldier, considered that the women of Utah have greater and higher privileges than any other females on the face of the earth.

There is said to be very little doubt that the House will pass a bill abolishing polygamy in Utah, and directing the President to use the army to execute it; but the Senate is inclined to wait for a few years longer, and see if civilization and the Pacific Railroad won't accomplish the reform. This, we think, it scarcely admits a doubt, will prove to be the wiser course.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact, usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been suspended by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy, and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart, is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of medicinal tonics and invigorants.

Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefited any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

Holloway's Ointment.—The cold of winter is apt to aggravate the condition of open sores and great care is necessary to keep the frost from affecting them unfavorably. The invigorating properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, by giving tone to the surrounding parts, keep up a healthy circulation in them and thus prevent the torpor which a chilly atmosphere would otherwise engender in the tender and diseased flesh, thereby interrupting the healing process that nature is always struggling to accomplish. Sold by all Druggists.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WCOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last we should see of him.

But I know my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S LIVER AND STOMACH LOZENGE

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than One thousand experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

NOTICE.—CIRCULARS AND SHOW CARDS sent to dealers free of expense.

If your druggist has not these Lozenges on hand, write to the Proprietors, enclosing 50 cents, and a box will be sent free of postage.

Phillips Exeter Academy—J. F. Shores Jr.

☞ Messrs. Edward E. McIntire and Wm. Haddock found James Stone, a one-armed man, lying buried in the snow, on Islington St., during the storm of Tuesday evening. James might have been a Stone dead before morning, had not Mr. McIntire discovered him in season to conduct him to Market Square, where the police took charge of him. Stone was drunk clean through, and probably mistook the snow for a comfortable bed of down on which he reposed. A brother of Mr. McIntire rescued a man in the same predicament at Biddeford last year—who afterwards died of exposure.

The City Marshal states that he warned Stone to leave town on Tuesday, and that S. was about the city begging for food, and offering, afterwards, to sell what was given him, for money to buy liquor with. He lost an arm by an accident on the Eastern Railroad. The Marshal gives him a first class character for worthlessness and general shiftlessness.

THE SNOW STORM of Tuesday night was a severe one, the wind blowing furiously. The City Marshal found it necessary to put on an extra force of policemen, and the entire force were about the streets through the night for the purpose of assisting bewildered people through the drifts.

The last train from Boston, due here at 7 o'clock, P. M., arrived Wednesday at 2.30. The morning train from Boston arrived here on Wednesday, one hour late. The train from Concord, Tuesday evening, was an hour late, and the Wednesday morning train arrived on time. The up train on the same road which left here at 4.40, Tuesday afternoon, arrived in Concord at 10 o'clock.

The train from Portland was about an hour late, Tuesday evening, but the Wednesday morning train was nearly on time.

The roof of a large new barn at Kittery, owned by Mr. Ephraim Spinney, was blown away during the storm.

☞ Timothy G. Senter, Esq., an esteemed school teacher, formerly of this city, who is held in kindly remembrance by hundreds of his former scholars, and has of late years been the principal of Dean Academy, at Franklin, Mass., was made the recipient of two beautiful chromos, in heavy gilt frames, recently. They were the gift of the pupils of the school, who took this method of testifying their love and respect for Mr. Senter on the anniversary of his birthday.

☞ The bald-headed Eagle who makes Pierce's Island his head-quarters has been off on a brief pleasure tour and returned on Wednesday accompanied by a small friend of the same variety of bird. Old bald-head is a sagacious fellow; he watches the gulls until one of them catches a fish, then goes for the gull, who drops his prey in terror. The bald-head then swoops down and seizes the fish before it falls to the water. Long life and a happy old age to him.

SAD.—Another daughter of Mr. Peter Collins, about 9 years of age, died on Wednesday, of scarlatina. This is the third child he has lost within four days, and his three other children are dangerously ill with the same disease.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to receive a call from Br. J. F. McGregor of the Portland Sunday Advertiser, on Wednesday. We judge that Br. McGregor is as independent as his paper is.

☞ We hear that the Navy Yard workmen lately discharged will resume work next Monday, but cannot vouch for the truth of the statement.

☞ The system of smuggling through the mails, which has been carried on for some time, was brought to light in the Chicago post office two weeks ago, and since that time quite a number of books and articles manufactured in Europe have been seized by the Custom House officers. It is impossible to estimate the value of the articles smuggled, but it must be considerable, as within the last ten days over $1000 worth of smuggled goods have been seized. They consist of books, laces, furs, &c. They arrived done up in ordinary newspaper wrappers, with the necessary postage stamps.

Had they not been so frequently sent to one address, suspicion would not have been excited. Several packages were addressed to H. Brotherton, Freeport, Illinois. They were seized and found to contain ermine furs, lace collars and other lace. H. Brotherton was discovered to be Mrs. Brotherton, a milliner. She acknowledged to having smuggled $5000 worth of goods. A member of the Chicago Board of Education was also detected in smuggling books. Twelve dozen hymn books, addressed to Brigham Young, Salt Lake, have also been seized.

☞ The Manchester Union Democrat has an editorial headed "An Audacious swindle,"—in which it states that it copied the labor reform platform of Massachusetts, and said "if the time should ever come when the Democratic party ceased to hold and avow the faith there expressed then we should be a Labor Reformer."—It is easy enough for the Democratic party to profess and avow great friendship for the laborer—for the sake of getting his vote—but it has not done much for him, except in trying to uphold slavery, and to encourage the rebels. If the laborer approves that let him vote against his own interest, or any side issue he pleases,—or make his bed in the copperhead nest. If not let him vote with the party of freedom and equality.

☞ The Democratic legislature of California, having repealed the laws which respect the Sabbath, theaters, shows of all sorts, and drunken carnivals are in full blast in the large places on Sunday, much to the annoyance of order-loving citizens, but to the great joy of the scamps whom the vigilance committee of a few years ago left unhung.

☞ The letter we publish this morning, from Virginia, is written by a lady of Rochester, N. H., (but not for publication,) and is worthy of all acceptation and belief, and may well induce action of the charitable in this city and elsewhere, in the direction indicated. The writer, as is evident, is engaged in teaching Freedmen at Black Walnut, Va.

A KITE TAIL OPERATION.—The Democrats of Strafford County will support the nominees of the Labor Reform faction, making no nominations for county officers. It isn't difficult to perceive who runs the new (fourth) party.

UNION INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS.

IN THE CITY OF BOSTON,

AT 238 WASHINGTON STREET,

Pays its Depositors Six Per Cent. Interest.

Deposits made before the second Wednesday of February, 1870, will go on interest at the time of Deposit.

Deposits, $2,876,717.43.

The statement for October exhibits a surplus of earnings upwards of eighty-five thousand dollars after paying all its regular Dividends to that date.

On the second Wednesday of November next, and semi-annually thereafter, there will be declared a Dividend at the rate of Six per cent. per annum, and Extra Dividend of earnings will be payable at the same time.

This plan is a decided advantage to Depositors, inasmuch as it enables them to receive all the earnings of their money every six months, instead of waiting five years, as is now the rule in many Savings Institutions. These dividends are free of Government and State Tax. ja27d3w

Morning Chronicle.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Monday, Mr. Fenton of New York introduced a bill to provide additional commercial and postal facilities in the port of New York, which was referred to the committee on post-offices and post-roads. It incorporates Marshall O. Roberts, O. Vandenburg, John J. Blair, Dudley Field and John D. Sherwood and associates, as a company to construct a submerged tunnel tube or covered way, from New York city to the New Jersey shore opposite, to be used for railway purposes, and all railway companies are to have the use of said tunnel on equal terms. In case of disagreement with the holders of property needed for approaches, &c., the United States district courts shall appoint commissioners to appraise value and damages.

In the House, the following bills were introduced and referred:—

By Mr. Morrill of Maine—To aid the construction of sea-going vessels (steamboats and ships), by allowing a drawback of duties on materials of 90 per cent. on home productions, and 85 per cent. on foreign productions.

By Mr. Ela of New Hampshire—To regulate the rank of naval constructors and civil engineers in the navy.

By Mr. Scofield of Pennsylvania—To exempt from the operation of the law abolishing the franking privilege the circulation of weekly newspapers within the the counties where they are published.

By Mr. Getz of Pennsylvania—To allow newspapers and periodicals published within the United States to be transmitted through the mails free of postage when sent from the office of publication to actual and regular subscribers.

Mr. Marshall of Illinois offered a resolve providing that in the preparation f the bill for a modification of the existing tariff laws, Congress should confine its action strictly to the preparation of a tariff for revenue exclusively, and that duties on no article should be greater than that which could give the maximum on such articles. Laid on the table by a vote of 89 to 77.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table—91 to 80.

Mr. Bingham of Ohio introduced a bill amendatory of the laws relating to the rates of postage, making letter postage two cents, and one cent for every additional half ounce or fraction thereof; making postage on newspapers or periodicals issued daily, weekly or monthly, or at other stated periods, one cent when not exceeding four ounces in weight, and one cent for every additional ounce or fraction thereof. Papers circulating in the State or Territory where published, or within one hundred miles of the place of publication, to be exempt from postage, and exchanges between publishers to be free. Postage on drop letters and musical circulars to be one cent, and one cent for each additional half ounce or fraction thereof. Manuscripts intended for publication, not exceeding two ounces in weight, to be three cents postage and one cent for every additional ounce. The second section makes it the duty of the Postmaster-General to establish a uniform and moderate box rental.

Mr. Orth of Indiana offered a resolution calling on the President for the correspondence with the Spanish government and the American minister at Madrid in relation to Cuban affairs, with such information as may be in his possession as to the present position of the struggle for independence in that Island. Adopted.

Mr. Sargent of California, from the committee on appropriations, reported an Indian appropriation bill, and explained it. It appropriates $3,088,930, against $6,220,781 for last year. The amount estimated for was $5,048,834, being $1,954,404 more than the amount appropriated.

In the Senate, Tuesday, Mr. Morrill of Maine, from the committee on appropriations, reported with amendments the House bill to supply deficiencies in the naval appropriations by increasing the appropriation for the Bureau of Steam Engineering from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and the appropriation for the Bureau of Construction and Repairs from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

In the House, Mr. Logan of Illinois introduced a joint resolution for the payment to the family of the late Secretary of War, Mr. Rawlins, of one year's salary, less the amount paid to him as salary before his death. Passed.

BLACK WALNUT, HALIFAX CO., VA., January 31.

* * Our school is so large that there is but little leisure—commencing at 9 in the morning, closing at 2, P. M. Dinner at three—after a walk of a mile over hill and dale, you may "reckon" one's appetite is pretty sharp. Night school commences at half-past six—closes in two hours. At that time we have men and women who cannot come by day. All are so interested to learn, that if we were not too tired we would willingly hold another. The scholars never seem to lose their interest; never are restless and weary, as we are.

This is really the last day of January, and a most lovely month it has been; birds sing in the morning just as if it were Spring. I cannot realize that the cold season has been, not having seen snow nor ice! Letters from different parts of the country all report a pleasant Winter. Have you had any skating? That is an amusement the young Virginians know nothing about. They do not have such merry times as our people at the North. Their climate makes them languid and of course inactive. I rejoice that fate cast my lot within New England's borders, where slavery never was.

Last evening we had a few young people come in to pass an hour with us, and several gave us their histories. All were born slaves, because their parents were so. Their different accounts were very interesting; some parts were dreadful to hear—the suffering was enough to chill the blood. One had seen men and woman whipped to death, —or they died within a few hours after their master had done flogging them. There is one gentleman (?) quite near us,—a well educated, fine looking white man as you often meet,—very polite to the ladies,—tips his hat very gracefully when he meets us,—who has the name of having killed several of his slaves during the first year of our war. Some he shot down instantly, and others he killed by inches at the whipping post! This is no uncommon thing; I always knew that slavery was a great wrong, but the half was never told me.

After the Emancipation Proclamation, the slave-owners were so angry that they turned their slaves out into the streets, sick and poor together, with nothing to eat or to cover them. Many died from cold and starvation. This is not pleasant to write about, nor pleasant for you to read.

These are my reasons for being thankful that my birth-place was north of the "line." Their cruel system of whipping men and women, and of separating families, made them monsters instead of men; and now, even, one can see its effects upon the people. They are very cruel to their animals, and not very loving to their own families. When their friends die they bury them anywhere on their plantations,—no enclosures, no stones to mark the spot; and the next year it is just as likely to be ploughed as not. I am speaking of the white people.

The freedmen are quite needy for clothing, the women and children particularly. I wish some kind friends would send us a good quantity of good unbleached cotton cloth to make up for under-clothes for women and children. Some of them have nothing on but thin dresses, and you can see through them. My heart aches for them and so would yours. Ask Aunt A——if she cannot solicit from her friends articles of second-hand clothing, which no doubt many house-keepers would gladly get rid of if they only knew what to do with them. * * Anything which is useful at home would be doubly useful here, where there is so much poverty. Men's, women's and children's clothes, —I cannot mention anything that would not be acceptable, in the form of cloth, made or unmade. * * S. J. C.

☞ Rev. Romeo Elton, D. D., died at the Parker House, Boston, Saturday morning, after a very brief illness. He was the founder of two scholarships in Brown University, one of which was called the Protesia Elton Scholarship, in honor of his second wife. He had been married three times, his last wife being Miss Margaret Allen of Gardner, Me., to whom he was married only two months since. He was well known in literary circles, and only last Wednesday read a paper before the New England Historic-Genealogical Society.

☞ Our thanks to Congressman Ela for various documents. We shall shortly publish his Speech made in the House a few days ago.

☞ Last Saturday 342 families and 1565 individuals were furnished with soup at the several Police Stations in Boston.

Josh Billings was obliged to adopt his peculiar style of spelling by the publishers, who declined all his early and correctly-spelled contributions.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"

SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB

SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; It is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 2 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Merschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY

CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS

HAVE BEEN IN GENERAL USE in the United States over 110 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.
If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.

WHEN YOU WERE SEVENTEEN.

When the hay was mown, Mary,
In the years long ago,
And while the western sky was rich
With sunset's rosy glow,
Then hand in hand close-linked we passed,
The dewy ricks between,
And I was one-and twenty, May,
And you were seventeen.

Your voice was low and sweet, Mary;
Your wavy hair was brown;
Your cheek was like the wild, red rose
That showered its petals down;
Your eyes were like the blue speedwell,
With dewy moisture sheen,
When I was one-and-twenty, May,
And you were seventeen.

The Spring was in our hearts, Mary,
And all its hopes were ours;
And we were children in the fields,
Among the opening flowers.
Ay! Life was like a Summer day
Amid the woodlands green,
For I was one-and-twenty, May,
And you were seventeen.

The years have come and gone, Mary,
With sunshine and with shade,
And silvered is the silken hair
That o'er your shoulders strayed
In many a soft and wayward tress—
The fairest ever seen—
When I was one-and-twenty, May,
And you were seventeen.

Though gently changing Time, Mary,
Has touched you in his flight,
Your voice has still the old sweet tone,
Your eye the old love-light;
And years can never, never change
The heart you gave, I ween,
When I was one-and-twenty, May,
And you were seventeen.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, has been ratified by the required number of States. The Legislature of Georgia records decisive majorities in its favor, and thus completes the list of twenty-eight States necessary. Nebraska and Texas are yet to record their votes in its favor; but these, although gratifying, are not necessary. The States which have declared that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; and that the Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation," are:

Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New-Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

As the war of the rebellion was undertaken to establish a Confederacy built upon the foundation of slavery, its failure necessarily established the result that slavery, with all its belongings should utterly fail and disappear. The Amendments to the Constitution have been the legitimate and proper effect of the failure of the rebellion. By the Thirteenth Amendment, slavery is abolished and interdicted; by the Fourteenth, equal civil rights are granted to all colors; and by the Fifteenth, neither the United States nor any State can deny the right of suffrage on account of race, color or previous condition of slavery.

The poor besotted Bourbons of New York, who vainly tried to block the wheels of progress, by voting to rescind, have only rubbed themselves in the dirt for nothing.

BIG CALCULATION.—An up country editor has been figuring for a long time past, if we may judge by the result of his calculation, which he reports as follows:

"The united surface of the sun, the earth, Mercury and all the other planets, is 1,489,887,174,855 square miles. Allowing that only one in ten have gone to hell, and this place is no larger than all those stupendous worlds united, every inch of hell must contain no less than 14,872,000,000,000,000,000,000 human beings."

—General Smith in Congress, while delivering one of the long prosy speeches for which he was noted, said to Henry Clay, "You speak sir, for the present generation, but I speak for posterity." "Yes," replied the great Kentuckian, "and it seems you are resolved to speak till your audience arrives."

—"Shall I help you to some of the tomatusses?" inquired a young exquisite of a venerable physician, as he sat opposite him at a hotel table. "No, sir, I thank you," replied the learned savan; "but I'll trouble you for some of the potatusses, if you please."

—The increase of cattle in the region of Valenciennes, France, in consequence of the culture of beet sugar, is said to have been from 790, before this culture commenced, to 11,500 last year.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the merits of Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

FRIDAY, FEB. 11, 1870.

TAXING THE BONDS.—The leading editor of the Manchester Union, who sees all things through an "Old Virginny" and copperhead medium, finds fault with the Address of the Labor League, on several accounts, the chief of which is that "it does not say one word about the non-taxation of government bonds!"

But why should any body, but a fool, or some demagogue who leads such, ever think or speak of such a thing as taxing Government Bonds? No Government ever yet taxed its own bonds—and no government ever will do so! If we had Voorhees or Vallandigham, or Seymour or Jeff Davis for President, with a Congress to match, it would not be done. Why not? Because these men, however unscrupulous, are not fools.

Neither would these same men, (whatever they may pretend now,) if in power in Washington, suffer the States to tax them? Why? Because that would destroy their value,—and withal destroy the National Credit.

The talk about taxing such Bonds, is mere idle talk among the ignorant, and utterly dishonest in the crafty demagogues who would swindle their ignorant dupes out of their votes by false pretenses.

A uniform income tax, by the U. S., is another thing; and this should include all incomes.

Drops.

President Grant, who, last December, was in favor of continuing the present rate of taxation another year, has experienced a change of mind and is now in favor of a reduction.

Congressman Ela was present at a State dinner at the White House, on Wednesday.

From an official statement, it appears that during the year ending with December the receipts from spirits were nearly $50,000,000; from tobacco, upwards of $29,000,000; from stamps, $15,882,000; from passports through the State Department, $27,000; from salaries, $701,000. The aggregate receipts of the bureau were nearly $174,000,000.

The House committee is engaged in the investigation of the alleged sales of cadetships. One witness positively testified that a member of the House in the last Congress sold a naval appointment for $800. The youth, however, did not pass examination, but the parent lost his money.

Valentine Klein has been arrested in Cincinnati for murdering his child by pouring boiling coffee over it, in revenge on his wife for asking him, when drunk, for money to buy bread with.

The Emperor's troops have captured the barricades in the streets of Paris. All the editors of the Marseillaise have been arrested.

W. G. Blanchard of Boston, agent of the Associated Press, lost the top of a thumb by the sudden closing of a door on it.

An individual claiming to be a woman appears in a New York court and charges a man with having married and deserted her. The man admits the marriage and desertion, but says his wife is one of his own sex. The wife will not admit that this is correct, and there is to be a trial about the matter.

When a man is sentenced to death in France, no date is named for the execution, but he is beheaded forthwith, only sufficient time being granted him to make two appeals.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts introduced a bill to increase the number of judges of the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts of the United States and to establish the boundaries of judicial districts. Referred to the committee on the judiciary. It provides for eleven circuit judges.

Mr. Trumbull from the committee on the judiciary reported a bill with amendments, to change the judicial circuit. It provides that the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States shall be residents of their respective circuits, and vacancies now or hereafter existing in said courts shall be in every case filled by a resident of the circuit.

The House census bill was laid on the table—46 to 8.

In the House, Mr. Covode, Republican, was voted into the seat occupied by Mr. Foster of Pennsylvania—123 to 50.

On motion of Mr. Dawes of Massachusetts, the salary of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate was fixed at $4320, and he is hereafter to receive no fees of any kind.

—The raising of mushrooms is found to be quite lucrative by the fancy gardeners of Boston. They sell readily at a dollar a dozen.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, Feb. 9, 1870.

If all Portsmouth was not in Boston on Monday, a goodly portion of its residents were. The stockholders of the Eastern Railroad must have tested its capacities for transportation pretty thoroughly. As our visitors improved their time by raids through different parts of the city Boston news will be stale with you, and I will devote myself for a moment or two to "Pakeha."

I expressed my fears of an action for libel when some time since I dared to insinuate that I thought there might by some possibility be found a sufficient reason for questioning the soundness of a certain line of argument he had adduced in support of a theory of non-ventilation. By an article in your paper of the 7th I see my fears were groundless, — instead of bringing an action for tort, "Pakeha's" action seems to me to savor more of retort.

It might be easy enough for the aforesaid P. to answer "No," when asked "Are you a Christian?" but as for me, George Washington's hatchet has been brandished over my head too often, in my youthful days, for me to say "No," when I don't know whether that is or is not what I ought to say; and George was the greatest of the Georges, although they didn't have quite so much trouble to bury him (probably because they buried the hatchet with him,) as they have lately had to inter another George, yet I'll not attempt to refute P.'s statement that the question might be embarrassing to him—he knows best. If he intends to place himself in a position to answer such a question readily in the affirmative, I think he had better begin his reorganization at once, as Pope says that "when men grow virtuous in their old age, they only make a sacrifice to God of the devil's leavings;" though to be sure, Popes are not always infallible.

I had fancied that Pakeha was so busy correcting the abuses in the merchant marine, and in settling the quarrel 'twixt line and staff in the navy, that my little pecadillo might escape unnoticed; but since he has mentioned it, I have deemed it prudent to offer the foregoing apology, which I consider amply sufficient for any reasonable man.

On Saturday last, for the third time this season, many of the snow flakes I noticed were beautifully stelliform. Several weeks since, when much colder, every flake I saw fall during the day was a thin flat plate, having six points radiating from a centre, and where a large quantity of flakes were gathered together the appearance was as that of a mass of the most delicate down. On that particular day the stelliform flakes were unusually large and clearly defined to the naked eye. Oliver Optic's Magazine gives the following points to those who wish to study or sketch these delicate crystals.

Expose a thick surface of plate glass on the outer side of the window, resting on the outside sill; the snow flakes falling upon the cold surface of the glass, remain as they fall a sufficient length of time for the requirements of the observer, with the aid of a good microscope. Men of science group the varied forms of the flakes into three general classes: 1. Prismatic, having three or six sides; 2. Pyramidal, either triangular or hexagonal; 3. Lamellar, consisting of thin and flat plates, some of the stelliform, having six points, radiating from a centre. These three classes are endlessly combined, from the simplest to the most complex. It is wonderful to see how perfectly every tiny flake is formed. Dr. Netris, an Englishman, in 1775, represented 91 varieties. Another Englishman, Captain William Scoresby, an eminent navigator, has given, in his "Arctic Regions" drawings of 96 varieties.

Art is national, and I was glad to see in last evening's Journal the following notice of a talented young artist, who is somewhat known in your city, and who is known only to be loved for those qualities which raise the man far above the artist—truth, purity and fidelity. Prophecy is hardly a gift of to-day, and its indulgence has shaken our faith in many a prominent man, but it is safe that no picture will ever leave "Champ's" easel that has not nature for its base, purity for its guide, and conscientiousness for its elaboration:

About three years since a young Bostonian went abroad to study art. At Antwerp he obtained the highest prize in drawing from the antique in the academy, where various branches are taught by professors chosen partly by Government, and where the competitors for honors embrace several nationalities. This young man is now painting in Rome, and has recently sent home two or three small pictures. One has just been sold at Williams & Everett's. Another is still on exhibition there. These works are in the manner of Edward Frere of Paris, with whom he studied for some time, and are but little if any inferior to the best works of that very distinguished artist. He is one of the Champneys—J. W.—and his works are signed "Champ." As one of the volunteers in our late war he served the country faithfully, and now bids fair to honor it as an artist of great eminence in works of sentiment and feeling.

'Tis a year since our streets presented such an aspect of winter as they do to-day. The wind, which roared a mighty diapason through the trees on the Common last night, was powerless to detach the damp snow from their branches, and they are clad in spotless white. Wrecked horse cars are seen in many of our streets, signs are obliterated by a coating of snow, and dingy brick buildings are transformed to white marble by the temporary coating of white mastic which nature has applied with such a rude hand. We were fortunate enough to have most of our ricketty chimney blown down earlier in the season, yet your correspondent narrowly escaped getting a brick in his hat as he passed down Williams Court last evening. A chimney fell from the Sherman House, the bricks striking three men in advance of me, fracturing some bones, but not injuring the parties seriously. M.

☞ The following appointments of cadets at large to the United States Naval Academy were lately made:—

George T. Emmons, son of Commodore Emmons, United States Navy; Henry Jackson Hunt, Jr., son of Brevet Major-General Hunt, United States Army; William Beverly Decatur, son of Captain Stephen Decatur, United States Navy; Augustus C. Macomb, son of Brigadier-General Macomb, United States Army; Theodore N. Wood, son of Chief Engineer Wood, United States Navy; Joseph F. Turner, son of Commodore Peter Turner, United States Navy; J. C. Cauldwell, son of the late Captain Cauldwell, United States Volunteers; Willie G. Clark, son of Colonel Clark, United States Army; Harrington G. K. McGunnegle, son of the late Lieutenant-Commander Gunnegle, United States Navy; Alexander Sharp, Jr., appointed from the District of Columbia.

—The House naval committee, in the matter of the quarrel between the line and staff officers of the navy, has declared by a vote of seven to three against the line officers and the Navy Department. The line insisted that the staff should be treated as a civil institution, while the Department was willing to give the staff assimilated rank. The committee has determined that the staff shall have positive rank just as in the army. The section of the bill relating to medical officers is the only one finished, but the principle has been established, and it will be an easy matter to complete the measure.

It is declared that the medical corps on the active list, shall consist of 10 medical directors with the rank of captain, 15 medical inspectors with the rank of commander, 35 surgeons with the rank of lieutenant commander, and one hundred assistant surgeons with the rank of ensign. Directors, inspectors and surgeons are to have the present pay and emoluments of surgeons. Assistant surgeons of three years' service who pass an examination for promotion are to rank as masters, and after five years' service as lieutenants.

The bill further provides that no promotion to the grade of lieutenant-commander on the active list shall be made until the number is reduced below eighty, which shall thereafter constitute the number of said grade. The number of masters and ensigns in the line is fixed at one hundred in each grade, and ensigns are hereafter to be steerage officers unless assigned to duty as watch and division officers. Representative Stevens of New Hampshire is the author of this bill and the reform it embodies, and he has pushed it wisely and untiringly. Whether it can be carried through the House and Senate remains to be seen.—Advertiser.

☞ The Norwich (Conn.) Advertiser gives an account of a queer "donation party," to a clergyman in North Stonington, Rev. David Avery. They gave him about $150 in money, &c., and then, "a number remained to an unseasonably late hour," indulging in levity, and theft, by which "the house of prayer was made a den of thieves." Rather a novel way of helping the pastor.

SWAMPSCOT MACHINE COMPANY'S STOCK.

AT AUCTION—44 Shares of the Capital Stock of the Swampscot Machine Company, situated in SOUTH NEWMARKET, N. H., will be sold at Public Auction at my office, No. 6 Daniel Street, (up stairs) Portsmouth, on Tuesday, Feb. 15th, at 12 o'clock, Noon.

Said Stock having been pledged as Collateral Security, is sold for breach of contract. This Stock cannot be bought in open market, and this sale presents a rare chance for investment.

JOSEPH P. MORSE, Auctioneer.

Portsmouth, Feb. 7, 1870.

☞ Mrs. Robert Grosnor was severely burned, at Stamford, Conn., in a singular manner. A demijohn of bay rum leaked, saturating a carpet, over which Mrs. G. frequently passed, and some of the fluid adhered to her skirts. In standing near a stove her skirts were easily set on fire, and she chanced to run into the room where the rum was upon the floor, and that also was ignited. A neighbor saved her life by wrapping her in a counterpane, but the lower part of her body was badly burned.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact, usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been suspended by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy, and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart, is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of medicinal tonics and invigorants.

Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

Holloway's Ointment.—The cold of winter is apt to aggravate the condition of open sores and great care is necessary to keep the frost from affecting them unfavorably. The invigorating properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, by giving tone to the surrounding parts, keep up a healthy circulation in them, and thus prevent the torpor which a chilly atmosphere would otherwise engender in the tender and diseased flesh, thereby interrupting the healing process that nature is always struggling to accomplish. Sold by all Druggists.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiruly black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Koscincko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their stores. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Price 50 cts. Sold by the Druggists. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and Alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extracted by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feeler is subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

NOTICE. — CIRCULARS AND SHOW CARDS sent to dealers free of expense.

If your druggist has not these Lozenges on hand, write to the Proprietors, enclosing 50 cents, and a box will be sent free of postage.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements To-Day.

THE CITY CLOCK.—Why don't it strike louder?—This question has had an answer, viz., that the iron arm, which strikes with the hammer, is not long enough. But this, it seems, is not the answer, i. e., it is not correct.

A good mechanic, skilled in such matters, says the hammer is all right; but as the bell is hung in the modern way, almost exactly balanced on the centre of gravity, if there is not special care taken when the bell is rung, to have it exactly plumb at the close of the ringing, it will sway towards one side, even by so small a force as the weight of the rope, or a very slight restraint in the fastening,—and then the hammer touches only a small portion of the bell, making a weak sound;—but when the bell is so left that the tongue hangs exactly plumb, the hammer strikes fairly, and the sound is sufficiently loud.

The Ringers are not generally expected to adjust the bells exactly, and hence the clock striking is less forcible than formerly.

Something like this, also, marks the difference between the Old Bells and the New. Formerly, bells were hung by the crown, in a large wheel,—and rung with a plain rope; now they are hung almost by the centre, in a small wheel, and rung with a tackle. The modern bell is heavier—but the old bell made more noise and was generally heard farther.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday Evening, the Committee on the subject of the tenants of the brick Market, reported in favor of the present occupants being allowed to remain until other responsible applicants shall appear; and that if a change be made, the present incumbents have 90 days' notice to vacate. Adopted.

The Com. on Streets, to whom was referred the petition of A. T. Walker and others for the removal of the street sprinkling tank and pump from the salt-water reservoir at foot of Brewster Street—reported in favor of allowing the same to remain until another location can be provided therefore.

The leading talkers of the Board (Ald. Nowell and Pender) being absent, and no important busiaess appearing—after a half-hour's session, the Board adjourned.

The Com. on Streets last week recommended that the request of the Boards of Engineers, that the city furnish a pair of horses to draw Steamer Dearborn to fires, &c., be granted; and that one horse or a pair be purchased for this purpose. Accepted and laid on table, until the Com. on Fire Dept. shall report respecting the proposed reorganization of the Dept.

Common Council not in session.

—We trust Congressman Dawes will be invited to address the people of this State before the close of the campaign, and that he will be able to accept, if only to make a single speech.—Nashua Telegraph.

We trust that the Republican State Committee will show too much sense to import Dawes to this State, and should he come, our advice to them is to keep him away from this vicinity. The Republicans of Strawberry Bank want no half-way representative of their principles to address them, and would prefer to listen to one who supports the administration through thick and thin, and is not guilty of attempting assassination in the garb of friendship. Why not send Ben. Butler along, friend Moore?

TIN WEDDING.—On Monday evening about 40 friends of Mr. Daniel H. Spinney assembled at his residence on Spinney's Road, carrying tin presents of varied kinds in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of his wedding. As a matter of course, all present had a jolly time. Long may Daniel and his better half enjoy their tin.

☞ A dispatch from Washington, received in this city, Thursday afternoon, announced the passage of the $300,000,000 transfer appropriation bill by the United States Senate—the amount being double that passed by the House. The same dispatch says it will probably pass the House, immediately.

☞ Dr. J. W. Parsons' Lecture before the Mercantile Library Association, will be delivered at their Hall this (Friday) evening, commencing at a quarter to 8 o'clock.

Ellen Sagur, aged 55, who has been employed in the Cocheco Mills, was found frozen to death, on the highway, in Dover, Monday morning. She probably fell in a fit on Sunday evening: some say, caused by drink. A sister, who went to Dover, to attend the funeral, fell, and broke one of her legs.

Rev. Isaac Willey of Pembroke, broke his leg by falling on the ice a short time since.

John C. Tebbetts, Esq., of Hopkinton, has recently given to the State Agricultural College a thorough-bred Morgan stallion, which took the first premium, when a two-year old, at the New England Fair. Hon. Peter Harvey, of Boston, lately gave the college a plough made by Daniel Webster, which was given to Mr. Harvey by the late Col. Fletcher Webster.

John Gillison, a middle aged man, fell dead in the street at Milford on Thursday. He had for some time been addicted to the use of strong drink, and had become so thirsty for stimulants that ordinary liquor failed to give satisfaction, and he introduced ammonia to give it the requisite strength.

Dr. Hezekiah Eldredge, who died at Milford, Jan. 25th, was for thirty-eight years a useful and consistent member of the Congregational church, for the last twelve years a teacher in the Sabbath school, and for three years President of the Hillsborough County Bible Society.

Mr. G. Wiley, of Dover, informs the Enquirer that he was present and witnessed the burning on Friday night last of Foster's large carriage manufactory in West Amesbury. Loss about $35,000, insured for $11,000. Mr. Gale, at much personal risk, saved the books of the concern. Mr. W. says the most of the property might have been saved with a good fire department.

Prof. Dixi Crosby, of Hanover, widely known in his profession, celebrated his seventieth birthday, Feb. 9, at the house of his son, Dr. A. H. Crosby, on Main street. There were present of his brothers, on this pleasant occasion, Hon. Nathan Crosby, of Lowell, Judge of the Police Court; Dr. Josiah Crosby, of Manchester, John Crosby, Esq., of Sandwich, (the native place of these brothers), Prof. Alpheus Crosby, of Salem, and Prof. T. Crosby, of Hanover. The first four mentioned are between seventy and eighty years of age, and are all heathy and vigorous, and actively engaged in business. The others are younger. They have two sisters over seventy years of age, both married to physcians. The father of this family, Dr. Asa Crosby, of Sandwich, one of the earliest physicians in that part of the State, was the father of seventeen children, and of his direct descendants more than a dozen are, or have been, successful practitioners in medicine.—Monitor.

S. J. COURT, Exeter.—On Thursday the jury awarded $1685 damages to Wm. H. Belknap, Register of Deeds for Rockingham County, who was put off a train on the B. & M.R.R., two years ago, because his ticket was dated the day before. At a previous trial Mr. Belknap was awarded $200.

☞ Ladies wishing to attend Mr. Trafton's Bal Masque at Congress Hall on the 22d inst. are requested to call for their tickets immediately, as nearly all have already been taken.

Pays Its Depositors Six Per Cent. Interest.

Deposits made before the second Wednesday of February, 1870, will go on interest at the time of Deposit.

Deposits, $2,876,717.45.

The statement for October exhibits a surplus of earnings upwards of eighty-five thousand dollars after paying all its regular Dividends to that date.

On the second Wednesday of November next, and semi-annually thereafter, there will be declared a Dividend at the rate of Six per cent. per annum, and Extra Dividend of earnings will be payable at the same time.

This plan is a decided advantage to Depositors, inasmuch as it enables them to receive all the earnings of their money every six months, instead of waiting five years, as is now the rule in many Savings Institutions. These dividends are free of Government and State Tax. ja27d3w

THE TRUE POLICY.

SPEECH OF HON. J. H. ELA,

Delivered in the U. S. House of Representatives, Jan. 24, 1870.—Reduction of taxation.—Mr. Chairman, with the closing up of the work of reconstruction comes the demand from the country for such relief as may be practicable from the burdens of taxation imposed upon the people to meet the enormous expenditures caused by the rebellion. The productions of the country are so varied as to make this no easy task, and there is an endless antagonism of interests in regard to the article or interest to be taxed or exempted from taxation. It is, therefore, not at all probable, if it were ever possible, to originate any method of action which would be steadily adhered to; but whatever plan may be adopted will be the constant subject of change and modification.

We are to-day in the position of a nation taxing itself to that extent which stagnates commerce, causes shipping to decline, both by the enhanced cost of building ships and the inability to produce the merchandise, with our high labor and taxed materials, which is needed in the exchanges of commerce.

We may build ships, but we must produce merchandise for export before we can again assume supremacy upon the ocean. Contrary to the generally received idea, we send twice the amount of exports to Great Britain, mainly of cotton and grain, that we receive from her in imports. We import largely of the productions of South America, Africa, and Asia, but are at present unable to supply them with our manufactures in competition with England. The result is, England ships to these regions her manufactures in British bottoms, receives in return a cargo of articles which we consume, brings them into our ports, and having discharged the cargoes can take a freight of cotton or wheat, sooner than go home in ballast, cheaper than it can be done in American vessels. Whenever we can resume exporting our manufactures to those countries whose products we consume we shall hear no more about the decline of American shipping and seeking after the means to restore it.

In order to bring about this desirable condition we must reduce taxation while producing more wealth, and thus relieve the people and enable them to produce manufactures for export which shall take the place of our bonds in the payment for imports. How shall this be done?

Economy.—The first thing is a firm determination to stop every unnecessary expenditure; to stop at once and forever all wasteful grants of lands and subsidies to build railroads into the wilderness, which scatter population so that they cannot be productive, placing them beyond the reach of roads, schools, and civilized society, and causing an immense addition to the cost of the government in sending soldiers to protect them from Indians and marauders, to furnish them with mails, to provide them territorial governments, with its costly machinery, and a force of tax-gatherers where there is little or no revenue.

An examination will show that the expenses of collecting revenue from customs and from internal taxation in sparsely-settled sections of the country, is in excess of the whole amount of the revenue collected, while from the densely-settled parts is derived all the revenue which is paying the debt of the nation as well as the expenses of the government. In the Post-Office Department it will be found the difference is still more marked, much the largest part of the country now paying expenses, while the revenues are derived from a comparatively small section.

The expense is not so much in the franking privilege (which ought to be abolished to save the white paper wasted in useless printing, if nothing more), but in carrying mails over a wide unpopulated wilderness at frightful cost.

Purchase of Foreign Territory.—We must have no more purchase of useless icebergs or tornadoes; enter into no entangling arrangements for lodgments upon foreign territory which will draw after them large naval squadrons and military stations.

The $10,000,000 of currency paid for Alaska is the least objectionable part of the purchase. It draws after it a continually-increasing expense to the government for a military and naval force which has no returning benefits, or next to none.

So of the proposed purchase of St. Thomas, into which Seward also plunged with his corrupting influences, for the sum of $7,500,000 in gold. To complete that purchase involves immense sums for fortifications, for garrisons, for the stores which will become necessary for a useless military and naval station, which would sum up a grand yearly total expenditure equal to half the original purchase. If Denmark has been led on to her damage by Johnson's administration under Seward's lead, it is far better to pay her liberally for all the possible damage than to undertake to complete the purchase. To complete it will be to enter upon a course which puts off indefinitely the payment of our debts—increases the corruption and extravagance and patronage attendant upon the expenditure of such vast sums at a distance—prevents all hope for a further reduction of the army and navy, and provides for the increase of additional officers in each branch of the service; and then, when it is all done, instead of being an element of strength to the nation, it would be another place to defend wholly cut off and isolated from all our resources.

Reduction of interest by exchanging bonds.—We must reduce the interest and taxes which now bear oppressively upon industry, and threaten the suspension of business and the employment of labor. That it can be done I have no doubt. That it will be done before it works the destruction of business and the wreck of fortunes I am not so confident. It will require resolute and determined action to affect it, and such as will be open to criticism and not free from objection.

A funding bill with interest not to exceed four and one half per cent. is what seems to meet the popular desire, from which it is hoped to obtain the means for paying or exchanging our high interest debt, most of which has now become payable. But how is such a loan to be put upon the market at par? Those who propose it say it will be taken in Europe where interest is low. That might be so if our loan was a new one, none of which was to be had there, or none with the same security. But how can you borrow from the capitalist at four and a half per cent. at par when he can buy all he wants of the same securities, paying six per cent., at less than ninety-three cents on a dollar? The answer may be, "There is a difference in the length of time which the bond runs." That would probably make a difference of one half of one per cent. in favor of the longer bond. I can see that it might be done if the bonds were payable in legal tenders where gold was not specified; but that has been decided against, contrary to my judgment. An exchange might be effected, or the interest practically reduced, by taxing the income derived from the present bonds at a higher rate than other incomes, and collecting the tax from the coupon at the Treasury. We collect a tax of the same nature from the earnings of banks and other corporations belonging to individuals, and have it deducted by the treasurers of those institutions from the dividends and paid into the national Treasury, and that, too, without regard to whether the income of the individual was more or less than the amount exempted by law from taxation.

This would be a precedent for that method of assessing and collecting the tax. That incomes derived from other sources is also in accordance with precedent. We commenced the income tax by levying one and one half per cent. upon interest derived from government bonds, while three per cent. was levied upon all other sources of income. We subsequently increased all income taxes above $600 to 5 per cent. and when above $5,000, to ten per cent. Our internal revenue taxes and our duties on imports are and always have been laid unequally. We have adjusted them according to the supposed ability of the article or interest taxed to bear it, or according to its supposed influence in protecting labor and promoting the public morals.

We have an additional precedent for this method of taxing bonds in order to promote their exchange into other and different ones in the action of the Government toward the State banks, when it taxed their circulation ten per cent. to drive them into the national banking system.

It may be charged that this taxation of income from bonds is an indirect way of taxing the bond. Let it be remembered if it is that the Government has never denied to itself the right to tax them, but only that they should not be subject to State and local taxation. It may also be urged that this taxation of the income from bonds is a confiscation of so much of the bond. So is all taxation of property confiscation in the same sense.

It has been claimed by all capitalists and financial writers that our bonds are below par and below the value of the bonds of other nations of far less ability, because of the uncertainty as to whether or not they might be paid in legal tenders, and because also of this liability to taxation; and they all propose that the new bonds shall be made explicit upon these points by providing in the bond that both the principal and interest shall be paid in gold, and that they shall be exempt from all taxation, both State and national, directly or indirectly. If our bonds are low in the markets from this liability to national taxation, it is high time some benefits were enjoyed by the tax-payers and taxation was commenced. The capitalists have had all the benefits of that doubt long enough.

☞ The Alaska Times, for Jan. 8, announces that a Christmas tree was prepared by the ladies of Sitka, for the children of the Sunday school, which numbered 39 scholars, comprising American, Russians and Indians—Christians, Greeks and Heathens.

PET YOUR YOUNG STOCK.—It is best to handle calves and colts as much as possible, and pet them, lead them with a halter, and caress them in various ways. Young stock managed in this way will always be docile, and suffer themselves to be approached and handled both in the pastures and in the barn.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"

SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB

SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY

A NOVEL METHOD FOR PUNISHING DRUNKEN ROUGHS.—The Lewiston (Me.) Journal says that not long since a gentleman of that city was without provocation assaulted on the highway by two intoxicated persons, one of whom drew a revolver and would have shot him had the weapon not been wrenched from his grasp. Many expected the gentleman would prosecute the fellows for the assault, but he pursued a course which promises to be more effective as a reformatory measure than a prosecution at law would have been. As soon as the drunken fit had passed off they visited the assaulted party and desired to settle up the affair. Finally this gentleman proposed to settle on these terms.

Each party to deposit $500 as surety that they would touch not, taste not, handle not any intoxicating drinks for five years. If during that period they violated this pledge, the money shall be forfeited to the gentleman assaulted, and in addition to that for two years their violation of their pledge will subject them to indictment for the crime of which they are professedly guilty.

The assailants assented to this pledge, its conditions and the penalties of the violation. One of them deposited in the bank $500, with the proper conditions attached, whose interest the depositor is allowed to draw for five years, and afterward the principal, if he keeps his pledge—otherwise it reverts to the injured party. The other party gave a deed to the gentleman of a piece of land valued at $900, which deed reverts to the assailant after five years, in case the pledge is kept; otherwise the injured party pays him $400, and the land is his own—that is, the forfeit is equivalent to $500.

TEXTS OF OUR FATHERS.—Opening a manuscript of 1732, giving the text and outlines of sermons preached by Father Philips of Andover, the great storm recently experienced in New England recalls one of them with peculiar interest. An earthquake had shaken the whole Colony, to the great terror of all the inhabitants. A day of "special prayer and fasting" was appointed. The text preached from, was this: "The sun was risen upon the earth as Lot entered into Zoar."—Gen. xix: 23. The sentiment of the sermon was, "a sunshiny morning does not always promise a pleasant evening." The day of the earthquake had been peculiarly pleasant, and at eventide the shock came. Toward the close of the discourse, the good man called upon the congregation solemnly to promise "reformation and conformity to God's law." He called upon them, in token of such a promise, to raise the right hand, and most affectingly told them, "that right hand would be a witness against them at the bar of God, if they did not keep their promise." I have sometimes wished Father Philips had lived a century later, or that I could find where his mantle fell.

A worthy successor, in the Andover pulpit, as Deacon Newman once related to me, had a pleasant little son, a very diminutive lad, who passed through Harvard College, and into the ministry, and Andover people thought nothing of him. He ascended the desk, so long occupied by his father, and preached from the text, "Wist ye not I must be about my Father's business?" and Andover always afterwards knew how to value the patriarchal Jonathan French, so long the pastor at North Hampton, N. H. PATMOS, in the Recorder.

—At a meeting of the Andover Association in Lowell, Feb. 1st, expression of their profound grief at the death of Rev. Dr. Blanchard was put on record, and testimony to "his personal excellence, steadfast piety, scholarly culture, earnest zeal, pulpit ability, and distinguished practical talent." They also say: "We recognize in the minute circumstances of the decease of our brother an affecting and peculiarly touching admonition to ourselves as pastors and ministers of Christ. This very meeting of the Association was to have been held at his house; his last earthly service was the perusal of a work of which he was to have read a review this day; he closed the book at 10 o'clock P. M., and retired at half past ten; he sank into sweet sleep, and perhaps pleasant dreams, to awake in one short hour in heaven. We would receive these striking events as the voice of God to us individually, prompting us to renewed fidelity and diligence in our ministerial labors.

—The funeral of Mr. Benjamin Kimball and Mrs. B. M. Kimball, his daughter-in-law, at the Center Church in Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 1, was conducted by Mr. Munger and Dr. Seeley, and called out a large audience. The funeral of Mrs. K. had been set for Monday, but the sudden death of her husband's father by apoplexy, Saturday night, caused a change in the day, and but one service was held for both.

—Jinks has been indulging too frequently in ardent spirits. At a street corner his hat drops into a gutter. Says Jinks: "I know, if I pick you up I'll fall. If I fall, you won't p—hic—me—hic—up. Good night!" And he walks off with a smile of conquest.

—How to fire and fall back—Get a gun that kicks.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Thursday, Mr. Morrill of Maine called up the bill making appropriations to supply deficiencies in the appropriations to the naval service for the present year. He explained that the bill was intended to enable the Navy Department to meet the exigencies of the public service, and that the amount appropriated had been reduced to the lowest figures consistent with the interests of the government.

Mr. Cragin of New Hampshire submitted an amendment to restrict the expenditures of money to provide materials for carrying on the work and paying the employes and bureaus for which it was appropriated, which was agreed to, and the bill was then passed.

Senators Stewart, Drake and Trumbull made personal attacks on Senator Sumner, to which the latter replied.

In the House, Mr. Banks of Massachusetts moved that the privilege of the floor be given to Mr. John Kitts, the gentleman standing by his side, who was born in 1762, was a soldier in the Revolution, witnessed the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, and had also served in the war of 1812. The motion was agreed to unanimously and the old gentleman was soon surrounded by the members, with whom he chatted in a lively and intelligent manner, showing but slight indications of his extreme age.

Mr. Cox of New York delivered himself of a sarcastic defence of Gen. Butler's public life. The Boston Herald's special states that the latter towed himself over to the Democratic side, and leaning over the corner of a desk received in his face almost the gesticulations of the speaker. There was a good deal of amusement among the members at the ludicrous position of the two, interspersed with bursts of laughter as Cox declared that he defended all of Butler's careers—his economical career; his military career; his career all the way through the Dutch Gap Canal; his career in getting greenbacks and taking gold when he could get it, etc., to the end.

Cox sat down amid shouts of applause, but Butler remained leaning on the desk intently looking at him for a moment, and then slowly rotated himself back to his seat amid the increasing merriment. In a few moments he got the floor, and nearly all the Democratic side flocked over to the Republican aisles to see the fun. Every one was intent to hear the reply as Butler proceeded in a cool strain to oppose the inequality of the mileage system. As he concluded he turned his face half way from Cox, as if in derision of his size, and waving his hand towards him said, with much feeling, "As to the defence which the member from New York has made of me, I can only reply to him what every boy is saying on the street, what every hard-organ is grinding on the corner, 'Shoo, fly, don't bother me!'" The galleries shouted and clapped their hands, and there was such a succession of burst of merriment and pounding of desks that it was some time before order was restored.

Cox got the floor again finally, and went on to say that it was known that Butler was a bad man, he thought it worth while to defend him, and he was about to go ahead when he was cut off by a point of order, and there it ended; but the relative position, size and manner of the members, taken in connection with surroundings, made it altogether one of the finest scenes witnessed in the House this session.

CHRONICLES OF OLD TIMES.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Portsmouth Privateers of 1812.

NUMBER SIX.

The British privateer Fly arrived at this port August 20, 1813, a prize, having been captured on the 13th by the U. S. gun brig Enterprise, after a chase of several hours. The Fly was only a schooner of 50 tons burthen, and was formerly the privateer Buckskin, of Salem; but she was a good sailer, and a very troublesome insect among our coasters and fishermen.

On the 28th of August, 1813, was sold at Auction, in shares, by Maj. Larkin, the hull of a vessel intended for a Letter of Marque, with masts and spars complete; of 316 tons, well built of oak.—This we think was the vessel afterward called the Harlequin—of which more hereafter;—and if so, she laid at Hill's wharf, near the fish-market, for a year or so, before being rigged, or even painted.

The British brig David, prize to the Gov. Plumer, was sold June 22, 1813; she was of 140 tons, nearly new, and her cargo was very acceptable here; it consisted of 260 bags bread, 300 barrels Irish pork, 80 pieces flour, 65 kegs butter, 70 tons salt.

The privateer Fox was advertised for a sale at Auction, by Maj. Larkin, on the 19th of August, 1813,—and was described:—

"As she came from her third cruise, burthen 208 tons, coppered to light water mark, pierced for 16 guns, mounting eight 12 pound carronades and four long 6 pounders, and all the apparatus complete for carrying a long 24 pounder on a pivot, &c."—And it is added, "the Fox was built at Portland, is 11 months old, and is proved to be one of the swiftest sailing vessels belonging to the United States."

But the Fox was not put up: the sale was postponed indefinitely;—and on the 26th of November she went to sea again, commanded by Capt. Handy.

The various and fluctuating fortunes of war are visible, and almost tangible, as we read an item like the following, which we copy from the Oracle of Sept. 13, 1814:

"We learn from New Castle that on Monday night last a boat landed there from a —— privateer, and committed some depredations on the poultry and vegetables of the inhabitants.—A fishing schooner which arrived at New Castle on Wednesday last, was boarded, while fishing on Jaffrey's ledge, by a privateer from Halifax, formerly the Governor Plumer of this port; after taking some fish and other small articles, for which they paid, were permitted to proceed. Shortly after, was boarded from another [British] privateer, formerly the schooner Thomas of this port, and after a short detention, were suffered to proceed."

This must have been our privateer Thomas.—And a Swedish brig which arrived here on the 13th, was boarded by the same vessel.

In our mention of the Liverpool Packet, (in No. 5,) we stated that after her capture by the Thomas, (Capt. Shaw,) and her sale here, she went to sea again as an American privateer, with the same armament. She was named the Portsmouth Packet, for her cruise, but not otherwise. On the 5th of November, 1813, only two days out from Cape Porpoise, she was taken by the British sloop-of-war Fantome, of 18 guns and 102 men, in company with the Epervier of 20 guns.

In a previous part of this chapter, allusion was made to the proposed sale of the Fox, which was no sale,—but she sailed on the 26th of November, 1813.

In February, 1814, we hear of her again. In the Oracle of Feb. 12, is this item:—

Arrived at Salem on Tuesday, Privateer Fox, of Portsmouth, Samuel C. Handy, commander, from a cruise of 75 days. About 25 days since, captured, after a feeble resistance, the ship Minerva, from Bristol, bound to the West Indies, with an assorted cargo of hard ware, dry goods, provision, &c. Also, British brig ——, from St. John (N. F.) for the West Indies, loaded with provisions. Also, British brig ——, from Shields, bound to the West Indies, with an assorted cargo. Ordered them all for the U. S. The Fox has seen no cruisers of any description since leaving port.—The Fox has brought in 21 prisoners, and a considerable quantity of dry goods & hard-ware. She put two English captains, a supercargo and two seamen, on board a neutral vessel bound to Porto Rico.

And on the 17th of February the Fox arrived at this port.—In the meantime, one of her prizes, a brig, had arrived at Gloucester, Mass.

In the Oracle of Feb. 26, 1814, we have the following news from some of the Fox's prizes:—

The English ship Minerva of 2 guns, Parker, prize-master, from Bristol for Barbadoes, has arrived at Saco. She has a cargo of crates, iron, anchors, some bale goods, wine, porter, beer, &c., and was captured by the Fox privateer, Captain Handy, of this port.

The Swedish Ship Maria, 25 days from St. Barts, arrival at Gloucester last week; in her came passengers, Mr. Damerell, the prize-master, and the mate of an English brig, prize to the privateer Fox of this port, which was taken by two French frigates and burnt. Mr. Damerell shew the officer that boarded him a copy of the privateer's commission, when he was taken on board one of the frigates, and on looking out of her cabin window saw the prize on fire. He was robbed by these pirates of every article he was owner of, and left not a second shirt, and was put on board the Maria with but 30 gallons of water, early in January to windward of Barbadoes. The Commodore threatened to burn the Fox if he fell in with her.

No doubt the Commodore would have been very glad to burn the Fox, if he could catch her;—but that was easier told of than done, for like her namesake in the swamps, she was hard to catch;—a swift vessel with a vigilant and able captain.

In the Oracle of the same date, appears the sale by Auction, at Langdon's wharf, (foot of Daniel street,) of the schooner Rebecca, a prize to the privateer Grand Turk, of Salem; with her cargo of beef, pork, butter, cheese, candles, soap, hay, herring, &c.; undoubtedly from Nova Scotia for the West Indies.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

LONG PASTORATES.—We think Rev. Humphrey Moore, of Milford, has been an ordained minister longer than any one now living in the State. He was ordained pastor of the Congregational Church in Milford, Oct. 13, 1802, sixty-seven years ago. He has not had pastoral charge for many years. He is about 90 years of age, and resides in Milford.

Rev. Alvin Toby of Durham has been longest pastor of a church of any minister now in office in the State,—36 years—and he preached there a year or two before his settlement, some part of the time. The next is Rev. E. Bruxton, of Webster, 32 years. The next, Rev. C. W. Wallace of Manchester, 30 years.

The one longest in office in Rockingham County is Rev. L. Alden of Newcastle, 23 years. Newcastle is an old town. It was originally a part of Portsmouth. Mr. Emerson, the first minister, was settled in 1703, one hundred and sixty-six years ago. J.

New Hampshire Items.

The Telegraph says that the loss of Dr. N. J. Moore, of Nashua, whose house was burned on Tuesday, the 8th, is variously estimated at from $6,000 to $10,000. On this there is an insurance of $4,000 in two policies in the Nashua company. Nearly all the furniture was destroyed, but the Doctor's valuable library and his surgical instruments were saved.

Rev. J. L. Merrill, of Acworth, has received a call from the Congregational church in Hollis, which offers him a salary of $1000.

A man in Hudson, named Harris, 60 years of age, disappeared on the 29th ult., and is supposed to have perished in the snow. A large number of persons are now searching for him, and have discovered traces which indicate that he wandered towards a swamp. His daughter, who is sick with consumption, was thrown into convulsions by the news regarding her father, and it is feared that she will not recover.

☞ The Manchester Mirror of the 10th, says—Whenever Mr. Rolston, in his verbal ramble, last evening, made violent assaults on the Republican party, there was vociferous cheering. But Mr. R. was an admirer of President Lincoln, and took occaison to say that he was one of Nature's true noblemen. Then not a cheer arose from the audience, not a sound of approbation was heard,—showing clearly the Democratic character of the assembly.

☞ At the meeting of the York County Association with Rev. J. D. Emerson, at Biddeford, on the 2d inst., religious interest was reported at Wells, Burton, and Biddeford. Essays were read by Rev. Mr. Emerson on Pastors and Teachers, and by Rev. C. Tenney on the Divinity of Christ. Sermons were preached by Revs. S. Hayward and James Smith.

☞ In the libel case of Eliza Buckley against the St. Louis Republican, which was decided against the defendants, a motion for a new trial was overruled. The proprietors of the Republican appealed, and will, if necessary, carry the case to the Supreme Court.

—"Moonshine Masquerades" are indulged in out west.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this when he discovered his now widely known BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS.—There is no charlatanism about Speer's "Wine Bitters." Their base is his pure wine, all of which is four years old, before it is sold or used in any way. They only require to be used to recommend themselves to the most incredulous. They are pure and perfect free from any kind of medication, and pleasant to the taste.

Price 50 cts. Sold by Druggists. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. Ja13dawlm

—Although a majority of the delegates to the Labor Reform Convention were evidently new men on the political platform, coming perhaps for the first time to the front, quite a number of the prominent managers will be recognized as "old party hacks," who have belonged in past times to all parties without doing much credit to any. These were the men, probably, whose manipulations caused the divisions which resulted in a secession of a portion of the delegates.—If they wish to "lift the burden of labor from the shoulders of working men," it is doubtful whether they could find a better way than by going to work themselves in some honest calling.—Farmers Cabinet.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact, usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been suspended by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy, and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart, is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of medicinal tonics and invigorants.

Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

Holloway's Ointment.—The cold of winter is apt to aggravate the condition of open sores and great care is necessary to keep the frost from affecting them unfavorably. The invigorating properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, by giving tone to the surrounding parts, keep up a healthy circulation in them, and thus prevent the torpor which a chilly atmosphere would otherwise engender in the tender and diseased flesh, thereby interrupting the healing process that nature is always struggling to accomplish. Sold by all Druggists.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says, "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbound'd success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM,

Can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. Ja13dawlm

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

PAIN OF THE SIDE CURED.

Allentown, Penn., April 4, 1865.

Messrs. T. Allcock & Co.

Dear Sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side, and it cured her in one week. Yours truly, JOHN V. N. HUNTER.

23,000 SOLD BY ONE DEALER.

Messrs. J. Balch & Son, of Providence, R. I., write, Nov. 1868: "We have sold the Porous Plasters for twenty years, and, at retail and jobbing, must have sold twenty-five thousand altogether. They are well liked. Ja13dawlm

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY.

Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

ABSOLUTELY SAFE.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATION, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. Ja13dawlm

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some cases two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting Spasms, and Sea sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Caronic Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty with physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as pressant to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It combines two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the chief and main ingredient. More than One thousand experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

NOTICE.—CIRCULARS AND SHOW CARDS sent to dealers free of expense.

If your druggist has not these Lozenges on hand, write to the Proprietors, enclosing 50 cents, and a box will be sent free of postage.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NAVAL.—Lieut. Comdr. M. L. Johnson has reported for Ordnance duty at this Navy Yard.

PAPERS WANTED. — Three or four copies of the Daily Chronicle, Jan. 25, wanted to complete files—at the office.

☞ Mr. Thomas Turner of this city died suddenly at Watertown, Mass., on Tuesday, while on a visit to his relatives.

☞ A full attendance is requested at a Meeting of the Mercantile Library Association, this (Saturday) evening, at eight o'clock.

☞ The naval transfer appropriation bill which passed the U. S. Senate, Thursday, amounted to $300,000—not $800,000,000 as our types had it.

☞ The members of S. F. Engine Co. No. 1, E. E. McIntire, foreman, left this city for Lynn, Friday afternoon, to attend a grand Fireman's ball there.

☞ The amount $1685 awarded to Wm. H. Belknap of Exeter for being put off a train on the B. & M. R. R., were $435 for actual and $1250 for exemplary damages.

☞ We hear that Congressman Dawes of Massachusetts has been invited by several of our citizens to deliver an address here. The Democracy second the motion.

☞ The New Hampshire Patriot informs the members of the Labor Reform party that they "will have the cordial sympathy of the Democrats." Why shouldn't they?

PRESENTATION.—Mr. William H. Alexander, formerly of this city, at present a conductor on the Concord and Boston route, has been presented with a "home-made" watch by his friends.

☞ The privateer Fox, whose history Uncle Toby has unearthed from the dust and crust of many years, was not in the least related to the famous United States Steamer Fox, (side-wheel) which formerly plied between this city and the Navy Yard, stopping at Pumpkin Island (to rest) on her weary journeys to and fro. Not any!

☞ The Boston Traveller says Com. Leon Smith was a native of Portsmouth and a cousin of Stillman B. Allen, Esq., of Boston,—and was a brave, generous, kind-hearted man. Paymaster Simmons and other naval officers from Boston were prisoners in his hands at Galveston during the war. He was noted for his kindness to Union officers.

☞ Lieut. Comd'r. H. B. Seeley, U. S. N., arrived here from Exeter on Thursday, where he had been to respond to the action for damages against him for trieing up Patrick O'Brien, a seaman of the U. S. S. Pawnee the particulars of which our readers are thoroughly acquainted. The case will be brought up at this next term of the Court.

☞ Mr. Chester A. Collins, a well known merchant tailor of Boston, died at his residence suddenly on Monday evening. A few days prior to his decease he was about town in apparent good health. On going to his home on Monday evening he reclined upon a sofa to rest himself, and quietly passed away. He leaves a wife and two children. He was, we believe, a native of Portsmouth.

PROBABLE LOSS OF A PORTSMOUTH SHIP.—The Boston Journal says that the ship which struck the rocks off Skibbereen, south coast of Ireland, and sunk, on the 30th of December (as before reported), is supposed to be the Santee, of Portsmouth, N. H. She was commanded by Capt. Magraw, and was on the voyage from Guanape to Liverpool with a cargo of guano. A few things had washed ashore, and among them was a portion of an iron stove bearing the name of "Joseph Sargeant, Boston, No. 4," which leads to the supposition that the ill-fated vessel was the Santee, as her owners state that the stove used on board was of this description. A few bags had also been found which appeared to have contained guano. The vessel was fully due at her port of destination several weeks ago. Nothing is known as to the fate of her crew.

The Santee was an A 1 ship of 1078 tons register, built at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1860, and was owned by Messrs. T. M. & T. S. Tredick.

☞ Wm. H. Belknap, Register of Deeds for Rockingham County, is now the nominee of the Democratic, Temperance and Labor Reform parties, for re-election.

—An Indiana girl got rid of singing at an evening party by responding to the invitation. "You must excuse me, for I never attempt to sing, except to warble a few wild notes for pa at eventide."

TURNING SOMERSAULTS. — In our school-boy days the juvenile term for this interesting amusement was "turning puddings." It seems that a lady in the back part of this State has been trying it on, and brought her toe down on the point of a needle, which caused some pain. The editor of the paper making the announcement, felt timid lest the lady might be deemed unladylike, and explains by saying that she is a married woman.

Now, it seems just as well for a single lady to show her agility as for a married one, and we know of no reason why such circus performances should be confined to wives. Unmarried ladies in general being supposed to possess more vigor than those in the matrimonial noose, because they are younger, might perform the feat above mentioned more easily than their elders. We know of no reason why both classes might not "turn puddings" to their hearts' content, as well as boys, taking care that 'tis done gracefully and decorously. Our inland cotemporary need not grieve, therefore, over the first transaction of this kind made public. Who knows but when woman's rights all over the country shall have become permanently secured, that "turning puddings" will be one of the cardinal principles in their gymnastic education!

☞ Were the editors of the Concord Monitor as strongly opposed to the Union League as they are to the Labor League? We put no faith in their talk about the new secret organization, called the Labor League, being in the interest of any candidate for U. S. Senator.

A HILL OF POTATOES SMALL AND FEW. The first Councillor District embraces fully one-fifth of the whole population of this State. The Labor Reform (Flint) Convention which met at Newmarket Junction on Friday to nominate a candidate for Councillor, was entitled to 150 delegates. Twenty-three delegates were present — mostly of the Democratic persuasion.

☞ The lecture of Dr. John W. Parsons before the Mercantile Library Association on Friday evening, was attended by an audience that crowded every available space in the Hall, and well were they repaid for attending.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

A CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT.—Mr. Morse advertisers at auction next Tuesday forty four shares in the Machine Co. at South Newmarket.

GOODALL respectfully announces that owing to the decline in Gold, he is now able to buy all Dental Materials at a reduction from former prices, and therefore will reduce the price of artificial teeth from $25 to $20 for upper or lower sets, mounted in blocks (with gums)—the very best of work and materials and the highest style of finish. Price of temporary sets reduced to $5 dollars.

He has for an Assistant a very superior and competent Dentist, and can mount whole sets of teeth IN ONE DAY, when POSITIVELY necessary for patients from a distance. In this as in all other branches of Dentistry, terms cash, and satisfaction guaranteed.

I still continue to use "GOODALL'S PATENT SPRING PLATE" with perfect success.

UNION INSTITUTION FOR SAVINGS.

IN THE CITY OF BOSTON, AT 238 WASHINGTON STREET, Pays its Depositors Six Per Cent. Interest. Deposits made before the second Wednesday of February, 1870, will go on interest at the time of Deposit. Deposits, $2,876,717.45. The statement for October exhibits a surplus of earnings upwards of eighty-five thousand dollars after paying all its regular Dividends to that date. On the second Wednesday of November next, and semi-annually thereafter, there will be declared a Dividend at the rate of Six per cent. per annum, and Extra Dividend of earnings will be payable at the same time. This plan is a decided advantage to Depositors, inasmuch as it enables them to receive all the earnings of their money every six months, instead of waiting five years, as is now the rule in many Savings Institutions. These dividends are free of Government and State Tax. ja27d3w GEO. F. EMERY, Treasurer.

THE TRUE POLICY.

SPEECH OF HON. J. H. ELA,

In the U. S. House of Representatives, Jan. 21th.

Continued.

Funding the Debt, and the Banking System.—Before resorting to this it may be well to try other plans for reducing the interest on our debt by a new funding bill. I am willing to try any just plan which gives a reasonable hope of success. Great results are expected from a system of free banking based upon a four per cent. bond issued thirty years to run, and providing that all existing banks shall within a reasonable time take these new bonds as security for their circulation or give up banking, and that all new banks shall be based upon this new bond provided for this purpose; and allowing banks to be established wherever there is business or capital requiring them. It is estimated that from one-fifth to one-fourth of our five-twenty bonds may be provided for in this way. Probably somewhere from four to five hundred million dollars might in this way be exchanged. Many suppose a much larger sum would be taken for banking purposes, but this I am inclined to doubt. Banking would become less profitable, and many which are now unfavorably located for business would be closed up.

Besides, as we draw specie, no specie payments less circulation will be required. Specie payments cannot be maintained in this country with a paper circulation exceeding $350,000,000. But little more than $200,000,000 could be kept in circulation with specie payments before the war, and there has been no growth of either population or business which would require more than five hundred million dollars of circulation, including both specie and paper, whenever specie payments are reached. In addition to a four per cent. bond for free banking there should also be a currency bond bearing three per cent. interest, which might at any time be presented at a Government depository and converted into greenbacks. This kind of bond would probably be taken to the extent of from one hundred and fifty to two hundred million dollars by those who are now bank depositors awaiting the opportunity to use their funds. Half the amount of this class of bonds might reasonably be considered an average permanent loan and cancel an equal amount of six per cent. gold-bearing bonds.

This bond would give the needed elasticity now wanting in our circulation, and prevent the gambling now carried on upon "call loans," which is the base of all honest and legitimate business. When there are no crops to be moved currency accumulates at the money centers where it is not needed for business. It is loaned on call to speculators and cannot be used in any regular business. When it is wanted for the moving of crops and is called in it at once upsets legitimate business and creates a disastrous contingency. All this would be prevented by a bond of this character, which would be taken by those having money idle, and when the exigencies of business required it could be at once converted again into currency without any contraction or disturbance to business, but on the other hand affording the means of expansion when ever it was needed, and then becoming a self contractor when the crisis or necessity had passed.

One of the great evils of all former banking has been that in times of stringency their currency was forced home upon them for redemption, compelling contraction at the very time expansion was needed. When the stringency was passed and there was no demand for loans to the extent their capital and circulation would allow, it was loaned out at low rates to speculators who would either undertake to keep it out or put it in circulation far away where it would not be likely soon to return. This expansion of the country banks had the same effect upon business as the call loans of the city banks. Where ever it had caused or stimulated wild and extravant speculation and enhanced prices, so that legitimate business and production began to fail, stringency would take place and specie suspension would become inevitable, to relieve the people from the ruin of enforced contraction. This was the repeated experience of the country under the old banking system.

We have heard much recently of the fluctuations of the currency, when the fact has been that it was stationary and had neither been increased or diminished for several years. Under the old State banking system during the stringency which has prevailed over the country for the last few months, business men would have gone down like rows of ninepins set on end, when one was started, because with their circulation forced home upon them, contraction would have been inevitable. This would have forced the property of debtors upon the market to meet their liabilities at a time when none were in a condition to purchase, except at the most ruinous prices. During the crisis just passed there has been no circulation sent home upon the banks, and hence they were able to keep up their loans and make extensions to their customers wherever needed, or enable them to replace their old loans with new ones. It was this fact which had the same operation as a suspension of specie payments under the old system and which saved us from universal panic and distress among business men.

That there is a pressing demand for a change in our present banking system cannot fairly be denied. They have had a monopoly and reaped a rich harvest from it, while causing great complaints from the unequal distribution of banking privileges over the country. There is no good answer to be made why ten men, who loan their money to the Government, should have banking privileges, with ninety per cent of their loan returned in notes for circulation, and the next ten, who made a similar loan and who live in a section where banking and circulation is much more needed, cannot have the same privilege.

Notwithstanding it may cause serious complaints from those who have enjoyed this monopoly to have it taken away, it seems necessary that it should be done in order to help the funding of the debt at a lower rate of interest and thereby lighten the burdens of taxation as well as reducing the rates of interest. By such a course the owners of bank capital will gain large relief from taxation as an offset to their reduced dividends. A heavy percentage of taxation, whether national, state, or municipal, is caused by the high rates of interest that largely causes the high cost of our goods which enter into general consumption, and the gain from cheaper commodities and diminished taxation would nearly compensate the owners of bank capital for their diminished dividends. But whether it would or not, the relief which it promises to the great mass of the people demands that the change should be made.

We have been shipping our bonds abroad at an alarming rate to meet the adverse balance of trade against us until our bonded debt abroad reaches $1,000,000,000, and the imports which have been settled for with these bonds have furnished a large part of the duties out of which we have been reducing the debt. The aggregate amount of increased foreign debt for the past year has been estimated at $200,000,000. It is evident we must soon have something besides the evidences of debt for export or our imports will be vastly diminished, and with them our revenues. In order to produce manufactures for export we must diminish the cost by securing lower interest and taxes and lower duties upon such articles as enter into the production of goods which may be exported.

Tariff.—It is a mistaken idea that New England gets the main benefits from a tariff, while the West and South suffer its disadvantages. Without stopping to discuss the question, it seems evident that if our people are to become industrially independent, and our workmen have substantial comforts, with time to gather the information which makes the intelligent citizen, they must be protected from competition with that labor which is treated as having only animal wants to supply. The argument is that the price which the surplus cotton and grain brings abroad fixes the price of the whole crop, without stopping to consider that the large home consumption makes the quantity thrown upon the foreign markets much less, and as a consequence the price much higher there. If our manufacturers and consumers should become producers of grain in competition with the farmers of the West, it is difficult to see how they would be benefitted by the competition, while it is easy to see that an increase of home consumers would steadily increase both the demand and the price.

No section of the country receives less benefit from the tariff than New England, and none would suffer less from its entire abolition. Her manufactories are built, and the labor, capital and machinery to run them is there, and whatever the earnings might be they would be relatively as great as in any other section or for any other business. Her soil is yielding fair returns, and was, when measured by comforts and social advantages, is not cultivated without profit. There is less waste and cost in living among her population than elsewhere, and under her bracing climate they can stand up under more hours of toil. With free trade, and taxation based upon representation, New England would pay less in proportion to her wealth and ability and receive more of the expenditures of the Government than now. This fact makes it certain that free trade will not be allowed by either the South or West, and also makes it certain that hereafter, as now, the chief reliance for the expenditures of the Government will be duties from imports. The large amount required for this purpose will afford all the protection necessary, and common sense would adjust it so as to get as much as possible from the luxuries of the rich, with a different scale for articles which went into the consumption of the masses, or into the production of goods for export.

To show that New England is not favored, let me point out the adverse operation of the present tariff upon a large class of articles. Take leather, for an illustration. The duties on hides and bark and sumac and oil and other articles used in the manufacture of leather add ten per cent to its cost, and all these articles she buys and imports while making leather to sell. Take off these duties, and also the duties on those articles which enter into the production of shoes, and New England will be ready to meet competition at home and stock the markets of Mexico, the West Indies, and South America with shoes made from American leather, and contend for the Australian, African, and Asiatic markets. In doing this only a few manufacturers of serge and lasting would be adversely affected.

Take one for another illustration. While New England consumes vastly more iron than any other equal section of the country she has but one furnace for its manufacture. Take off the duties on iron and steel, and let New England mechanics have free coal and lumber for her machinery and castings, and she will export her agricultural implements and sewing-machines, her stationary engines and edge tools, with other machines and machinery.

Take coal for another illustration. There is no coal mine in all New England, yet she is one of its largest consumers. She uses it for driving part of her factories and machine-shops, to warm her dwellings and light them; for her locomotives, which draw the commerce of civilization over her lines of transportation, and for the steamers which are driving sails from her coast. In taking off the duty on coal you lift a burden from her industry and add to her comfort.

The duty on salt is to protect no industry of hers, and when you take it off another burden is gone.

The duty on lumber is no aid to her. She sells no lumber except the sugar-boxes and shooks to the West Indies, but buys it in vast quantities for use in her varied manufacturing and mechanical interests. Take off that duty and you aid her to export carriages, furniture, wooden-ware, and Yankee notions.

Take off the duty on wool and you would affect adversely the sheep growers of Vermont and the Connecticut river valley, but you would benefit vastly more. Take all the duties from wool and woolens, and from the dyes and chemicals and articles used in cleansing and manufacturing, and give low interest on capital in addition, and you will nearly or quite balance all the advantages derived from a tariff.

But a very small interest would be unfavorably affected by removing duties from copper, tin, zinc, &c., while they would be benefited. Take off the duties which enhance the cost of labor and machinery, and from the articles which are used in manufacturing cotton, and New England will again revive the export of manufactures to sell at our nearest neighbors, the East Indies, to South America and Africa.

While showing many articles from which New England would derive benefit by the removal of all duties, I am still firmly convinced that a well-adjusted tariff laid so as to give protection is every way desirable and beneficial to the whole country, and the best method of raising revenue. High rates of taxation where the money is expended within the country for improvements which are reproductive are not severely felt, and generally conducive to prosperity. Our debt was incurred in destroying wealth and the means of its production, and the feature which operates most adversely is the large amount of high gold interest taken from the nation and carried abroad for disbursement.

—Professor Oakley, in a recent lecture at Edinburgh, maintained that the mediæval and early Christians borrowed their church music from pagan hymns—the church tunes now denominated "Gregorian chants" having the same origin. So it would appear that what is usually considered the most "churchlike" music in existence is really the same that was used in the pagan ceremonies of the Greeks and Romans.

—Not having yet heard from the debating societies in relation to the conundrum—"Why do hens always lay their eggs in the day time?" a cotemporary answers, "because at night they're roosters."

A RAILROAD THROUGH WHITE MOUNTAIN NOTCH.—The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad Corporation have just issued their annual report. It is financially, and as respects the public interest in the extension of railroad facilities in new quarters of the interior, a highly satisfactory document. As far as Fryeburg, in Maine — one of the chief farming towns of the State, as well as among the best known in history, for the character of its people, and its remarkable picturesque location—this railroad will be in operation before the end of this year. From this point to North Conway, the great summer watering place, is but an hour's ride by the country road. Of course the travel to and from this point, with much of that to the Glen and Crawford Notch, will go by this new line.

But after all, the interesting feature to the public in this able report is the fact established, by the thorough survey of the company, of the entire feasibility of putting a railroad up the Saco valley to the White Mountain Notch, thence on to join with the great line now building across Vermont, that will connect Portland harbor with Ogdensburg and the West.

The following is the language of the engineer, John F. Anderson, Esq., on the difficult in the Notch itself:

"This survey, made by a most reliable man, of great experience and thoroughly skilled in his vocation, must clear away all doubt or conjecture about the practicability of carrying your road through the White Mountain Notch. It is now an established reality that there is here something better than a mere practicable railroad route. This survey demonstrates not only its entire feasibility as to the attainable alignment and gradients of your projected road, but that this must prove remarkably inexpensive to construct, when compared with almost any other mountain railway.

From the Willey house to the Crawford Hotel in the Notch, about three miles, the steepest incline of the valley and the greatest cost of construction must be encountered. But nowhere will there be required so steep a grade line or such heavy work, by from one-third to one-half, as on railroads now and for many years in successful operation in this country. In point of fact, while more than double the rise per mile of the maximum grade planes exacted by this pass have been overcome by locomotive engines in the regular traffic of railroads across the Alleghanies, there have been in New York and in New England single cuts which involved more excavation than would be required by the three miles under consideration, and single miles of greater cost of construction than the aggregate of these three."

FARMERS, ORGANIZE.—Farming, as well as every other business, must be attended to or it will not pay. This is more so now than formerly. For now machinery does the work of hand labor; and science is adding success which the common farmer cannot reach—hence he is found in the rear of profits and general success. There must be intelligence. The advancement of farming has made this so.

"Skinning" land is getting to be among the things that were. This, however, is less the case on the prairies than in the east. An old fashioned farmer stands but a poor chance there. He is constantly selling out to better his condition, which is not done by buying another farm. He is glad to get rid of his land and not get another incumbrance." We must then, as the country improves, improve with it, and that by informing ourselves, both by reading, and conversation with those who know.

With the exception of husbandry, every money making interest in this our age of money is thoroughly organized, and ever ready for aggressive or defensive action, as the occasion may require, whether in legislative halls, in boards of direction, or in the market place. Our farmers are the most important working population of the country, and produce three-fourths of its productive wealth. Out of their toil and products are directly or indirectly obtained most of the taxes, and yet they are at the mercy of all other interests.

A projected measure that would transfer millions from the profits of agriculture into others' hands may be resolved upon by a dozen wealthy gentlemen of elegant enterprise, seated in a private parlor or around a board of direction, without exciting any more concern among our farmers than if the matter related to China or Japan. The reason is, our farming populations are cut up into isolated fragments, and are beaten in detail, in politics and in everything else.

Such facts as have been adduced show the importance and necessity of organized societies, frequent meetings and wide extended fraternity, for collecting and disseminating valuable information, and for mutual instruction and defence. Unlike the peasantry of Europe, our farmers own the land they cultivate. They are capitalists, freeholders, citizens, and rulers of the State and nation. They are, or ought to be, men of thought, reading and useful knowledge, as well as of manual work. D. A. Robertson.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the undersigned, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

MONDAY, FEB. 14, 1870.

☞ A Concord dispatch to the Boston Journal states that 'the Democratic party will not put any speakers in the contest, but will allow all so disposed to go over to the Labor Reform party, as there is no hope for their candidate, Gen. Bedel. In Manchester a defeated candidate for Representative and an active Democrat will do all in his power in favor of the Labor party, and Gen. Bedel is by no means popular in the Candia and Deerfield districts. The Democratic papers are careful in not denouncing the members of their party who have joined the movement, and will do nothing to alienate them from a return.'

Just so. The Democratic managers know there is no chance to elect Bedel, for whom they have no special regard. So they bolster up the Labor Reform schism, hoping to draw enough votes from the Republican ranks in close towns to defeat Republican candidates for the Legislature, in order that a Democratic U. S. Senator may be chosen in June. It's a sharp game, but it won't go down. There'll be a large vote on the 8th of March, and the Democratic kite, with its short tailed bob will go under.

An Havana letter of the 5th inst, says that the excitement there over the death of Castanon, editor of the Vox de Cuba, was extreme. After the funeral nine Cubans were massacred in Havana by the volunteers and several in Matanzas. The volunteers also brutally murdered another American citizen—Mr. Vincent Daumy of Florida. He went over to Havana in the same steamer that conveyed Castanon's remains, and for relating a somewhat modified account of the assassination was set upon in San Jose street, in the evening, by a band of armed volunteers and put to death. No arrests were made.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

THE CHARITY SCHOOL,—CONTINUED. Within a year or two a new class of pupils has been admitted to instruction at the Annapolis Charity School — Cadet Engineers. Whether the education of fifty or less boys for engineers is a sop thrown to that horrible Cerberus, the public, to keep him from growling at the aristocratic nursery, or is intended as a means for gradually weeding from the Navy all the "low" engineers who learned their business practically and paid for their own educations, does not matter. It is an open robbery of the nation—heavily enough burdened already, without having to support and educate an order of nobility—to take money from the Treasury to pay a large number of professors for teaching, and salaries to boys for being taught, engineering, when the land is full of workshops where any lad of brains and fair mechanical abilities can learn it; where our present naval engineers learned their business, and learned it well; and where hundreds of youths, just as able as the Cadet Engineers at Annapolis, are just as thoroughly as they learning their trades—without costing the country a cent. Perhaps my opinion may be shared by others—that it is but a plan to make still more difficult for the plebeian the path to honorable distinction in any department of the service.

The second clause of the Regulations for the Appointment of Cadet Engineers in the Navy, reads,

The application is to be addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, and can be made by the candidate or by any person for him, and his name will be placed on the register. The registry of a name, however, gives no assurance of an appointment, and no preference will be given in the selection to priority of application.

This clause gives to the line officers the sole choice of the future engineers of the navy; for if the candidate be not of the order of "gentlemen," according to their definition of the term, he need not be rejected at all, but merely ignored altogether,—for "no preference will be given in the selection to priority of application." The Academic Board—who are sole judges of the fitness of youths to be engineers, as they are of the merits of the other candidates—are fettered by nothing but their own sweet wills in making a choice, and will select just whom they please, and no others.

The cost of the Charity School is enormous; how much I cannot say; but a few figures will convey some idea of the expense attendant upon keeping up this hot-bed of exclusiveness and snobbery. The Springfield Republican says that it costs the people of the United States $25,000 to educate a single boy for a naval officer, at Annapolis; and the statement I have never seen disputed. In the Academy's Report for 1868–69, the total number of students, engineers and all, is set down at 310. To teach and govern this enormous class, there were employed,—1 vice-admiral, 2 captains, 3 commanders, 29 lieutenant-commanders, 7 engineers of various grades, 4 professors, and 41 assistant professors, surgeons, &c., making a very respectable total of 87 officers—which would give about 3 1-2 pupils to each officer! Very arduous duties the latter must have had; but perhaps their pupils were not so bright as the average of students in other schools, or the officers' ability of imparting information may have been limited, so as to render this apparent superabundance of teachers a matter of necessity.

Harvard University has 49 professors and 42 other teachers, 91 in all. The present number of students is 1107, which gives an average of 12 1-6 pupils to each teacher. Would it not be a good idea for Government to rent the University, professors and all, for a Charity School? It would be a great deal cheaper than running the Annapolis concern, anyway. One objection to this plan would be, that the candidates would have to manifest some little mental ability and acquired knowledge to secure admittance, which is not the case at the present Naval Academy; for if the candidate is only all right on the "caste" question, our charitable Charity School exacts less knowledge from him than is demanded for admission to a village primary school.

In the first article on this subject, the questions "what is the object of the school? what does it do? and what influence does it have on the navy?" were asked:—my answer as to the purpose of the school has been given,—it is to keep the democracy out of the navy.

As to what the Charity School does, all must acknowledge that it has been successful in crowding republicanism on shore altogether, by securing for the aristocracy a monopoly of naval honors and emoluments; that it has done anything else is not so evident. Before its existence our naval officers were unsurpassed by those of any nation in seamanship, fighting qualities, and resources upon which to draw in any and every emergency. Yet their education cost the country comparatively nothing; their actual services as midshipmen could be reckoned as at least partially balancing the accounts. Now, instead of being taught in the economical and practical school of actual service, the aspirants for naval honors have four years of jollification at Annapolis, varying the programme with an occasional pleasure cruise in a "practice ship,"—and cost the country $25,000 each before they do anything in return for the country.

At this rate, the Charity School beneficiaries should be many times superior to the old style of naval officers—but are they? John Bull has raised some navy men who were not only good fighting men but excellent seamen and tacticians—suppose we mention Nelson, Collingwood, Exmouth and Napier. And we boast of Bainbridge, Decatur, Hull, Perry, Valparaiso Porter, Foote and Farragut. These men honored their profession, nor were they found wanting in any quality in any emergency. Yet, incredible though it may appear, not one of them ever graduated from our aristocratic Naval Charity School. Their education though cheap was practical, and they were able to make a practical application of it. If the Annapolis graduates are smarter and better seamen and officers than they, it has not been made evident to the public at large. PAKEHA.

☞ At the New York Supreme Court, Justice Monell rendered an important decision in the suit of Samuel Greed against the Sun Mutual Insurance Company, on a policy of insurance for $7500 on the ship Star of the Union. The ship was insured in the aggregate for $35,000. She was on a homeward voyage with guano, when she came in collision with the brig Samuel Holby, which stove in her starboard side, from the copper up; she was, however, navigated to the port of Rio de Janeiro, where she put in for repairs. A survey was made of her, and the estimates put in by a leading firm of shipbuilders there for her repairs, amounted to about $50,000, but they required a deposit before undertaking the work. The plaintiff claims that it would cost more to repair her than she was worth, and after four surveys and advertising for money, she was abandoned as a total loss, and sold for the benefit of whom it might concern, bringing about $6000. Justice Monell decided that as the repairs were not made, the plaintiff is entitled to only nominal damages. He therefore directed a verdict for the plaintiff for 6 cents.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA IS A HYDRA-HEADED MONSTER from which nearly all the "ills the human flesh is heir to" originate. The Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron, is a long-tried and well established remedy for this distressing complaint. It has cured thousands when other remedies have failed.

SPEER'WINE,—This wine so much in popular favor, is by no means intoxicating in its nature. We refer to Speer's Sambuci Wine, which has been introduced into the hospitals and among the first families of New York, and in London and Paris, by Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J, who has devoted himself for several years to the study of fermentation, and producing an article, the medicinal properties of which are said to be unsurpassed.—N. Y. Herald.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact, usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been suspended by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy, and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart, is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of medicinal tonics and invigorants.

Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

Holloway's Ointment.—The cold of winter is apt to aggravate the condition of open sores and great care is necessary to keep the frost from affecting them unfavorably. The invigorating properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, by giving tone to the surrounding parts, keep up a healthy circulation in them, and thus prevent the torpor which a chilly atmosphere would otherwise induce in congeder in the tender and diseased flesh, thereby interrupting the healing process that nature is always struggling to accomplish. Sold by all Druggists.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY, Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

ABSOLUTELY SAFE.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATION, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. Ja13dawlm

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS'VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Group, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, so an invalid remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obtained by the inventor of this Lozenge. An alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the medicinal properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and potions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feeble sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drought or pill.

NOTICE. — CIRCULARS AND SHOW CARDS sent to dealers free of expense.

If your druggist has not these Lozenges on hand, write to the Proprietors, enclosing 50 cents, and a box will be sent free of postage.

☞ The Lecture on Health and Disease, by Dr. Parsons, Friday evening, was an interesting and valuable essay on life, and incidentally death—scientific without being technical or pedantic, and popular without being commonplace. It was finely written and well delivered, and sufficiently attractive to chain the attention of the crowded audience, many of whom were standing, to the end. We have rarely listened to a lecture which more interested or better suited us. It is eminently worthy of being heard elsewhere.

ACCIDENT.—Harry Woodruff, while engaged in shovelling snow from the roof of the National Hotel, Saturday afternoon, lost his balance and fell to the ground, a distance of three stories, striking upon his head and shoulders. It was a very narrow escape from death. In addition to a very severe scalp wound, he was pretty well shaken up generally. Dr. Whittier was called, and dressed his wounds. The patient is in fair way to recover—with no more serious results than those above mentioned.

☞ The Great Falls Journal says Mr. Thomas Snow, of that village has the first number of the "New Hampshire Gazette," printed at Portsmouth in 1756, by Daniel Fowle. Only a fac simile copy, probably—but an exact likeness.

For the Chronicle.

There is a plain triangle, the difference of the squares of the two sides is 457,765 square feet, and the difference of the segment of the base is 495 feet. Required the base and altitude — by Analysis.

☞ A friend professes his willingness to wager $50 against $5 that the true answer to the Interest problem, which has brought out a half-dozen answers in this paper, is not $726.75.

☞ In the S. J. Court at Exeter, in case Foster vs. Dustin, the jury deliberated ten hours, but were unable to agree, and were discharged.

The case—Ellen Coakley vs. Thomas Canon Walsh, (Catholic Priest) was tried. Account for services as washerwoman, $18.75. Verdict for plaintiff. John Stavers of Portsmouth, foreman of jury. C. U. Bell, for plaintiff, W. B. Small for defendant.

The case—William H. Morgan vs. Joshua Janvrin; an action on a promissory note for $200. The defence was a release and the statute of limitation. Tried by the Court and decision reserved.—W. H. Hackett for plaintiff. Albert R. Hatch for defendant.

Wm. H. Morgan vs. Joseph F. Evans, an action to recover $125 for services of plaintiff in undertaking to collect a note for the defendant in Galveston, Texas. W. H. Hackett for plaintiff. Albert R. Hatch for defendant.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT EXETER.—Mr. Charles Atherton was instantly killed at the wood-house of the Boston & Maine Railroad on Friday afternoon, Feb. 11th, while engaged in sawing wood for the Company. He was imprudently sawing two sticks at a time, when the saw broke, and the shaft was thrown its bearings, and the saw struck Mr. Atherton in the chest and passed upwards while in motion, cutting his chest, neck and head nearly in two pieces. The appearance of the body was truly shocking.

Mr. Atherton leaves a wife and four children. He had been for some years in the employ of the Railroad Company, and had the reputation of being a very temperate and industrious man and faithful servant. W.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—In your item in Saturday's paper on "Ladies Turning Puddings," you speak of the feat of a married woman in our good State, as "the first transaction of the kind made public:"—but I have seen the fac simile of an illuminated manuscript of the tenth century, in which the daughter of Herodias, who danced before king Herod and pleased him so mightily, is depicted as doing that very thing; and stands on her hands before the assembled courtiers, with her heels in the air; her garments being (as you suggest they ought to be) decorously arranged, —although in apparent despite of the law of gravitation.

Whether the strenuous advocates of woman's rights to "do all that may become a man," will henceforth adopt Salome as one of their patron saints, remains to be proved. * * *

MANCHESTER POLICE COURT.—On the eighteenth of January, a Mr. Clark, of Londonderry, entered a saloon kept by Michael Riordan, with, as he claims, $128 in his pocket. After taking several "smiles," he left for home, when he missed his pocket-book. Riordan was arrested for stealing it, and was brought before the Court. After examing several witnesses, Judge Upton discharged the prisoner.

John C. Hildreth, 15 years old, and Eddie Weeks, one year younger, both attend one of the Spring street schools. Wednesday afternoon, Hildreth asked Weeks to show him about his lesson, but as whispering is forbidden in the school, Weeks made no answer and turned his head, when Hildreth, drawing a knife from his pocket, struck Weeks with it in the breast, cutting through his clothing and inflicting a small wound. After a long examination, Hildreth was fined $5, and costs, $5.64, and required to recognize in the sum of $100 to keep the peace, or go to the Reform School for a year. His mother paid the costs and furnished the bonds, and the boy was released. Hildreth is a cripple, and has a strong attraction for tobacco.

Michael Riordan pleaded guilty to a charge of selling one-half pint of liquor to Mr. Clark, on Tuesday, the eighteen of January, and was fined $50, and costs $7.42, and put under $200 bonds to keep the peace. He paid.—Manchester Mirror.

Professor Woodman, of Dartmouth College, is dangerously ill, and is not expected to recover:

—Customer (to clerk in a hardware store)—"Show me a small, low-priced shears."

Clerk (facetiously)—"Perhaps you mean a pair of shears."

Customer (severely)—"I mean precisely what I said."

Clerk (defiantly, opening a specimen article) — "Are there not two blades here? and don't two make a pair?"

Customer (triumphantly) — "You have two legs; does that make you a pair of man?"

The shears were done up in profound silence.

—A little four-year old in Richmond, very fond of a certain dish, when asked by his mother if he wouldn't like to be an angel with wings, and fly about Heaven like his little dead brother, replied after a pause, "No, Ma; I'd a heap rather be a hawk, and live on chicken!"

—Remarkable presence of mind was shown by a man employed in an Indiana saw-mill, who, when his coat-tail was caught in a revolving shaft, clasped his arms about a post, and allowed his outer garment to be skinned off his back in the twinkling of an eye.

—A novel cure for a balky horse is to fill his mouth with dry loose dirt, and then take hold of the bridle, and he will go if there is any go in him.

Pays its Depositors Six Per Cent. Interest.
Deposits made before the second Wednesday of February, 1870, will go on interest at the time of Deposit.
Deposits, $2,876,717.45.
The statement for October exhibits a surplus of earnings upwards of eighty-five thousand dollars after paying all its regular Dividends to that date.
On the second Wednesday of November next, and semi-annually thereafter, there will be declared a Dividend at the rate of Six per cent. per annum, and Extra Dividend of earnings will be payable at the same time.
This plan is a decided advantage to Depositors, inasmuch as it enables them to receive all the earnings of their money every six months, instead of waiting five years, as is now the rule in many Savings Institutions. These dividends are free of Government and State Tax.

SPEECH OF HON. J. H. ELA,

Concluded.

Labor and Immigration.—The growth of nations in wealth and prosperity is usually in proportion to the numbers and intelligence of her mechanics and artisans and the concentrated form and perfection in which they export the products of their industry. Whenever they have seemingly advanced by sending abroad the products of their soil and forests alone, it has been found exhausting, and, where manufactures have not immediately followed, led to decay and decline.

Our policy as a people is to remove taxes wherever possible, to economize at every point, to increase our exports and our home productions, and give labor employment at good prices. To effect this, internal taxes should be abandoned as soon as practicable, except such as are laid upon legal transactions in stamps, devised property, luxuries, and demoralizing productions like spirits and tobacco, and upon the net accumulations of capital above the amount required for reasonable support. So, too, duties should be reduced or abandoned upon all articles which enter into our manufactures for export or the cost of living, and kept at the highest revenue point upon luxuries, and made protective wherever our industries require it.

We have advantages in the skill, intelligence, and self direction of our workmen; but with our great debt and high interest, more than one half of which is owned abroad or by absentees, and all of which must be paid by labor, I see no hope that the dreams of American workmen for relief from long hours of toil, with the means of comfort and opportunity for mental cultivation, is ever to be realized without the most rigid economy and curtailment in every branch of expenditure; and I greatly fear that without a speedy reduction of both interest and taxes, business which gives employment to labor will paralyzed and contracted, with lessened production and its attendant evils to all.

In seeking to produce manufactures for export it must be done by a reduction of every tax of expenditure which adds to their cost before you come to the laborer. To seek it by reductions on labor alone, or by unnatural foreign immigration, is to depress labor, not to protect it. To seek it by Chinese immigration in the form of coolicism is still worse; because, in addition to disastrous competition with its degrading and debasing associations, it would fill the country with a population of alien ideas and habits, without any of the elements of affiliation and absorption. The attempt is being made by the old rebel slaveholders of the South to stock their plantations under coolie contracts, which is another name for slavery. The same thing is also sought by American snobbery, which seeks to secure to itself servants who will be content in isolation and degrading servility. It is this anti-republican taste which decks its menials with the divested badge of servitude and condemn its female help to isolation and want of social recognition and enjoyment which has made household labor reproachful to all who have self-respect and ideas of personal independence, until that class of help which was once so abundant when treated with respect can not now be had without great difficulty.

When it is proposed to supply this demand, not by the depressed labor of Europe, which becomes welded into the general mass of population by the second generation, but by a resort to the coolie trade, to bring in the pagan hordes of Asia and by their competition bring down the independence of the American laborer and his means of living, it is time to move for its suppression. This system, which was resorted to as a substitute for slavery in the days of British West Indian emancipation; which has been the aid of slavery in Cuba, and is now resorted to by the old slaveholders of the South and the giant corporation monopolies of the distant West; which is sought for by those who look upon laborers as animated machines out of which capital is to grind profits, ought to be at once and forever prohibited by efficient legislation.

Let the emigrant who comes here to seek rights and privileges which are denied him in the home of his nativity, who comes content in his lot with ours and take upon himself the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, no matter what adverse circumstances may have surrounded him or where was the place of his nativity, let him be welcomed and allowed to enjoy our privileges. But let us have no more of this forced immigration which comes to degrade and impoverish American labor. It is an element of weakness and not of strength, of degradation instead of elevation.

The Republican Party the Friend and Protector of Labor.—The sooner we come to realize that the great object of life is not to see how much wealth can be ground out of it for capital, but by improvement and cultivation to elevate mankind and fit them for the great unknown future and act upon it, the better it will be for us all. If the Republican party has had any distinctive idea standing out prominent beyond all others it is that it was the friend and protector of American labor.

It was organized to prevent the extension of slavery over free territory, which would curse it with barrenness and degradation so that free labor could not enter it. It will be known in history as the party which struck the manacles from the laborer in the South, where for ages the working people had been sold like cattle in the shambles. It has put the ballot in the hands of every working man it could reach, with which to guard and protect him from oppression. It has amended the Constitution so as to make the strong arm of its protection around every citizen, whether native or foreign-born, and made suffrage the equal right of all. It has spread out to every laborer the broad domain of the public lands, upon which he may enter without money and without price under the homestead act, so that when competition presses hard upon him he may there build up a home for himself and family. It has boldly entered upon the experiment of reducing the hours of toil by making eight hours a legal day's work for the Government. It fed the starving, landless laborers of the South when gaunt famine stalked through the land they were not allowed to cultivate, and carried education to those from whom it had been sealed up by legislation. It has brought up the revenues and brought down the expenses while reducing the taxes, until nearly eighty million dollars of debt have been extinguished in the first eleven months of General Grant's administration. It has laid its tariffs to protect labor from adverse competition that it might have the comforts of home and the means of education and relaxation from long hours toil.

A party which has done all this will not stop here unless its mission has ended. All its memories in the past and all its hopes in the future commit it to progress and reform. It will again reduce the taxes—taking off those which bear oppressively upon labor and prevent manufactures for export, which would increase employment without reducing its relative pay. It will reduce the burdens falling the debt in some of the modes proposed. It will go on triumphant in the future, because it has been faithful in the past, keeps pace with the rapid strides of the present, and reaches forward to anticipate the aspirations of the future.

TO THE WORKING MEN.

MANCHESTER, Feb. 3d, 1870.

At a public meeting of laboring men from various sections of the State, convened at Concord on the 28th ult., the following vote was passed: "That the State Committee this day appointed by this Convention, be instructed to issue an address, setting forth the cause and the object of the Convention."

At the first session of said Committee, which took place this day, in Manchester, on motion of Mr. C. W. Gardner of Portsmouth, the Chairman was empowered to comply with the above vote. In pursuance whereof the following statement is submitted to the public.

The origin of the Convention was briefly stated in the preamble to the Resolutions adopted by the Convention, to the effect that we were debarred from seats in a Convention then in session, to which we had been legally appointed, at public meetings, "duly called by friends of Labor Reform in different towns and cities in the State." But the vote was evidently aimed at the root of the matter, viz: "What caused us to be rejected."

In order to convey a correct idea of the matter, it will be necessary to make a few statements of facts, which we will endeavor to make brief.

The present occasion is not the first time that Labor Reform has been heard of in New Hampshire. Some three years ago there was a movement in the city of Manchester, on the question of the hours of labor, which in addition to giving us 15 minutes more time for dinner, developed an association know as the Labor Reform of Manchester, with which were identified men who had the interest of the laboring class at heart. But apathy overcame the many and left a few faithful ones, who finding their efforts powerless in outward demonstrations, adjourned sine die, and labored on individually, bearing the jeers of those they had benefited, the oppression of those who had power to oppress, and the disadvantages politically which naturally arise from being in an unpopular movement. But they suffered not without hope that the cause which they held sacred would yet obtain a foothold, and give them a field for action.

With this conviction we have often said to our fellow-laborers and friends of different political faith: "How shall we order the battle?" The answer has invariably been: "If we can have a political party independent of the two great parties, we will go with it." This has often been explained to mean a party built upon a platform exclusive of any question that has been mooted by either of the parties. How such a platform could be constructed, was a problem; for it really seems as though political speculators had all the timber in the market of which a platform could be constructed. Study, consultation and mutual discussion, led to the following Resolution:

Resolved, That we, whose names are hereunto affixed, by the act of executing our signatures, constitute ourselves a Labor League, and pledge ourselves upon our honor as men, calling upon God to witness the rectitude of our intention to labor for the benefit of the Laboring Fraternity in the political arena.

This solved the problem and met the demand. A few friends of Labor Reform in Manchester, of different political faith, were called together. The resolution was signed by a number of true men, who constitute I a Labor League. The organization was completed by the election of permanent officers. The responsibilities of the sun peoted Labor Reform Association were assumed, the old leader whom we had followed in that Association was with us, and we were prepared for action.

In due time, a meeting was called to elect delegates to a State Convention, professedly called in our interest. We went to the meeting. A Chairman was nominated under whom we had never served; who, to our knowledge, never had been identified with the Labor Reform interest; he was a clerk and law-student. We did not believe him to be a trustworthy leader, and his nomination was rejected by a vote of two to one, by actual count.

At this juncture, a lawyer called to "those who were in favor of Mr. Hazen (not Labor Reform) to withdraw to the Council Room." Those remaining elected Wm. T. Stevens, our old and tried leader, as Chairman, and chose a full set of delegates, part of whom went to Concord the evening before the Convention, and finding there was another set of delegates, took official measures to ascertain how we should obtain our seats in the Convention. We found the condition to be obnoxious to honest men on honorable business. We put forth every proper effort to gain admittance, as the record will show, but we were not willing to stultify ourselves by accepting an unheard-of condition, devised for the occasion by an unprincipled political juggler, to which, men without conscience and without obligation to the interest of Labor, could easily submit. We were under the most solemn pledge, embodied in the above resolution, to "labor for the benefit of the laboring Fraternity;" we could not afford to disgrace ourselves to accommodate the leaders of that bogus Convention.

The result was, delegations from different towns and cities, numbering about one hundred men, were outside of it, and a new Convention was organized, which was the public meeting above referred to, and which was simply the more extended developement of the movement inaugurated in Manchester by the adoption of a single resolution, as above explained.

The object of the Convention was fully set forth in the Preamble and Resolutions adopted therein, and more fully explained by the subsequent action of those who on that day—the 28th of Jan.—from the very force of circumstances, laid the foundation for the Labor League of New Hampshire, which has been only organized to-day, and now invites the mechanic, the farmer, the laborer, and all true working men, to cooperate for "the benefit of the Laboring Fraternity" in the State.

Now, Brother Laborers, while we need to make no plea of honesty, our past history as men, and our present record, being sufficient, yet we appeal to you. This movement is inaugurated in your interest and at your suggestions, upon your own proposition, suddenly developed by the pressure of circumstances. Will you sustain your own cause and prove true to your own vital interests? There is no demagogism in the movement. Ours is the true Labor Party of the State, and all our words, and all our deeds and votes, shall be in the name of justice, and with a view to protect and elevate the working men of New Hampshire. Join us, ye who will! and ye who do, remember your pledges! We await your answer at the polls!

The foregoing exposition of the organization, purpose and prospects of the State Labor League, has been prepared in a plain way by a hand more accustomed to the ax than the pen, and without the claim of any merit, except that of truthfulness in its statements, and is hereby submitted to all working men of the State, in the name of the State Labor League Central Committee,

DANIEL S. HOLT, Chairman.

IF YOU WOULD CURE YOUR COUGH OR COLD,
At every Druggist's there is sold
A little bottle that will do it.
'TIS FREEMAN'S CURE FOR COUGH & COLD
And those who buy it don't get sold;
'Twas told to me by one who knew it.

—ALSO—

FREEMAN'S

IRON MANDRAKE SYRUP,

to impart Iron to the blood, to purify and strength en the system.

A SENSIBLE WOMAN

Told her husband, "Get me another bottle of

for my liver is out of order, and it does me good and I want some more." She was right, for it is just the medicine to cleanse the system, act on the liver, impart iron to the blood, and build up the health.

In addition to Iron it contains Mandrake and Vegetable Tonics, and those are the points in which it excels other iron preparations.

ALSO, FREEMAN'S

CURE FOR COUGHS & COLDS.

It is simple, Safe and pleasant, and is sold by Apothecaries for 25 cts. Try it.

HON. AND REV. S. TAGGART.

BY E. W. B. CANNING.

Whatever may be the reason, it seems to me that eccentricity in the pulpit is much less common now than with the divines of the last generation. Such droll ministers as Mills, Jackson, Buckus and Bellamy are rare at this day, while an active, wide-awake ministry is much oftener found.

Occasional anecdotes of oddly good men that I have noticed in the columns of the Congregationalist and Recorder, have prompted me to put to paper some of the peculiarities of a singular, and at that time, noted clergyman who served his Master in Colraine, Franklin Co., Mass.—Rev. and Hon. Samuel Taggart—for, if I mistake not, he was the first member of Congress sent from the Franklin District. He was a Scotchman by birth and education, with a strong but not unpleasant brogue; and personal appearance and voice very similar to those of the late Rev. Dr. Shephard of Lenox.

Though very young, I distinctly remember his occasional services in the pulpit of my native town, where his arrival for an exchange was nearly welcome to the juveniles as that of a menagerie, in view of the actions which he knew would elicit our combined amusement and wonder, when he rose to perform divine service.

He always prayed with his eyes open, though his mind was so abstracted from his surroundings, that I have known him during prayer turn round, walk two or three steps from the front of the desk, and seem to be looking out of the window in the rear, the sonorous sentences meanwhile rolling thunderously from his tongue.

His great peculiarity was his mental abstraction. An anecdote illustrative of this followed him hither from his native country. When a student of divinity, at a lecture by a professor—(Rev. Dr. Wardlaw, I believe)—who did not know him, Mr. Taggart seemed to be so busy sticking flies upon the panes of a window near him, as to call for animadversion at its close.

The lecturer thanked the class for their attention, but said he felt it his duty to except the unbecoming heedlessness of the young man by the window, whom he had observed murdering flies during the entire performance. Mr. T., finding himself the target of the eyes of the class, arose and modestly remarked that he was not aware of what he had been doing, having felt greatly interested in the lecture. The Professor, thinking to quiz him perhaps, or willing to expose his palpable inattention, asked him to state the subject of the lecture. Taggart not only did this, but gave the heads and subdivisions seriatim, and then commencing at its beginning, began repeating the sentences, word for word, until stopped by the professor with the remark that he was entirely satisfied that he had mistaken abstraction for heedlessness.

His wife used to relate, that during his ministry in Colraine, she had known him come down from his study with his pen in his mouth, remove the dinner-pot hanging over the fire, carry it out of doors, set it carefully down, and then, without a word, and with the air of a somnambulist, return to his sermon-writing. To her question at dinner why he had done so, he would express surprise, remembering nothing of the kind. Becoming familiar with similar idiosyncrasies of her droll husband, she came to expect them whenever he became intensely interested in any mental effort.

Once, when about to mount his horse to ride eight or ten miles for an exchange, not able to find his whip, he took a large jack-knife from the house to cut a switch, to serve its turn. In due time he arrived at the house of his brother minister with bridle in one hand, and jack-knife upright in the other.

Mr. T., like many of the clergy of that day, had an inexhaustible fund of story and anecdote, wherewith he was wont to entertain his brethren at Associational dinners. On one such occasion an incident occurred, both ludicrous and unfortunate. Mr. T. sat at one corner of the table, and during the narration by himself of an unusually interesting story, had been observed to be unconsciously stuffing something into the capacious side pocket of his pantaloons. It proved to be the long end of the table-cloth, and the rising of the company at length to return thanks, resulting in drawing off into a broken and promiscuous heap all the crockery on that end of the board, to the no small confusion both of the unwitting perpetrator of the general smash, and the good housewife, its owner.

The good old man has been many, many years in Heaven, where, it may be charitably hoped, he has never forgotten to cast his crown, and sing the song of redemption, with the numerous souls he led thither.—Recorder.

—A gentleman inspecting lodgings to be let, asked the pretty girl who showed them, "and are you, my dear, to be let with the lodging?" No, answered she, "I am to be let—Alone."

—Why is a ballet lady like a puzzle? Because she's a poser.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research has made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

TUESDAY, FEB. 15, 1870.

NEW HAMPSHIRE POLITICS. — The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal says that intelligence received at the headquarters of the Central Committee shows that the Republican party throughout the State is thoroughly organized, and that its members are wide awake and actively at work. A private dispatch from Cheshire county says, "If every county will do as well as old Cheshire, Governor Stearns' majority will not be less than 3000 votes."

The Labor Reform movement is found to be confined to a small number of places, it having no supporters at all in several of the counties. The few Republicans who have joined the Reform party, are leaving it, now that their eyes are opened to its aims and objects. Governor Stearns and his administration are increasing in popularity.

One of the most prominent Democrats of Rockingham county, who has filled responsible offices, and who is now in good standing in his party, remarked at the Eagle Hotel in the hearing of your correspondent, that "Governor Stearns is one of the best Chief Magistrates that New Hampshire ever had. If he needs my vote to give him a handsome re-election, he can have it, and I am sure that he will have a considerable number of Democratic votes."

☞ The political temperance men make it a charge against the Republican party, that the prohibitory law is not enforced. What have the Republicans, as a party, to do with it? The enforcement of the law is a business which is open to all men. Any one can make complaint, and if he can furnish the requisite evidence, procure the conviction of any violator of the law. Grand Jurors are of all parties—Courts and prosecuting officers are independent of parties—and neither Republicans nor Democrats, any more than the temperance candidate for Governor himself, are responsible for the non-enforcement of the law.

ARITHMETICAL. — Your correspondent, N. D., may rest assured that the 4th of July in the year 2000, will be on Tuesday. If he should find it different however at that time, I shall be ready to make a suitable apology, and revise my calculations, which are as follows:—

In 1870, the 4th of July will be on Monday, every common year (of 365 days) contains 52 weeks and one day, so that for every common year it must come one day later in the week, and for every leap year, two days later. From 1870 to 2000 there will be 130 years, 98 common years and 32 leap years. Twice 32 gives 64 added to 98 makes 162 extra days, beyond the 52 even weeks in each of the 130 years. Now dividing 162 by 7 gives 23 weeks and one day, which day added to Monday gives Tuesday. A. M. H.

In answer to the question of 11th inst. on what day of the week will July 4th happen in the year 2000:—

The Dominical Letter for that year will be B. A., being a leap year, therefore the 1st of January will be on Saturday, consequently the 4th of July will happen on Tuesday. — The year 1800 was not, and 1900 will not be a leap year, neither will 21, 22, or 2300. In the year 1900 the 4th of July, will take place on Wednesday.—How many of the present generation of the age of 40 will live to see it? It is safe to assert, not one in ten. TYRO.

The year 2000 being leap year has two dominical letters, A. G. January and February have A. and the remainder of the months have G, so July first is Sunday, and the 4th must be Wednesday.

When will the Fourth of July come on the same day of the week again that it will in 1870? L. J.

LADIES' HOOPS.—The question of hoops has been before the public for some time now, and it still seems a question in the minds of most people whether they are fashionable or not. One thing is certain; they are more generally worn this winter than last, and from information received from one of the largest manufacturers, it would appear that the hoops lately ordered by the ladies of fashion and the retail dealers are much larger in circumference than those worn for the last five years. It is claimed also by manufacturers that the trade is comparatively brisk.

By going into statistics it is discovered that never, since the creation, has the fashion of wearing hoops, when once adopted, lasted less than fifty years; and judging the future by the past, we have, according to that, some forty years of hoops, more or less, in store for us. However, if the ladies of olden times could stand the ungainly, stiff, poky arrangements of their day for fifty years, we ought, with the light, flexible, graceful little articles manufacturers have been to such trouble and expense to perfect for us, to submit to the infliction (if it can so be called) a thousand years at least.—N. Y. Atlas.

CONGRESS.—In the House, Saturday, the legislative appropriation bill was discussed. Mr. Laflin of New York said that when Linn Boyd (democrat) was Speaker of the House, there had been paid for printing Senate and House reports $2,220,715, and during the thirty-ninth Congress, with Schuyler Colfax (republican) as Speaker, $1,535,715, or a diminution in favor of the republican administration of $689,924. Adding the extra cost of material, he showed that republican economy in the item of printing for one Congress saved $350,000, with no allowance for the increase caused by the war, internal revenue business and population.

Mr. Dawes of Massachusetts commented upon the lecture read to the House by "his gentle colleague," whose conversion seemed as sudden and remarkable as that of him who travelled to Damascus. He (Dawes) apprehended it to be his duty whenever such a question was before the House, faithfully, justly and impartially, but without fear, favor or affectation, to make diligent inquiry where every dollar of the public money had gone or might go, and so long as he had the confidence of the House and of the country he should continue to pursue the course with out regard to such lectures.

Mr. Butler disclaimed all intention of lecturing the House, and declared once for all to put a bar against the analogy between Saul of Tarsus and himself. He had heard it nineteen times and a half in the House. There were three things which he thought might be omitted hereafter because the country understood them. First, that he voted for Jefferson Davis; second, that he had got a sudden conversion; and third, that he had not been in the republican party as long as some other people. All that was true. He had no doubt that in old times there were men who stood by Judas and against Paul, because Judas was the old apostle.

In the Senate, Monday, an effort was made to postpone the further consideration of the Mississippi bill, but upon the calling of the roll, the vote stood 24 yeas to 24 nays, Vice President Colfax gave the casting vote against postponement of the law.

TROPPMAN'S EXECUTION.—The Paris correspondent of the Boston Advertiser gives the following account of the execution of the murderer of the Kinck family:—

He was conducted to an ante-chamber; the executioner gave a written receipt for his person, while an assistant trimmed the hair at the back of his head and cut away a part of the shirt-collar, the priest meanwhile reading the prayers for those about to die: and they say Troppmann never winced. At exactly 7 o'clock, in the grey of the morning, we outsiders saw the great doors open and five men come out—one in a white shirt, the others in black; the crowd suddenly became as still as death. The group stopped at the foot of the scaffold—the man in the white shirt kissed the crucifix and embraced the priest—then was assisted up the ten steps, for there was a strap around his ankles and his hands were tied behind his back. Without a second's delay he was strapped to an upright plank, tilted down not quite to the horizontal, and a man with a basket full of sawdust ran and stood in front, and we turned away our head.

At that moment we thought, would we, if we could, save this man's life? and there came up before us the ditch at Pantin, the six children gashed and thrown in pell-mell; there was absolutely no ground for commiseration; we could not have arrested the knife. When we looked again, all that was left of Troppmann had disappeared, falling into the basket below; in fifteen minutes the guillotine was taken down, the troops withdrawn, and not a trace of the tragedy remained. We saw the executioner smoking a cigar: a powerfully built man, gray hair and mustache, high-buttoned vest, eyeglasses with a black cord,—quite different from the traditional blood-thirsty wretch in red shirt and rolled-up sleeves.

The general impression left by this execution was that the French system is more humane than ours. The condemned man is only apprised of his fate half an hour beforehand — the death is instantaneous, and the people do not see the body afterwards; at the same time the moral effect is perhaps greater, for men have an innate horror of this death by the knife, while hanging is a favorite method of suicide. At least there can be no doubt that, for a public execution, the Ayer's better chosen than with us.

Orin H. Butler, of Berwick, was aroused from sleep by the barking of his dog; and at the same moment a loud noise was heard in the stable. On going out he found one of his horses loose, which he hitched and stepping behind another horse, put his hand on him without speaking. The horse gave Mr. B. a severe kick, injuring him internally, though he is able to attend to business. Next day the same horse made a misstep in Great Falls and broke his leg, by which casualty the owner is minus a valuable horse.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact, usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been expended by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy, and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart, is transitory, unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of medicinal tonics and invigorants.

Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

Holloway's Ointment.—The cold of winter is apt to aggravate the condition of open sores and great care is necessary to keep the foot from affecting them unfavorably. The invigorating properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, by giving tone to the surrounding parts, keep up a healthy circulation in them, and thus prevent the torpor which a chilly atmosphere would otherwise engender in the tender and diseased flesh, thereby interrupting the healing process that nature is always struggling to accomplish. Sold by all Druggists.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Communication.

SAD VISITATION.—With deep regret we recorded the death of five children of Mr. Peter Collins, who resides near Mr. Fisher's brewery, last week. It becomes our painful duty to state that the eldest daughter, of 17 years, lies now at the point of death, and probably will not recover; and what makes it still more unfortunate, the two youngest children were taken with the same fever (scarlet) on Saturday last. The unfortunate parents are hardly able to give the comforts and nursing these three children require, although they decline proffered aid from the City. They would, however, not object to comforts from private residents in their hour of affliction, as Mr. Collins has spent his own means in behalf of his five lost children; and Mrs. Collins, it is feared, from constant watching and sorrow, will herself be laid on the couch of sickness. S.

THE FAMOUS THOMPSON COLLECTION of 3000 Paintings, which the people of Boston were recently so excited about, now greatly interests the New Yorkers, as they are selling there under the auctioneer's hammer. They were for years the pride of Boston and New England. Mr. Thompson was for many years engaged in collecting them and intended to present them to the city of Boston, but would not agree to the action of the legislative and City Council committees. He finally became dissatisfied with the committees and left Boston, his native place, for New York, taking his paintings with him.

Mr. Jarvis, who offered the finest collection of paintings in the world to Boston, wishing to connect them with those of Mr. Thompson and the famous Schwabe collection, now so popular, thought that the committees wished to assume too much authority, and took his paintings to New York and to foreign countries.

The excitement was so great when the Thompson collection was taken from Boston, recently, that the intervention of the police force was necessary to protect their safe departure. Many of them were subsequently willed by Mr. Thompson to a public institution in New York and the balance are now being sold a auction.

Portsmouth was well represented in the Collection, as Mr. Thompson had traced many valuable paintings to this place and was for years endeavoring to get possession of them.

At the New York auction, last week, a fine large painting of Portsmouth in 1700, by Durat, a French artist, was sold to T. VanRansellaer for $650. Portsmouth in 1760, by Kaufman of Munich, Germany, was purchased by M. T. Van Courtland for $375. Three portraits of the Governors Wentworth, by an English artist, were sold to Mrs. Walter Langdon at $300 each. A portrait of Sir William Pepperell and one of Gov. Eustis sold at $500, to Mr. Corning of Albany. Mrs. Langdon purchased a portrait of Tobias Lear, former private Secretary to Gen. Washington, for $415. All these Paintings once adorned the walls of private residences in this city, and are now scattered in all directions, never to return.

The public sale will continue several weeks, and many are sold at private sale, among them being a portrait of Daniel Webster. Mrs. Langdon secured two of Copely's painting (among a dozen thus disposed of) for which she paid $1000 each. They ornamented the mansions of the Barrell family of York, Me., in ancient days.

☞ The late Mrs. Lord, wife of Rev. Dr. Nathan Lord, was one of the most remarkable women whom this country has known. She was born in Saco, about 80 years ago, and was a niece of Hon. Rufus King, whose intellectual qualities she possessed.

☞ The Hutchinson's Family Temperance meeting, held Sunday evening in Cooper's Hall, New York, achieved a success which may well cheer the hearts of the friends of the cause.

The saw mill of O. & I. Dimond, at Danville, was consumed by fire on Tuesday evening, during the prevalence of a driving snow storm. The origin was a spark from a stove in the mill.

☞ The wreck of Sch. R. H. Colson, which went ashore on Rye Beach, near the Ocean House, during the late snow storm, is to be sold by Auction, this day (Tuesday) at noon.

☞ Mr. Harry Moses, 21 years of age, son of the late Capt. Edward Moses of this city, is supposed to be lost in the Santee.

☞ Forty caulkers and a number of carpenters and machinists are to be employed at the Navy Yard, to-day.

☞ The Empire Minstrels are to appear for the second time at the Temple on Wednesday evening.

The Utahlegislature has passed the woman suffrage bill.

☞ The Keene Sentinel, we think, was the first newspaper in New Hampshire to exclude cuts and large type from its columns; this Chronicle and Gazette the second—though we had for years before excluded them from all except our 4th page; and now the Exeter News Letter has followed suit. Good, so; and after several years' trial, the Sentinel says:

We congratulate our excellent friend, the Exeter News Letter, upon its enlargement and greatly improved appearance; and more especially we congratulate its proprietors upon the good sense and good taste shown in excluding all cuts and auction bill type from their columns. If their experience prove anything like ours, they will find their adoption of the uniform style of setting advertisements to be one of the best business moves they have ever made. It will give satisfaction alike to advertisers and subscribers.

The News-Letter looks very nice; and we show our appreciation of it, by our frequent selections therefrom. We believe this Chronicle was the first paper to place Local matter on the 3d page, and now many of the papers in this State and elsewhere do it.

KITTERY.—An Ancient Document.—At his Majesty's Court of Quarter Sessions holden at Wells, January, 1695—nearly two centuries ago, the following presentments were made by the Grand Jury, which contrast widely with those of the present day:—

William Goodden being presented to this Court by the Grand Jury for Retailing Rhum and Sider is sentenced to pay forty Shillings to ye Selectmen of Kittery for ye use of ye pore of sd Town and to pay Fees £4, Fees payd into Court.

We present Edmund Gage of Kittery for profane swearing and for being Drunk.

We present Abraham Parker of York for not frequenting ye publique worship of God upon ye Lord's day.

We present Mr. William Godsoe for not frequenting the publique worship of God upon the Lord's day.

William Godsoe and his wife, presented for not frequenting ye publique worship of God upon the Lord's day, the sd Godsoe appeared and being legally convicted is for his offence to pay £5 for ye use of the pore of Kittery; and to pay fees £5: his wife bringing evidence that she often frequents ye publique worship of God, is acquitted.

Benjamin Nason being bound to this Court by Recognesance for Swearing, Cursing and taking the name of God in vain frequently and being Legally convicted he is Adjudged to pay ten shillings to ye Selectmen of Kittery for ye use of ye pore thereof, and to be admonished. Fees payd.

There being complaint made to this Court that the meeting hous at Kittery point is very much out of repair Soo yt is very uncomfortable to meet in. Therefore this Court orders that ye Selectmen of that part of Kittery forthwith cause ye Same to be repaydt and to rayse money upon ye Inhabitants belonging to that pt of ye Town by way of rate for ye doing it.

SWAMPSCOT MACHINE COMPANY'S STOCK.

AT AUCTION—44 Shares of the Capital Stock of the Swampscot Machine Company, situated in SOUTH NEWMARKET, N. H., will be sold at Public Auction at my office, No. 6 Daniel Street, (up stairs) Portsmouth, on Tuesday, Feb. 15th, at 12 o'clock, Noon.

Said Stock having been pledged as Collateral Security, is sold to satisfy a contract. This Stock cannot be bought in open market, and this sale presents a rare chance for investment.

JOSEPH H. MORSE, Auctioneer.

Portsmouth, Feb. 7, 1870.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

SWEETSER & CLARK, 46 Market Street, are the AGENTS for Portsmouth and vicinity, and are now prepared to supply the Public. f14

Morning Chronicle.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, Feb. 14.

Did it ever occur to you, O sapient chroniclers, to notice how many there are ever willing to raise the loud tocsin in praise and aid of those who are prosperous, powerful, or acknowledged already as successful? Centuries back, so long ago that the mind wearies in trying to comprehend it, although numerically the figures are small, the highest type of incarnate man not only noticed it, but gave it utterance in the words which have come down the long vista of ages, and will still bear their weight of truth to unnumbered generations to come; "For whomsoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance; but whosever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath." Human nature remains essentially the same in all the changing cycles. Aggregation is the tendency of power, of wealth, of pride; while poverty and weakness move as readily toward disintegration. What boy but has seen his great ball of snow increase in a ratio that was remarkable to a mind as yet infantile in mathematics? What man but has seen a decadence fully as rapid in friends, in fortune or in position, when once the ball was set in motion on the down grade of his ambition?

The same minds that are readiest to applaud to the skies the successful man, are equally active in accelerating the downfall of their fellows, literally egging on to perdition many an unfortunate being.

I don't know that sensationalism and journalism are necessarily at all synonamous, but I do know that the public mind constantly craves something that is new, and so I have gone back nineteen centuries, fancying that perhaps the enunciation of the axiom I have quoted might not have been sufficiently considered by all—its practical truth being so generally evident—and that its personal application by individuals might not only be a novelty to some, but should tend to make us less lavish toward those who have no need of our generosity [I don't particularly refer to G. P.], and to extend a kindlier greeting, a more genial and a stronger support to those whose weaknesses or misfortunes have necessitated assistance.

"Too proud to beg, too honest to steal,
I know what it is to be wanting a meal,
My tatters and rags I try to conceal,—
I belong to the Shabby-Genteel!"

Not a very high order of poetry, perhaps; not particularly musical, as I lately heard it at one of the Cheap-John variety entertainments in this city; but pathetic, with a pathos that fine words and skilled music are powerless to express, to the close observer who has frequently studied low life in large cities. The poverty that is abject;—that hesitates not how its wants are gratified, whether by mendicity or plunder; that has no past which still embitters recollection by a regret for a life whose energies were bent to higher and nobler ends than the mere getting of bread:—is not half so galling as the straitened circumstances of the "shabby-genteel," whose former culture and refinement add new horror to the scenes in which they are forced to live, to the shifts for existence which their altered condition thrusts upon them, and render them more sensitive to the repeated humiliations against which they are too proud to cry out.

Setting aside the question as to whether any of this class owe their descent in the social scale to errors of their own heads or hearts, let us look for a few examples; we shall not have to go far. We'll cross the street here, go down in that cellar—it is an eating-house,—and study faces a few moments. Have a care, my friend, how you cross the street; you came very near being run over by that jaunty cutter, dashing so swiftly along behind that high-stepping, satin-skinned, clipped horse. "Who is it?" Oh, that gentleman, with his costly furs, his fashionable garments of rich material, with his elegant turn-out, is the proprietor of one of the bars which Major Jones says do not openly exist in this Commonwealth. He is going for a drive on the Brighton Road, and appears a pleasant enough fellow in his way; but rumor has it that his lines are not always cast in such pleasant places—that he has long since forfeited a heavy bail sooner than stand trial for pocket picking in church—that a woman of the town who followed and upbraided him on one of our streets, received a blow from his hand that broke her jaw.

Be careful of the steps into the cellar. Let us take this table in the corner; 'tis the best point of observation. Order a steak; you can get a very good one here, and I am not so suspicious of it as I am of their hashes, their stews, and their soups. The table is a bare board of hard wood, firmly fixed. The stools have no backs. The crockery makes no pretensions to elegance, and you will be troubled with no such luxury as a napkin.

Ah, there comes a subject. He seats himself in such a way as to make evident his desire to avoid observation, and it seems almost cruel to watch him, yet as physical science uses the lancet and the probe mercilessly to advance its ends, we may to some extent be forgiven a little pain inflicted in pursuing the problem of human nature. Study with eye and ear, while our current of conversation may lead him to think he is unnoticed. He is young, not over twenty-five certainly; his eyes are intelligent, his nose well cut, with clear nostrils, his mouth hardly firm enough to meet disaster without flinching. There is little trace of buoyancy or hope in his face, lines of care that should hardly appear in half a century are stamped upon it, and "pinched" is indelibly written thereon.

His wardrobe presents a strange contrast not only to that of the gay fellow who has just driven past the door, but to that of the rough, begrimed workmen and laborers who share the cellar with us. Theirs may be creased and soiled, but it bespeaks comfort, and the stains of labor thereon are so many decorations of the legion of honor given by Toil to the men who dare honestly to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. His is scrupulously clean, but time traces its passage on each and every article. His hat must be sleepy, because it has been so long without even a nap. I suppose that joke would grow rather stale if I repeated it in regard to his coat, and besides, our subject is too painful for much mirth. His coat then, we'll say, bears evidence of being well married, as it is apparent that it has been carefully husbanded, for the' the elbows and back are worn threadbare and shiny, no rags are visible other than the frayed edges of the sleeves. His boots, much worn, are well brushed, but devoid of polish. His linen is clean; were it otherwise we should at once reject him from the class we wish to study.

In a low voice he gives the well fed waiter his order. 'Tis brought; only a cup of coffee, and five-cent coffee at that, for a grown man, in apparent health, and with eyes whose hungry glances at the food of others he is powerless to restrain! Don't offer him your steak, even if you don't want it; that would hurt him more than to go without it. He takes a small brown-paper parcel cautiously from his pocket, takes therefrom a doughnut, and returns his paper to his pocket. He eats his doughnut and sips his coffee, then once more draws forth the parcel. There's but one other doughnut therein. He eats it slowly, prolonging his frugal meal to its greatest extent, then carefully uses the paper as a napkin.

His speech to the waiter, his table habits, his punctiliousness of dress, which preserves respectability to even his effete garments, all bespeak him one of the unfortunates who have seen better days; even if his shrinking from notice and the wistful, weary outlook from his eyes, did not proclaim it.

From his wallet he extracts a tencent scrip, the only sign of currency I can notice therein, settles for his coffee, and goes out again into that world which seems so cheerless, so hopeless (perhaps — so Godless) to him; that world—to others who jostle against him—so bright, so pleasant, so replete with all that is best worth having or living for. Who he is I know not, but I would wish that somewhat of hope might go with him, that somewhat of success might wait upon his endeavors, that somewhat of consideration might be extended to him by the world against whose waves he is wearily striving to make headway.

Ah, well! we'll go farther down the city, where more pitiable cases are to be seen, because in those localities they fancy they are less likely to meet the eyes of those with whom they have once moved as equals. "Don't want to go?" O, tender heart, how little you know of what is daily and hourly going on about you. I don't know that I blame you; the study is a sad one, but not for that must we shirk it, for its lessons are fraught with what too many of us need—teaching courtesy to the lowly, consideration to the unfortunate, endurance under reverses, admiration for the honesty that is tempted and still remains intact, respect for the pride that makes itself respectable when false pride would sink into contempt, that suffers but does not murmur; in short, giving us great lessons in prudence, in charity, in honesty, in contentment, and knitting closer the bands which bind man to man. M.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"
SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB
SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 or ordinary tobacco. In this brand we have received orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY
CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS
HAVE BEEN IN GENERAL USE in the United States over 110 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.
If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.

THE DOG THAT GOES IN FOR THE RIGHT.

BY REV. J. L. HATCH.

Now that your upper and bottom dog,
And your outside dog, in the fight,
Have each had their poet—let me be heard
For the dog that goes in for the right.

When a little dog by a big one is wronged,
He goes in with all his might
For the little dog! or lose or win,
Does the dog that goes in for the right.

He may for a time be a bottom dog,
But he knows by an instinct bright,
That the dog that will come out a top in the end,
Is the dog that goes in for the right.

He loves his ease and he loves his bone,
But he's no[t] so selfish, quite,
As to care for no other dog but himself!
Not the dog that goes in for the right.

He will die, sometime; and then he must know,
Having fought while he lived, a good fight,
He will go, without fail, where the good dogs go,
Will the dog that goes in for the right.

So here's a bumper, with health and success,
To the dog that's my heart's delight,
The noble dog—the generous dog—
The dog that goes in for the right!

ANECDOTES OF ANIMALS.—We have a good "fish story" from Maryland. As it runs, a man fishing in a river in that State, found that his hook was attached to something, and pulling it up with some difficulty, discovered at the end of his line a jug holding about half a gallon. Not wishing to lose his only hook, he demolished the jug, and to his great astonishment found that the hook had been swallowed by a monster cat fish exactly the size and shape of the jug.

The most incredible story of the season comes from Strafford, N. H., and is told by a respectable and reliable citizen. The gentleman caught a common striped turtle some time since, and, at the request of the school-teacher took out the heart, which is a curiosity, from the fact that it seems to retain signs of life for days after taken from the body of the turtle. The heart was pierced with a needle, and otherwise experimented with, after which it was thrown out, and one of Mr. Waldron's hens was seen to swallow it.

A few days after, Mrs. Waldron broke a number of eggs, and in the centre of one of them found the turtle's heart. At that moment she called her husband and one or two other persons, all of whom saw and identified it. It is a curious question how it came in such a strange place, and offers a nut for scientific gentleman to crack.

A MAD ELEPHANT.—The Connersville (Indiana) Times says that during the temporary absence of her keeper, not long since, the elephant Jenny Lind, belonging to the Van Amburg Menagerie, now wintering in that place, determined to free herself from bondage and exhibit herself free of charge. How far she succeeded is described below:

"Her first performance was to try, if it were possible to upset the building in which she was confined, but finding she was unable to push the solid masonry from its foundation, she seized the zebra, which stood in close proximity, deliberately lifted the frightened beast out of his stall with her trunk, held him poised in mid-air, then dashed him violently to the ground. Not satisfied, one of the sacred cattle shared the same fate. Everything was in the wildest confusion; lions, tigers, and all the wild beasts, terrified by her unusual fury, made the building echo with roars, trying to burst their bars and escape.

Mr. Winner, the lion-tamer, tried, both by coaxing and threatening, to pacify her majesty until the return of her keeper, but without success, and at one time Mr. Winner says she made her chains ting like a harp-string. If she had succeeded in escaping she would have instantly demolished the dens containing the animals, and the damage they would have done in the surrounding country could not be realized. Word was instantly sent to her keeper, Mr. Nash, and he arrived on the scene just in time. Her royal highness was so blinded by her rage that she did not recognize him, as usual by his footstep; but the moment she heard his voice, accompanied by his terrible spear, he forced her to immediate subjection, and she trembled and begged for mercy most pitiably."

NICARAGUA.—The Nicaragua papers print a letter from Cardinal Antonelli to the Bishop of Nicaragua, in which the Cardinal says the Holy Sea has been informed that an attempt has been made to change the order of things hitherto existing in that republic, by publishing a programme, in which are enunciated "freedom of education" and of worship. Both these principles are not only contrary to the laws of God and of the Church, but are in contradiction with the Concordat established between the Holy See and that republic. The Bishop is required to see that the clergy do their duty in the matter.

—The Baltimore American thinks that the Fifteenth Amendment will be the means of bringing out 40,000 colored voters in that State.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 16, 1870.

THE LEGAL TENDER DECISION is hailed with delight by the Fire Insurance Companies, who have outstanding loans probably to the extent of ten millions. It is said that some of them will call these in and insist upon gold payment.

The outstanding obligations of all the States which come under the operations of the decision amount to $185,333,000.

The above items, from a New York letter, are doubtless correct:—but tho' the decision pleases some persons and some corporations, it does not please all. A Washington dispatch mentioned, a day or two since, that Mr. Ingersoll of Illinois made two unsuccessful efforts in the House to introduce a sixteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, authorizing the issuing of legal tender notes.

This does not look like the best way to do it; such a provision would not be retro-active, even if adopted, which is not probaqle. But a counter decision, by the full bench would do it, effectually. It is stated, however, that the legal tender question can be reopened before the Supreme Court under its rules in but one way; One of the Justices who made up the majority in the opinion in the Kentucky case can move that it be reargued. But one of the minority cannot make such a motion, nor can a new Judge, subsequently appointed, do it. This renders the chance of a rehearing very slight. A rehearing is not the only way to reach the core of the matter:—and then the Rules of the Court; are they unalterable, like the laws of the Medes and Persians in the days of Mordecai and Haman? We trow not. A majority made those rules, and a majority may make others;—and the world moves, even if no precedent can be found.

Mr. Buchanan could find no Constitutution, either for Secession or Coercion; but the rebels made the former, and the loyal people performed the latter.

A negro named Legrune murdered a negro boy at Hickory Grove, Va., a few days ago, for losing some money while returning from an errand. The boy was first badly beaten, and the next morning started for a justice, but was followed by Legrune, who cut out his tongue, then cut his throat and threw the body into the woods. Legrune fled and has not yet been arrested.

Communication.

"THE CHARITY SCHOOL." — Messrs. Editors:—The Opposition organ in this city, commenting on a recent article against the Naval Academy by your contributor "Pakeha," says that he may "find all the fault he pleases and give the best reasons in the world for doing so, but so long as he votes exactly contrary to the way he talks, sensible people will put him down as guilty of gross inconsistency;" and that the way to abolish this and all kindred abuses is to "put men at the head of public affairs who will thoroughly scrape the government ship from stem to stern, and never allow any extraneous barnacles to accrete again;" meaning, of course, to restore to power the Democratic party.

From this, any one not conversant with the facts might imagine the Naval Academy to be a creation of the Republican party, which does not happen to be the case; for it was established by a Democratic Secretary of the Navy (Bancroft) under a Democratic President (Polk), at a time when the Democratic party had things pretty much their own way all over the country. The critic does well to put the word "again" at the end of his implied statement that his party would "never allow any extraneous barnacles to accrete,"—for that party not only did allow such accretion when they were sailing the national ship, but this particular barnacle was stuck to her by their direct act.

After the Academy was established by a Democratic Administration, if its purpose was not simply to give to the F. F. V.'s and the Chivalry all the honors and influence of the navy, its effect was such; the Naval Registers, and the great prepondearance of southern officers in the navy when the late war broke out, will sustain this statement. So if Pakeha is really in earnest in opposing a "privileged aristocracy," he will continue to vote with the party which has had its hands full for the last ten years in reforming and abolishing abuses which the long continuance of Democratic rule had entailed on the country, and which will doubtless reform or abolish this one. REPUBLICAN.

New Publications Received.

Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co., of Boston, send us a package of six beautiful little juvenile volumes, entitled Teachers' Gift Books, of 18 mo. size, neatly done up in paper covers, and containing about 60 pages each. The stories are sensible, high-toned, full of life and zest, and teach noble lessons, such as the little people will be likely to learn, remember and profit by. They are fitting presents from a teacher or a parent, and the books are cheap as well as good. They can be obtained of the publishers, by mail, postpaid, for 40 cents per page.

The March "Riverside," gives for a frontispiece, another of Stephens' famous animal pictures, illustrating La Fontaine's fable of "The Cat, the Weasel, and the Young Rabbit." Some of the stories are "How Little Patrick found his Way over the Sea," "Princess Eva," and "How the Captain came by a Legacy," by Vieux Moustache. The drollest thing is "The Romaunt of the Sleepy Princess," with its killing pictures, although Annie Silvernail's "Little Quaker Artist" and her highly excited drawings will make households merry. Hurd & Houghton, New York. $2.50 a year.

SHAKY LAW.—It is a singular fact, that the highest courts in fifteen States of the Union, have decided that the Greenback Legal Tender Law is Constitutional: It is a singular fact that a Kentucky Court is the only one that has declared to the contrary: and a more singular fact that four judges out of seven in the U. S. Supreme Court have followed part way only, in the track of Kentucky! Most singular of all it is, that Judge Chase, (whose picture adorns some of the Greenbacks,) should deny his own likeness, and go with Kentucky! Litigation in great variety must follow this half way decision:—and when we get two new judges, the full bench may possibly agree with Judges Miller, Davis and Swayne, who gave a dissenting opinion from the dicta of the four. No one will say that these three are inferior as lawyers, to the other four, though as politicians capable of management, probably they have less experience.

The four have been cautious in their acts —yet their animus is plainly to be seen: and it is against the people's money,—and in favor of great hoards.

THE NAVAL TRANSFER APPROPRIATION BILL, amounting to $1,500,000, which orignally passed the National House of Representatives, and was amended by doubling the amount in the Senate, was before the House again on Monday. The House refused to concur in the amendment and ordered a committee of conference.

New Hampshire Items.

The Professors of Dartmouth College have had their salaries raised from $1500 to $2000.

The Carroll County Five Cents Savings Bank at Wolfeborough, have just put a Fire and Burglar Proof Safe into their banking room. It weighs three tons.

The Ladies of Great Falls, presented Deluge Engine Co., No. 1, five valuable pictures to hang in their Hall. The presentation speech was made by Miss Nellie Foote which was responded to by Jas. C. Pitman. A supper, dance, and good time generally.

Not long ago a man came into Great Falls, claiming to cure blindness in every case, and applied to the Post Office for names of any person or persons afflicted with that disease. The clerk directed him to Mr. Horn, the well known sash and blind manufacturer, and told him he was a blind man and had been for some time, and gave him the directions to find him—the quack eager for a victim, starting at once for Mr. Horn. The result of the interview is unknown; but the last seen of the quack, was at the depot anxiously waiting for the train.

A gentleman of Rochester saw an advertisement that a recipe for the cure of dyspepsia might be had by sending a postage stamp to the advertiser. He was a victim and sent his stamp. The answer was, "Dig in your garden and let whiskey alone!"

Sargent & Cross, well known lumber dealers, have purchased of the Concord Railroad a tract of land in Groton, Grafton county, two miles from the Montreal Railroad. The tract comprises ten thousand acres, and is covered with a heavy growth of hemlock and spruce. The price paid was $10,000, which is just the sum paid for it thirteen years ago by the Concord road. The lot is easily approached by rail and river, and already the lumbermen are at work upon it. Available timber tracts in this State are becoming scarce, It is thought that the tract will produce 12,000,000 feet of lumber.

While Mr. Otis Sanborn was hunting in Bridgewater, his dog ran a fox into its hole, and on digging him out, three old ones were found, which were all captured.

Mr. Daniel Wheeler, of Plymouth, has an aqueduct, made from pine logs, that was laid in August, 1846, and never has had any repairs, or ever failed to give its regular supply of water.

The body of Mr. James Donovan's son, who was drowned two weeks since, was recovered on Sunday last, in Exeter river, and below the lower dam. It was found on Saturday afternoon, while floating over the dam, and a hook was fastened to the clothing, which gave way on account of the pressure of the ice in the stream, by which the body was again lost. Efforts were immediately taken to prevent the body from going down the river by means of stretching a seine across, nearly opposite the factory.

A grand mass Temperance Meeting is to be held at Dover City Hall Monday evening Feb. 21, in accordance with the suggestion of the National Temperance Society.

The Exeter News Letter states that the spotted fever has broken out in Londonderry, and Geo. Pettengill, son of James, is its first victim by death.

A fine Black Spanish rooster owned by a Londonderry gentleman, died, and it was found a string ran from the gizzard to the root of the tongue, where it had become twisted, and produced death by drawing the tongue into the throat.

Senator Cragin recently introduced in the Senate a bill for the relief of Geo. P. Folsom of Dover, late an Army Paymaster, against whom there is a technical balance of about $3000.

Geo. A. Bartlett of Kingston, has been appointed to a clerkship in the Treasury Department.

The subject of "Corn" is announced to be discussed at the next annual meeting of the Exeter Horticultural Society, and Hon. John D. Lyman, D. F. Hayes and J. P. Cilley are to open the discussion. The Manchester Mirror says the selection of the subject of "Corn" is "an evidence that Hon. John D. Lyman has become fairly domiciled in that beautiful town."

The appointment of Nathaniel K. Leavitt, as Postmaster of Exeter, is confirmed by the Senate, and he will assume the duties and responsibilities of the office in a few days. May he prove as acceptable a public servant as his immediate predecessor, Mr. W. B. Morrill, is all the News Letter and the people ask.

Mr. B. F. Tuttle of Newmarket had a finger cut off, while examining the new engine in mill No. 4.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Infirmities of Age.

Decrepitude is the natural accompaniment of old age, but it may be ameliorated, and the period of entire helplessness long postponed by the judicious use of a healthful stimulant. Physicians, fully aware of this fact, usually recommend moderate stimulation when the strength and vigor of maturity have been exhausted by the feebleness and prostration which are the inevitable results of declining years. Port wine, gin, brandy, and other liquors are often prescribed by medical men for aged persons, but the impulse which fermented and distilled liquors give to the circulation, and the energy they seem to impart, is transient; unless the alcoholic principle is modified and qualified by the presence of medicinal tonics and invigorants.

Of all the combinations of diffusive stimuli with the juices of herbs, roots and barks that have ever been administered to the aged and infirm, with the view of sustaining their waning strength cheering their drooping spirits and relieving the aches and pains to which they are subjected, none has been found so efficacious, so agreeable and so permanent in its effects so Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The difference between the effect of the Bitters and that of a mere excitant however pure, is the same as between the effect of a sudden and momentary application of excessive force to a given purpose, and the result of a steady, continuous application of exactly the requisite amount of force to the same end. The mere spirit of physical energy produced by a dram (and which is always succeeded by corresponding depression) never yet benefitted any man or woman suffering from physical decay. A cordial like Hostetter's Bitters, at once soothing and invigorating, is the remedial agent required.

Holloway's Ointment.—The cold of winter is apt to aggravate the condition of open sores and great care is necessary to keep the frost from affecting them unfavorably. The invigorating properties of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, by giving tone to the surrounding parts, keep up a healthy circulation in them, and thus prevent the torpor which a chilly atmosphere would otherwise engender in the tender and diseased flesh, thereby interrupting the healing process that nature is always struggling to accomplish. Sold by all Druggists.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chesistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY. Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

ABSOLUTELY SAFE.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATION, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. ja13dawlm

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS', VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Price 50 cts. Sold by the Druggists, Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. ja13dawlm

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ Don't forget the Empire Minstrels, to-night. They present a good bill, and give a first-class entertainment.

☞ Mr. Thomas W. Moulton of Boston, who has relatives in this city, died suddenly in Lynn last week, at the age of 22 years.

☞ J. P. Morse, Auctioneer, sold 44 Shares of the Squamscott Machine Co.'s Stock, (of South Newmarket) in this city on Tuesday, for $105 per share. The par value is $50, but the actual worth estimated at about $130.

☞ Schooner Lone Star, Thomas White, Master, while trying to run into this harbor, on the night of the 14th, carried away her main boom, and was obliged to put into York for a harbor. They report the gale as very severe.

☞ Messrs. Reuben Wiley of Seabrook and Gilbert Wiley of Dover, divers, have been down under the bottom of the U. S. Steamer Benicia, examining the bump she received at the Narrows. They report but slight damage to the after part of the fore-shoe. They are to examine the Plymouth to-day.

☞ The sleighing was pretty effectually slain by the warm rain and thaw of Monday night and Tuesday, and either walking or riding is now rather tough work. And take it all in all, we have never known so much bad travelling as during this winter. Frozen ground or mud, half bare ground or an excess of snow and pitches, hard and uneven jolting ice or slumpy slosh, has been the rule for the season—the exception being a week or two of tolerable sleighing.

☞ But four of the children of Peter Collins have died, instead of five as reported, and there are four alive. Mrs. Collins and the oldest girl are very sick. Whether Mr. Collins is in need of outside help we cannot say, but it is certain that the family are almost wholly without the comforts of life; but if the house has been a place of drunken carousal, recently, which necessitated the presence of the police, it is best that a thorough investigation of the real wants of the family should be made—and if great distress can be prevented, philanthropists should give freely. The family are greatly in want of bedding.

Communication.

C.—S., in the Chronicle of Monday, says, "the 4th of July don't happen at all in 2000 years." My question reads on what day of the week will July 4th in the year 2000 happen? I suppose he carps at the word happen, but I think in this he is a little too fastidious. If he should look in Greenleaf's Arithmetic, in his Astronomical problems, he will find happen used several times in the same sense I use it. In fact, let him examine Webster's Dictionary, and he will find the verb happen defined, "to come to pass." It is not always used to signify, "to come by chance," or "to come unexpectedly." N. D.

☞ The Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says, "Ex-Mayor Jones keeps ten driving horses in his stable, all of a superior kind. He can probably turn out the best teams in the State." No doubt of it—and this does not include about as many more business horses which are kept at his Brewery—and his string of horned cattle counts up 35, including a mammoth yoke of beef cattle now weighing 4500, and destined to weigh 6000 in a year or so if feed will do it. Mr. Jones is a grand farmer, and will ere long have one of the best farms in the State, for he shows as much pluck and enterprise in this direction, as in everything else he undertakes.

PISCATAQUA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. At a recent meeting in this city, at the National Hotel, the Treasurer's report shew that upwards of $2500 had been expended during the past year, in improving the track, buildings and grounds, and conducting the annual Fair and trotting meetings. The receipts of the Fair were about $1600, which fully covered the expenses of the same.

The managers desire us to extend their thanks to Messrs. J. W. Peirce, Frank Jones, Wm. Simes, W. P. & A. L. Jones, H. D. Walker, M. Eldredge, M. Fisher & Co., and others, for liberally donating to the Society all the premiums won by them, to the amount of $200 or $300,—and to all others who in any way aided their success.

The Piscataqua Fair Grounds are naturally very beautiful, and with some further improvements in the modle of the track, to increase its speed, it will be one of the most popular in this section. The premises are now in good condition, and we think have proved and will continue to prove a public benefit.

Communication.

GEOMETRICAL.—The plane triangle proposed by C, S. is not the best selection that could have been made, as there are fractions in both segments of the base. The less segment is 214 8-9, the greater 709 8-9, and the whole base 924 7-9. If C. S. is a student in Geometry, let me advise him to make himself a little more familiar with that very useful and beautiful science, before he makes his appearance again in the public prints. In requiring the altitude of the triangle, he has overlooked the fact that it makes no difference what the altitude is, in order to comply with the conditions of his problem, for, whatever be the altitude, the difference of the squares of the two sides must be equal to the difference of the squares of the segments of the base. Then the answer in regard to the altitude is anything you please. A. M. H.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to everyone.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

EXETER, Feb. 14.

THE PREMIUM CORN.—Mr. Daniel F. Hayes of Exeter won two of the Lyman prizes on corn, one of $25, and one of $15. At a meeting of the Exeter Horticultural Society, on Saturday evening last, Mr. Hayes gave his method of culture, the cost, &c., which I thought might be of interest to your readers, and which is as follows:

Plow as late in the Fall as possible, 8 to 10 inches deep. In the Spring, put on six cords of barn-yard manure to the acre; no patent fertilizers—have tried many kinds, and see not much if any benefit; barn-yard manure is good enough; (save all the liquids; my manure all goes into my cellar, and is mixed with muck and loam;) spread manure as even as possible, and brush and harrow it over to make it fine and even, and plow four inches deep—mark the rows 3 feet; 2 inches, put five kernels to the hill, no manure in hill, allow four stalks to remain in each hill; allow no turnips, beans, pumpkins, or anything but corn. Hoe three times, and allow no weeds. Plant a mixture of eight and twelve-rowed seed. Cultivate with a common five-tooth cultivator; make no hill, keep land smooth and level as possible; cut no top stalks, (I think corn ripens better and heavier to let stalks remain;) when ripe, cut, and load at time of cutting.—husk in barn. Soil, sandy loam, subsoil clayey.

The corn exhibited for premium was selected from one piece of four acres; selected all 8 or 12 rowed; think there was some 10 rowed in the field. Have planted the same kind several years.

Cost of 4 acres.—plowing	$28.00
Carting manure	28.00

MARK TWAIN'S WEDDING-DAY ended with a genuine surprise party, if a correspondent of the Cleveland Herald can be trusted. It was long ago arranged that Mr. and Mrs. Clemens should proceed at once to their boarding-house in Buffalo, on their arrival from Elmira, while the rest of the wedding-party were to be domiciled at the Tift House. The securing of a desirable home in a private family had been delegated to an intimate friend and resident of Buffalo, and Mr. Clemens, having been absent on his lecturing tour for the past few months, accepted the assurance that everything had been attended to. At the depot in Buffalo, on the evening after the marriage had taken place, hearty "good-nights" were exchanged, the larger party driving to the hotel, the bride and groom taking a carriage for more quiet quarters.

Stopping in front of an attractive brick house in the upper part of Delaware street, Mr. Clemens was somewhat surprised to be met in the hall by the bride and his own sister, whom he supposed already quartered at the hotel. The landlady of the house suddenly disappeared from the scene, and as leaf by leaf of the charming little drama unfolded, Mark Twain found himself the victim of what he termed a "first-class swindle," the projectors and abettors of which were the delighted father and mother, who stood there silent spectators of the happiness they had prepared for their children in the gift of this beautiful home. Nothing that love or wealth could suggest or supply was wanting, from the delicate blue satin drawing-room to the sanctum quite apart, with its scarlet upholstery, amid the pretty adornments of which inspiration must often come to its happy occupant.

—Rev. Aaron Cleveland (great-grandfather of the late Prof. C. D. Cleveland) once when riding on horseback, stopped to let his horse drink at a brook in the way, but in such a brown study that it was a minute or two before he noticed a man also on horseback who was delaying for the same errand. "Good morning, Mr. Priest," said the man, in rather an uncourteous tone. "Good morning, Mr. Democrat," replied Mr. C. "And how did you know that I am a democrat," said the man. "And, pray sir, how did you know that I am a priest," retorted Mr. C. "Oh," said the man, "I knew that you must be a priest by your dress." "And, sir, retorted Mr. C., I knew that you must be a democrat, by your ad-dress."—Recorder.

ATROCITIES AT SEA. — I take the following illustration of the romance of a "Life on the Ocean Wave" from a late number of the New York Tribune:

The ship Neptune, from Liverpool, arrived at New York on the 5th inst., and immediately alight of her crew preferred charges of cruelty and inhuman treatment against the captain, Peabody, and the first and second mates. A general affidavit has been made by the eight seamen, reciting the various acts of cruelty alleged to have been perpetrated against them; in addition to which each one has made a separate statement.

James Brady was put in irons, and then beaten on the head with a cowhide; he was pricked in the back and beaten in the face with a sword, having his nose severely cut; and he was several times beaten with an iron belaying-pin,—by the captain. The second mate (Nolan) knocked him down with a lamp, and kicked him on the head with his heavy boots while he was down, cutting his head and breaking his nose; he beat him several times while he was at the wheel, and on one occasion struck him on the face with a capstan-bar; he made him lie over the pig-pen, his feet on one side and his head on the other, for about fifteen minutes; and made him stand on his head about an hour, his legs resting against the pen. Peabody stood by when Brady was being abused, and would tell the second mate when he had beaten him enough.

Richard Bond says this was his first voyage to sea. The second mate beat him several times, stamped in his face, and nearly knocked him overboard; he struck him on the knee with an iron bar, from which he is still lame; and made him stand on his head against the pig-pen for an hour.—The captain beat William Carter in the face, stamped on his foot so that his toes are crushed in a terrible manner; the chief mate (Brady) struck him on the mouth with a belaying-pin, splitting his lip; and the second mate choked him with a rope round his neck.

The captain beat Samuel Withey, of Eastport, Me., with a belaying-pin, disfiguring his face and breaking his nose; he also compelled him to stand on his head with the other men.—Jacob Miller was beaten and kicked by the captain and chief mate; had his nose broken by the second mate, who beat him on the head with a capstan-bar; and was made to stand on his head. His face is still very badly swollen.—The second mate beat Cornelius Vinedie while on the fore-yard, cutting his face and breaking his nose; and compelled him to stand on his head.—The captain struck Arthur Landy in the face, cutting his mouth very badly; the second mate beat him almost every day, knocked out two of his teeth, kicked him in the ribs and back, beat him with a chain-hook, held him by the throat while another man beat him with a strap, and made him stand on his head at the pig-pen.

The captain beat William Giles, of Boston, every day during the passage; struck him on the back of the neck with a shovel, knocking him down; struck him on the head and hands, while on the foretopsail-yard, made him let go his hold, and then tried to throw him overboard; fired three shots at him while he was on the main-yard; struck him with a belaying-pin so as to lame his back, and knocked him down with brass knuckles, from behind, when he was at the wheel. The second mate beat him nearly every time he came near him; and made him stand on his head until his eyes felt as if they would burst, his tongue hung out of his mouth, and he thought he was dying.

Some people may wonder at such treatment of seamen by their officers, as that above described, but I see nothing surprising in it. The Law of the United States makes seamen slaves, and takes from them all (legal) right to enjoy their own property, liberty, or life. Had any of the Neptune's men attempted to defend themselves, their oppressors would have been legally justified in shooting them down like dogs, as "mutineers!" Had they killed their tyrants, possibly they would have been acquitted by a jury, but it would have been in defiance of Law,—a sailor may not raise his hand even in defence of his life, if an officer chooses to deprive him of it. And yet, when a few old sailors are tortured nearly or quite to death, legally, people set up a howl of holy horror, fine the officer unjustly, and perhaps, if he has killed a great many chattels, even imprison him,—but they are careful not to prevent the recurrence of such affairs by giving the seamen liberty—that they must not and shall not have—it is necessary that they remain slaves, "for the good of the service."

On board hundreds of American ships, to-day, just such scenes as are above described are transpiring, — and will never cease till the American seaman is elevated to the dignity of a free man, instead of being held in the most cruel and degrading bondage. Our negroes have been freed; it is high time that our white slaves had their rights restored.

PAKEHA.

—The Erie strike at Jersey City produced a heroine. An aged German workman who took the place of one of the strikers, and was roughly used by them, was accompanied each day to and from his work by his stout and buxom daughter, who protected him by her presence and a six-shooter which she carried in her hand.

—Counterfeit five cent nickles are not so plenty as represented. But twenty-five cents out of $100 are bogus.

FEMALE REMARKS.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

Dear girls, are yu in search ov a husband?

This iz a pumper, and yu are not requested tew say "Yes" out loud, but are expekted to throw yure eyes down onto the earth, az tho yu was looking for a pin, and reply tew the interrogatory with a kinder draulin sigh, as tho yu waz eatin an oyster, juice and all, off from the half shell.

Not tu press so tender a theme until it bekums a thorn in the flesh, we will presoom (tew avoid argument) that yu are on the lookout for sumthing in the male line tew boost yu in the uphill ov life, and tew keep his eyes on the brich-in when yu begin tew go down the other side ov the mountain. Let me give yu sum small chunks ov advice how tew spot yure fewter husband.

1. The man who iz gealous ov every little attenshun which yu git from sum other fellow, yu will find, after yu are married tew him, luvs himself more than he duz yu, and what yu mistook for solisitude, yu will discover, has changed into indifference. Jealousy isn't a heart disease; it is a liver complaint.

2. A mustash iz not indispensable; it iz only a little more hair, and iz a good deal like moss and other excrescences—often duz the best on sile that won't raize anything else. Don't forgit that these things which yu admire in a phellow before marriage, yu will probably have to admire in a husband after; and a mustash will git to be very weak diet after a long time.

3. If husbands could be took on trial, az Irish cooks are, two-thirds ov them would probably be returned; but there don't seem to be enny law for this. Therefore, girls, yu will see that, after yu git a man, yu hav got tew keep him, even if yu loos on him. Consequently, if yu hav got enny cold vittles in the house, try him on them once in a while during scouring season, and if he swallows them well, and says he will take sum more, he iz a man who, when blue Mouday cums, will wash well.

4. Don't marry a phellar who iz alwiz a telling how his mother duz things. It iz az hard tew suit these men az it iz to wean a young one.

5. If a young man kan beat you playing on a pianner, and kant hear a fish horn playing in the street without turning a back summerset on akount of the music that iz in him, I say strip him; he might answer to tend a baby, but if yu set him boeing out the garden, yu will find yu hev got to do it yurself. A man whose whole heft lies in music (and not very hefty at that) ain't no better for a husband than a seedlitz powder; but if he luvs to listen while yu sing sum gentle ballad, yu will find him mellow and soft. But don't marry enybody for jist one virtew enny quicker than yu would flop a man for jist one fault.

6. It iz one ov the most tuffest things for a femail to be an old maid successfully. A grate menny has tried it and made a bad job ov it. Everybody seems to look upon old maids jist as they do on dried herbs—in the garret, handy for sickness — and therefore, girls, it aint a mistake that yu should be willing to swop yurself oph, with sum true fellow for a husband. The swop iz a good one, but don't swop for enny man who iz respecktabel because hiz father iz. You had better be an old maid for 4 thousand years, and then join the Shakers, than to buy repentance at this price. No woman ever made this trade who didn't get either a phool, a mean cuss or a cheep clown for a husband.

7. In digging down into this subject, I find that the digging grows harder the further I git. It iz much easier tew inform yu who not tew marry than who tew, for the reason there iz more ov them.

I don't think yu will follow my advice if I give it, and so I'll keep it, for I look upon advice as I do upon caster ile—a mean dose tew give and a mean dose tew take.

But I must say one thing, girls, or spile. If yu kan find a bright-eyed, healthy and well-balasted boy, who looks upon poverty as a sassy child looks upon wealth—who had rather sit down on the curbstun in front ov the 5th avenue hotel, and eat a ham sandwitch than to go inside and run into debt for his dinner and toothpick—one who iz armed with that kind of pluck that mistakes a defeat for a victory, my advice iz tew take him, body and soul—snare him at once, for he iz a stray trout, a breed very skase in our waters.

Take him, I say, bild onto him, as hornets bild onto a tree.

—Patrick saw a bull pawing in a field, and thought what fun it would be to jump over, catch him by the horns, and rub his nose in the dirt. The idea was so funny that he lay down and laughed to think of it. The more he thought of it the funnier it seemed, and he determined to do it. Bovus quickly tossed him over the fence again. Somewhat bruised, Patrick leisurely picked himself up, with the consolatory reflection: "Well, it is a mighty foine thing I had my laugh foorst."

—Time and eternity are one, to the Christian.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute, and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the side of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine. Knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,

Coughs,	Neuralgia,	Female Weaknesses,
Colds,	Headache,	Fainting Fits,
Fevers,	Convulsions,	Palpitation,
Agues,	Sleeplessness,	Restlessness,
Biliousness,	Dyspepsia,	Dizziness,

Constipation, Liver Complaint, Children's Troubles Diarrhœa, Consumption, &c., &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, FEB. 17, 1870.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

A QUEER IDEA it is, to have such a large number of gentlemen employed in the national shipyards, with no other duty than to see that matters of which they are utterly ignorant are well done. Keeping them there furnishes them with good positions, certainly, and gives "tone" to the naval machine; but it must detract greatly from the efficient working of the yards. The line officers may be sailors, but it is very unlikely that our navy yards will ever go to sea; and till that does happen, these officers are about as much out of place in them as any fish would be. They have everything to say in matters of which they know nothing.

If there is any property in the Paymaster's Department to be sold, a line officer is ordered to superintend it, and frequently he is a young man of no experience in business matters. If there is any machinery or boilers to be surveyed or inspected, or master machinists to be appointed in the machine shops, line officers are placed on the Board, at the foot of which is an engineer who is honored with the title of "expert," who of course is the only one on the Board competent to give an opinion.

This a grand humbug, and a costly one, in many ways, and should be attended to by Congress at the same time as the question of line and staff rank in the service.

The country is fast being enlightened as to the extraordinary and unparalleled advantages attendant on the Naval Academy course of instruction, which in four short years can so transform a beardless youth of ordinary pretensions into a sublime and supernatural being, whose great versatility of talent fits him for the performance of every kind of professional duty — any one kind of which, with ordinary mortals in civil life, demands an exclusive devotion of time, talents and experience for a respectable discharge, and even then satisfactory results are not always arrived at:—and when Congress really understands the case, and the direction in which we are drifting so speedily, I believe the fewest naval line officers possible will be assigned to duty in the great national manufactories, the Navy Yards, which will be placed entirely under civil control, and the line officers have nothing whatever to do with them —except as a thoroughfare by which to reach the ships to which they may be ordered. PAKEHA.

New Publications Received.

Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co., of Boston, send us a package of six beautiful little juvenile volumes, entitled Teachers' Gift Books, of 18 mo. size, neatly done up in paper covers, and containing about 60 pages each. The stories are sensible, high-toned, full of life and zest, and teach noble lessons, such as the little people will be likely to learn, remember and profit by. They are fitting presents from a teacher or a parent, and the books are cheap as well as good. They can be obtained of the publishers, by mail, postpaid, for 40 cents per package.

NAVAL DISCIPLINE.—U. S. Steamer Seminole, which was ordered to this Station for quarantine, having the yellow fever aboard, arrived at New York on Tuesday. This is the second vessel which has been ordered to this Station within six months and got no farther than New York. This time the excuse was a want of coal—as if the Seminole couldn't sail! Wouldn't it be considered a gross case of disobedience had Surgeon Greene or any other staff officer been in command and made a harbor several hundred miles from the Station to which the Secretary of the Navy had ordered him. The Navy Yard workmen may go to the New York Yard for employment, next summer, if they chose.

☞ It seems of but little if any avail, to denounce the use of tobacco, or any other bad habit; but one thing appears significant—that you rarely if ever hear a man say he is glad he learned to smoke, chew or drink; or sorry, if he has left off either.

A Mr. Rose, of Philadelphia, is the owner of a four-year old horse that is only twenty-seven inches high and weighs but 135 pounds. He is a perfect horse in every respect, brown in color, with a long tail.

—Farms soon run down that sell their hay. Mr. Mechi, the great English farmer, prefers that the products of his farm shall go to market on foot.

—A man should think little of the evil that is said of him, unless he thinks much of him who says it.

Minims.

The Thompson collection of paintings brought $63,000 at auction in New York.

The Superior Court of Cincinnati has decided that the school board has no authority to prohibit the reading of the Bible in the public schools.

Syracuse has re-elected a Republican Mayor by 356 majority.

A. G. Taylor of New York, convicted of setting fire to his liquor store to obtain the insurance, was sentenced to seven years in the State prison.

A Wisconsin printer has invented a chair in which to sit while working at the case.

It will take 1000 vessels, at the lowest estimate, to carry away the ice that will be packed on the Kennebec this winter.

Mr. M. H. Bovee of Wisconsin is speaking against capital punishment in all the principal Pennsylvania towns.

The cost of telegraphic despatches in Australia has been reduced to one shilling for twelve words, and one penny for every additional word.

Boston fire insurance agents have reduced their rates 20 per cent.

Commodore Champlin is dangerously ill.

Worcester, Mass., has started a new moral suasion temperance movement.

Salt Lake City has elected the regular Mormon candidates for city officers. Many women voted, some for and some against the successful candidates.

Texas has ratified the 15th Constitutional Amendment.

The Georgia legislature has elected as United States Senators, Foster Blodgett, for the term ending in 1871; Colonel H. P. Farron, for the term ending 1873; and Major Whitely, for the term ending 1872.

The Minnesota House of Representatives passed the woman's suffrage amendment to the constitution, women's ballots to be put in separate boxes.

Senators Morrill of Maine, Cragin of N. H. and Casserly of California compose the Senatorial committee of conference on the naval transfer appropriation bill.

Admiral Porter has written a letter in opposition to giving staff officers positive rank. The committee finds that the positive rank of staff officers has not ruined the army, and is not able to see the force of his reasoning.

General Sully writes to Commissioner Porter that 741 of the Gros Ventres Indians at the Fort Browning reservation recently died of small-pox, leaving only 120 of the tribe, who are most friendly and disposed to accept civilization. At one time the deaths occurred faster than graves could be dug, and the ice house was filled with corpses.

George Fox of New York died a few days ago, leaving property valued at about $400,000 to the government for the liquidation of the national debt. His relatives are contesting the will.

☞ A murder, resembling in some of its details the tragedy at Pantin, has just been discovered at Neuville, France. A wool-comber, named Rivire, aged 42, married, and father of two children, killed an old man, Sylvain Rene, who lived in a cottage close by, and then dug a grave and buried him in a field. He then planted a tree on the spot so that the onighbors should not remark that the earth had been moved. Robbery was the motive for the crime, but the murderer appears to have obtained only about a shilling.

☞ General Slocum has introduced a bill in Congress for the discontinuance of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. It is small and cannot be enlarged. The cost of keeping the channel open is heavy, and great damage is done by the discharge of the city sewers into the dock. Admiral Godon writes a long letter, in the course of which he says the present property is worth $40,000,000. If the Yard is discontinued it is probable that another will be built at New London.

A LOTTERY SUIT.—In New York his brought to light some strange and extraordinary facts, revealing the cause of much of the poverty and crime in the city. No less than six million of dollars per annum is received by the sale of lottery tickets, and most of this is in small sums, and most of this amount is received from the poor, wretched people, who have not a cent to spend except for the necessaries of life.

A WORKING CHURCH IN NEW YORK, is Rev. Dr. Tyng's on Forty-second St. It has connected with it in successful operation six Sunday schools, with fifteen hundred scholars, five mission chapels, where regular services are held and multitudes are reached who are not accustomed to attend church services, and a home for poor, unfortunate crippled children, which is doing immense good.

New Hampshire Items.

The B. & M. Railroad have just erected a new iron bridge over the Exeter river, about a mile from town on the line of the road to East Kingston. The span is 64 feet, and at each end is a distance of about 20 feet which is spanned by iron girders. The piers and abutments are new and of stone brought from Farmington, on the Cocheco Road. The bridge is Moseley's patent, and is decidedly an improvement over the old structure. It is the first of its kind on the line of the road.

Raymond, with a population of less than twelve hundred, has upwards of fifty widows. There are thirty-eight men over seventy years of age in the town, and about the same number of women. In school district No. 4, with a voting population of twenty-seven, there are eleven bachelors. The population of the district is decreasing. So says the News Letter.

The shock of an earthquake, so called, was recently felt in Nottingham and vicinity.—Can it be that the Pawtuckaways are volcanic in their origin and nature? We notice that the shock was also felt at Durham and Dover.

For stealing a harness from Stephen Chapman of Newmarket, the Police Court of Exeter sent William Hayes up to board with sheriff Leavitt, who keeps the public house owned by the County. As Hayes has served one term in the upper house at Concord, his election to a second term is quite certain.

The friends of Rev. James Doldt of Milton, have give him a surprise of $25, and a donation of $12. He also received from a friend in Boston $50; and at the close of a prayer meeting in the west part of the town, he was presented with a beautiful silver pitcher, and a pair of goblets.

The Levees given at Rochester by the Washingtonians, on Thursday and Friday evenings were well attended, and a good time was had. The vote on the Silver Cake Basket, to the lady receiving the highest number of votes, was quite animated. The result, at ten cents a vote, stood as follows; Mrs. Abbie Whitehouse 16, Mrs. Julia Wentworth 59, Miss Laura Smith 246, and Mrs. C. Henry Hayes 649, whole number 940; the sum realized from the vote $94. After paying all expenses there remained a clean balance of $153.

Charles Kimball, a soldier who deserted from Fort Warren eighteen months ago, was arrested on the 10th at Epping, by officers Shannon and Maloon of Portsmouth. He was recently connected with Sharpley's Minstrels, and had an alias. He was taken to Fort Warren on the 11th.

A company from Boston are now cutting ice on the Massabesic River, which they send to Boston daily.

The house and barn of Mr. James Dodge in East Concord, were consumed by fire, with all their contents, on Friday night last.

Oliver Pillsbury, of Henniker, Insurance Commissioner of New Hampshire, denounces the Mutual Benefit Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn., as a swindle and unworthy of trust. This must not be confounded with the staunch and reliable Mutual Benefit Co., of New Jersey.

☞ Rolling Stones gather no moss, it is said; but without stopping to inquire whether moss is a desirable acquisition, it is fair to infer that Mr. Rolston will leave no stone unturned to defeat or injure the Republican party.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA IS A HYDRA-HEADED MONSTER from which nearly all the "ills the human flesh is heir to" originate. The Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron, is a long-tried and well established remedy for this distressing complaint. It has cured thousands when other remedies have failed.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS.

THESE PAINTS ARE CHEAPER, Handsomer, and More Durable and Elastic than the best Oil Paints. They will not Peel, Crack nor Chalk-off, and will last twice as long as the best White Lead. They are sold all mixed ready for application, in 40 Different Shades and pure white.

These paints can be had at the

GROCERY & PROVISION STORE,

16 and 18 Cabot Street, Portsmouth,

for $2.25 per Gallon, until March 1st; after that time, owing to the increased demands and their superiority over other Paints, the manufacturers' price will be $2.50 per Gallon.

Those who intend Painting this season, can save 25 cts. per Gall. by sending in their Orders before March 1st.

COST OF THE AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT as compared with White Lead.

White Lead (man'rs price,)	$13.50	per 100 lbs.
4 Galls. Linseed Oil,	$160	4.00 weighs 30 lbs.
Total cost,	$17 70	130 lbs.

As one gallon of mixed Lead Paint of same consistency as the Averill Chemical Paint weighs 32 lbs., in the above quantity we have just 6¼ gallons costing $17 70, or $2 72½ per gallon.

Cost of one Gallon Lead Paint $2 72½, to cover 16 square yds. 2 coats.

Cost of one Gall. Averill Chemical Paint $2 25 to cover 20 square yds. 2 coats.

☞ The Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester announce their 16th annual Levee at Smyth's Hall, on the evening of Tuesday next, Washington's Birthday. The occasion will be grandly observed, as usual, of course. The handsome circulars of invitation, from the Mirror press, are very fittingly illustrated by a full-length likeness of Gen. Natt Head, in Veteran's uniform—for none of the eminent Commanders of that famous battalion have done more to put the Veterans ahead than their present first officer.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—KIDNEY DISEASES.—Disorders of the Stomach are often complicated with affections of the kidneys, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are eminently useful in both. Their mild cathartic action checks inflammation in that region, and the regular application of the Ointment to the small of the back and loins assists to counteract the irritation of the urinary organs which always accompanies renal complaints. Sold by all Druggists.

A Torpid System.

Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, and a strange torpor falls alike on the body and intellect. There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and muscular systems seems to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced mind when in a healthy condition.

This state of partial collapse is often the premonitory symptoms of some serious malady. It indicates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus.

The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity under the operations of the specific, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the season of depression lasted, becomes once more enjoyable.

That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem incredible to those who pin their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to enquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the Bitters under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says; "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I gave it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Sprains, Bruises, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

THE ELEVENTH LECTURE before the Mercantile Library Association was delivered on Tuesday evening by Mr. B. F. Dame. The rainy weather and wretched walking led many to believe the lecture would be postponed, but the hall was nearly filled. Mr. Dame announced his subject to be "Our Free Common Schools"—a difficult topic for elaboration, which in the speaker's hands, however, became very interesting and instructive.

He urged the necessity of the extension of public schools all over the country to meet the increasing wants of the present and future scholars. Liberal support will receive a liberal return from a well cultivated soil, and the highest intelligence which comes from thorough education furnishes the most influential means for sustaining self government. He contrasted the condition of the States which had no common school system with those who were prospering by being enlightened, previous to the late rebellion. Of the original thirteen States which formed this Union, South Carolina was the only one that did not provide for common schools, and South Carolina had twice led movements, which proved abortive, for the disintegration of the Republic. He quoted Horace Mann's description of ignorant voters as peculiarly applicable to the generation of the past, and closed by saying that a nation might become wealthy but never popular without education.

Mr. Dame's lecture is highly spoken of and it was the general desire of those who heard it that it should be repeated at a more favorable opportunity. Those who remained at home on account of the disagreeable weather missed one of the most interesting lectures of the course.

☞ The Concord Patriot having recently made absurd charges respecting Sheriff J. P. Morse selling a reporter's admission ticket to the hanging of Pike; and being requested by Mr. Morse either to prove or retract the same—now comes out and handsomely takes it all back. And well it may, for whatever anybody may say of Mr. Morse politically, he has never been even suspected of malfeasance in office; and certainly is neither knave or fool enough to act in the way suggested by the Patriot.

☞ A Naval General Court Martial, of which Capt. D. M. Fairfax is President, will convene at this Navy Yard to-day, for the trial of such persons as may legally be brought before the court. The members of the court are, Capt. D. W. Fairfax, Commander O. C. Badger, Commander E. Y. McCauley, Commander O. F. Stanton, Lieut. Comdr. A. F. Crosman, Lieut. Comdr. M. L. Johnson; Paymaster Jos. A. Smith, of the Charlestown Navy Yard, Judge Advocate.

☞ At the last term of the Supreme Judicial Court, the Grand Jury of Rockingham County indicted the Jail in Portsmouth. It has been promulgated by the Press in a manner which may seriously reflect upon the jailor, Deputy Sheriff Joy. The facts are that the building itself is inadequate, poorly constructed and entirely unfit for use, and the jurors did not intend to cast any reflection upon Mr. Joy—on the contrary, complimented his management.

TRAFTON'S FIFTH BAL MASQUE, which comes off at Congress Hall on the evening of Washington's Birthday, will probably be one of the greatest successes of the season. Select parties are expecting to attend in costume from Dover, Great Falls, Newmarket and other places. Tickets have sold rapidly and but few are undisposed of. Mr. Trafton has twelve dozen new masks which he offers for sale cheap.

☞ The Commissioner of Pensions has lately ordered, that upon all payments to widows and mothers, the deposition of two witnesses that the pensioner has not remarried will be required. The March payment being near at hand, we are requested by the Pension Agent in this city to call attention to this order.

☞ Mr. John J. Leavitt of Hampton has been appointed Postal clerk on the route between Boston and Portland over the Eastern and P. S. & P. R. R. vice Mr. Chas. W. Adams, resigned. Mr. Adams several weeks since, accepted a position on a Railroad running west from Chicago.

☞ There were many strangers in attendance at the Navy Yard sale of Equipment material, on Wednesday, among whom, it is said, were agents of the Cuban Junta.

THE FISHING BUSINESS IN PORTSMOUTH.—The fishing business, as in former days in this city, is again becoming an important branch of industry, and quite a source of income to those engaged in it in the adjacent waters of this harbor, and the various occupations growing therefrom.

Messrs. Harding & Doane, a well known and extensive firm, formerly doing business at Harwich, Mass., have changed their base of operations, and are now engaged in the same business here. To them the past season has been a very successful one. Their fleet has consisted of seven first-class schooners, and they were all fortunate in bringing in "good fares" of codfish, and catching several "trips" of mackerel. They are making additions to the number of their vessels, both by building and purchase, with a view to extending their trade the coming season.

The unlimited extent and availability of the water privileges within our harbor, together with the great depth of water at all points on the river, is destined to make this port a great fishing depot. The winter "troll" fishing is carried on to quite an extent, furnishing employment for two hundred men and upwards of twenty vessels. They bring in daily vast quantities of fresh codfish, which find a ready sale in the Western States and in Canada. There are several dealers engaged in this line of the trade, one of whom, who formerly carried on the business at the Shoals, and now makes his headquarters here and has a branch establishment in Boston, is Christian Johnson. He has bought and sent off this winter nearly two million pounds of fresh codfish. During the past season Messrs. Harding & Doane have sent over the Eastern Railroad over $100,000 worth of cured and fresh fish.

The "smelt" trade is another great source of profit and employment. It is not an uncommon thing at this time to see two hundred men smelting on "Great Bay," a portion of the waters of the Piscataqua. They are said by epicures to be far superior to any caught in other waters. Boston is the principal market for these members of the finny tribe.—In their season, the lobsters also furnish their quota to the markets abroad.

The crews of vessels which fish upon the banks far from land, have long been in the habit of putting their cod livers in barrels, where they undergo a gradual decomposition, the oil rising to the surface as it escapes from the disintegrating tissues. This oil is what many use as "cod liver oil," as a curative agent. All of the livers of the fresh cod which are brought here by the numerous fishermen, are purchased by Messrs. Thomas E. O. & William Marvin, who have an establishment for the manufacture of medicinal cod liver oil. They have facilities for making about two hundred gallons per day, and have a constant demand. As soon as the livers are taken from the fish they are subjected to an ingenious process of steam-rendering, which produces an oil entirely free from animal tissue, and without any disagreeable taste or odor, and which is quite palatable. It is said by medical authority that this oil is the best yet produced.

The curing of fish roe or spawn is also quite an item of importance. The roe is carefully pickled in large vats until it is salt enough to keep, when it is taken out, drained free of brine, and packed in barrels for shipment to Europe, where it is used to feed young sardines by persons engaged in fish culture.—Portsmouth Cor. Boston Journal.

☞ Selwin F. Wells, a boy of 15 years, in the employ of Messrs. A. M. & C. Davis, shoe manufacturers, State Street, clipped off the first and second fingers of his right hand while at work at the splitting machine, on Wednesday. It was necessary to amputate the fingers in a more scientific manner, and Dr. Whittier did the job.

☞ The iron-clads Miantonomoh and Terror sailed from the lower harbor at 8.30 A. M., on Wednesday. A large number of other vessels, which had put in for shelter were outward bound at an early hour.

☞ We publish to-day the remarks of Senator Cragin on the Transfer of Naval Appropriations. They will meet the hearty approval of our readers. No Senator has more at heart the interests of his constituents than Mr. Cragin.—Nor does he ever fail to advance theirs at every suitable time and opportunity. We also have given entire Mr. Ela's capital speech, and shall next publish the remarks of Senator Patterson, which we commend to the careful attention of all our readers.

☞ Hon. E. H. Rollins has invited Congressman Dawes of Mass. to speak in this State, as the Democrats assert that he has left the Republican party. Dawes says he will appear before election and hopes Gov. Stearns will be rechosen. Dawes' action doesn't coincide with his words—which are first-class buncombe.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

SENATOR CRAGIN.—Remarks of A. H. Cragin on Transfer of Naval Appropriations, in the U. S. Senate, Feb. 3:

Mr. President: The Senator from Maine has already shown to the Senate why it is that these two Bureaus of Construction and Repair and Steam Engineering are short, why the money appropriated to them has been nearly expended within the six months of the present fiscal year. The fact is that less money was actually appropriated to those bureaus than was supposed or intended by the last Congress. The truth is that in the Bureau of Construction and Repair about one-half of the expenditures of the Navy Department at the navy yards occur. I am willing to admit that the Secretary of the Navy, if you please, made a mistake last summer in putting on under these bureaus so much help and expending so large a portion of the appropriation; but it was found that a very large number of the vessels belonging to the Government needed repairs; that they were in a condition requiring repairs. Vessels were sent home from the various squadrons that could not be used, and several had to be repaired. Very little had been done in the way of repairs since the close of the war. Hence the force in the Bureau of Steam Engineering was largely increased; I think too much increased. I think if the increase had been much less and extended over the whole year, it would have been better; but the Department reduced the force in November last one-half, and the force now turned out of employment is now larger than that usually employed.

It is a fact, Mr. President, that there were about seventeen million dollars appropriated for the Navy Department for the present fiscal year. It is clear that some bureaus of the Department have more money than they will require.—This is not a bill ordering a transfer of unexpended balances; it is not a bill giving any discretion to the Secretary of the Navy; but it is a bill authorizing specific amounts to be transferred from one bureau to another, just the same as though Congress should cover into the Treasury those amounts, and then reappropriate them for these two bureaus. There is nothing like the old practice involved in this bill. It is a specific direction, saying that so much money heretofore appropriated may be taken from one bureau and applied to another; and for that reason I hope the bill will be passed.

Mr. Howard. The Senator will pardon me for calling his attention to the very language of the bill. It says:

That the Secretary of the Navy be, and he is hereby authorized to transfer to and use in the Bureaus of Construction and Repairs and Steam Engineering, for the purposes thereof, such of the unexpended balances remaining to the credit of the other bureaus of the Navy Department, and available for the current year, &c.

Mr. Cragin. If the Senator will look at the amendment of the committee he will find that I am exactly correct. It authorizes the transfer of $1,500,000 from the Bureau of Provisions and Clothing to the Bureau of Steam Engineering, and it authorizes the transfer of specified sums from other bureaus to the Bureau of Construction and Repairs.

Mr. Howard. We have not acted on the amendment of the committee yet.

Mr. Cragin. This is what we want acted upon. There is absolute necessity for immediate action. About seven thousand mechanics were thrown out of employment on the first day of this month. There is a necessity for their labor. — There are vessels to be repaired; and in my judgment this is the best way to get the money.

Mr. Thurman. I should like to ask the chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs whether the Navy Department called the attention of Congress, or any of its committees, to the necessity of making this transfer in time to prevent these men from being thrown out of employment?

Mr. Cragin. I am happy to answer that question. Early in the session the Secretary of the Navy wrote letters to the Committee on Naval affairs and the Committee on Appropriations in both Houses of Congress calling attention to this subject, and I myself introduced a bill early in the session repealing the law forbidding transfers. I am very glad that the bill was not acted upon, for as a general principle I should be opposed to it. Therefore the Department did call attention to the subject at an early date.

The matter was laid aside temporarily, and when taken up again Mr. Cragin remarked as follows:

I shall detain the Senate but a moment. I wish to answer one or two questions put to me by the Senator from Illinois. He inquires why it is that seven thousand men are employed. He wants to know if Congress has authorized the employment of seven thousand men. I will say to that Senator, what he ought to know, that Congress does not authorize the employment of any particular number of men in the navy-yards of the country. That is a matter left to the discretion of the Department.

Mr. Trumbull. Is it in the discretion of the Department to employ more men than the appropriation will pay for?

Mr. Cragin. Of course not. The appropriation has not yet been entirely exhausted. As I said before, I believe that the Department employed more men at the beginning of the fiscal year than they ought to have employed; but in their judgment the exigencies of the service required it.

The Senator inquires what we were doing during the war. We were expending, he says, hundreds of millions in building up a navy. He ought to know that that money was expended almost entirely for building iron-clads, for building boats and vessels to navigate the rivers and coasts of this country, and not upon sea-going vessels. The sea-going vessels are the ones that have been repaired during the past year. They are the vessels that are now demanding repairs—the vessels that have been employed in our foreign squadrons, not the vessels employed during the rebellion, and for the purposes incident to the rebellion.

The Senator inquires whether we are to appropriate money to set these men to work. Most certainly not if their work is not necessary; but I say to the Senator, in my judgment it is necessary. The work is simply suspended now for the want of appropriations, and it is some argument to me, when this work is necessary for the interests of the Government, that men who are thrown out of employment in midwinter will be again employed.

Mr. Trumbull. Will the Senator from New Hampshire have the kindness to inform me how many vessels are undergoing repairs with seven thousand men?

Mr. Cragin. Over eighty vessels have been repaired already during this fiscal year.

Mr. Trumbull. That was not exactly my question; (that would seem to obviate the necessity of having a great many more repaired I should think;) but my question was, how many now are necessarily undergoing repairs? I understood the Senator from New Hampshire to say there was a necessity for the employment of these men. I should be much gratified to know how many vessels are undergoing repairs, so that I might, in my humble way, have some opinion as to the necessity of the employment of these men.

Mr. Cragin. I will state to the Senator frankly that I am not informed exactly as to the number now undergoing repairs; but I do know that some vessels are being constructed that have been under way for some years, or a year or more, and are not completed; and others are being repaired in all the navy-yards in this country, and this suspension of work entirely suspends the repairs.

WHERE TO WEAR GARTERS. — A handsome leg is a rarity, we had almost said an impossibility, among American women. The reason of this is the place where they wear their garters. No French woman, or English woman of cultivation, nowadays, wears her garter below the knee. It is ruinous to the shape of the calf. More than this, it has serious consequence of another kind. The principal vein of the leg (vena saphena brevis) runs just beneath the skin until it nearly reaches the knee, when it sinks beneath the muscles. Now if this is constricted at its largest part by a tight garter, the blood is checked in its return to the heart, the feet are easily chilled, and more liable to disease, the other veins of the leg are swollen into hard, blue knots, become varicose, as it is called, and often break, forming obstinate ulcers. This is a picture which physicians see nearly every day. With the garter fastened above the knee all this pain and deformity is avoided, but it is still better to wear no garter at all, and suspend the stocking by tapes to a belt around the waist. In this case however, a well-fitting stocking is needed. —Laws of Health.

A SHARP YOUNG WOMAN.—The Concord Statesman relates that a young lady from the country recently engaged as saleswoman with a dry goods firm in that city. Though new at the business she soon became proficient. Like the other employes, she had the privilege of buying at cost price any goods she wanted for her own use. She was an extensive purchaser, from time to time, on this basis; and at the end of two months gave up her position. Very soon after, she was married, as was also her sister at the same time; and it turned out that she had entered upon the clerkship merely to enjoy the perquisite of buying at cost price the liberal supply of dry goods so mysteriously necessary on such occasions. Her employer is not anxious to engage any more young lady clerks from the country.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WENTWORTH.—The funeral of the wife of Hon. John Wentworth, took place from her residence in Troy, N. Y., Feb. 10th. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Vincent. The casket containing the body was profusely covered with flowers. The casket itself was richly decorated with costly thread lace, and, it is said, cost about $600. The remains were interred in Oakwood. Hon. John Wentworth was present, and many of the friends of the deceased. The procession was very large.—Troy Press.

—A correspondent of a Calcutta paper makes a curious suggestion to tobacco smokers. Alluding to the alleged discovery, by a Parisan chemist, that watercress is a perfect antidote for nicotine, he says: "It lately entered into my head to try how some of it dried would smoke. To my great satisfaction I found that when put into my pipe, after a couple of days' drying in the sun, it had all the flavor of the best Cavendish without the treacle, and it was even stronger than Cavendish."

—A few days ago a well-known lawyer of Waterbury, Connecticut, bought a railroad ticket for New Haven, and, after taking a seat in the cars, found, on looking over his change, that the agent had given him a dollar too much. He accordingly returned, and informing the agent of his mistake, handed him back the money. For a moment the agent stood speechless, then he grasped him by the hand, and exclaimed: "Please to stand still one moment, sir, and let me look at you—and you a lawyer, too!"

—Wilber, Jr., of the firm of Wilber & Co., of New Orleans, is reported absconded with $100,000.

The Chronicle.

☞ Tinsley's Magazine of "A Roman Lawyer at Jerusalem—First Century," by W. W. Story, has a Poem which appeared in Blackwood's Magazine for October, 1868, and, at the request of many friends, is reprinted in pamphlet form:—

"Perhaps one of the best known of Browning's abstruser poems is the Epistle of Karnish, the Arabian physician, telling his 'strange experiences' of a case of mania to a brother physician—the case being none other than that of Lazarus, whom Karshish had encountered at Bethany, and whose tale has assumed a strange interest in his mind. This poem has unquestionably suggested to Mr. Story the idea, carried out in a Roman Lawyer, of analyzing, from a technical point of view, the story of Judas's betrayal of Christ.

This theory of the betrayal here adopted—the DeQuincy theory, furnishes a sample of that specially modern form of humanitarianism, the desire to clear the reputation of an historical personage who has been held in abhorrence from time immemorial. The position taken up in regard to Iscariot is analogous to that adopted by Mr. Lewes in writing of Nero and Robespierre. The incidents of a poem, and especially of a poem dramatic in principle, are set down, not as facts, but as what are to be regarded as facts from the point of view adopted in the poem; so that, in treating a theory according to which Judas Iscariot was a most worthy individual, Mr. Story has not laid himself open to be attacked as one who would 'whitewash' the proverbial traitor, but has simply shown, in the potent manner of psychological art, that the conduct of the personage in question admits of a charitable explanation.

The Roman lawyer betrays an inclination to believe the account given him by Lysias, who figures in the poem as an old friend of Judas, and according to whose view the Christ was betrayed by one who blundered in attempting to do a great thing. Lysias believes, in fact, that Judas warmly devoted to his master, and fervently convinced of his godhead, conceived the idea that if he gave Christ into the hands of his enemies, manifestation of the master's godhead must perforce take place, to the inevitable conviction of all witnesses; but that, seeing no such manifestation, and finding Christ a prisoner and undone, he learned how fearful a mistake he had made, and 'turned, and went and hanged himself.' This position is ably sustained in matter of argument, and there is a good deal of fine writing in the poem."

CHILDREN'S ETIQUETTE—Always say "yes sir," "no papa," "thank you," "no, thank you," "good morning." Use no slang terms.

Clean faces, clean clothes, clean shoes, and clean finger-nails, indicate good breeding. Never leave your clothes about the room. Have a place for everything and everything in its place.

Rap before entering a room, and never leave it with your back to the company.

Always offer your seat to a lady or old gentleman.

Never put your feet on cushions, chairs or tables.

Never overlook any one when reading or writing, nor read or talk aloud while others are reading.

Never talk or whisper at meetings or public places, and especially in a private room, where any one is singing or playing the piano.

Be careful to injure no one's feelings by unkind remarks. Never tell tales, make faces, call names, ridicule the lame, mimic the unfortunate, nor be cruel to insects, birds or animals.

—A New Albany lover, knowing that a savage dog was kept on the premises occupied by his sweetheart, took an equally ferocious cur with him, the other night and set the two fighting. While the old man was separating the animals, the lovers eloped out of the back door.

—Every column of a newspaper contains from five to twenty thousand distinct pieces of metal, according to size of paper and type. The displacement of a single one makes an error. Is it any wonder that errors occur?

—An immense sewer is in course of construction in West Philadelphia, which is subject to overflow during heavy rains. The sewer will drain an area of 5000 acres, is 20 feet in diameter and 19 feet high.

—Some rash fellow says that giving the ballot to women would not amount to much, for none of them would admit that they were old enough to vote until they were too old to take any interest in politics.

—The suit of Chandler Johnson, a contractor in Colt's armory in Hartford, against Joseph Davis of that city, claiming $5000 for defamation of character, has resulted in a verdict of one cent.

—An Illinois woman, who wanted to go to a masquerade party as Mary Queen of Scots, looked through the Bible to ascertain how the character was dressed.

—In New York ten thousand people go to bed drunk every night.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S
CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR
BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,
American Knitting Machine Company,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,
Coughs, Colds, Fevers, Agues, Biliousness, Costipation, Diarrhœa, Neuralgia, Headache, Convulsions, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Consumption, &c., Female Weaknesses, Fainting Fits, Palpitation, Restlessness, Dizziness, Children's Troubles &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

FRIDAY, FEB. 18, 1870.

Attacks.

The feeling of the Spaniards in Cuba against Americans grows more bitter. Greenwald, who was assassinated on the street, was buried naked and without a coffin. A continuation of such acts may cause our Government to recognize Cuban belligerency.

The National Executive Committee of the Union League urges Congress to recognize the belligerent rights of Cuba as soon as they have shown themselves to have established a permanent government.

Judge Busteed is sustained by the Congressional judiciary committee, and will not be impeached.

Seward has arrived at Key West.

The new tariff bill has no chance of becoming a law.

Foster Blodgett, one of the United States Senators recently elected from Georgia, has written a letter to Governor Bullock requesting that his certificate of election be withheld until the indictment against him for fraud on the government is disposed of.

The Georgia knot is a hard one for the U. S. Senate to untie.

Fanny Fern is seriously ill.

Wheat is an inch high in Kansas.

Brazilian troops are served with rations of dog-meat.

Chickens are taken at the box-office of Brigham Young's theatre, and change is appropriately made with eggs.

An Indiana young lady is in the habit of giving her beaus into the custody of the police when they persist in sitting up too late.

A New York Times compositor has set twenty lines of solid minion type in fifteen minutes—which is at the rate of over 2000 ems an hour. He is doubtless the fastest compositor living.

It is reported that Senator Chandler will soon make a speech in which he will say that the Fitz-John Porter court-martial was unanimously in favor of a death sentence, but it was not found because President Lincoln refused in advance to approve it.

Advices from Europe state that ex-Senator Grimes is sinking, and would not probably survive the homeward journey.

D. Atwood, editor of the Madison (Wis.) Journal, has been elected to Congress, in place of B. F. Hopkins deceased.

A dozen Congressmen are said to have sold cadetships.

The Ways and Means Committee has resolved to reduce by thirty millions the Internal Revenue bill which is on the basis of collecting $160,000,000.

The income tax is to be reduced, but not abolished. President Grant favors a reduction of the tariff by $20,000,000, and of the Internal Revenue by $30,000,000.

CONGRESS.—In the House, Wednesday, Mr. Callom of Illinois reported a petition of citizens of Massachusetts that that State be remanded to a territorial condition, on account of its State right heresies in 1812, &c. [Laughter.] Referred to the reconstruction committee.

Mr. Cullom reported back adversely the bill providing a territorial government for Alaska. Laid on the table.

Mr. Cullom reported a bill to aid the execution of the law in Utah so as to prevent and punish polygamy.

The Greene-Van Wyck contested election case was taken up and decided in favor of the contestant, [Van Wyck] 119 to 51.

☞ John Wesley Harper, whose death took place at Brooklyn, on Monday, was the third of the four brothers who for forty years constituted the well-known firm of Harper & Brothers. He was born at Newtown, L. I., in 1801, and had, therefore almost reached the age of threescore years and ten. The death of James, the eldest brother and head of the firm, in March, weighed heavily on his mind, and is supposed to have hastened his death.

☞ The Ice Dealers in Boston and South and West being in fear for their crop, are striving to secure it in Maine and New Hampshire. A company of workmen are filling 40 cars or more per day near Manchester for Boston; other parties have secured the right to cut at Jones' Pond in Raymond; and Mr. C. H. Hayes yesterday sent a huge cake from this Pond to Philadelphia for sample.

☞ The concert given at South Seabrook, Feb. 12th, by the Mechanics' Brass Band of Hampton Falls, was a success, musically and pecuniarily. The Band lately formed at South Seabrook numbers 16 members, 13 brass pieces; E. H. Chaplin of Georgetown, Mass., leader.

CHRONICLES OF OLD TIMES.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Portsmouth Privateers of 1812.

NUMBER SEVEN.

The privateer America, of Salem, was a heavily armed, fast sailing ship, and successful in taking prizes. The Oracle of March 19, 1814, has the following account of one of them, and of a battle, or as it was then called, a brush, with a British transport ship:

Arrived at this port on Saturday last, the British brig Sovereign, of 8 guns, prize to the privateer ship America, of Salem, with a cargo of 500 kegs butter, 750 bundles iron hoops, 37 casks and 61 chaldrons coal, 500 bushels potatoes, shooks, &c. On the 14th December, (11 days after sailing from Bath,) at 1 o'clock, the America fell in with a large frigate-built ship, mounting 28 guns, and full of men, supposed to be a transportat; half-past 1, an action commenced on both sides, with a brisk fire of great guns and musketry, which continued twenty minutes; but it blowing very fresh, and the ship rolling very heavily, thought it proper to sheer off, not being able to bring her guns to bear on the enemy. The A. received no material damage; but had one man (John M'Intire of Salem) killed; and the same afternoon lost overboard Eben. Osgood of Salisbury. The enemy received several shots between wind and water. [The America mounts 20 guns.]

The America arrived in this port on Thursday evening, April 1, 1814, "and saluted the town," as the Oracle has it. That evening was extremely dark and foggy. The America had a good pilot, and entered the harbor without being seen or heard by the forts on either side; and when she was well abreast of Fort Constitution, the blaze of a large gun, and then a heavy report, were the first notice to the forts and the town that somebody was coming. Flash followed flash, and report followed report, till she had discharged all the cannon in her battery, twenty in number, and then all was still again. The America had alarmed many nervous people, and delighted the boys. She had been absent from Salem four months, had taken 12 prizes, and brought in 46 prisoners and a lot of valuable goods. She had been chased 12 hours by a frigate, but outsailed her, four days before arrival.

The privateer Fox, Capt. Elihu D. Brown, sailed from this port on a cruise, March 29, and on the 17th of April she captured the British brig Fair Stranger, 134 tons, which arrived here with a cargo of beef, pork, fish, lumber, &c., —bound to the West Indies from Nova Scotia.

The Fox arrived in this port, May 31, with the earliest news we had of Bonaparte's first downfall, and his abdication of the throne in favor of Louis 18th, (so called, tho' there was no 17th.) We copy here a good account of the Fox's cruise, including the news from Bonaparte,—from the Oracle of June 4.

On the 15th ult. the Fox captured a British brig which sailed on the 10th of April from Liverpool, and the 23d from Cork,—the master of which informed Capt. B. that on Thursday evening, the 21st, the city of Cork was illuminated, in consequence of the news which had just reached there of a General Peace on the Continent, and the abdication of the Emperor Napoleon in favor of King Lewis the Eighteenth,—Buonaparte and his family retiring to an island in the Mediterranean with an annuity. The mate, arrived in the Fox, corroborates the account of the illumination, and the master's story. There were no papers nor letters on board the brig; the public are therefore left to judge of the credit due to the report.

In addition to the prizes already arrived, the Fox has made three captures. She has brought in 150 bales of piece goods, &c., 1400 dollars in specie, and 19 prisoners. The Fox was chased 20th of April by a sloop-of-war for 16 hours, —a six pound shot from which struck the arm chest. April 26 was chased by a brig and a 74 for 12 hours. May 5th, off St. Johns, was chased by two sail 20 hours, started 16 casks water, and threw over 10 guns. The prisoners have been sent to Salem, and it should be remarked to the honor of the officers of the Fox that every article of private property has been restored to them.

This last statement was honorable to Capt. Brown; but all the privateer captains were not so scrupulous.

So many of her prizes got in, and in due time were sold, that on the 13th of August it was announced, that "The late sales of prize goods, taken by the private armed schooner Fox, amount to upwards of four hundred thousand dollars."

We close this chapter with an extract from the Oracle ship news of the same date, June 4, showing up a terrible battle on a small scale.

A schooner belonging to Edgecomb, Maine, Allen, master, with a cargo of lumber, arrived here on Tuesday. Capt. Allen informs us that on the 26th of May, on the Eastern Shore, he was attacked by a barge belonging to his Majesty's sch. Bream, manned with 7 men, mounting one swivel, completely equipped with small arms, cutlasses, &c. When within pistol shot, Capt. A. hailed "what boat?" the answer was "no matter;" was hailed from the boat in return—Capt. A. cautioned the boat not to board him, which they still persisted in;—there being but 4 men on board the sch. besides Capt. A., which lay secreted with arms, the boat still approaching was fired upon from the schr., which killed 2 men and wounded 2, 1 mortally. The 2d Lieut. of the Bream, who commanded the boat, waved his hat as a token of submission, and was ordered on board the schr; the boat was taken possession of and carried in. Soon after a flag arrived from the B., and offered 7 men and a Jebaque boat valued at 700 dollars, which they had captured, for the men only; and gave Capt. A. liberty to proceed with a promise that he should not be molested by the B.,—and requested him to look out for H. M. brig Fantome.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. Mark Manson, a respectable citizen of Jackson, went to his barn to attend to his cattle. Not returning as usual, his friends searched and found him, as they supposed, dead on the barn floor. His funeral was duly appointed, but when the time came for burial, his body retained so much animal heat that it was supposed that life was not extinct, and this continued to be the case at last accounts. Whether it is a genuine case of asphyxia, or suspended breathing, cannot yet be determined. There is quite an excitement, of course, about the matter.

Irving Cate, a lad twelve years of age, was run over in Deerfield, by an ox sled loaded with a cord of wood. One leg was so badly crushed that it was necessary to amputate it.

On the 12th two young men of Concord, George Fitts and Frank Mitchell, hired a sleigh and robes of J. B. Hook, they furnishing the horse. On the 13th they sold the whole establishment at Suncook and are now among the missing.

John Parsons and Walley McCool, have been arrested for breaking and entering a shop in Great Falls, and stealing mats, candy, &c. on Saturday night.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The Boston Advertiser's special says another fellow has been caught by the committee which is investigating the sale of military and naval cadetships. His name is S. Newton Pettis, member of the last House from the 20th Pennsylvania district. This makes three men, and no doubt whatever exists that rods are in pickle for several others, some of whom are in the present House. It will be a day worth seeing when the roll is called and they are expelled in disgrace from the floor of Congress and turned over to the infamy of the country. The determination of the committee is strong to advise and carry the expulsion of the present representatives who are found guilty. The price paid for the cadetships in the case of Pettis, was $850, and in one of the other cases it was $500.

The House naval committee went on with the Stevens bill, and followed up its action in reference to the medical corps by giving positive rank to the pay corps of the navy. The section provides for fifteen directors with the rank of captain, twenty directors with the rank of commander, forty-five paymasters with the rank of lieutenant commander, thirty-five passed assistant paymasters with the rank of lieutenant, and twenty assistant paymasters with the rank of master.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—KIDNEY DISEASES.—Disorders of the Stomach are often complicated with affections of the kidneys, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are eminently useful in both. Their mild cathartic action checks inflammation in that region, and the regular application of the Ointment to the small of the back and loins assists to counteract the irritation of the urinary organs which always accompanies renal complaints. Sold by all Druggists.

A Torpid System.

Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, and a strange torpor falls alike on the body and intellect. There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and muscular system seems to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced mind when in a healthy condition.

This state of partial collapse is often the premonitory symptoms of some serious malady. It indicates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus.

The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity under the operations of the specific, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the season of depression lasted, becomes once more enjoyable.

That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem incredible to those who pin their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to enquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the Bitters under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS'VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

☞ The Empire Minstrels had a $150 audience at their second concert at the Temple, Wednesday evening. The performance was a good one for amateurs, though a little tedious from length and delay. Charlie Maloon is their best card, and if the other members of the company would show as much life and promptness as he, they'd receive as liberal applause as does Charlie. The orchestra were weak in volume of tone, as if they feared to trust each other out loud. The local witticisms were new and good, but there were some double entendres which had better be dropped in future. Maloon's clog-dancing was excellent, and as a song and dance men he will rank high among the travelling professionals, with practice. A month's tour abroad will bring out the talents of the company, which are of no mean order, and we advise them not to be bashful nor hide their lights in a milk-man's pint measure, and to advertise.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

ORDINATION IN PORTSMOUTH 120 YEARS AGO.—The third minister of the second Congregational Church in Portsmouth was Rev. Job Strong. He was settled June 28, 1749. Rev. Jonathan Edwards of Northampton, Mass., was selected to preach on the occasion. The day came and the hour for the services; but Mr. Edwards had not arrived. After waiting as long as was advisable, it was concluded to proceed. Rev. Sam'l Moody of York, Me., was to offer the first prayer, and preach if Mr. E. did not come. While he was praying, Mr. Edwards entered and quietly made his way into the pulpit.

Mr. Moody in prayer remembered Mr. Edwards, and alluded to him as one of superior talents, wisdom, gifts, graces and usefulness. When he closed he was surprised to find Mr. E. near him in the pulpit. Mr. Moody was eccentric, and in the earnestness of the moment, he said to Mr. Edwards, so audibly that many could hear: "I wish you had got in a little sooner or later, or else that I might have heard you when you came in; I did not intend to flatter you to your face; but I will tell you that people say, your wife is going to heaven by a shorter road than yourself."

The second church was the South. The meeting-house standing a few years ago was large. The stairs to the pulpit led up higher than any we ever saw.

Mr. Strong, ordained at the time referred to, died about two years later, aged 27 years. The church in after years became Unitarian. RECORDER.

ELEGANT NEW CARS.—The Boston Post says, "the popular management of the Eastern Railroad, with that keen anticipation of the public good-will which makes the road profitable to the stockholder and patronized by the traveller, have just completed a train of cars superior to anything yet produced. The cars are beautifully ornamented on the exterior, provided with a new patent coupler, which prevents jerking of the train and makes it impossible to break apart. The roof is a new monitor pattern, known as the Mansard roof, higher than the ordinary monitors, and giving the cars an airy appearance, while the ventilating arrangements are complete. The upholstering is green plush backs and red plush seats and fronts, and they will seat sixty passengers.

Six more cars of the same style are being built at the Salem shops of the road, and will be completed by early spring for their Portland trains. Mr. J. P. Somerby, the builder of cars, deserves the thanks of the public for combining so much comfort and elegance as is here seen, and is admirably qualified for the position he fills. The train just completed was used for the first time by Prince Arthur, last Tuesday, and will be known as 'Prince Arthur's train.' It was placed permanently on the road on Monday, in charge of Conductor Bachelder, who occupies the first rank among railroad officials for courtesy and attention to patrons, and whose experience makes him equal to any emergency that may arise in his calling."

☞ In the Aldermen, Thursday evening, (Ald. Marvin absent,) on motion of Ald. Miller, ex-Mayor Jones was invited to furnish a photograph of himself to be placed with the eight other ex-Mayors in the Aldermen's Room.

Wm. A. Vaughan asked to be appointed to collect statement of Births, Deaths, &c., in Ward 3; but John W. Fernald was appointed in Wards 1 and 3, and Wm. Bodge in Ward 2, as last year.

Petition of Thos. Wardwell and forty or fifty others, for a new Primary School, near the Creek, (presented by Ald. Pender,) was referred to Joint Com. on School Houses.

On motion to pay bills for repairs on Engine Houses, quite a discussion ensued as to the conduct of the firemen therein; and it was stated there are Sunday evening meetings, card-playing, &c., and that quite a fight occurred near the Depot last Sunday evening.

The Board adjourned at 8 o'clock.

Common Council not in session.

NAVAL.—The monitors Miantonomoh and Terror, on their way from Portland to Boston, arrived at Gloucester on Wednesday.

The complement of men allowed to the navy (8500) having been reached, the department has directed enlistments to cease. The effect will be to detain the Colorado, which is destined to relieve the Delaware on the Asiatic station, and to keep the men attached to the latter over the term of enlistment, for which they will receive one-fourth additional pay. The department urged upon Congress the necessity of allowing an additional number of men, as in any emergency the department is powerless to supply a single vessel to meet it.

☞ Several hundred cords of pine wood, cut in and near this city, have been sent to Boston the past winter by Mr. Frank Jones, for use in burning brick kilns. It goes over the Eastern Railroad.

THE AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS.

THESE PAINTS ARE CHEAPER, Handsomer, and More Durable and Elastic than the best Oil Paints. They will not Peel, Crack nor Chalk-off, and will last twice as long as the best White Lead. They are sold all mixed ready for application, in 40 Different Shades and pure white.

These paints can be had at the

GROCERY & PROVISION STORE,

16 and 18 Cabot Street, Portsmouth,

for $2.25 per Gallon, until March 1st; after that time, owing to the increased demands and their superiority over other Paints, the manufacturers' price will be $2.50 per Gallon.

Those who intend Painting this season, can save 25 cts. per Gall. by sending in their Orders before March 1st.

COST OF THE AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT

as compared with White Lead.

White Lead (man'rs price,)	$13 50	per 100 lbs.
4 Galls. Linseed Oil,	$150	4 50 weighs	30 lbs.
Total cost,	$17 70		130 lbs.

As one gallon of mixed Lead Paint of same consistency as the Averill Chemical Paint weighs 26 lbs., in the above quantity we have just 5½ gallons costing $17 70, or $3 2½ per gallon.

Cost of one Gallon Lead Paint $2 72½, to cover 16 square yds. 2 coats.

Cost of one Gall. Averill Chemical Paint $2 25 to cover 20 square yds. 2 coats.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES.—Because the science of agricultural has not received any considerable degree of attention in the past, is no reason for denying its importance as a science. Until late years, Americans have failed to pay any attention to it; and we have turned naturally to England for all our knowledge of scientific farming. Time was, of course, when circumstances somewhat justified this. In the opening of a new country and the cultivating of a wilderness, there was neither time nor need for the farmer to inquire into the chemistry, the geology and the botany of his farm and its products. With the rapid development of our country, comes demand for that thorough knowledge on the part of our farmers that shall enable them to make the utmost possible use of natural advantages.

As the result of this demand we may point to our present system of agricultural colleges, which is daily growing in popularity and favor. Practical farming is well enough, and essential, as far as it goes; but, after the practical knowledge is obtained, there is room for that higher knowledge, by means of which the farmer shall understand why he does this or that to produce this or that effect; how certain processes effect certain soils; what are the ingredients of these soils, and what their influence upon certain plants.

Agriculture, in its simplest developements, intimately involves other sciences. It involves chemistry, geology, botany, veterinary surgery, mathamatics and drawing; and every young enthusiast in farming feels the necessity for an institution where a complete knowledge of these sciences can be obtained. It is in answer to this growing demand that a number of agricultural colleges have of late been organized in different States. We are glad that these colleges are receiving a generous support. Their influence for good is already felt in the infusion of new life into our agricultural interests. As they grow in influence and scope, we shall have evidence still more marked of their importance and value.—Utica Herald.

CARING FOR STOCK.—A farmer's first care is to his family; the second should be the domestic animals. "Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds." It will not do to leave them to the care of hired men. Washington made it a rule to visit his stables every morning, and put his hand on every horse to see if it had been groomed properly and otherwise well cared for. One of the largest breeders of Short-Horns in the world, once told me that he made it a rule, every night in winter, to take a lantern and visit his stable at nine o'clock to see that every animal was comfortable. He has this year sold animals at $5,000 apiece.

There are few ordinary farm men that are fit to have anything to do with domestic animals. They never pet them, rarely speak to them except in harsh tones, and like to use a whip better than curry-comb. If a man kicks a cow dismiss him on the spot. Better let crops suffer than have such a brute on the premises.

I keep quite a number of thoroughbred pigs and they are as gentle as lambs. But most men have been so long in the habit of abusing a pig, that if you ask one of them to go into a pen and drive up the pigs, he will look around for a club. And it is curious to see how unerringly the pigs know he is not a gentleman. They will commence to bark at him and manifest other symtoms of uneasiness. Beware of the man that a pig, a dog, or a child is afraid of. There is something wrong about him.—American Agriculturist.

POOR COWS.—In the dairy a great leak is caused by keeping poor cows. Every year dairymen have milk cows that do not pay for their keeping. I have had cows in my herd that made 700 pounds of butter in a season, while others in the same herd gave not more than 300 pounds. We should select our herd with great care, and then endeavor to improve it. We must raise our own dairy cows. The native cows are best to start with, if selected for their milking qualities. Then get a good thoroughbred bull of the breed we desire, and be sure that he comes of a good milking family or breed. We should raise ten per cent. every year.

That is, in a dairy of fifty cows, we should every year raise five heifer calves, and when they come in, turn off five of the oldest or poorest cows. My own choice of breed is decidedly the Durham, unless the pastures are poor, in which case I should prefer the Ayrshire. The Durham is good for beef, and if a cow fails to be a good milker, she can be sold to the butcher at a good price. Two years ago there were 1200 cows sold in the fall at an average of $13, which cost $70 each the previous spring. The cheese from such cows cost 35 cents a pound, while it was sold for 14 cents. This is a big leak.—Levi Stockbridge.

BARN ITCH ON CATTLE.—At this season of the year, as well as later in the season, cattle are liable to this disease, which, if not arrested upon its first appearance, will be sure to go through a stock, and be of much damage to the growth of the stock. Its symptoms are a scurf on the external part of the body, which most generally makes its first appearance around the eyes and nose, and which is always attended with an itching. The following recipe is said to be a sure remedy: Lard and sulphur in equal parts, melt, mix and apply all over the affected parts, and rub thoroughly with hands or a brush.

—The Christian should remember that his shame will be short and his honors eternal.

WHEN LAND REQUIRES UNDERDRAINING. — In numerous instances nature has made all necessary provisions for conveying away the surplus water at all seasons. On the contrary, where the subsoil is so compact that the pores of the surface soil will continue filled with water for several days after a rain, the evidence will be conclusive that a regular system of underdraining would be a valuable improvement in the management of that land. When cultivated fields seem to be a long time in becoming sufficiently dry to plow, or to be worked, it is a certain evidence that the soil can never be cultivated with satisfactory profit until all the surplus water can be readily collected and conveyed away in underdrains. There need be no apprehension that any injury will ever arise in consequence of making a drain where one is not needed, as no drain can draw away any water from the surface soil that is really required to promote the growth of plants.

The soil will retain, by capillary attraction, all the moisture that the roots of plants require, were underdrains made ten feet apart over the entire field. When water will stand in depressions so long that it drowns the soil by saturating every particle so thoroughly that the plants together like mortar, underdrains will be found of great advantage.

FEEDING HOGS—AN EXPERIMENT.—Professor S. Johnson, Superintendent of the College Farm, Maine, made an experiment in feeding swine last fall, the result of which was as follows:

"The 25th of November, four Chester pigs were weighed and put into 2 pens, 2 in each. The 2 in pen No. 1 weighed 93 lbs., and have been feed on whole corn. The 2 in pen No. 2 weighed 76 lbs., and have been feed on meal. Equal value of corn and meal have been given to each, and equal quantities of swill. December 15th they were weighed again. The 2 in No 1 weighed 128 lbs., and the 2 in No. 2, 123 lbs. The 2 feed on meal gained on the other 2, 12 lbs., which at 12 cts. a pound, would amount to $1.44, which is more than the cost of the meal fed, and gives a net gain over the others of 34 2-7 per cent. In this experiment 54 lbs. of corn equalled 50 lbs. of meal. This month the pigs in No. 1 will be fed on meal, and those in No. 2 of corn."

A Pennsylvania correspondent of the Country Gentleman has practiced boiling corn, oats or buckwheat for hogs for several years, boiling the grain until the kernels crack open. He believes at least every tenth bushel is saved in this way.

HOW TO CHOOSE BLACK SILK.—As this is a point upon which most ladies possess little or no information, the following correct test, if observed, will be found advantageous:

"When a woman is about to choose black silk, it is well to pull a thread out of the 'tram' or filling. She must try the strength of the thread. If it breaks easily, the examination has gone far enough; it is wisdom to look further. We will suppose the thread has been tried, and that it indicates some backbone. Then it is necessary, if the woman is high brave, and dares to do such a thing with a handsome pair of clerk's eyes bearing down upon her like a privateer upon a poor little merchantman, to seize the silk by the corner and to rub it just as the washerwoman would do when she intends to remove a stain. If this awful ordeal can be performed to perfection—remember, some muscle must be brought to play—the silk is honest and legitimate. If it is heavy with dye, if held up to the light, slight traces of disaster may be discerned."

FARMING. — Daniel Webster said "No man is so high as to be independent of the success of this great interest; no man is so low as not to be affected by its prosperity or decline. The cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Man may be civilized, in some degree, without great progress in manufactures, and with little commerce with his distant neighbors; but without cultivation of the earth, he is, in all countries, a savage. Until he gives up the chase and fixes himself to some place, and seeks a living from the earth, he is a roaming barbarian. When tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers therefore, are the founders of human civilization."

BRAN AS A REGULATOR.—Good, sweet, wheaten bran is, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, better that physic, if it is given in time. Let any animal eating stinking, mouldy cornstalks or brittle hay, making it look bad, have some bran to help its poor stomach, and it will soon appear in better plight. When a cow in milk does not do as well as she should on other food, add some bran. No matter what ails the horse, cow, sheep or pig, a little bran will do good—but don't feed bran alone for long.—Exchange.

—A correspondent of the Western Rural tells how a German woman cooks food for "four great fat hogs." She has a barrel sunk in the ground. In this is placed some meal, and on this is poured a wash-boiler of boiled potatoes and carrots, which are then rapidly mashed, with a "great pounder." More meal is thrown in and the barrel is tightly covered. The whole mess is cooked by the heat of the potatoes and carrots. These were cooked twice a day.

—"That's right," said a minister, preaching a long sermon on Daniel v: 28, to a congregation the individuals of which were beginning to get up and go out one by one: "that's right, gentlemen; as fast as you are weighed, pass out."

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"

SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB

SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY

CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

THEY BROUGHT FORTH WIND.—A Labor Reform Party's Mass Meeting was held in Concord on Tuesday evening, and the speeches are reported briefly in the Patriot.

Of Mr. Flint it says:—

Mr. Flint's speech was earnest and well received, being often interrupted by applause. Its logic was at times excellent. Yet it did not recognize the rights of the man who has laid up an honest competency by his own efforts, and seemed to consider the mere fact of the possession of property a fault on the part of the possessor.

Mr. Chas. McLean of Boston, was the next speaker, and the Patriot says:—

Mr. McLean's address was scholarly, but not powerful in point of argument.

Lastly, the Patriot mentions that:—

George J. L. Colby, of the Newburyport Mass., Herald, opened with the declaration that seven hundred thousand laboring men were banded together, and next year would be felt at the ballot-box. The laborer to-day had no chance even to care for the cultivation of religious sentiments. He "must go to hell for clear lack of time," Mr. Colby made an overdrawn picture of the hard condition of mill and other operatives. His speech was very rambling and illogical at the best, though with some excellent hits.

The speaker dwelt for a long time on taxes, their severity on necessaries, &c., and closed on this subject.

We infer from what appears to be a fair report in the Patriot, that the speeches were chiefly a rehash of the talk about taxes, funds and laborers, so commonly brought out in the Democratic papers, for Buncomb.

LOST WOMEN.—My friends, has it ever occured to you what a commentary upon our civilization are these lost women and the attitude of society toward them? A little child strays from the home inclosure and the whole community is on the alert to find the wanderer and restore it to its mother's arms. What rejoicings when it is found, what tearful sympathy, what heartiness of congratulation? There are no harsh comments upon the poor, tired feet, be they ever so miry; no reprimand for the soiled torn garments; no lack of kisses for the tear-stained face. But let the child be grown to womanhood, let her be led from the inclosure of morality by the voice of affection, or driven from it by the scourge of want—what happens then? Do christian men and women go in quest of her? Do they provide all possible help for her return; or, if she returns of her own notion, do they receive her with such kindness and delicacy as secure her from wandering again? Far from it. At the first false step she is denounced as lost—lost, echo friends and relatives—we disown you; don't ever come near us to disgrace us. Lost, says society indifferently. How bad these girls are! And lost—irretrievably lost—is the prompt verdict of conventional morality, while one and all unite in bolting every door between her and respectability. Ah! will not these lost ones be required at our hands in the great hereafter?—Mrs. Burleigh, in the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Convention.

ARREST FOR ARSON.—Sheriff Sanborn of Franklin went to Fisherville on the 13th and arrested Frank Heath of Andover, a young man twenty-six years of age, who has been driving a wood team for parties in F., on the charge of setting fire, two years ago, to two barns, situated in Andover, owned by Henry W. Kilburn. Heath confessed the charge and said that he had been hired to burn the barns by Eliphalet Shaw of Salisbury, a wealthy farmer aged about fifty years, for the sum of $3, and that he had been paid but $2.85 on the same. Shaw was arrested on the 14th by Sheriff Sanborn. The trial comes off in Andover, to-day, the 17th. The person from whom we derive our information says that Shaw owed Kilburn a grudge on account of an affair that occurred some six months before the barn-burning.—Patriot.

A HEROIC ACTION.—At a boiler explosion in New York, on Monday, the conduct of the engineer, John Donnelly, was heroic. He saw that the boiler was leaking and that an explosion was inevitable, but with a high sense of duty, instead of flying from the danger, he bravely stood to his post, knowing that many lives were in danger, and commenced to draw out the fires. Before he completed his task, however, the explosion took place, and the gallant fellow was blown several rods into an adjoining yard, and his head, arms and face were dreadfully scalded. He is a poor man, with a family, and his life is in a critical condition.

BEST TIME TO SOW PLASTER.—We would draw the plaster when the roads are good, or when there is good sleighing. Then sow the plaster on the clover at any time you can most conveniently get on the land—the earlier in the spring the better. But it is better to sow it even as late as May than not at all.—American Agriculturist.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S
CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Hose or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, socks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn and knitting into socks, they can realize two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,
American Knitting Machine Company,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,
Coughs, Colds, Fevers, Fits, Biliousness, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Neuralgia, Headache, Convulsions, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Consumption, &c., Female Weaknesses, Fainting Fits, Palpitation, Restlessness, Dizziness, Children's Troubles, &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

MEDICAL OFFICERS OF THE NAVY.—The following petition was adopted by Oliver Wendell Holmes, Henry J. Bigelow, Charles E. Buckingham, Edward H. Clarke, and other gentlemen composing the Medical Faculty of Harvard University, and has been forwarded to Hon. Charles Sumner, at Washington, in behalf of the medical corps of the navy:—

The undersigned members of the faculty of the medical department of Harvard University, do unite in a respectful, but urgent, petition to the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, that they would accord to the medical officers of our navy such a degree of actual and substantial rank as properly belongs to them as members of an honorable profession, and such as will serve the best interest of the navy and the country, by offering attractions in the former to men of thorough culture and honorable ambition, and rewards to long and faithful services in behalf of the latter.

We respectfully represent that it is impossible that the effective discipline of the service, or the existing relations of mutual courtesy between the line and staff, should be thereby endangered, but that a source of contention would be thereby entirely removed by giving to science and culture the rights which they cannot fail to claim as long as they shall be found in the service; that the dignity and efficiency of a command are enhanced when the character and positions of its subordinate departments are exalted; and that no great power treats its medical service with as little consideration as is shown by our own country, in the humiliating position to which it exposes our medical brethren of the navy. And we therefore earnestly pray that the past injustice may find a full reparation, and the present wrong an effective remedy, in the wisdom and bounty of your provision for all the rights and interests entrusted to your care.

CONGRESS.—The Senate passed the House bill for the admission of Mississippi to representation, on Thursday, by a vote of 50 to 11, Lewis of Virginia going with the republicans and Johnson with the democrats.

Communication.

Messrs. Editor s:—When A. M. H. revises his calculations he will find in the 130 years from the year 1870 to 2000,—that there are 97 common years and 33 leap years. Twice 33 gives 66, added to 97 makes 163 extra days, beyond the 52 even weeks in each of the 130 years. Dividing 163 by 7 gives 23 weeks and two days, which days added to Monday gives Wednesday.

And "Tyro," on a little more close examination, will find that the year 1800 was a leap year, and that 1900 will be one. The Dominical Letters will be G F, and July 4th will be Thursday. Also, every year he mentions will be leap years, and the dominical letters for the year 2000 will be A G. July first that year will be Sunday, and consequently the 4th will happen on Wednesday. Should like to hear from N. D. L. J.

A SINGULAR CASE.—The Lewiston correspondent of the Boston Herald says a singular case has just been tried at Auburn before the Supreme Judicial Court. A suit was brought against an executor of an estate to recover a note of $1000 given by a certain party. The plaintiff claimed that the endorsement was as follows: "I back this note holden for debt and costs; (signed) ——," and Mr. —— witnessing the endorsement. The defendant claimed that the endorsement was, "I back this, not holden for debt and costs," and that the letter "e" had been added. The verdict was for the defendant.

New Publications Received.

The Catalogue of Hampton Academy, exhibits an aggregate of 174 Scholars for the year, whole number of different scholars 112; winter term 71. The school has prospered under the tuition and government of Rev. Mr. Durgin as principal.

The March number of The Galaxy is out. The serials of Mr. Reade, Mr. Trollope, the pleasant new writer who dates from Havana, and the gentleman who is revealing the secrets of Rome, take up much of the space of the magazine. Besides these, the main contents of the number are an essay on "The Prince of Wales," by Justin McCarthy; "At Cambridge University," anonymous; a story, "From Hand to Hand," by Rebecca Harding Davis; and Mr. Grant White's paper on the Stage, which, with the aggravating title of "The Clown's Real Pigling," proves to be a denunciation of the realism of the theatre, as illustrated by Edwin Booth's production of "Hamlet."

The Edinburgh Review (American reprint) for January, contains eight articles, among them Froude's History of Queen Elizabeth, (giving a sad view of royalty); John Calvin in Church & State; and the Pre christian Cross:—all articles of interest.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

PORTLAND, ME., Feb. 18.

The Directors of the Portland Institute and Public Library suggest a union of all the literary institutions of the city into one, making a Free Public Library. The number of volumes in the Portland Institute is 10,000. The Committee of the City Council on new streets meet Feb. 19 at 3 P. M. to hear parties in regard to the proposed marginal street from East Commercial St. to Grove street.

Norton, the well known Marine artist, is at work on a large picture of the funeral fleet as it appeared here. H. R. Brown, the Marine artist, of this city, is to paint a picture of the Departure of the Monarch, off Portland Head Light.

The people of Maine have not paid much attention to the erection of fish ways on the rivers. The owners of dams on the Presumpscut are providing them and by Spring the work will be completed on that stream. Legal steps have been commenced to secure their erection on the Kennebec and its tributaries. But one or two have been built on the Penobscot.

The total value of foreign exports from Portland for 1869 was $13,900,527; domestic merchandise exported, $1,872,484, making total, foreign and domestic $15,773,011. The foreign imports from the same town were $15,080,742 of which $12,494,189 was for goods on transit.

During January, 265,433 pounds of bacon, hams and lard were exported from this port to England, valued at $319,109.

The School expenditures for salaries last year in this city were $42,240.10; The appropriation for this year, $44,750. Mayor Putnam called the attention of the School Committee to the probable excess of the appropriation by $5000, and at their meeting on Saturday a resolution was offered to suspend schools and teachers when the appropriation should be exhausted. It was laid on the table and a vote passed acknowledging the Mayor's communication and that the Board did not feel called upon to take any further action in the premise. The School Committee and City Government are at loggerheads.

Bidwell's Dramatic Company open at Deering Hall on the 24th for six nights. They always gave satisfaction and drew crowded houses, and will do so again. SANCHO.

☞ H. L. C. Dorsey of Pawtucket, R. I., has entered suit against the Warden of the Massachusetts State Prison, for the return of a sum of money given by him to the prison for the purpose of furnishing the prisoners with a Christmas dinner. The Warden, it is alleged, did not use the money in exact accordance with Mr. Dorsey's instruction, but bought chickens instead of turkies. There must be one goose in the mess, we should say.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA IS A HYDRA-HEADED MONSTER from which nearly all the "ills the human flesh is heir to" originate. The Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron, is a long-tried and well established remedy for this distressing complaint. It has cured thousands when other remedies have failed.

LOST—At the Piscataqua Fair in Portsmouth, last Fall, a WHITE KNIT QUILT, of "Shell" pattern. Any information concerning it will be liberally paid for at the Chronicle and Gazette Office, by FRANK W. MILLER,
Portsmouth, Feb. 19. Sec. P. Ag. Soc'y.

LOST—16th inst., a SCOTCH TERRIER DOG, ears and tail clipped—answers to the name "Jerry." Any tidings of him will be rewarded at the Office of the Chronicle and Gazette.

LOST—From Lincoln Hill, a WHITE FANTAIL PIGEON. A reward will be paid for him at the Chronicle and Gazette Office. f19

FOUND—A large black WATCH DOG. Inquire at the Chronicle and Gazette Office.

—"Mother," said little four-year old Carrie, when she came from church, "I have heard such a smart minister. He stamped and pounded, and made such a noise; and then he got so mad he shook his fists at the folks, and there wasn't anybody dared go up and fight him."—Recorder.

—"Charley," said his grandmother, reprovingly, "your portion will be the burning lake at last if you tell so many stories." "Oh! no, grandma, I couldn't stand it." "But you will be made to stand it, my boy." "Oh, well, if I can stand it, it's all right."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—KIDNEY DISEASES.—Disorders of the Stomach are often complicated with affections of the kidneys, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are eminently useful in both. Their mild cathartic action checks inflammation in that region, and the regular application of the Ointment to the small of the back and loins assists to counteract the irritation of the urinary organs which always accompanies venal complaints. Sold by all Druggists.

A Torpid System.

Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, and a strange torpor falls alike on the body and intellect. There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and muscular system seems to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced mind when in a healthy condition.

This state of partial collapse is often the premonitory symptoms of some serious malady. It indicates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus.

The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity under the operations of the specific, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the season of depression lasted, becomes once more enjoyable.

That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem incredible to those who pin their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to enquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the Bitters under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Lozan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

PAIN OF THE SIDE CURED.

Allentown, Penn., April 4, 1865.

Messrs. T. Allcock & Co.

Dear Sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side, and it cured her in one week. Yours truly,
JOHN V. N. HUNTER.

25,000 SOLD BY ONE DEALER.

Messrs. J. Balch & Son, of Providence, R. I., write, Nov. 1868: "We have sold the Porous Plasters for twenty years, and, at retail and jobbing, must have sold twenty-five thousand altogether. They are well liked. ja13dawlm

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

☞ There was never before, anything like the amount of valuable Live Stock owned in this vicinity, as now. Among others, Messrs. Chas. Hayes & Son have a large herd of Ayrshires and other cattle; and their specimens of this breed, (which is fast increasing in favor,) are fine. Messrs. W. P. & A. L. Jones, on their farm at Gravelly Ridge, have quite a herd of Jerseys and others. Mr. F. Jones we have before alluded to, as a large owner both of horses and cattle.

Messrs. Main & Winchester are well known lovers of fine horses, and their teams are scarcely excelled anywhere. Mr. Main is now driving a pair of colts of large size and good promise, from California stock; and Mr. Winchester has a splendid pair of mares, also from the Golden State; and he can hitch out about the only four-in-hand team we know of in this region. He has also a string of 30 neat cattle or so, and is fast increasing the value of his hay farm by carting fabulous quantities of sea-weed from Odiorne's Point, and is never afraid to invest in manures.

Mr. Woodbury Locke of this city has a number of fine horses, besides his famous Nellie, and frequently ships a good one or two to Boston or other market. Col. J. W. Peirce, at his estate in Greenland, one of the largest and most valuable farms in the State,—with his numerous herd of pure bred Durhams, is no doubt the largest stock owner about here. There are others worthy of mention in this list; and out of town Mr. C. N. Healey of Stratham, and Mr. Warren Brown of Hampton Falls, have herds of Jerseys and Ayrshires worth looking at.

PORTSMOUTH LIBRARY.—There have been some suggestions, in the papers and elsewhere, about a Library, on a large scale, and accessible to the whole city. A friend recently reminded us of the old Portsmouth Library, which used to be in the East Chamber of the old Court House; and raised the question what became of it? The answer was, it was removed, for safety, from the old Court House, which was deemed a dangerous place for fire, and deposited in the new brick building at the corner of Broad and Court streets, as they were then called,—where the Rockingham Bank was afterward located.

The woodwork was destroyed in the great fire of December, 1813, and with it, the Portsmouth Library was burnt to ashes.

This statement is confirmed by the papers of that day, where under the head of Broad street, we read:—"house of Miss Hale, improved by herself, Mr. Remick, Judge Sherburne, and Mr. Freeman. (In this house the Portsmouth Library was burnt up.")

☞ Our neighbors of the Journal put Messrs. Marvins' advertisement of Cod Liver Oil under the head of "Groceries." Rather a gross mistake—unless they intended to intimate that it is good enough to eat. This oil is pronounced by Dr. Hayes of Boston to be the purest he ever analyzed; and it is fast growing in favor everywhere—but will hardly be included in grocers' stocks just yet.

☞ They have a novel way of dunning for bills in Manchester. They send out photographs of delinquents, accompanied by bills, to some lawyer where the said delinquent is supposed to be. We are informed that such a picture and bill are now in a lawyer's office in this city; the curious may find it easily.

☞ One of the movers for a new Primary School near the Creek, says there are about seventy-five names to the petition; and that of 250 children in the Creek settlement, about 100 are not attending school at all, for lack of accommodation near.

☞ Mr. Thacher Emery fell down the cellar stairs of his store at the South End, on Thursday afternoon, striking his head, and severely injuring his scalp, face, body and head—rather rough usage for a man of his advanced age.

☞ Everybody is pleased that ex-Gov. Goodwin should at last consent to be a Director of the Eastern Railroad again.

☞ A Patent has just been issued to C. A. Oehl, of this city, for a Lozenge Machine.

NAVAL.—The Monarch has arrived at Annapolis.

Ensigns Albert R. Condor and George J. Mitchell have been detatched from the Plymouth.

☞ The damage by the storm of Feb. 8th, by which the roof of the large barn of Mr. E. C. Spinney of Kittery, was blown off and landed on some apple trees several rods distant, it is said will amounto nearly $400. Mr. Spinney has sent large quantities of prime hay to Boston market, on the Railroad, from Kittery, York and Eliot, the present season, as usual; and Mr. C. H. Hayes likewise from this city.

☞ The Nashua Gazette says the "Haymakers" was continued every evening last week to Saturday evening, inclusive, when Mr. Philips had a benefit. Every evening every seat was occupied, and it was a splendid success in every respect.—We understand it is to be reproduced at Manchester and other places. The attendance from several of the neighboring towns was large.

☞ An interesting insurance case has just been decided by the law courts of Maine. The plaintiffs were H. W. Lancey & Co., of Portland, whose store was insured by the Phœnix Insurance Company of New York for $3000. The store was burned in the great fire of 1866. The Company refused payment on the ground that the store was situated on leased land, and the agent of the Company had omitted to state the fact in the policy. The Court decided for the plaintiffs, awarding the full amount of the insurance, with interest from 1866, with costs.

Communication.

PASTORATE OF FATHER AND SON.—Jonathan French was a native of Braintree, Mass., — graduated at Harvard College in 1771, and was ordained pastor of the South Parish in Andover in 1772. He died July 23, 1809, after a ministry of 36 years.

His son, Jonathan French, graduated at Harvard College in 1798, and was ordained pastor of the Congregational church in North Hampton, N. H., in 1801. His father preached on the occasion, and the sermon was published. The ministry of Dr. French of North Hampton was 50 years, when he resigned. The father and son preached 86 years, 78 of which were in consecutive order, under the two names of Jonathan French.

It may be added that Jonathan French Stearns, grandson of the first French above, and nephew of the second, became a minister in Newburyport, 34 years ago. He has left Newburyport, but we suppose he preaches yet. J.

☞ At the S. J. Court in Dover, (Judge Smith presiding) the Grand Jury found thirty bills of indictment, nearly one half of which were for unlawfully selling liquor.

The case Franklin Orange v. Horatio Applebee was the first tried. This was an action to recover a pair of steers valued at $150. Verdict for defendant.

John Sherburne, indicted for setting fire to a barn in Farmington last fall, plead not guilty. He will probably be tried during the term.

S. H. Wentworth, indicted for liquor selling and larceny, plead guilty to selling, and was fined $50 and costs.

Ithamar Howe, George Bradford, (4 indictments), S. H. Burnham, Orin Wingate (8 indictments) and R. P. Lougee, (6 indictments) for liquor selling, all plead guilty, and were fined $50 and costs each.

Miles Cassily, indicted for liquor selling, plead not guilty, was tried, found guilty, and fined $50 and costs.

In the case of Daniel Boody v. Nathan Hanscom for trespass on wood lot, the jury returned a verdict of $40 for plaintiff.

—The New Hampshire Republicans in securing Congressman Dawes to speak in that State in the hope that the damage effected by his untruthful speech in the House may be repaired, are acting on the old theory of curing a man by dosing him with the hair of the dog that bit him.—Traveller.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting for a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

NAVAL RANK BOARD'S REPORT.

From the Baltimore American.

The official record of the proceedings and findings of the late Naval Board concerning rank in that branch of the public service, has at last been submitted to Congress, and a printed copy of the same has come to hand.

In a former issue we expressed considerable surprise at the singular action of the Navy Department, as indicated by the Secretary's letter and bill, wherein the claims of the Staff Corps of the navy were rated so exceedingly low,—much lower even than this Board and a former Line Board, or even Admiral Porter himself, placed them. We thought, and still think, it passing strange that, having called upon these experts to give their professional opinions and views upon the subject—officers thoroughly familiar with the naval service, its wants and requirements, as well as just what would certainly most conduce to harmony and true efficiency—the Secretary should deliberately ignore their views as valueless or insufficient testimony, and put forth his own necessarily very limited ideas of what is best and necessary. The query naturally and necessarily presents itself, can the Secretary possibly know as well just what would be proper and fitting, the more especially as he has been but a few months only at the head of the Navy Department?

We are the more surprised now that we have the details of the proceedings and results of the Rank Board before us. We find amongst other things that the Staff gentlemen thereon, for the sake of peace and harmony and the interests of the service, (for this conflict between Line and Staff is undoubtedly damaging to all concerned, and should be put to rest by mutual concessions,) yielded up their claims by common consent to a Rear Admiralship, being willing to take, by way of fair compromise, five Commodoreships in the Medical and Pay Corps respectively for the heads and seniors of their Corps on the active list, (from whom the Surgeon-General, &c., should be selected, and who should still have only the rank of Commodore,) the heads of the Engineer and Construction Corps likewise to have the same rank; and that they further asked only for proportionate numbers and scale of rank all the way down, according to the needs, numbers, &c., of their respective Corps.

Their claims, it seems to us, are manifestly just and proper, and modest withal, and we are sure must have weight and force with the Naval Committees and members of Congress generally in the preparation of the new bill now pending. Their practical workings would secure to the several Staff Corps what we, and, indeed, the press and the people generally, are anxious to have accorded to them—the principal of representation in the higher (not the highest) rank of the naval service. It will also properly provide for the senior of said Corps: and last, but not least in importance, to the best interests of the Navy and the Government, and even the Line Officers themselves—who really cannot be indifferent to the importance and necessity of securing able Surgeons, good Paymasters and skilled Engineers in the service—will prove strong incentive to well doing amongst the juniors, as well as inducement sufficient to young men of worth and promise, to enter these truly important and responsible branches of our naval service.

We find too that the claims put forth by the Staff gentlemen on this Board for proper kind or character of rank—for respectable representation in numbers, as well as proper and fitting rank, and for legal exemption from the unjust, necessary and absurd "Executive officer" precedence, are equally just and fair. The argument in their behalf, especially touching this latter point, and the claim for positive rank, is simply unanswerable. No unbiased, disinterested man can read these clear, terse, logical statements and reasoning, and hesitate for one moment to respond to their honest and manly appeals for simple justice. We ourselves heartily endorse their position and claims, and we hope, as we do believe, Congress will do likewise.

The Stevens' bill, at the very least, should be accorded them. We are gratified to perceive that already the views of The American have commanded attention, and that practical results in the direction we have indicated are manifesting themselves. "We do not know what whereof "we speak," having personally mingled in the scenes and events, on board the vessels and amongst the officers, during the late rebellion, whereby large experience of these matters was necessarily obtained.

Admiral Porter will himself bear testimony to the fact that volunteers from the Staff on nearly every one of his vessels joined the naval brigade in its desperate and bloody land attack on Fort Fisher, or took part in active fighting duty on board in the reduction of that stronghold. Indeed, there was scarcely a naval engagement during the war in which the Staff officers did not volunteer for active duty. When the gallant Captain George Rogers was killed on board the monitor Catskill during the bombardment of Fort Gregg, the same ball killed Paymaster Woodbury. He was with his Captain in the pilot house, on top of the turret, and we personally assisted, a few minutes afterwards, in carrying both of their mangled bodies on board of Admiral Dahlgren's flagship. So, also, in the first monitor fight with the Merrimac, when the gallant Captain Worden was wounded, Chief Engineer Stimers, assisted by Engineers Roby and Newton, took charge of the guns and fired the shots which crippled the iron-clad monster and drove her back to Norfolk.

On another occasion, off Fort Sumpter, a Surgeon whose name we do not now remember, volunteered to carry a bawser, under heavy fire of the enemy, to rescue a stranded vessel, that must ultimately have been captured, with all on board, but for his bold and successful gallantry. It was not his duty, but his heart was in the fight, and when a volunteer was called for he was the first to step forward, either of Line or Staff. How it is possible for officers of the Line to deny to their associates of the Staff something like an equality of rank we are unable to comprehend. In no other navy in the world is any similar desire evinced, and no other Government would for a moment listen to such a proposition. Now that steam has become universal, and a higher grade of character and efficiency is required in all the Staff officers on shipboard, we hope that Congress will at once restore the service to the condition in which it was placed by President Lincoln, who manfully stood up for equal justice to all men.

We are convinced, from this personal knowledge and experience, that the Staff officers of our navy are now asking of Congress and the country even less than what they are in justice entitled to—especially in view of the fact that, whilst the Line were largely honored and promoted for their war services, nothing at all has been done for the Staff Corps. Indeed, on the contrary, they have met with, and are now smarting under, unexampled and unjustifiable degradation! The whole of this last should especially be revoked and rebuked by Congress. All reduced in rank should be restored, every man of them. The whole navy should be rehabilitated, improved; the relative status that once existed between Line and Staff restored; the old gentlemen on the Staff retired list provided for equally well with the Line and enabled once more to live respectably and to educate their children; and all degradations and humiliations resulting from late Departmental legislation undone, reversed and blotted out forever.

That Arithmetical Example still remains not satisfactorily answered.—"Sancho," of Portland, writes as follows: "In your paper of Jan. 29 I find some answers to the $750-and-Interest problem. I did not see the problem, but from these answers it is indefinite whether at time of giving note the 6 mos. interest was paid in advance or not, or to be included or not. If it was paid or is to be included, then the answer is $725.85.

Amount of note	$750.00
Interest, 6 mos., 6 per cent	22.50
Amt. note and interest	$772.50
Less 1 per cent per month, or 6 per cent,	46.65
Answer,	$725.85

If interest was not to be included nor paid in advance, the answer is $705.00.

Amount of note	$750.00
1 per cent per mo., or 6 per cent	45.00
Answer,	$705.00

Had I seen the problem I would not have been so uncertain."

We rather doubt the latter statement, and as there is so much general interest in the matter we re-print the question as originally given us, and published in the Chronicle of Jan. 21 and the Gazette of Jan. 29.

A., residing in Boston, holds a note against B. of Newburyport for $750, payable in six months with interest. A. writes to B. that if he will pay the note, he will allow him at the rate of 1 per cent per month, or 12 per cent per year as interest. How much money must B. send to A. to cancel the note?

We doubt if "Sancho" is less uncertain than before. The difficulty is, no date is given of the transaction, nor any statement of the time of the commencement of the note. And as every six months of the year do not contain the same number of days, the result will vary according to the month you commence with, if the interest be reckoned by days. So also the result may vary, by taking up the note when given, or after more or less time has run on it. We believe the propounder of the sum commences June 1st, but we see no reason for so doing.

Communication.

☞ In answer to the question in Tuesday's paper, "when will the 4th day of July come on the same day of the week that it will in 1870?" I will say it takes place on the same day (Monday) in 1188, '87, '98, and 1900.

L. J. has miscalculated as regards the 4th of July, 2000. The method of finding the Dominical letter for the 20th and 21st centuries, is different from the 18th and 19th. The Dominical Letters for 2000 are not A G, but B A.—The 1st of January, 2000, will come on Saturday.

—Luther G. Riggs, of the Meriden (Conn.) Recorder, who indites his editorials with a tomahawk dipped in the gall of bitterness, got himself sued for libel not a great while ago, by one Rogers, not a relative of Roger Williams, but of the other Rogers, and had the damages laid at fifty thousand dollars! Well, Luther, the plucky dog, joined issue with the man Rogers, and a spirited trial was had, whereupon a respectable and intelligent nutmeg jury gave Rogers the very handsome sum of ten dollars. And Riggs has a notion that he can beat Rogers on the execution at that figure. Which we guess he can.—[Republic, Geneseo, Illinois.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"
SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB
SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 or ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY
CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Plug Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS
HAVE BEEN IN GENERAL USE in the United States for over 110 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.
If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.

A POLITICAL INCIDENT.—The echoes of the political campaign in New Hampshire are beginning to be heard over the border, as the following narrative will bear witness. Our Republican friends in that State, and also the believers in the political "sphere" of woman, will find in it a certain relish.

Among the passengers in the northern train over the Boston and Maine Railroad recently, was one unmistakeable son of the Granite State. Though occupying a forward seat, his animated talk with his companion was audible, though not disagreeably so, to others seated half way down the car. The words "Harriman" "Rockingham County," "salary of $5000," "Custom House," &c, occasionally heard above the rattle of the moving train, indicated plainly enough the drift of the conversation, without affording a clue to its special character.

At length the colloquialist chanced to let his voice ascend into a strain of explosive indignation, reaching to the father end of the car, though evidently intended to be addressed only to his friend, exclaiming, "My boy was killed at Antietam; I buried him the next day—and now they want me to vote the Democratic ticket. No sir. No sir. Never, so long as I have a head on my body!"

A burst of merriment rose throughout the car at this sudden and unexpected overflow of political enthusiasm, and was followed instantly by generous applause of hands and feet, in which many of the ladies joined. The speaker, though apparently surprised into a realization of the situation, gracefully accepted it and rose to bow his acknowledgement.

Facing the passengers he repeated the same words, substantially, adding —"Labor reform—I don't know it. I know it only as the bob-tail of the Democratic kite. A soldier who will vote the Democratic ticket—I call him demented. He is a fit subject for the insane asylum." Another round of applause, in which the ladies again joined, rewarded the impromptu orator, and evinced the political status of the chance assembled audience.—Boston Journal.

A STORY OF A WOLF.—In the village of Houston, near Greenock, Scotland, there lived, about the year 1640, a woman named Maggie McPherson. On returning at early dawn from driving her cattle to pasture, she was frightened in no small degree by observing a wolf standing straight in her path. Paralyzed by her terror, she could not move, but stood staring wildly at the object of her dread, awaiting submissively the attack which she was sure would soon put a period to her existence.

Standing thus for a considerable length of time, with her eyes at intervals raised to heaven in prayerful expectancy, she at length began to wonder that the wolf was in no hurry to make the expected attack. Again casting her eyes in the direction of the animal, she fancied that the visual ferocious expression of his countenance had this time given way to a more softened and subdued look, and that she could observe him raise his eyes towards her with a suppliant whine, as if he needed in some fashion her assistance. Acquiring some degree of confidence from this circumstance, she took courage to survey him more closely, when she observed him slowly approaching with an unmistakable limp, holding up one of his fore-feet, which appeared much swollen. Taking hold of the wounded paw, she saw that he was suffering from a large thorn that had punctured the sole of his foot. This she had no difficulty in extracting, and then, by gently pressing on the wound, she drew from it a considerable amount of purulent matter, an operation that seemed to give the animal much relief. She then released him and he toddled away, whining out his best thanks to his physician. The woman, too, made haste home, thanking heaven for her miraculous escape.

But more remains to be told. On the morning of the following day she was awakened by a strange uproar all round her dwelling. There was the lowing of cows, the bleating of goats and sheep, the cackling of geese, with now and then the howl of a wolf. She hastily raised herself from her couch, and looking out to see what had caused the unusual commotion, she observed all the live stock of the neighborhood gathered about her door, with a wolf keeping guard outside the circling crowd to prevent any attempt at escape. She knew by his halt that he was the same animal whom she had relieved from his embarrassment on the preceding day. When the wolf observed her, he set up a whine of satisfaction, as if to say, "These things have I brought; please accept them," and walked off looking lively gratitude.

This incident was told to the writer by the grand-granddaughter of the woman to whom it happened.—Mirror.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S
CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, socks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a cost of twenty cents, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,
American Knitting Machine Company,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,

Coughs,	Neuralgia,	Female Weaknesses,
Colics,	Headache,	Painting Fits,
Fevers,	Convulsions,	Palpitation,
Agues,	Sleeplessness,	Restlessness,
Biliousness,	Dyspepsia,	Dizziness,
Constipation,	Liver Complaint,	Children's Troubles
Diarrhœa,	Consumption,	&c., &c., &c.

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

I WAS CURED OF DEAFNESS AND CATARRH by a simple remedy, and will send the receipt free. Address f17 4w Mrs. M. C. LEGGETT, Hoboken, N. J.

MONDAY, FEB. 21, 1870.

THE SECOND FIDDLE. — The Manchester Union, in an intensely copperhead editorial, praises Mr. Flint, puffs his Labor speech, and bids him "God speed throughout the State"—but adds, "that he is a little too ambitious, when he hopes to supersede the Democratic Party, by adopting its own principles!"

With so plain an agreement between Mr. F. and the copperheads,—can any republican be in his right mind who will vote for him and them? The Union adds: "We advocate him as an auxiliary in a noble cause!" That is to say, the Union is very glad to have Mr. Flint play second fiddle to the copperhead band, in hopes to dance over a Democratic Party's victory in March. Republican workingmen: will you take a ticket in Mr. Flint's lottery?—Don't all speak at once?

NAVAL.—The naval court-martial at the navy yard, convened for the trial of one of the seamen of the Plymouth, accused of an assault with intent to kill, has not commenced the trial on account of some informality in the papers in the case, and adjourns from day to day, until further orders from the department are received

The Plymouth is to have considerable alterations as soon as Congress will appropriate funds to commence work at the yard. Her mizzenmast, which was barque-rigged, has been taken out, and will be replaced with one square-rigged. The ward room will be extended forward, displacing in part the coal bunkers, and her forecastle will be enlarged after the style of the Benicia. The Plymouth with the late rigging would make 15 knots an hour, and it is questioned whether the new rigging will add to her sailing qualities; while the reduction of her coal capacity will materially affect her steaming powers. These alterations will require at least a month' time. Her crew have been transferred to be receiving ship, and her officers will probably have leave of absence.

THE YORK COUNTY LODGE OF GOOD TEMPLARS met at Eliot in the hall of the Newichawanic lodge, Thursday, Feb. 10. About 120 were present. Pepperell lodge, of Kittery Point, was especially well represented. The lodges at Kittery Foreside, South Berwick, Kennebunk and Biddeford were well represented. Resolutions were passed recognizing God's hand in the temperance cause, the need of clergymen and other public teachers being deeply interested to save men from intemperance; the need of special effort in Sabbath schools and elsewhere to throw a safeguard from intemperance around the youth. To remind members of all Orders that frequenting places at all where intoxicating drink is sold, whether for shaking dice or playing cards or in any other such exercise, is a violation of rules, and deserves infliction of severest penalties.

Bros. E. J. Starbird and F. G. Rich came with fraternal greeting from Cumberland county lodge, and spoke earnest hopeful words. Next session occurs with Harmony Lodge, South Berwick, on May, 12 next.

☞ The brick block on State Street, corner of Pleasant, occupied by Messrs. Thacher, H. F. Wendell and others, was built in 1824 by the late Mr. D. H. Treadwell, whose estate now owns it. The Auction store therein, now of Mr. Wendell, has never been used for any other business,—the late Major Larkin having occupied it from the time it was built until 1839, about 25 years, when Mr. Wendell took the business, and has conducted it until the present time, about 21 years. The rent, at first $100 per year, is now we believe about $450. This is a long continuance of one kind of business; and both tenants were, as one yet is, and we hope may long remain, among our most prompt, efficient and reliable business men.

☞ Mr. Haynes, warden of the Massachusetts State Prison, says that in the eleven years he has been connected with that prison, 21 persons were imprisoned for killing their wives, one for killing his mother, and two for killing their fathers; that 23 of these 24 murderers were intoxicated when they committed these crimes.

☞ Rufus K. Page of Hallowell, Me., the first Mayor of that city, and for fifty years, one of the largest and most enterprising ship owners of Maine, died Feb. 6th, aged 83. He was a native of Exeter, son of Dr. Benj. Page.

Communication.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING.—The State Superintendent of Public Instruction called a meeting of Superintending School Committees of Hillsborough County, at Manchester, Jan. 27, to devise measures to promote the common schools interests. There are 30 towns in the county. At the meeting, four of them were represented by four committee men; and a fifth, Manchester, was represented by three.

This was seemingly a terrible neglect. But perhaps it was some excuse that in most towns the pay of Sup-Committees is so small that they can hardly afford the additional expense of money and time to attend such a Convention.

If such were called in Rockingham County we doubt a larger attendance. The present arrangement of State Superintendence has as yet benefitted this County, aside from one Teacher's Institute, next to nothing, although it is in the third year of its operation. It is hoped something will be done in this section to awaken an interest in our Common Schools. EX-TEACHER.

SUICIDE.—Dennis Kane, an Irishman about 55 years of age, was arrested for drunkenness, and hung himself with a strap which he had on his body, at the Police station, between 7 and 8 o'clock Saturday evening. His body laid at full length on the floor when found, and his head was suspended from the second bed frame, about 2 1-2 feet from the floor.

—Be contented with your lot, especially if it is a corner lot.

New Hampshire Items.

The suit brought against Dr. Clough of Greenland, by Hiram Wiggin of Stratham, for $5000 damages, alleged to have been caused by mal-practice in the treatment of a broken limb of the wife of the plaintiff, and which it was expected would have been tried at the late term of Court at Exeter, and which has excited a good deal of interest in Stratham and vicinity, the News Letter says is compromised by the payment by Clough to Wiggin of $1000 and costs. A. Wiggin and Gen. Marston for plaintiff. Frink for defendant.

Mr. John S. Sanborn, of Danville, while coming with his load of shoeboxes and team of three horses, from Brentwood to Danville, through Fremont, stopped for a moment at Sanborn's store in Fremont, where his horses left him upon a gallop. Nimble at the age of 60, Mr. S. started in pursuit, and ran to Mr. Obadiah Smith's, about onethird of a mile, throwing off his boots meantime, where he leaped upon a horse by the roadside and sped on somewhat faster. Coming to his load at the distance of about two miles, he leaped upon that, ran across its top, gathered up the reins and stopped his horses. "Taking breath," as he said, he drove to Capt. Moses Hook's in Fremont, secured his team, got dry stockings, and rode back with one horse and picked up his boots. Pretty well done, considering the time,—about three-fourths of an hour. The only wonder is that his load did not overturn, it being about eight feet in height.

Charles Gerrish and wife at Dover Landing, had a disgraceful quarrel and fight, Saturday night, in which the wife was dangerously injured.

Sensible men are declining the nominations of the new clap-trap political parties. Mr. Preston of Francestown, a thorough temperance man, declined that party's nomination for Senator in the 8th District; and Mr. Wm. 100 business men of Concord went to Pittsfield on a sleigh-ride. No ladies—poor plan.

The 31st ult. the inmates of our State Prison enjoyed the dinner which H. C. L. Dorsey, of Pawtucket, R. I., sent on $60 to furnish. Over 200 pounds of turkey were cooked, together with potatoes and turnips. For desert each man had an apple, an orange, and half a mince pie. The banqueters were entertained with short speeches by the Warden, the Chaplain and Rev. J. F. Lovering.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MANY SUFFER rather than take nauseous medicines; and this is not to be wondered at as the remedy is often worse than the disease. Sufferers from coughs, colds, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to Consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

—The most easily digested articles of food as yet known are sweet apples baked, cold raw cabbage sliced in vinegar, and boiled rice; the most indigestible are suet, boiled cabbage and pork; the former require an hour, the latter five.

—The veterinary editor of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times recommends the following for scratches in a horse: "Take sulphate of zinc, one drachm; glycerine, two ounces; apply every morning."

CORN AND PORK.—From carefully conducted experiments, by different persons, it has been ascertained that one bushel of corn will make a little over 10 1-2 pounds of pork, gross.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—KIDNEY DISEASES.—Disorders of the Stomach are often complicated with affections of the kidneys, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are eminently useful in both. Their mild cathartic action checks inflammation in that region, and the regular application of the Ointment to the small of the back and loins assists to counteract the irritation of the urinary organs which always accompanies renal complaints. Sold by all Druggists.

A Torpid System.

Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, and a strange torpor falls alike on the body and intellect. There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and muscular system seems to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced mind when in a healthy condition.

This state of partial collapse is often the premonitory symptoms of some serious malady. It indicates unmistakably that the vital powers are languishing and need a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus.

The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity under the operations of the specific, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the season of depression lasted, becomes once more enjoyable.

That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem incredible to those who pin their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to enquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the Bitters under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY.

Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

ABSOLUTELY SAFE.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATION, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. ja13dawlm

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors SAY:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Koeciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even cause one to lie awake at night. Will be dangerous. A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS, VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Cramp, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Grand Masquerade Ball—C. B. B. Club.
Hair Vigor—J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

☞ The heavy rain storm of Friday night was accompanied by thunder.

☞ Mr. William H. Hackett sold at auction on Saturday, seven shares of the First National Bank in this city, for $139 per share.

☞ The Wonders of the Arctic Region will be exhibited by the Stereopticon at the Temple this (Monday) evening. Tickets may be had at Mr. Preston's Store.

☞ The warm rain of Friday carried off the snow and ice as fast as we ever saw it go, and wheels were everywhere in requisition, Saturday morning. The storm wound up with thunder and lightning on Saturday morning.

☞ An interesting entertainment was given at Commodore Winslow's quarters at the Navy Yard on Saturday evening, in honor of the officers of the Plymouth and Benicia. The Post Band was in attendance; a number of invited guests, ladies and gentlemen, were present from Portsmouth; and the Emerald ran till 11 o'clock to accommodate the visitors.

☞ A woman gving her name as Sarah Mills, was arrested in Saco Wednesday, as an impostor. She has recently visited Portsmouth and Kennebunk, and collected considerable money by telling a piteous story. But it being pretty clear that she was a cheat, she was arrested and lodged in Saco Jail, where she now is, awaiting news from New York, whence the woman hails.

☞ A gentleman at the West End of this city, who was taking a sleigh-ride with a lady friend on the afternoon of Sunday week last, had his new silk hat taken off by the wind just before reaching Lafayette Road on Middle Street, and it could not be found; so he had to return home for another. A former resident at that point, a winter or two ago had his hat taken off by a squall, and found it behind a wall half a mile off, the next spring. No suspicions of any bricks in either of them.

THE C. B. B. CLUB advertise a grand Masquerade at the Temple to-morrow evening, and aver that they Can't Be Beat under any circumstances. A new matched floor is to be laid, on which to dance. The managers offer several novelties, among which is a burlesque written for the occasion and performed for the first time on that evening. The antagonism between the managers of the rival masquerade parties will probably result in large audiences and success to both. This is the only kind of amusement furnished for the anniversary of Washington's Birthday, and liberal patronage to both is insured.

TRAFTON'S MASQUERADE, to-morrow evening, is well planned, and will furnish fun enough to close the anniversary of Washington's Birthday successfully. Gideon's Band, which has volunteered again, has been recruited to the number of sixty, each performer being able to play recklessly on the piece of music assigned him.

Among the instruments already secured by the Band, are two hand-organs, one of which is said to be 200 years old. The famous leader and player on a harp of a thousand strings, Prof. Mark O. Bosphorous, has again been secured, but finds his Band so largely increased in numbers that it has been necessary to delegate some of his authority to able lieutenants, who command the right and left limbs of the musical conglomeration with all the vigor of their ex-and-internal organizations.

By unanimous vote the members have changed the name of the organization—which is hereafter to be known as the Spring Hill Band, the first lieutenant having made provisions for their safe re-treat after the exhausting march.

They may be first seen on the march through Market Street to Congress Hall. Here an elegant banner will be presented to them inscribed "Spring Hill Band —precented Feb. 22, 1870—Portsmouth, N. H."

They will then countermarch through Daniel Street to Chapel, Chapel to State, State to Middle, Middle to Congress, Congress to Congress Hall, arriving in season for inspection at 8.30. Previous to unmasking, fourteen select performers from the S. H. B. will furnish the music for one quadrille with Prof. Bosphorous as prompter.

The members of the Band are requested to meet at their hall on Market Street, at 6 1-2 o'clock, Tuesday evening. The tickets of admission are nearly all disposed of.

The Atlantic Monthly for March was issued on Saturday, and is prime a number.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

NORTH HAMPTON, Feb. 19.

According to previous notice, the ladies of the "Social Union" in this town held a Levee on Tuesday evening, which was rather unfavorable, being rainy. A very good number, however, were present. Owing to the weather, the Levee was concluded Wednesday evening, which proved to be splendid, good sleighing, and having a fine moon; the attendance was large, between four and five hundred persons being present.

The table of refreshments was an elaborate display of cakes, pies and other edibles, sufficient to please the fancy or tickle the palate of even the most fastidious gormand. The oyster department, in which twenty-six gallons were used, was under the charge of J. S. Hobbs and wife, and Moses Shaw and wife, who acquitted themselves very creditably,—many thanks to them.

There were tableaux and songs, but the most amusing of all was the Choir of Old Folks, led by Gen. Scott,—who sang the "teunes" and wore the dress of ye olden time. Among the most conspicuous of the Old Folks were Uncle Abraham and wife, descendants of Noah before the flood.

All present acknowledge this Levee to be a perfect success, in which the ladies of the Union have outdone all former attempts of this character. Gross proceeds about $400; net, about $300. Thanks are due to Mr. F. W. Miller for use of song books, and to singers of other towns for musical services rendered on the occasion.

A concert will be given at Stratham meeting-house Tuesday evening, Feb. 22nd, by the "Stratham and North Hampton Singing Club," at which will be rendered the Cantata of Esther. Personations: — Leader, Mr. Scott; King, Dr. Wyatt of Dartmouth College; Queen, Miss Gerrish of Boston; Haman, Mr. James Rollins; Zeresh, Mrs. Jewell; Mordecai, Mr. Albert Rollins; Harbonah, Mr. Albert Wiggin; Prophetess, Miss Sanderson; Queen's Maid, Miss Nellie French; Hegai, Mr. Morris H. Smith. Dr. Wyatt will sing some of his famous comic songs on this occasion. This concert will be repeated at North Hampton meeting-house, Wednesday evening, Feb. 23d. J. W. B.

A CHANCE FOR SOME MORE FIGURING.—A Liquor Agent of a New England town held the office for one year, at the close of which he gave the following statement of his accounts:—

Amount of cash received on assuming the office,	$32.17
Value of liquor received at the same time,	57.54
Cash received for sales of liquor during the year,	102.97
Amount paid for liquor bought during the year,	59.91
Salary of Agent,	25.00
Value of liquor on hand at the end of the year,	31.37

Does the Agent owe the town or does the town owe the Agent? and how much?

☞ We are indebted to Senator Cragin, for a copy of the speech of Aaron A. Sargent, Representative in Congress from California, on "the Record of the Democratic Party." Besides the intrinsic merit and value of the document, it possesses a special interest to us, as we formerly set type by the side of Mr. Sargent in the Newburyport Herald office. But highly honorable as is his eminent position, we do not deem it a whit more so than that of editor of a well-conducted newspaper. F.

☞ It is reported that the sale of Star Island has not yet been consummated, —some of the owners, as usual in such cases, demanding more than the proposed purchasers deem the property worth.

☞ Uncle Toby cannot deeply sympathize with people who groan over the Income Tax. If any of those poor men who pay a large income tax, will just pass over to him an amount sufficient to give him an income of $2000 or so, he will pay the tax without grumbling, as he usually does all other taxes. "Shoo Fly, don't bother me."

This well known preparation does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most medicines, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

Consumption can be Cured by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

POETICAL JUSTICE.

In Herkimer county
There never was seen
A sweeter young creature
Than Annabel Green.
She was fair as the lilies
And pure as the snow,
And Ichabod Brown
Was sweet Annabel's beau.

Fair Annabel Green
Thus to Ichabod spoke;
"Should you ever prove false
My poor heart would be broke."
Then he answered, "I hope
To be roasted and site,
If my Annabel's love
I shall ever forget."

But Ichabod Brown
Proved faithless, and soon
Poor Annabel Green
Was deserted and lone;
Then she went and she mourned,
And she sobbed and she sighed,
Till her tender heart broke
And she lay down and died.

Then Ichabod Brown
Was never at ease;
He roamed all the way
To the far Southern seas,
And on going ashore
Some savages met him,
And built up a fire
And roasted and ate him.

—Buffalo Express.

THE JAPANESE IN CALIFORNIA.—A curious feature of their houses is that they do not contain a nail, all of the joints and timbers being dove-tailed together by many ingenious devices, and the whole work, even to the rafters, is as smooth as if they had been polished down with sand-paper. And the Japanese are a neat people, for they use no paint to hide any blemishes of construction or ornamentation, no filigree work or plaster of paris gewgaws, but every stick in the building is exposed. Every morning, as regularly as she cooks the breakfast or sweeps the floor, the Japanese housewife takes a wet cloth and scours the whole interior of the dwelling, leaving no part untouched, and stain or dirt spot to mar its cleanly appearance. Then the Japanese do not come into the house with muddy boots, after the style of the American "sovereign," but, having covered the floor with neat matting, always remove the dirty sandals before stepping upon it.

I stood and watched the Japanese carpenters at their work for some minutes, and noticed the peculiarity of their movements. The Japanese works "toward him"—that is, instead of shoving a plane from him, he reaches out, sets the plane on the board at arm's length, and pulls it toward him; and he cuts, saws and chops in the same way. His saws are fixed in handles, like a butcher's cleaver, and the teeth slant or "rake" toward the handle. The planes are constructed like ours, but the wooden portion is very thin and wide. The adze is fastened to the end of a hooped stick like the handle of one of the crooked canes that are worn on the arm, and altogether their tools are different from ours, yet I cannot observe that they are awkward in appearance or awkwardly handled.

The men are bright, intelligent and polite, lifting their hats and bowing gracefully to strangers, and the women stay at home, do the cooking, take care of the babies, keep the house in order, and manage pretty much as American housewives do, even to wearing the Grecian bend. Take them all in all they are in every respect a superior race to the Chinese, and resemble them in no manner except in their physical appearance.—San Francisco American.

MUSICAL.—No teacher can make a company of singers do their very best, until they are put under some sort of pressure, which will render it certain that every member of the company will do the very best which he possesses the physical power to do. No other such "pressure" has ever been invented yet, than to have the company of singers exhibit their abilities before an audience. Such an exhibition is, therefore, an indispensable portion of a thorough course of training.

There is no other criterion to decide whether a company of singers sing well or not, than the way they hold the attention of the audience. If a company of singers hold an audience in breathless attention, they do sing well, even if all the critics in the region say they don't. If a company of singers do not hold the attention of the audience, they do not sing well, even if all the critics in the region say they do.

Wherever there is a large and superior choir, there is always a large congregation. At least, in all our travels we have never yet seen a single exception. The churches with numerous empty pews during public worship, which we have ever seen, are always churches with congregational or quartette singing.—Alleghany Musical Jour.

A party of woman's righters who went to Hartford, Vt., from Lebanon village, on Tuesday evening last, to hear a lecture by Mrs. Bowles, found themselves in an Orthodox conference meeting instead, and sat it out quietly, after finding their mistake. They were badly sold, but might have got into a worse place. The annoucement of Mrs. Bowles was premature, and its withdrawal had not come to the knowledge of the party. We believe brother Durant was designing to "add his testimony," and "stand up for" woman suffrage, but concluded that duty did not call him to speak at that time.

It is reported that Dr. Barrows the temperance candidate is not eligible to the office of Governor, not having been a resident of the State the last seven years.

New Hampshire Items.

Danville has recently lost one of its most respectable and estimable citizens in the death of Mr. Caleb Peaslee, at the ripe age of 86 years. Mr. Peaslee was possessed of those rare virtues which endeared him to every friend and acquaintance, indeed, it may, we think, be truly said, "he had not an enemy in the world," an expression often made, but seldom verified, yet the remark is admissible in this instance. Mr. P. was a farmer and dealt considerably in stock, particularly in oxen, of which he was an admirer and an excellent judge.

Since the entrance and robbery of the Post Office at Lee, on the evening of January 5th, inquiry has brought to light enough to quite astonish many, relative to similar transactions in that vicinity within a few years, amounting to about a dozen cases of similar character. The common belief is, that these robberies and thefts were committed by parties belonging to the community; but very few persons in the town are suspected of any such things. Much talent has been displayed in doing and hiding these wicked deeds. They are smart thieves, and doubtless have smart friends; but they may yet come to smarting for their crimes.

A party of eighty-five ladies and ninety gentlemen had a sleigh ride from Lancaster to Whitefield, to Abbott's tavern. Hart's Band of Lancester accompanied the party. This is the largest sleigh-ride we remember having heard of.

A large number of Concord citizens, embracing the most substantial and respected, had a sleigh ride to Pittsfield, the Brigade Band leading the long string of teams. This procession was met at Chichester by the Pittsfield Band. At five o'clock the whole cavalcade arrived at Pittsfield, where the streets were paraded. After supper at Sherburne's Hotel, a meeting was called to order in the hall by John M. Hill, Esq., and Mayor Stevens was chosen Chairman. He spoke on the Concord & Rochester Railroad and pointed out the benefit that would result to Pittsfield from it. He said that though Concord had lost money in railroads it was going in earnest into building this road, and ere long he hoped that Pittsfield would see cars running close by it marked "Portland and San Francisco. Through Route." (Great applause.) He read a letter from Portland parties, testifying their interest in the success of the road. Col. Peter Sanborn and Hon. J. D. Lyman also spoke, and Reuben L. French, Esq., of Pittsfield.

The Monitor states that Maj. Henry McFarland, one of the publishers of the Statesman, is in Washington, having been appointed a clerk to Mr. Ordway, Sergeant-at-Arms of the House, at a salary of $2500.

As Mr. William H. Yeaton, at Manchester, was engaged in rolling logs down a steep bank, he passed in front of a pile to arrange the large sleepers upon which the logs were to roll. While engaged in so doing, one of the largest logs, over three feet in diameter, started from its position, and Mr. Yeaton, in endeavoring to escape, slipped and fell over one of the sleepers, and the log rolled directly upon him, killing him instantly. Had he fallen between the sleepers, he would have been safe. He was twenty-seven years old and unmarried. He was son of Warren Yeyton, and was brought to Epsom for burial.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, FEB. 21.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1335; Sheep and Lambs 8615; Swine 300; number of Western Cattle 861; Eastern Cattle 124; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 350. Cattle left over —.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $13 50; first quality $12 25 @ $12 75; second quality $11 25 @ $12 00; third quality $10 00 @ $11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $7 50 @ $9 50 ₱ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 8 @ 8½c ₱ lb; Country Hides 8c ₱ lb.

Brighton Tallow 7 @ 7½c per lb; Country Tallow 6½c ₱ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 @ $1 50 each; Sheep Skins $1 @ $1 50 each; Calf Skins 17c ₱ lb.

The trade has been good and prices equal to those of last week for Beeves. The quality was mostly of a common grade. Some of the best lots, it was estimated, would cost 14c ₱ lb, 30 per cent. shrink. There were not so many Cattle from Maine as there were last week, and the trade for Working Oxen was very fair. Cattle cost higher at Albany, and the Western dealers did not bring over a very large lot this week.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $15 @ $28; two year olds $28 & $45; three year olds $45 @ $65 ₱ head. Most of the small Cattle are bought up to slaughter. There are but few Stores at market except Working Oxen and Milch Cows.

Working Oxen—The supply in market is not so large as has been for several weeks past. We quote sales at $170, $175, $200, $205, $215, $225, $250 & $300.

Milch Cows—Most of the Cows in market are of a common grade. There are but few of the fancy breeds offered for sale. Prices range from $35 @ $115 ₱ head.

Sheep and Lambs—Most of those from the West were owned by butchers or taken at a commission. We quote lots at $5 @ $8 ₱ head: ordinary $2 50 @ $4 ₱ head, or from 4 @ 8c ₱ lb.

Swine—Store Pigs, wholesale 10 @ 11½c ₱ lb; retail 10½ @ 14c ₱ lb.

New Hampshire Items.

Major Gilbert D. Wadleigh of Milford has lately been in Washington adjusting his accounts as paymaster. The final settlement shows a balance against him of only $7.61, that being the amount of wrong payments in disbursements amounting to $2,000,000.

At Suncook, the winter has been remarkable, as there has so far been but little real cold weather and no sledding to speak of. Wood has been scarce and prices as high as nine or ten dollars per cord.

Commodore Nutt, a New Hampshire boy, is at Shanghai, China, with the Tom Thumb troupe.

Capt. Arthur Locke of Epsom, has been cutting a small lot of timber this winter, including several old growth pines; one of which made after it was sawed 28,000 feet of lumber.

A young lad about thirteen years of age, son of William Cate, of Allenstown, was driving along a woods road with a load of wood, and was thrown underneath the sled, the same crushing his leg badly, so that it was amputated.

Ossian F. Ray of Lancaster declines nomination on the Temperance ticket, and will support Governor Stearns.

The New Hampshire State bond which Mark Shinborn stole from the Walpole Savings Bank, in 1864, has been found by an unknown party in New York and returned to Walpole, and presented to the State Treasurer, for redemption. The unpaid coupons had reached the sum of three hundred dollars. The thief had succeeded in getting only one coupon cashed, and that was effected very soon after the robbery.

NAVAL LOGIC.—We have received from a distinguished line officer of the navy two long communications, which he considers to be "in defence" of his branch of the service. Our correspondent starts with the premise that the navy is naturally divided into "military" and "civil officers," that the latter are a "secondary class," "to administer to the wants of the line and of the crew," or having duties "pertaining to the machinery," and should be known as "civil officers and non-combatants." The navy is a destructive agency, and destroys life by means of its men and guns, which are directed only by the line officers. Having established this foundation to his satisfaction, of course the writer has everything his own way, and argues against any claim of the civil non-combatants to rank, in a very conclusive manner.

But it seems to us that he omits to prove that a surgeon's leg is not just as liable to be taken off by a shell as another man's, that the engineer does not stand in a spot made the special target of the enemy's fire, and that exactly as high a degree of courage is not required in one branch as in the other. The analogy of the army has been frequently used in support of the claims of the naval staff, but it is not strong enough in this view, for in field service surgeons and quartermasters are frequently kept in the rear by their duties, if not their inclinations, while when a ship goes under fire she carries all her force with her into equal danger.—Boston Adv.

A SOLEMN JOKE.—One of the clergymen of Peoria, Ill., has been put in a parsonage that did not come up to the idea of what a minister should enjoy. Recently he was called upon to announce that there would be a mite society at the ministerial dwelling. He said:

"There will be a mite society on Thursday evening next at the parsonage. The parsonage is a little, old tumble-down building on ———street."

Some of the older ones of the congregation took umbrage at this, while the younger ones laughed. In the evening the person was called upon to make the same announcement. After saying that the mite society would be held at the parsonage, he paused a moment and then remarked:

"On the corner of the street near my residence is a well. Said well is covered over and clapboared. It is unpainted and weatherworn, but I wish to describe it so that none of you may make a mistake and take the well for the parsonage. The mite society will be held at the parsonage and not in the well."

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,
American Knitting Machine Company,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,

Coughs,	Neuralgia,	Female Weaknesses,
Colics,	Headache,	Painting Fits,
Fevers,	Convulsions,	Palpitation,
Agues,	Sleeplessness,	Restlessness,
Billiousness,	Dyspepsia,	Dizziness,

Constipation, Liver Complaint, Children's Troubles Diarrhœa, Consumption, &c., &c., &c.

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, FEB. 22, 1870.

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL, in Verse. We have before us a rare and curious poem, of the last century, of which we copy the whole title,—as follows:—

A Versification of President Washington's excellent Farewell-Address, to the Citizens of the United States. By a Gentleman of Portsmouth, New-Hampshire. Published according to Act of Congress. Portsmouth, New Hampshire: Printed and Sold by Charles Peirce, at the Columbian Bookstore, No. 5, Daniel Street. 1798.

A MS. note in the handwriting of a former owner, informs us of the fact that the Author was Jonathan Mitchell Sewall, Esq. The poem is dedicated to Col. Timothy Pickering, U. S. Secretary of State; and makes a pamphlet of 54 pages octavo, written, as the author says in his preface, from "a desire to serve his country, and an ambition to testify his profound veneration for its illustrious defender." We give an extract or two:

While I anticipate th' approaching hour
Perfix'd to terminate my civil pow'r;
Deep gratitude forbids me to suppress [press.
The strong sensations which my heart op-
* * * * * * * * *
Grant this most highly favor'd land, may prove
The choicest tokens of his guardian love!
That brotherly affection may encrease
And union reign till time and nature cease.
That the free Constitution which your hand
Establish'd may be sacredly maintain'd,
Its just administration over thine
In wisdom's rays, immaculate, divine;
That peace uninterrupted, pure, serene,
Thro' these wide-extended States may reign.
That under Liberty's auspicious wing,
Wide, universal happiness may spring,
While by a prudent use, and just defence
Of all these blessings Freedom can dispense,
To be transmitted sacred and entire;
Her Sons th' immortal glory may acquire
Of recommending it to future times,
Applauding nations, and remotest climes.
'Till all the tribes of earth shall dare be free,
And taste with us th' sweets of godlike Liberty!
* * * * * * * * *
The love of Liberty (celestial name!)
So deeply woven in our inmost frame;
Needs no eulogiums of laborious art
To recommend it to the human heart.

The unity of Government, that soul,
Which constitutes one individual whole.
To ev'ry heart with patriot-zeal sincere,
Must be forever eminently dear!
And justly so—for on no base beside,
The tow'r of Independence can abide.

It is the best support, in Freedom's dome,
Of peace abroad, tranquility at home,
Of commerce, wealth, each art that can improve,
And of that very liberty you love!
But as 'tis probable, a thousand arts,
From diff'rent causes, and from diff'rent parts,
Will be employ'd to weaken or destroy
Th' impression of this truth you now enjoy;
Against this point, this surest pledge of pow'r,
In your political, strong-castled tow'r,
Incessant batteries, both night and day,
Insidiously, or openly will play.

'Tis therefore of unspeakable concern,
You should the infinite importance learn.
Of Union, in a government like this,
To private, social, universal bliss. [prove
That tow'rds it you should cherish and im-
A constant, ardent, and habitual love.
Accustoming yourselves from day to day,
To study, know it, rev'rence, and obey.
To think, to speak of it, each recent hour,
As the palladium of your civil pow'r.
With anxious jealousy and ardent zeal,
Watching its constant preservation still.
Discountenancing all that may suggest
The most remote suspicion in your breast.

It can, in any possible event,
Be e'er abandon'd, violated, rent.
Frowning indignantly, with noble pride,
On all attempts to weaken, or divide
Our Union, or ty specious arts direst
One portion of our country from the rest;
Loos'ning those sacred, solemn ties design'd
The various links in one vast chain to bind.

AN IMPORTANT RAILROAD LINE.—An important step towards reviving the material prosperity of Virginia and West Virginia, whereby their great natural advantages of soil, climate, and mineral deposits will be made available for a greater and more active industry, has just been taken by several prominent New York capitalists in indentifying themselves with the great railroad line which extends between Richmond and the Ohio River, now known as the Cheasapeake and Ohio Railroad. This line includes the old Viaginia Central, and the Covington and Ohio roads, both of which received from the State prior to the war a large amount of aid—in the aggregate more than $5,300,000. This expenditure the State now surrenders to the new Corporation on very favorable terms. The road is in operation from Richmond to the famous White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and it is believed can be completed to the Ohio (200 miles) by the close of 1871. Among the promoters of the enterprise are Messrs. C. P. Huntington of the Central Pacific Railroad, A. A. Low, William H. Aspinwall, David Stewart, and others, of New York city; Messrs. Wickham, Anderson, Echols, and Parsons, of Virginia; with Messrs. Fisk & Hatch as the Financial Agents of the Company. These names are a sufficient guarantee of the vigor and fidelity with which the great work will be carried through.

The completion of this line to the Ohio River brings it within a short distance of the important railroad centers of Columbus, Dayton, Cincinnati, and Louisville, from which tributary lines are projected and building, by which the Cheasapeake and Ohio Railroad will establish a Through Line from the seaboard to the great West. Besides being the shortest line from tide-water to Western cities, it will have the great advantage of grades much lighter than any of the more northerly lines. It passes through the great coal fields of the Kanawha, and will have cheap and abundant fuel. The celebrated iron ores of Virginia are situated on the central portion of the route, the active iron furnaces of Southern Ohio at its western terminus; and between the two are these inexhaustible veins of "splint" coal, so necessary for iron manufacture.

This line will furnace the necessary outlet for the fertile tract of country between the Cumberland and the Kanawha, and will draw over it the wheat of Minnesota, the cotton of Tennessee, Mississippi, and Arkansas, together with the cattle, wheat, and tobacco of the intermediate region, as it unites 16,000 miles of inland navigation and 20,000 miles of railroad in the West, to the best harbor on the coast, by the shortest and most economical line to be found. The coal and iron traffic of the road alone will be enormous.

The Cheasapeake and Ohio is already a profitable enterprise from its local business merely; when completed to the Ohio, it must become one of the most successful roads in the country. The enterprise is in efficient and honorable hands, the debt upon the road is inconsiderable, and the prospect of remunerative traffic very flattering.

The First Mortgage Bonds of the Cheasapeake and Ohio R. R. Co., offered for sale by Messrs. Fisk & Hatch, the well-known New York Bankers, will at once attract the attention and command the confidence of capitalists as a very superior investment.

The loans heretofore recommended and negotiated by this house—now recognized as among the standard and favorite securities in the markets of both this country and Europe—bear testimony to the discernment and judgment exercised by them in the selection and approval of loans.

☞ Lieutenant Commander Henry B. Seeley, of the Pawnee, charged with inflicting cruel and barbarous punishment on three of his crew, was sentenced by a court-martial to be suspended from duty for four years on furlough pay, with loss of rank for that time, and to be publicly reprimanded by the Secretary of the Navy. The sentence has just been carried out. In publicly reprimanding Lieutenant Commander Seeley, Secretary Robeson says:

While he believes that 'the neglect of duty' which resulted in punishments so cruel could only exist on a well-ordered ship of war under cover of the 'scandalous and unofficerlike conduct' which prevailed to shield and prolong it, he can find no excuse for the officer who has been found guilty of both. Lieut. Commander Seeley remains in the naval service, since no officer, however culpable, can be dismissed except in pursuance of the sentence of a general court-martial, but not the less must it be understood that the infliction of punishment, unsanctioned by law, by those whose authority to inflict punishment is derived only from law, will never be tolerated by the department under any circumstances.

New Hampshire Items.

S. D. Bryant's boot and shoe store at Great Falls was entered on Saturday night through the glass windows in front. The rogues were tracked to their homes by the peanuts and candy scattered by the way, and arrested by the police while in the act of dividing the spoils.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD. The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seems saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or cures.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and untaught foe of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly developes into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may unknowingly be deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this SARSAPARILLA is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.

Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac supplied gratis.

Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poison in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Dosing and Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—KIDNEY DISEASES.—Disorders of the Stomach are often complicated with affections of the kidneys, and HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are eminently useful in both. Their mild cathartic action checks inflammation in that region, and the regular application of the Ointment to the small of the back and loins assists to counteract the irritation of the urinary organs which always accompanies renal complaints. Sold by all Druggists.

A Torpid System.

Sometimes, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, languishing and weak a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is wonderfully beneficial. The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus.

The relaxed nerves recover their elasticity under the operations of the specific, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the season of depression lasted, becomes once more enjoyable.

That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem incredible to those who pin their faith on the medicinal efficacy of active poisons, but if these skeptics will take the trouble to enquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the Bitters under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiunly black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chesistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY.

Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores only one or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

☞ The Social Choir of Lynn, Mass., is to bring out the Cantata of the Haymakers on Thursday evening, under the direction of Mr. Rufus Pierce, assisted by Miss Annie W. Guilford, soprano, (favorably known in this city by her personation of Queen Esther,) and Mr. J. C. Bartlett, tenor. The Lynn Reporter says "both of these vocalists have been much admired for their very fine musical powers, and no one will regret the price of a ticket after listening to the sweet voice of Miss Guilford, or the clear liquid tenor notes of Mr. Bartlett."

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

Messrs. Editors:—You will please notice that in a former number of your paper you did not publish my Geometrical Problem correctly in all its parts. As I sent it, it was as follows:

There is a plane triangle: the difference of the segments of the base is 495 feet, and the difference of the squares of the two sides is 467,775 square feet: required the base and altitude.

You have said in the Chronicle that the difference of the squares of the two sides is 457,765; will you please correct by saying the difference of the squares should have been 467,775 square feet.

A. M. H. has taken the liberty to give me what he calls advice; I will therefore take the same liberty, and give him such advice as I hope will be taken in the same spirit as it is given. I would advise him to be sure he understands the subject in contemplation, before he undertakes to correct others or advise them. If he had duly considered the problem, he would have seen that as the difference of the segments was given in whole numbers, and the difference of the squares also, therefore the segments and sides must have been whole numbers,—and this would have told him and compelled him to see that 457,765 was not the difference of the squares of the two sides, as that number produces a fraction in each side and in each segment. Now if Mr. H. cannot see how I find the sides, that is not my fault; I therefore shall keep that to myself until he can see how they are found. C—s.

ANOTHER ECONOMICAL MOVE BY UNCLE SAM'S NAVAL HEROES.—The ferry boat Emerald is kept running daily between this city and the Navy Yard from morning to somewhere near midnight, for the accommodation of the officers and their lady friends. No eight hour system about that boat. The boat is a beauty and must carry the beauties. Why not? Government pays for it—same as it does for the manufacture of skates, croquet sets and other necessaries to the comfort of the noble lords and their lady friends. We don't blame the ladies—nor their masculine friends. If Government pays, they are the gainers. When summer time comes they will have grand excursions, as in times past. They will visit the Shoals and perhaps take the Emerald (or make the Emerald take them) to clam-bakes at Dover Point. Why shouldn't they run five minute expresses to and from the Yard o' nights? They don't pay for it—the people do—and the cost is trifling among so many, when it would be so large amongst one!

Saturday night a Navy Yard official chose to give a party. People went. So did the Emerald. The shrill whistle gave notice that she was there, and the fair and brave took passage. She steamed from the landing and shot across the Piscataqua. The U. S. S. California's chain was across her path, but on she went—on the chain, and stuck fast. Fair women screamed and brave men fainted. A watery death was threatened, but the Emerald wasn't quite green enough to capsize. The lusty sailors from the Benicia were summoned and landed the entire party in safety. Then, after the festivities were over, the party returned in the Port Fire. That didn't cost anything, either; and the Emerald is used to being hauled up for repairs—so it's economical to keep her from making regular trips, except when she trips up on an iron chain. We are exercised, however, about that chain. How much will it cost to repair it?

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

ASTRONOMICAL.—Your correspondent L. J. is very kind to furnish corrections for other correspondents, gratuitously. For one, I am just as grateful to him as if there were any truth or justice in his remarks; for I have no doubt but his intentions are good. It is perfectly natural that he should think that the years 1800 and 1900 should be leap years. When I was young, and had but a smattering of Astronomy, I thought the same as he does.

If he should ever chance to meet with some elementary work on Astronomy, and will take the trouble to read a few pages, under the head of "Calendar," he may find some facts that have thus far escaped his observation. He may not be aware that the Julian year (of 365 1-4 days) exceeds the true astronomical year by 11 minutes and 12 seconds, rendering it necessary to omit three leap years in four centuries.

In justice to N. D. or Tyro, allow me to say that he understands the subject on which he writes, and there is no call for correction in his case. A. M. H.

ASTRONOMICAL.—L. J. may rest assured that the year 1800 was not, and 1900, 2100, 2200 and 2300 will not be leap years; and that the 1st of January, 2000, will be on Saturday,—being a leap year, consequently the 4th day of July will be on Tuesday.

In the year 1582, when Pope Gregory reformed the Julian Calendar, ten days were suppressed in the month of October, and the 5th day was called the 15th. The Civil Year was thus corrected in various countries of Europe at different times, and was not adopted in England until 1752, at which time a correction of eleven days became necessary, the 3d of September being called the 14th. This was adopted at the same time by us, we being then British colonies. It was Julius Cæsar who first ordained that one day should be added to February every fourth year, but it was afterwards found out by Gregory and his astronomical assistants, that this was adding too much; and so it was agreed that the years 1700, 1800 and 1900 should pass as common years, and to retain the Bissextile or leap years in 1600, 2000, 2400, &c. By this correction the difference between the civil and solar account will be no more than two hours in 400 years; but in about 5000 years, a new correction of one day will become necessary.

The solar year consists of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 48 seconds; adding one day to February every 4th year you will perceive is adding too much; but by this arrangement of omitting a day in the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries, and adding the day in the even centuries, as the 16th, 20th and 24th, the civil year becomes very nearly the true time.

For further information on this interesting subject, I refer you to Wallace on Globes, pp. 12 to 20, and to Furguson's Astronomy, pp. 329 to 428. Furguson in his tables has all the Dominical Letters calculated from A. D. 1 to 4000. He makes the Dominical Letters for 2000, B. A., the same as myself. I have left Furguson's Astronomy at the Chronicle office for your inspection. N. D.

FUN, to-night—plenty of it, at the Temple and at Congress Hall. Go and see both. George Washington hadn't any idea of such celebrations on his anniversary day. Listen for the Spring Hill Band at 7.30, and to the Marine Band at 6.90.

LYNCHED AGAIN.—Mr. Gardner M. Goodrich has been removed from his position as Clerk to Navigation Officer at the Navy Yard, to make way for Mr. Chas. R. Littlefield, Cause—he doesn't live in Maine.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other. The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and businessmen of Virginia and West Virginia, assures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 209 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and can called, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,

Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc, which will be furnished upon application.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

Morning Chronicle.

YORK COUNTY.—The members of the Maine Historical Society met at the Court House in Augusta, one day last week, with Edward E. Bourne of Kennebunk in the Chair. Among other matters, several interesting papers were presented by Rev. Dr. Vetromile, formerly of Biddeford, and it was voted the society make an investigation of the historic remains in York County, next summer. Rev. Dr. Woods, formerly President of Bowdoin College, is the chairman of the committee to make the arrangements.

Mr. George Wise at Kennebunk village, just below Sion's hill, has completed one of the most costly and elegant residences in the State. The house is two story with French roof, large and roomy, and stands on a slight eminence overlooking the surrounding country. Inside, nothing that ingenuity and taste could suggest for comfort and beauty, seems to have been omitted. It is splendidly furnished, lighted with gas, supplied with hot and cold water, and every modern convenience. The adjoining stable is equally expensive and tasty, comparatively, and is worthy of Dexter, the king of the turf. With the exception of the stalls, which are of southern pine, it is finished entirely in ash, even to the grain chests. The Biddeford Journal says the whole establishment combines, what many modern buildings lack—taste and elegance. There are also several other fine résidences in the pretty village of Kennebunk; and this house, with that of Mr. John Burleigh, South Berwick, we presume are the most expensive since the days of Sir William Pepperell.

Mr. C. G. Moore, at Kennebunk Depot, has fitted up one of the finest railroad salons in New England. The counter is 60 feet, semi-circular in form, chestnut and marble topped. The room is furnished elegantly in chestnut, ash and black walnut.

The Congregational Society at the pleasant and prosperous village of Kennebunk are adding materially to the beauty of there church interior, by putting in new black walnut pews, of a circular form, and very handsome stained windows.

The large twine mill of R. W. Lord & Co., at Kennebunk Depot, manufactures seine, net, herring, and all sorts of fishing twines, also patent and fancy twines and warp yarns. The building is 34 x 64, two stories of wood with brick basement. The firm employs 25 hands, and run 1050 spindles. A bale of cotton is consumed each day, in the manufacture of their goods.

The Union Lace Co., at Mousam village, manufacture boot, shoe, and corset laces, alpacca, embroidery and star braids, and small wares generally. The company have one mill about 90x40 feet, and another about 50x35 feet, three stories with attic. Besides there is their picker above 40x30 feet. There are about 80 hands employed at present. The goods are mostly sent to New York.

A large yoke of oxen, seven years old, girting eight and one half feet and weighing 5500 lbs., which belonged to Mr. Davis Googins, of Saco, were purchased for Brighton market.

Mr. B. Maxwell, general trader at Ogunquit, has recently purchased a very large wood lot, located in Wells, and is to commence to clear the same immediately.

Mr. J. C. Baston of York has sold out his store, and calls for a settlement of all bills.

A daughter of Hon. James M. Burbank, of Saco, who was terribly bitten by a dog, is slowly recovering, although yet not out of danger. The Biddeford Journal "hopes this will lead both cities to enact more stringent laws concerning the canine nuisance. Already it has had a salutary effect in Saco. Last year the law requiring all dogs to be 'licensed' was ordered by the mayor not to be enforced, (by what authority we know not,) but since the lamentable affair mentioned, the streets have been placarded with notices, commanding its enforcement."

Tuesday morning, the large building in Biddeford, built last season by Capt. A. L. Turner for a velocipede rink, weakened by the immense amount of snow which had accumulated upon its roof, fell to the ground.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.

About two inches of snow fell on the night of the 7th inst., which gave a wintry aspect, but for a brief period only. As evidence of the mildness of the winter in Washington, I would state that no frost whatever collects upon the window panes. One is not obliged of a morning to scrape through half an inch or so of hoar frost in order to get a look at the outer world. Water exposed out of doors has at no time frozen thicker than window glass; as a general thing, it has not frozen at all. What think you of a winter in Washington, shivering New Englanders? With the exception of July and August, which I dare to pronounce infernal hot, the climate, as a whole, is exceedingly fine. The honeysuckle, woodbine and laurel, retain their foliage throughout the winter. At the present time the buds of the weeping willow are opened so as to show the perfect leaf in miniature. By the way, when in full leaf this is the most beautiful tree I have ever seen. Trees of this species occasionally seen at the North, are shabby things in comparison.

I lately visited the Medical Museum, so called. The rich display of skeletons, skulls, etc., therein exhibited, together with the "bottled goods," containing the finest specimens of all the inner works of the genus homo, furnish a good opportunity, to one inclined that way, to philosophize and expatiate upon the mutability of suffering humanity, etc. A little papoose enclosed in a glass case took my eye as I was about leaving. It was found in the hollow of a tree somewhere in the far west. It is evidently the body of an Indian child of about three years of age, that had been embalmed. It is neatly though gaudily dressed in garments made from a sort of calico, with bead trimmings, and decorated with sundry strings of colored beads. A row of glass cases containing the bodies of infants, single, double, and in triplets, also attracted my attention. Some of them were of that size spoken of by a noted orthodox divine of olden time, and which he declared were so plentiful in Hell, viz., a "span long." What a barbarian that minister must have been!

It seems to me that just here I can work in to advantage an extract from the sermon of a popular preacher resident in Washington, and lately delivered here. This holy father must be possessed of a theology somewhat like that of the reverend D. D. before mentioned. Hear this clerical bruiser:—"And, my brethren, that cry,—louder than the hissing of infernal serpents, louder than the crackling of inextinguishable flames, louder than the screams of the damned and the yells of the devils, louder than the roar of hell's tempest-tossed ocean of liquid fire,—that cry will ring in the ears of the raving reprobate for eternity!" Tell Uncle Toby, for me, to put that in his gospel pipe and smoke it!

CORN CULTURE.—At the meeting of the Exeter Horticultural Society, Mr. Jacob Cilley, a noted farmer in Exeter, gave the following as his plan for corn growing. It will be seen that it differs a little from Mr. D. F. Hayes of the same town, as given before. But all agree that frequent stirring of the soil is necessary, and on a bet once, between a gentleman farmer and his foreman, as to which could grow the best crop from a like number of hills, the owner hoed his twice a week, and his workman beat him by scratching about his every day. Mr. Cilley advises to Plow in the fall, the later the better. In the spring put on ten cords of manure—from the barnyard—to the acre. Spread evenly, harrow twice each way, mark both ways three feet, six inches, and make hills. Put into each hill half a shovelfull of hog-manure composted with ashes and hen-manure. Put in four kernels, and allow only three stocks to grow when corn is two inches high. Put a handful of unleached ashes to each hill; two or three days after, cultivate each way. Use the hoe very little. Make no hill. Loosen the dirt around each stalk with the fingers, going over the ground three times. After haying, go through and pull up all the weeds. Cut the stalks and feed green. Think corn will get more sun and will ripen better and sooner, and there will be less fear of blowing down, when stalks are cut, besides being easier to harvest. Cut and haul in the same day, and husk evenings at convenience. Don't like gathering in the field.

Get more milk from cows by feeding with corn butts mixed with oat-straw than from any other fodder.

Raised between 50 and 60 bushels to the acre. Can't give the cost now, but will present it at some future meeting.

☞ We call particular attention to the proceedings of the last Legislature relative to the division of the County of Rockingham, which we publish in another column. This should be perused by every voter, as every one is requested to vote upon the question of division, at the annual meeting.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"
SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB
SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 or ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY
CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS
HAVE BEEN IN GENERAL USE in the United States over 100 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.
If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.
Circular of prices mailed on application.

The Chronicle.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.
PORTLAND, ME., Feb. 15.

Eds. Chronicle:—The Temperance party advocates are making considerable talk about a case of pardon by Gov. Chamberlain, of a seller of liquor, a hotel keeper, in Gorham. The Temperance Advocate refers to it in severe language, stating that the party was one of the meanest rum sellers in town and was arrested on two indictments, there being positive proof that would have imprisoned him on conviction, on each indictment. When about to be tried his counsel presented to the Court a pardon signed by Gov. Chamberlain and he was released. The question arises "Can the Governor take from the custody of an officer a criminal before trial?" If so, was this authority proper in this case. There is no doubt of the authority, as evidence in many cases.

In 1856 Joseph Mansfield was arraigned in Androscoggin County for a State prison offence. Judge Samuel Wells, an eminent lawyer, was Governor; Mansfield was set free by Executive pardon before sentence. The act of Gov. Chamberlain in this Gorham case was exercised by the advice and consent of the Council, undoubtedly on proper grounds. The defendant we learn from good authority, is an old man some 70 years of age, who kept a respectable boarding-house or hotel in Gorham. The Governor and Council were satisfied that the complaint was malicious. The old man went himself to Augusta with letters from some of the best citizens of Gorham, including many strong temperance men. The Governor comprehended the situation and ordered his pardon. The County Attorney (Webb) is of the opinion that the ends of justice were secured by such a course. The course of Gov. Chamberlain is much commended and the attacks upon him by the extreme Temperance partisans only gain him additional friends.

The Monarch iron clad has gone. Portland has parted with its great visitor. Casco Bay is again quiet. The visit of the Monarch, the iron clads and the funeral obsequies have been a grand good thing for this city—the sensation of a life time. Since the obsequies a constant succession of parties, hops, and dinners, sleighing parties and dull parties on runners have improved their opportunity and the city streets have been lively enough—a sleigh ride being a new thing for the English officers. The weekly receptions of Portland's wealthy citizens have been very fine, as those of others also. Saturday evening Geo. Thom, Resident Engineer, U. S. A., here, gave a farewell party at his residence on Congress street. It was attended by Gov. Chamberlain, Gov. Yell Brown, Capt. Commerell, and Commander Curtis of the Monarch, Capt. Rawson of the Terror, Mr. Fane of the British Legation, Mr. Dundas of the 60th Royal Rifles, Mayor Putnam, British Consul and others. Capt. Shufeldz was unable to be present. It was a great finale to the festivities. Commander Curtis will proceed by land to Annapolis.

The sub-Committee of our State Temperance Committee have issued a circular to pastors and churches in Maine calling attention to the Congressional Temperance meeting held in Washington, D. C., Jan. 15th, at which temperance meetings all over the country were suggested to be held Feb. 22d—Washington's birthday. The State Convention at Auburn unanimously adopted the recommendation and this circular as issued for the purpose of having said meetings held all over this State on that day. The committee also suggested to the clergy to introduce the subject of temperance in their discourses on Sunday, the 20th, and urge the importance of said meetings. In this connection the Committee take occasion to repudiate the course of certain political managers by disclaiming any connection with political organizations.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute.
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canada, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,
American Knitting Machine Company,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,
Coughs, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses, Colds, Headache, Fainting Fits, Fevers, Convulsions, Palpitation, Agues, Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Children's Troubles Diarrhœa, Consumption, &c., &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as [FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

THURSDAY, FEB. 24, 1870.

THE MORMONS.—Vice President Colfax having published an article of several columns in the N. Y. Independent, denouncing the Mormons, Elder John Taylor replies, equally at length, in the Deseret News, of Salt Lake City, Utah,—the News also publishing Mr. Colfax's article. The Mormons have plenty of reasons for the faith that is in them; and women as well as men denounce the proposed Congressional plans for preventing polygamy. Elder Taylor says that they have no prostitution and no infanticide, and that while the Mormons have twice as many children as any other sect, the deaths are less. In Utah last year, he says, of 292 children buried, 228 were of monogomists, and only 64 of polygamists,—and not a case of infanticide.

The Mormons have recently established two branch colonies or recruiting offices on Long Island, New York: and "there are about fifty members connected with the Freeport branch, most of whom are new converts. A majority are young women between the ages of 18 and 25. It is said to be the intention of Bishop Burnet to send out to Utah in the Spring as many of the converts as are ready. The most of them seem anxious to emigrate to the territory. The Mormons claim three objects in their Long Island move; the changing of public opinion in their favor, the obtaining of new converts, and the forming of a nucleus on the Island."

Ten inches of snow at Lancaster last Sunday. And a great flood there Saturday.

The house of Mr. Joseph Green of N. Chichester was burnt Sunday night; and Mr. Green and two sons escaped in their night clothes. Mrs. Green attempting to save some clothing, was burnt to death.

The dead body of Mrs. Henry Pollard of Manchester, was found in a valley near the Gas Works. Mrs. P. has been missing about a month and was thought to have run away. She was aged about fifty years, and of intemperate habits. When found the body was nearly covered by sand.

Reuben F. Lovering of Hillsboro' Bridge declines the Labor Reform nomination for Councillor in the third district, and declares his intention to "fight the battles of the laboring men, under the leadership of Mr. Stearns, whose whole life has been one of tireless industry, and whom I consider most emphatically a laboring man and a true and steadfast friend of the laborer."

Taylor & Austin's woolen mill at Salem was burnt Saturday morning. Supposed from waste in contact with a steam-pipe. The pumps were set to work, but gave out in forty minutes. Loss $100,000, insured $75,000.

The house of Dr. H. N. Mathes of West Andover was burnt at noon Thursday, with the barn and contents. A son of the Dr. lost a coat with $40 in the pocket. Lost $2,000, insured $1,500.

☞ Sagamore S. F. Engine Co. No. 2 entertained a large party of their friends and invited guests, on Monday evening, the 21st, at the nicely fitted hall over their engine house. Cushing's Quadrille band furnished their usual excellent quality of music, for the dancers, until the clam chowder was ready, when a combined attack was made upon the same by the entire company,—under the able leadership of the musicians. After chowder, dancing was resumed; and a very pleasant and enjoyable social party broke up shortly after midnight. No. 2's know how good chowder ought to be made, and make theirs that way.

☞ The late Commodore Stewart (Old Ironsides) was a great sufferer from neuralgia; and he is said to have discovered that green burdock leaves, after removing the ribs, bound on the suffering part, will afford relief in a few hours.

The report of the committee of conference, fixing the naval deficiency appropriation bill at $2,000,000, was concurred in.

Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts introduced a joint resolution, directing that no speech not actually delivered in Congress be printed in the Globe, which was immediately passed. Mr. Anthony remarking that the practice of printing speeches not delivered never prevailed in the Senate.

In the House, Mr. Logan of Illinois from the committee on military affairs, reported a resolution for the expulsion of B. F. Whittemore of South Carolina for selling a cadet appointment.

Mr. Whittemore said that the money ($500) was used in his district for charitable or political purposes, not a dollar being appropriated for his personal advantage.

On Tuesday, Mr. Dawes of Massachusetts asked leave to offer a resolution directing the committee on rules to inquire whether Mr. Mungen of Ohio, in printing in the Globe of the 20th instant, as if delivered in the House, a speech containing reflections on Mr. Sumner, had not abused his privilege and deserved censure. Mr. Dawes remarked that the practice of printing speeches not delivered had advantages, but said Mr. Mungen not only violated the rules of the House, but violated common decency.

Mr. Mungen made a speech in defence, but the resolution passed.

The conference committee on the naval appropriation bill reported an appropriation of two millions, an increase of five hundred thousand dollars—for the Bureau of Construction and Repairs and Steam Engineering. Adopted.

A motion to adjourn in honor of Washington's birth-day was rejected—70 to 103.

☞ Portland has a live mayor, Hon. Wm. L. Putnam. Unfortunately he is a Democrat, but was chosen Mayor on a citizens' ticket, last year. In trying to act impartially he has made friends in the Republican ranks and enemies among the fierce democracy. The citizens of that enterprising city have been discussing for weeks whether Mayor Putnam should or should not be re-elected, and if yes, how should it be done; on a democratic, republican or citizens' ticket. The debate waxed warm and is finally stopped by the object of the dispute, who informs his friends and opponents plainly that William L. Putnam peremptorily declines a re-election. Having finished up the Monarch, Geo. Peabody and Mayor Putnam, what will the Portlanders find now to appease their sensational appetites?

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MANY SUFFER rather than take uauseous medicines; and this is not to be wondered at as the remedy is often worse than the disease. Sufferers from coughs, colds, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to Consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

—The American Farm Book mentions a horse that died at sixty-seven years of age, and another that was quite coltish in his forty-fifth year. These cases of longevity were doubtless the results of good care. It is never economy to put a horse to the utmost of his strength to obtain a great amount of work, or to feed sparingly to save provender.

—George W. Lyle, the Alabama man who offered a bribe of $1,000,000 for the assassination of President Lincoln, now prays Congress to remove his political disabilities.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Mothers who have been compelled to forego the pleasure of nursing their infants in consequence of ulcerated nipples, broken breasts, or any other of the painful disorders which affect those tender and delicate organs, will obtain immediate relief from the cooling, healing, and cleansing operation of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and the effect of the local remedy may be aided by moderate doses of the Pills. Sold by all Druggists.

What Does Reason Say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does.

The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials, assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiruly black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY.

Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadore's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

ABSOLUTELY SAFE.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

PAIN OF THE SIDE CURED.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, and I had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

☞ Mr. David P. Wright of this city, cut down and corded five cords of pine wood in one day last week—working for Mr. Frank Jones, on Lafayette Road—and he was at home at sunset. If any chopper wants to drive him to it, he thinks he can go another half cord. He must be a well-corded fellow, and a first-chop wood cutter. His pile for the past 12 working days counts up 42 cords, and he has walked four miles a day to and from work.

☞ The store of Mr. A. Jackson, (successor to Mr. T. B. POLITICAL MATTERS. — Portsmouth gave Governor Stearns 248 majority, last March, and judging by appearances will increase it on Tuesday week. The Labor Reformers and the Barrows men can't muster a sufficient number outside of the Democracy, here, to fill a good-sized wheelbarrow, and the city canvass shows an increased Republican majority.

We hear that Senator James W. Nye of Nevada will speak here before the election, and we guarantee a crowded house to the eloquent Senator. The Republican State Committee have selected just the man to talk to the people of Portsmouth. He has a rare fund of humor and can deal heavy blows in argument. Grace Greenwood tells a good story of the effect once produced by the eloquence of Senator Nye, Biblically backed, "fervent and effectual," by telling texts. Though what is vulgarly called a stump speech, it had so much the character of pulpit oratory, that one auditor, at least, was profoundly affected. A nice, susceptible old lady, wiping the tears from her eyes, said, addressing some callous politicians, about her:—"I don't know what you may think, but I believe that man knows something about vital piety."

Above all other things we congratulate the State Committees in keeping such people as John L. Swift and H. L. Dawes away from this city. They would have made more converts for the Democracy than any Democratic speaker.

☞ The 138th anniversary of Washington's Birthday was observed in this city by ringing the church bells for a half hour, morning noon and night and by a salute at the Navy Yard; and by a general suspension of business. There were temperance meetings held in many places, but none here that we know of, — but probably many rum meetings. The two masquerade balls in the evening, at Congress Hall and the Temple, were both well attended and passed off satisfactorily.

The Temple performances just suited the audience in attendance, and the Marine Band furnished nice music. The Congress Hall masquerade was too much of a success, inasmuch as there were too many dancers and too many spectators on the floor. The Spring Hill Band did fearful execution with their instruments, while parading the streets and afterwards in the Hall. Their march through the streets with music, torch-lights and fireworks, each member dressed in costume, created a decided sensation, and was witnessed by a large concourse of people.

The disguises adopted by the masquers were varied but by far the best was that of an old Irish washerwoman, represented by a well known gentleman of a rare imitative talent. His most intimate friends did not recognize him, until the unmasking.

The dancers of both parties amused themselves by going from one hall to the other, mingling with opponents freely, and retiring to their own parties without being questioned. Pecuniarily, both parties achieved success, and we trust will drop their personalities, hereafter.

Private letter from a Lady Teacher at the South.

BLACK WALNUT, Halifax Co., Va., February 17.

THE SUFFERING FREEDMEN. — My Dear K.:—I was glad to hear from you—it was good to see your name. The destitution of this people haunts me day and night, and any relief your good Portsmouth people can give will be most welcome. Thank God for this mild winter, for if it had been severe as some, many must have been chilled to death. The women and children are most needy, if there is any difference; dozens come to our room, who have no under garment, and their outside ones are so thin, one can see through. We are glad of any kind of decent clothing. If I were to specify what is most needed, I would ask for good unbleached cotton cloth; tho' everything that is useful at home is more so here.

I cannot thank you enough for your interest. If our people North could only see one tenth I have seen, they could not rest unless they did something for these destitute sufferers. Packages and barrels for this place are sent in care of H. L. Hastings, Boston, Mass., 19 Lindall St., rear of Post Office, with my name and address. Mr H. is engaged in sending goods south, and is acquainted with the best route. The cost of freight to this place averages about $2 per bbl., —this is paid upon delivery, by the teachers. We have no fund,—this is missionary ground, not supported by any society. Thus we are obliged to ask our friends to send, if they can without too much self-denial, the cost of transportation enclosed to me.

We state the case plainly, for many barrels coming would drain our treasury. We have no salary, and pay our own expenses, — excepting what supplies the freedmen bring in, in the shape of corn-meal, &c. This seems exacting, to ask for so much; but you will understand the case so as to explain if need be. If friends contribute in small amounts, the sum total will be raised with but little cost to each one.

If you were here, you would not wonder that I am befogged, as that last expression indicates. We have had men, women and children in, sitting and gazing intently at us, while writing. * * * SALLIE.

P. S. An after thought. In this out-of-the-way place, dark and benighted, papers and any other reading matter are most welcome; I cannot tell you how much. That package of papers from you cannot be over-rated.

☞ The following letter to the Stars & Bars office in this city, shows a proper appreciation of the Rebel Organ:

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

CHESTER, Feb. 21.

By the following copy of a letter which was sent by our Postmaster to the editor of the paper referred to, it will be seen that the same is looked upon as a help rather than a hindrance to the Republican cause. Yours, REP.

CHESTER, N. H., Feb. 21.

To the Editor of the States and Union: Dear Sir: Mr. Charles Sanborn of my town has a number of times requested me to write you to stop his paper, the "States and Union;" but I told him to let it come—for it was doing more good for the Republican cause than John B. Clarke's 138 copies of the "Mirror," which are taken in this town. For my part, I would say let it come; but Mr. Sanborn says he will not pay for it after this date.

It is proper for me to state, that since Mr. Sanborn and other Andrew Jackson Democrats have learned of your going to Aaron Young, Esq., when you first went to Portsmouth, and begging of Mr. Young to assist you in starting a Republican paper, they have become much disgusted with your course, especially your vile abuse of the best Union patriots and soldiers.

Send Mr. Sanborn's bill at once, and stop the paper. Very truly,

POSTMASTER, Chester, N. H.

The Texas legislature has ratified the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognised and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional Eastern and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other.

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 153 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,

Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

Morning Chronicle.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22.

The weather in this latitude has been very variable for a few days. Thursday morning, the sun was out shining brightly; in the afternoon I needed an umbrella, and—bought one! Friday it was mild but rainy all day; Friday night there were several thunder showers, accompanied by a high wind and very wild flashes of lightening. Saturday morning brought a cold "Nor' Wester," and overcoats went on.

Sunday morning I went to church without my overcoat, the weather was so mild; and the sky so clear. During the meeting hour, the weather underwent a sudden conversion, and all the Congregation were sprinkled on their way home. In the afternoon I walked out with my overcoat buttoned up to my chin, the rain was done. Went to meeting again after tea in a snow storm; returned to my hotel under a brilliant starlight sky, with mittens on.

Business is not very brisk here at present, but the men of affairs say the spring trade bids fair to be good. There are a good number of Portsmouth men in business in Philadelphia, who greet a fellow-townsman with great cordiality when one happens along. Marvin's Cod Liver Oil, a Portsmouth production, is conspicuously displayed in the windows, and on the shelves of the leading drug-stores throughout the city. It is an article which attracts the attention of several of the most eminent Physicians, who prescribe it quite freely to their scrofulous patients.

The burning of the large mill of Bruner & Sons is the excitement of the moment. It is thought that a great sacrifice of human life would have occurred, if all the hands had been at work; so rapid was the spread of the flames, that the communication was almost instantly cut off from the fourth to the seventh stories. The building was calculated to employ five hundred persons, and a fire in the third story cut off all the upper portion of the establishment from the ground. All mills and other buildings of this character should have outside, iron escape ladders from the windows of each story, and on all sides of the structure; these properly put up would afford means of escape from a fiery tomb. It should be made a criminal offence to build a large building without some adequate method of egress, in case of disaster of any kind. The life of a single human being, cotton spinner though he be, perchance, is of vastly more importance than any corporation mill.

There is to be a grand temperance meeting here, to-day, the 22d. W.

New Publications Received.

The March number of the Monthly New England Farmer presents readers with a view and plans of the Farm Barn of the Massachusetts Agricultural College. The accompanying description and correspondence from Amherst will be found highly interesting. The extent and value of correspondence from practical farmers, is shown by the numerous Extracts and Replies from readers in all sections of the country. In next number will be given the first of a series of illustrated articles on Rural Architecture, by a prominent architect, papers on "Domestic Economy" are continued, and a valued lady contributor furnishes articles on "Window Gardening," of much interest. P. Eaton & Co. publishers, Boston. $1.50 per year.

Behind the Scenes: a story of the Stage. By Verity Victor. Boston: New England News Company, 1870. pp. 244. This tale gives an affecting but not very flattering view of life behind the scenes. The volume is neatly got up; and is for sale in this city by J. F. Shores jr.

The Little Corporal for March is a rich number, and yet the publishers promise great improvements during the year. It is a most beautiful juvenile magazine One dollar a year. Issued at Chicago, Ill., by Alfred L. Sewell & Co.

The Radical for March contains ten articles; among them The Suez Canal, by J. Vila Blake, and Lost Sinners, by C. K. Whipple. There is more than the usual variety and ability in this number.

The Educational Gazette, Philadelphia, is a large monthly paper, 12 pages each month; $1 per annum; scientific, practical, instructive, amusing.

Arthur's Home Magazine for March, has a frontispiece, "In the twilight," with a good table of contents.—The Children's Hour for the same month, opens with the story of the Child and the Bear, with a fine illustrative cut.

—Hon. Horace Greeley says that there was 300 murders a year, of which nine-tenths are inspired by grog.

HOUSE PLANTS.—The growth of our "Window Gardens" is often checked by worms in the pots. They can be found by turning the pot upside down, giving the edge a sharp knock; the pot can then be removed, and the worms will usually be found on the outside of the soil, and can be picked out. Watering with lime water will often destroy them. Take a pound, slack it in a pail with cold water; let it settle, then bottle and keep it in a cold place, where it will not freeze; warm it before you turn it on the plants. It acts as a fertilizer as well as a worm destroyer. Wood ashes will also kill worms. Put a tablespoonful on the surface of a large pot—taking care not to touch the stem or leaves of the plants.

Insects seldom trouble plants which are often washed; but in parlors it is not convenient to shower frequently. A feather will brush off the green aphides, and by putting a newspaper under the pot, they can be burned up.

In England, the gardeners recommend washing the plants with alcohol water, —a tablespoonful of the former to four of water,—but the water itself will do the work as well. Summer showers keep our flowers free from them.

Red spiders will not always leave if plants are well watered; but a slight dusting of cayenne pepper routs them. Spread a paper over the surface of the pot to prevent its touching the soil, as it might injure the roots. Take the pepper castor, and dust the leaves and stems—in two or three days wash it off, and the spiders will not soon return, Bulbs always repay the cultivator. We have a glass dish filled with hyacinths which are in full bloom. By watering them with warm water and a few drops of ammonia, we have doubled their growth. To a teacupful of water, add five drops of liquid ammonia.

We filled our Fernery this year with snow-drops, crocuses, anemones, colchicums, etc., and now it is a joy and beauty. Among the tall feathery ferns, the Lycopodiums, partridge vines, and green mosses, their bright flowers glow like tropical birds. No matter how dreary the weather, how few our visitors, we have "company" always. As we sit by the glowing fireside, we can gaze upon a miniature summer, though out of doors dread winter reigns supreme; and as I write, I feast my eyes upon its beauties, and wonder that all house-keepers do not avail themselves of the adornments which flowers offer to them. Costing but little, their influence is priceless! A fernery requires no attention—water is needed only once a month, so to those who dislike the daily care of flowers, it offers a floral treat without care. Mine is home-made—the tinman made the zinc pan ten inches by eighteen—the carpenter the glass case which covers it—the whole expense was only $3.50; and it will last for years. The woods and fields provided the ferns, mosses, and vines, and with the bulbs blossoming among them, it is a "rest for the weary.—N. E. Farmer.

BUTTER FROM MILK OF DIFFERENT COWS.—The question whether the cream from the milk of one cow changes to butter more easily than that from the milk of others, was recently asked by a correspondent of the New York Farmers' Club. In reply it was said that it was undoubtedly so, and that the milk of some cows was unsuited to produce butter, or even to fatten a calf, and required much churning to obtain what little butter it contained.

Mr. S. S. Sharpless, of Philadelphia, who makes the splendid butter for which the Continental Hotel is famed, has made many experiments, and finds that no two cows are alike in the time in which their cream turns to butter. He has churned the cream of two cows in the same mess. One would turn to butter first. He took that out and continued to churn, and a second batch of butter was the result. He is satisfied that butter is often thrown away in buttermilk when the milk of different cows is churned together, and says the best way is to churn each cow's milk by itself till the characteristics of her milk are well understood. When he would make a prize article and get the best returns from his dairy, he uses the old-fashioned up-and-down churn, and takes the cream from one cow only at a time.

RURAL ITEMS.—A Maine farmer fattened a cow chiefly on turnips, and the result surpassed expectation. The beef was of fine quality, and the tallow unusually abundant.

Hens, this season of the year, are very liable to devour their eggs, unless supplied with a variety of nourishing food at regular hours, several times every day.

Timber of any kind, if sawed out, or split into rails, or fence-posts, in the month of February, will last quite as long as if cut at any other season of the year.

It pays to make a cow comfortable in as many respects as possible. Every hour she suffers from any cause, the milk account suffers correspondingly.

A Western writer says if as much attention was paid to improving corn as is given to grapes, a hundred million bushels might be added to the annual crop.

The Stock Journal advises a big horse for regular farm work, and one that does not, without great pushing, trot more than six miles an hour with a light buggy.

It is easy to equal any fancy-bred cow with a native as a milker; but if the daughter of the native is as good a cow, it is an accident. Not so with the thoroughbred stock.

—A writer in the Country Gentleman says that he finds one bushel of cut corn-stalks is eaten up clean by his cattle, whereas if uncut tour bushels go no further.

—The way to accomplish the most on a farm is to know beforehand precisely what you want to do, and the ratio of means in possession to accomplish it.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA, PORT, GRAPE and P. A. Sherry.

The above Wines are made by Mr. P. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.

Every family at this season should use celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC

it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections. Also,

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

SHOO, FLY!—This ludicrous, yet popular song with the masses, is quite old, having been sung long before "the late onpleasantness" by the negroes in Georgia. It is well known that a fire engine bore the name of "Shoo-Fly," in Savannah, as far back as 1856, having derived its name from this simple and senseless song. As a matter of curiosity to hundreds who have had the chorus ringing in their ears on every hand, for several week past, we give the words of what may be truthfully termed the song of the period:

SHOO FLY, DON'T BODDER ME!

I think I hear de angels sing,
I think I hear de angels sing,
I think I hear de angels sing,—
De angels now are on the wing,
I feel, I feel, I feel—
Dat's what my modder said:
De angels pouring 'lasses down
Upon dis nigger's head.
CHORUS: Shoo, fly! don't bodder me!
Shoo, fly! don't bodder me!
Shoo, fly! don't bodder me!
I belong to Comp'ny G.

I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like a morning star;
I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like a morning star;
I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like a morning star;
I feel, I feel, I feel,
I feel like a morning star.
If I sleep in de sun, dis nigger knows,
If I sleep in de sun, dis nigger knows,
If I sleep in de sun, dis nigger knows,
A fly come sting him on de nose,
I feel, I feel, I feel—
Dat's what my modder said:
Whenever dis nigger goes to sleep,
He must cober up his head.
CHORUS: Shoo, fly! don't bodder me!

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

GREAT FLOURISH OF TRUMPETS.—Raymond has a high School, which is beneficial to the place. In bills for the spring term there are flying colors. It is called Raymond Academy. The teachers have been a gentleman, and sometimes a lady for an assistant. But in the present bills the first teacher is put down as Principal; the next as Preceptress; then a teacher of Music; one of Penmanship; one of Painting.

Now as the school has no act of incorporation; no building of its own, but occupies a Hall; the one called a Principal is not a college graduate; but few pupils are in the higher English branches; generally but two or three in latin, and they beginners; while quite a portion are children of a tender age,—it seems there is no fitness in calling it an Academy. Assumed greatness is of but little worth. It is best to call things by their right names.

Four towns in Rockingham County began Academies with fair prospects, having buildings and some of them funds; but the buildings are about all that remain of them. In some of them there is a school, for a term now and then. But at all events never put a boy in his father's boots. EDUCATOR.

A SHAMEFUL EXPLOIT.—The details of Colonel Baker's attack on the Pigeon Indian village in Montana, January 23d, show that of 173 killed, only 15 were fighting men. There were 90 women killed, 55 were over 40 years of age, and the remaining 35 were between 12 and 40 years. There were 50 children under 12 years of age, and many of them were in their parents' arms. The whole village had been suffering for over two months past from small-pox, some half a dozen dying daily.

MRS. Ann D. Merrill, aged 79, widow of the late Thomas D. Merrill, formerly of Epsom, died very suddenly at Concord, Saturday. She was a woman of considerable property and has very largely bestowed it in works of practical charity. Mrs. Merrill, by her will, made the bequest the North Congregational Society, $100, on condition that her burial lot is kept in repair—if not, to go to the Female Charitable Society, to the Concord Female Charitable Society, $1000, to the Female Benevolent Association, $500.

—A naughty little boy, being told by his mother that God would not forgive him, if he did something, answered, "Yes, He would, too—God likes to forgiv little boys—that's what He's for."

—Paterfamilias (after a hard day's work)—"Well, I've earned the bread we shall eat to-night." Materfamilias (looking across the supper-table)—"And I've urned the tea."

—A Mormon Elder at Salt Lake City has a family graveyard in which rest in peace one hundred and forty-eight of his children.—Exch.

—Have you heard of the man who got shot? Got shot? No, how did he get shot? He bought 'em.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tatted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stocks, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,
American Knitting Machine Company,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,

Coughs,	Neuralgia,	Female Weaknesses,
Colds,	Headache,	Painting Fits,
Fevers,	Convulsions,	Palpitation,
Agues,	Sleeplessness,	Restlessness,
Biliousness,	Dyspepsia,	Dizziness,

Constipation, Liver Complaint, Children's Troubles Diarrhœa, Consumption, &c., &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD. — Old Deeds.—The following documents are copies from ancient records and deeds. Some of the originals are in the hands of Mr. A. R. H. Fernald of this city. The first paper, following, is the original grant;—the other is a family deed, which we copy as nearly as we can, for the sake of the curious phraseology and orthography, and also for the name of Crooked Lane, which seems to have been applied to the longest island, and to the Creek that cuts off both islands from the main land, as well as to the old highway that crooks along from the Old Kittery Point Ferryway, to the Old Ferryway between Kittery and Portsmouth, called Rice's Ferry.

These Presents witness that I Richard Vines Steward General of the Province of Mayne have given and granted unto Tho. Furnell the sonn of Ronald of Pescataqua River Chirugion for and in the behalf of Sir Fardinande Gorges Knt L and Proprietor of the said Province of Mayne, Two Islands lying & being on the North East side of Pischataqua River afores'd com'only called or known by the name of Puddington's Islands. The said Thomas Furnell yielding & paying unto the s.d Sir Fardin: Gorges his heirs or assigns Two Shillings & Six Pence yearly.

Given under my Hand this third day of May 1645. Richd. Vines

This deed I know & acknowledge to be Mr Richard Vines his own act & deed written with his own hand

pr me Edw. Godfrey Govenr

Recorded this 16 Octob. 1651

pr Edw. Rishworth, Recordr

[Note.—The above mentioned Islands now belong to the U. S.,—Navy Yard Island and the one next east of it.]

To all Christian People to whom this present writing shall come Thomas Fernald Kittery in the County of York Shipwright & Temperance my wife for and in consideration of the natural affection, love and good will wch wee doo bearr unto our beloved brother William Fernald of the same Kittery Shipwright, as also for the fullfilling of the last will of our Dere Father Ronald Fernald, deceased and other good reasons yrunto moving, by these presents have given, granted, alined, assigned conveyed released delivered and confirmed and doo by these presents give grant aliene assign enfeoffe convey release deliver & confirm unto the sayd William Fernald his heirs executors administrators and assigns, all that Island lying and being in the Township Kittery aforesayd neare adjoyning unto the Island the said Thomas Fernald and Temperance now liveth on, being parted by a water that runneth from the mayne river of Pischataqua into a branch of the same betwixt ye sayd Island and the mayne called crooked Layne or being so called it selfe wch sayd Island is commonly called or knowne by the name of C. Vera Copia of this instrument above written transcribed out of the original and therewith compared this 8 day of March 1677

pr Edw Rishworth Recor:

The Thomas Fernald referred to in these deeds was the eldest son of Ronald, was born in England about 1620, and came over with his father in 1630 or thereabouts, in the company sent over by Capt. John Mason. Thomas occupied the largest of these two Islands, sometimes known as Fernald's, Seavey's, Trefethen's, Jenkins', Haven's, Deering's, and probably by some other names. He died in 1697, and the Island was divided among his heirs, viz., Mrs. Pray, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Eastwicke, Samuel, Hercules, Ann, and Elizabeth, widow of Thomas Jr. The plan of the island, showing the divisions made by Wm. Godsoe, surveyor of the town of Kittery, dated Nov. 20, 1702, is in possession of Saml. Fernald of Kittery Point.

The William Fernald mentioned in one of the deeds, was the youngest son of Ronald, born March 7, 1646; married Elizabeth, daughter of Tobias Langdon. They had twelve children: one of them, Ebenezer, was the father of George, the father of Capt. Daniel Fernald, who resided many years in the old "Nichols" house, Manning St., and died there March 7, 1866, aged 98 years, 4 months. The island given William by his brother Thomas, is the present Navy Yard Island. The large island is now owned by Government, having been bought a year or two since.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, a resolution was adopted instructing the naval and military committees to inquire into and report upon the expediency of abolishing the naval academy at Annapolis, and the military academy at West Point, and the substitution by assignments to duty in the various colleges throughout the Union of naval and military officers, as instructors in navigation, naval warfare and military tactics, or the inauguration of some other system calculated to relieve the government of a large expense, and to enable all who desire it to secure an education for the army or navy at their own expense.

The credentials of H. H. Revels, colored Senator elect from Mississippi, were received, and an exciting debate ensued.

In the House, Gen. Banks announced the death of Hon. Anson Burlingame and made a feeling speech, which made a profound sensation, Messrs. George E. Harris, J. L. Morphis, George K. W. Pierce, members elect from Mississippi, appeared and took the oath of office.

David Atwood, the member from Wisconsin, in place of Mr. Hopkins, deceased, was sworn in.

At two o'clock General Logan, with set lips and a strong air of business, called up the Whittemore report. That individual was not in his seat, and had not been there since the adjournment of Monday. He appeared within a minute or two after Mr. Logan rose, dejected in manner and with his hands full of papers.

Judge Poland urged delay and Mr. Logan retorted. Finally Mr. Whittiemore's affidavit was read and he gave Mr. Butler the time allowed him for defence.

The affidavit asked delay for three causes, to wit: That he might call new witnesses; that he might cross-examine old ones: and that he might attempt to show an effort to blackmail him. He did not deny the sale of both the cadetships, and only sets up that he ought not to be punised, for the reason that he used the money he received in his district and not for his own direct benefit.

General Butler was adroit and vigorous in his speech, but it didn't help Mr. Whittemore's case. General Logan spoke nearly an hour in reply.

He called attention to the fact that the sin lay in selling the cadetship; and had nothing whatever to do with the question of how he used the money he received. He called the previous question on Mr. Poland's motion for postponement and further investigation.

The count sustained the previous question by yeas 108, nays 75. Mr. Whittemore knew what that meant as well as the galleries did. Then there was the long and monotonous call of yeas and nays, and the Speaker announced that the House by a vote of 155 to 39 had refused to accept the motion for delay.

The order for the previous question on the resolution of expulsion was swiftly fearried by 105 to 22, and all eyes quickly turned to Mr. Whittemore, who slowly and trembilngly rose in his place, asked a hearing, and requested the House to adjourn and allow him until Thursday noon for preparation.

Without debate the House adjourned.

On Thursday, Mr. Whittemore resigned, the resolution of expulsion was laid on the table, and another resolution was unanimously passed declaring that Mr. Whittemore was guilty of conduct making him unworthy of a seat in the House.

It is said Mr. Whittemore will return home and be re-elected.

New Hampshire Items.

The Wolfeboro' News is told of a young lady in Barnstead, this State, who has father and mother, two grandfathers and two grandmothers, three great grandfathers and four great grandmothers, and one great-great grandmother, all living.

In Lake Winnepiseogee, the king of trout has been caught near Diamond island. His Majesty weighed 18 1-2 pounds. Last week Mr. Josiah Chase caught a trout weighing 9 lbs., near the Alton shore. Several persons are making use of the fishing season. Thus far a large number of cusk and trout have found a way to ovens and gridirons.

In June, 1868, a Mrs. Dearborn of Hampton, had a sixty-five pound tumor removed from her body. It was uncased in a sack which contained also about 3 pails of water. Since then she has slowly recovered her health and has acquired a new head of hair and a new set of finger nails. She appeared too feeble to undergo the operation; but the next fall she was able to attend to her house duties.

The Democratic Labor Reform County Convention, extensively notified in all of the Democratic papers to be held at West Ossipee on the 12th inst., witnessed not a Democrat nor a Republican in the whole county responding to the call as a delegate or a spectator.—The query may arise in your minds why this was so. My answer is that the Republicans are satisfied that the Republican party is doing everything that it is possible to do, for the benefit of all classes throughout the country. So remarks a Tamworth correspondent of the Concord Statesman.

A new directory of Concord contains 3800 names, an increase of 500 in two years. The names predominating are Abbott, 54; Brown, 53; Carter, 30; Currier, 22; Davis, 26; Eastman, 38; Farnum, 23; Hill, 27; Kimball, 21; Moore, 21; Morrill, 25; Robinson, 22; Sanborn, 41; Smith, 46; Thompson, 23; Webster, 20. Abbott leads the van, Brown and Smith stalk boldly round, but Jones hides his diminished head.

Byron Levenworth recently fell into the balance wheel at Clough's tannery in Danbury. As he went over he shut the gate and was able to stop the wheel and save his life. He received a serious fracture of his left leg.

In Manchester, a son of Charles Burnham was throwa down by a dog and broke a thigh bone. George Young fell over a railing and was badly injured. Sarah J. Page lost a thumb in some gearing at the Amoskeag Corporation.

The third lecture of the Winchester Lyceum, it is announced by the Keene Sentinel, will consist of a poem by Rev. Geo. N. Bryant of Greenland, N. H., whose scholarship and literary taste warrant the expectation of a rare treat.

Some time ago a party of women made a raid upon a liquor seller in Alton and "spoiled his goods." The case was referred, the act was adjudged to be illegal, and the parties ordered to pay about $700. Now a levee has been gotten up for their benefit, and we hope the temperance people of that vicinity will see that the fine and costs are fully made up to these patriotic ladies, who in cleaning out a rumshop only abated a nuisance, and should be sustained, popularly if not legally. It must have been a rum old jury who convicted them.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

MANY SUFFER rather than take nauseous medicines; and this is not to be wondered at as the remedy is often worse than the disease. Sufferers from coughs, colds, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to Consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

THE Ladies' Sorosis Club, of New York, recently changed their discussions from woman's suffrage to Hair preparations and Pimple Banishers. They declared that where nature had not endowed them with beauty, it was their right—yea, their duty—to seek it where they could. So they all voted that MAGNOLIA BALM overcame Sallowness, Rough Skin and Ring-marks, and gave to the complexion a most distingue (Sorosian) and marble-like appearance (dangerous to men, no doubt;) and that LYON'S KATHAIRON made the Hair grow thick, soft and awful pretty, and moreover prevented it from turning gray. If the proprietors of these articles did not send the sisters an invoice, they are not smart.

ROOTS FOR STOCK.—Where roots are stored up for use, it will be well to commence feeding them out in February. A good root-slicer is a most convenient article.—It will slice a bushel in about two minutes, when turned briskly by a man, and leaves the pieces in thin slices about the length of a man's finger, each slice being cracked in many places. In this condition, all domestic animals can eat them without danger of being choked.—N. E. Farmer.

☞ We hear that Mr. W. I. Trafton will give his sixth bal masque on Fast Day.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Mothers who have been compelled to forego the pleasure of nursing their infants in consequence of ulcerated nipples, broken breasts, or any other of the painful disorders which affect those tender and delicate organs, will obtain immediate relief from the cooling, healing, and cleansing operation of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and the effect of the local remedy may be aided by moderate doses of the Pills. Sold by all Druggists.

What Does Reason Say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does.

The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials, assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiously black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WCOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 20 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one would pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left that their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent, to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frost Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Communication.

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 28.

Messrs. Editors Chronicle:—The communication which appeared in your paper this morning from Chester, was entirely unauthorized and unknown by me. I have suspicions that it was instigated by some person residing in this city, (unconnected with the Chronicle) from personal motives. In such a controversy, I have no desire to be used. Yours truly, AARON YOUNG.

☞ We advise our anonymous correspondent "Rising Sun," (who is so full of advice to us,—but who without doubt does not pay a cent for the Chronicle,) to learn how to spell, how to write, and to mind his own business. He wants us to "let the Navy Yard rest," (we should like to know what made it tired?) or we shall "hear more"—and Trafton's balls are a "mane point" with him.

☞ Secretary Hunkins of the Labor League State Central Committee was in town on Wednesday, and reports that subordinate Leagues are rapidly increasing throughout the State. The first results will be shown when the nominations for members of the legislature are made in the caucuses of both parties, and the next results will be a grand surprise in the State Conventions of 1871.

☞ Mr. B. F. Dame repeated his excellent lecture before the M. L. Association and their friends, Thursday evening. We have already published an abstract of it, and have only to congratulate those who heard it and the lecturer, who knows what he talks about and expresses what he knows very happily.

THE MANCHESTER VETERANS.—The 16th anniversary of the Amoskeag Veterans at Manchester, was celebrated with the customary eclat on Tuesday the 22d Feb. The battalion marched to the Universalist Church, where music and fitting addresss by Charles L. Woodbury and Rev. Mr. Tucker of Manchester, occupied the afternoon.

The Levee in the evening was of course the grand feature. Smyth's Hall was finely decorated, and portraits of Washington, Gen. Stark, President Lincoln and Col. C. G. Potter, hung on the walls. Dignam's Quadrille Band of 15 pieces furnished the music. In the grand opening march, Gen. Natt Head and wife led off, with Gov. Stearns and Mrs. Smyth, ex-Gov. Smyth and Miss Mary Stearns, Hon. E. A. Straw and daughter, Senator Scripture and wife of Nashua, &c., to the number of nearly a hundred couples. Portsmouth was represented by Hon. H. D. Walker, Col. C. G. Pickering, and "Capt. Miller of Niles' Boston advertising agency," as reported in the Mirror. The levee was one of the most brilliant ever given by the Vets.

THE OWLS CELEBRATE.—Among the celebrations of the 22d, perhaps none passed off with more eclat than the impromptu affair given by the distinguished members of the Owl Club of this city.

An association in one of the Western Cities comprised of some of the best literary talent, resulted in a collection of rich and valuable intellectual gems, which have adorned the pages of the leading magazines in the country; memberships were eagerly sought for, but the number was limited. Women and members of Congress were excluded. The entertainment of the Owl Club in this city bids fair to excel its brother association.

An hour and a half was given to the flow of wit and reason, after which a magnificent Roman Sword, with Damascus blade, was presented to the presiding officer, with a speech delivered in the Sardinian and other foreign tongues, and was replied to in language as vivid and impressive as Dante's Inferno. The Owls adjourned to the supper room to indulge in a feast of delicacies gathered from the different climes, interspersed with toasts, speeches, &c.

A gentleman from Germany made some remarks in the Fatherland tongue, which was considered the Kohinoor of the evening. A very fine poem was read and then another presentation was made to the President of a medal, upon which was enamelled in gorgeous colors the beautiful plumage of the Owl. After the presentation some vocal and instrumental music compiled from the celebrated authors for the Owlisters was finely rendered.

☞ The wife of Capt. James Talpey of Cape Neddick, dropped dead on Tuesday morning of this week, while attending to her household duties.

☞ The walking is bad, off the pavements; the wheeling is worse, and the sleighing nix.

A short time since Mr. Spaulding was the recipient of a beautiful gold watch and chain from the ladies of the Universalist Church in Salem, as a token of their esteem and friendship.

☞ Mrs. Happy Morse died in Portland last week, aged 100 years. She was a sister of Miss Betsey Thomas, who died a week previous, at the age of 96 years, and of whom Mr. Willis wrote beautifully just before he died. It was the last obituary he wrote. She was also sister of Elias Thomas, who now lingers on the confines of the grave, at the age of 98. Happy was the oldest of the trio. The Lancaster Republican gives particulars of a great flood on Israel's River, which runs through the town of Lancaster, and which overflowed its banks on Saturday, Feb. 19, ponring a torrent of water and ice through some of the streets, washing away barns, horses, sleighs, carriages and men. No lives were lost, but some persons were injured, and property worth $10,000 destroyed. The flood also did mischief in Gorham.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is even restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other.

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the first railroad securities in the market, both of this [illegible] and Europe, will be at once appreciated.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,

Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. f22dawtm

Morning Chronicle.

NEW ENGLAND VS. SOUTHERN CAPITAL.—In the debate on the Currency bill, in the U. S. Senate, on the 27th, Mr. Sawyer of South Carolina, followed Senator Patterson of New Hampshire in some remarks about New England capital, etc., to which Mr. Patterson replied as follows:

Mr. President, I admire the ingenuity of the Senator from South Carolina, more than I praise his fairness in reply to my argument. His reply reminds me of a little incident that occurred in the early part of our history. In the very first Congress that was held under the Constitution, a Representative from South Carolina came into Congress and advocated and carried through the policy of protection. It was opposed by all the representatives of New England; but New England was out-voted and the policy of protection was established. Later in our history when New England came to secure large profits from the system of protection, South Carolina, with the other Southern States, attempted to overthrow the system which she had forced upon New England; and she attempted to overthrow it because New England, by her enterprise and energy and industry, was reaping profit out of the system which South Carolina had forced upon her.

Now, sir, South Carolina is attempting to do the same thing to day which she did in the early part of our history. After New England was forced to accept this bank stock, because she is making profit out of it, South Carolina and some of the other southern and western States now come in and say it is fair that this capital should be wrested from her—capital which they forced upon her—simply because she is making a profit out of it.

The Senator says there was no patriotism in this, because this bank stock was taken largely after the war closed. Why, sir, the financial war did not close with the conflict of arms, and the heaviest part of our financial conflict came after the termination of battle on the field of contest. New England even after the stimulus of the war was over, came forward and did her part toward defraying the expenses of the Government during the war.

(Mr. Sawyer). Will the Senator allow me to ask him a question?

(Mr. Patterson). Yes, sir?

(Mr. Sawyer). I wish to ask the Senator if he does not remember the fact that the profits of the national banks as exhibited in July 1865, showed, besides the dividends that had been made, a surplus fund of $32,000,000 on a capital of $300,000,000?

(Mr. Patterson). I have not denied that. I have no doubt that banking in New England is exceedingly profitable to the stockholders in those banks; and I say they are reaping the advantage to the injury of the people of New England as well as the rest of the country.

Now, I come to another point. The Senator says that I deprecated the existence of the banks of New England. I did no such thing. I said no such thing. I simply said that the people, the farmers, the manufacturers, and the mechanics, were not reaping the advantage which Senators depict in such glowing terms out of these banks; but it is the bankers, those who own the capital stock in the banks. I did not say I would tear up these banks by the roots. I say that those who own this stock have certain vested rights, and you shall not, although the business is exceedingly profitable, tear them up by the roots violently. This is my point. I did not say that we had more of banking capital than we wanted and that we should be glad to get rid of it. So the gentleman was entirely unfair in that part of his argument.

One other point, sir. The gentleman goes on to state with what difficulty, with what expense to themselves, southern cotton-growers secure money to carry on their operations; paying one and a half per cent a month, I think he said. That is because they have not got money. That is the reason why money costs them so much. Sir, suppose we had this redistribution of banks, where are the bonds and greenbacks coming from on which your banks are to be established? You will go to New York and New England and get your bonds and your greenbacks to establish your banks, and it will cost you as much to buy the money to establish your banks as it does now to buy your money to carry on your cotton plantations. They will find a pretty expensive business. And I very much doubt, if they get the $45,000,000, whether they will establish the banks for three years to come. If they are established it will be the same capitalists of New England and New York who will go South and establish those banks and make a profit out of them.

My position is that you have got to change the policy; you have got to change the genius of these banks, or else when established in the West and South they will operate precisely as they do in New England. The farmer, the mechanic, and the manufacturer will not reap that advantage which they hope to reap from them; they will be able to secure accommodation at the banks; but these banks will be greatly profitable institutions to the stockholders and to nobody else. That must necessarily be so as long as there is a difference in value between gold and greenbacks, and you will never get over the evil until you come to specie payments. One currency of one value is the only policy which will rid the country of this evil.

—Among the best of remedies to cure sore teats of milk cows, is to smear the teats with syrup molasses before milking; it is cleaner and pleasanter than some other greasy remedies.

An Economical Milk-Rack.

The accompanying representation of a rack for "setting" milk, needs little explanation. It consists of an upright piece of timber, six or eight inches square, with cleats, or arms, nailed on each side. On two bars a pan of milk may be set with safety, especially if they be cut down a half inch, so as to let the pan rest securely. Any number may be arranged around such a perpendicular rack. The space occupied is small, and if the dairyman desires, he may make the rack revolve on a pivot, so that the milk may be skimmed without the inconvenience of going around the stand. The great advantage claimed over a flat bench or shelf, is that this permits fresh air to circulate about the vessel on all sides. The expense is a trifle, as any farmer can make one.

CLAY AS A FERTILIZER.—Mr. Nichols, of Plymouth, gives us an interesting statement respecting the nature of clay for manurial purposes, which goes far to sustain the statements of Hon. A. B. Dickinson, of New York, on the fertilizing qualities of clay as a top-dressing for grass lands. I trust other farmers who have thus made use of clay will follow Mr. Nichols' example in publishing the results of their experiments, and thereby do the farming interest a service. Because if a load of clay is worth as much as a load of manure for top-dressing grass lands, the fact should be known to the farmers in all parts where clay can be cheaply obtained.

I have occasionally read in the agricultural journals the great value of an application of clay to sandy soils; but have known of but one experiment on a large scale in this State. Eight or ten years ago, J. S. Ryan, of Plymouth, made a contract with a farmer of that town, to apply four hundred cart-loads of clay, or rather clayey marl, (fifty loads to an acre) to eight acres. The clay was carted on to the land in October and November, and evenly spread over the ground. In the spring it was plowed in, and the land sown with oats and grass seed. The yield of oats was large, as was the hay crop for two or more years; since which, I have heard nothing respecting the results of the experiment. Mr. Ryan paid $100 for the claying of the eight acres. I was at Mr. R.'s while the clay was being put upon the land, and was strongly impressed with the belief that the money was well invested. Much of the land in that section of the town was sandy, especially the land directly across the road from the clayed field. The present owner can tell whether the clayed field is any more productive than similar unclayed soils are.—LEVI BARTLETT, in Concord Statesman.

CHEAP ICE HOUSE.—"A year or two ago I had my attention called to an ice house built by a farmer near me, which was simply a bin, made with rough boards, sixteen feet square and roofed over, leaving a large opening at the front and sides. He said his ice kept perfectly until the next winter. He put on a layer of sawdust, about a foot thick, on the ground, and then stacked the ice snugly in the centre, eighteen or twenty inches from the walls, and then filled in with sawdust, and up over the top a foot or more thick.

Last winter, before filling my ice house, I determined to try his method. I accordingly tore out all the inside wall, and shoveled out the sawdust; then filled by stacking it snugly in the centre, fifteen or twenty inches from the wall. This space I filled in with pine sawdust, and covered the whole over the top a foot thick or more. I left out the window and took down my door and left it all open, so that the sun can shine in every day. Now for results. At the present time I have an abundance of ice, and the cakes seem to come out as square and perfect as when they went in, seemingly nothing lacking except what is used out. I am satisfied 'how to build an ice house.'"—Cor. N. Y. Farmers' Club.

ABOUT PRUNING.—It has long been a practice among farmers to commence pruning apple trees in February, mainly, we suppose, because there is leisure time. There are some reasons why this should not be done.—There is not sufficient action in the tree to harden the surface, where a limb is taken off, before the sap ascends in the spring. When this action does take place, the sap flows out and spreads over the surrounding bark, and by some chemical action which takes place in it, is changed to a poisonous fluid, which greatly injures the tree. It is very unsafe to prune before the middle of June. Soon after the leaves fall in autumn, and in midsummer, are the safe times to do this work.—Exch.

CREAMY.—The Essex County farmers have found a fat thing in the way of a market for their milk, by the establishment of a cheese factory near them. The Byfield cheese factory last year paid 10 per cent., though it was not worked to half its capacity. It netted the farmers, cheese selling high, about 15 cents a gallon for milk. This is creamy as well as cheesy business.—Haverhill Publisher.

LISTENING.

I listen at the gate—
At the porch again I wait,
As of yore.
But the step I loved to hear,
And the welcome, warm and dear,
Are no more.

The desolate walls
In echo mock my calls
Of her name.
The place—its mem'ries sweet,
And the tokens here I met,
Yield but pain.

A low and narrow mound
In yonder holy ground
Tells the tale;
And in waiting I, too, stand,
Till I pass, at His command,
'Neath the veil.

Then—at the Holy Gate
I'll listen, while I wait
As of yore.
Her step again I'll hear,
And her welcome, warm and dear,
Evermore.

THE CUBANS.—Address of the Cuban Charitable Aid Society.—People of the United States: We ask your generous sympathy and liberal hand for the People of Cuba, heroically struggling for Independence from Spanish despotism, in comparison with which the oppressions of England in 1776 were liberty itself. Citizens of the Republic—who make the laws—we shall obey them; one of the Nations—we shall respect their usages. But believing in the brotherhood of man, we shall never ignore justice nor prove faithless to Humanity.

We ask the co-operation of all classes, creeds and parties; restricting none in their liberty of action and utterance, save that, in their association with us, they shall not subordinate the cause of Cuba to other aims. Our purpose is to arouse and concentrate the moral support of the nation in behalf of the recognition—by the general government—of the Belligerency and Independence of Cuba, when reason and facts shall make the demand.

We aspire to see Cuba an independent ally, or one of the States of the Republic. We have faith in the success of our cause; but should an inscrutable Providence decree the relapse of the Cuban patriots into Despotism, we project a charity for this desolate and ruined people, such as has not been more deservedly and urgently needed since the Christian era.

Letters containing donations will be sent to the Treasurer, Hon. Chas. A. Dana, of the New York Sun; and other letters to the President, 45 Liberty St., New York, Box 4950.

The treasurer and the vice-presidents of the several States and Territories appointed by this committee are the only persons authorized to receive subscriptions of money—which will be handed over to the representatives of the Cuban Cause in New York, and there our responsibility will cease.

Donations will be published in the journals, and the donors will be made life-members of this society. By order of the Executive Committee. C. M. CLAY, Prest; HORACE GREELEY, JOSIAH OAKES, Vice Prests; CHAS. A. DANA, Treasurer; S. D. STOCKING, Cor. Sec'y.
NEW YORK, Feb. 1870.

ANECDOTE OF FREDERICK I. OF PRUSSIA.—One evening, being too unwell to read his usual devotions, he called upon his valet de chambre to read prayers. In the prayer occurred the words, "May God bless thee." The servant not deeming it respectful to use thee in reference to the king, took the liberty to change the phrase, and read it, "May God bless you." The king, exasperated, hurled something at the head of the speaker, exclaiming, "It is not so; read it again." The terrified servant, not conceiving in what he had done wrong, read again, "May God bless you." The irascible monarch, having nothing else he could grasp, took off his night-cap and threw it into the man's face, exclaiming, "It is not so; read it over again." The servant, frightened almost out of his senses, read for the third time, "May God bless you." "Thee, rogue," shouted the king. "May God bless thee." Dost thou not know, rascal, that, in the eyes of God, I am only a miserable rascal like thyself."—Harper.

—During a revival meeting, a sister made a fervent exhortation, prefacing it with the remark that she once enjoyed herself by going to the theaters. An inattentive but enthusiastic brother shouted: "So did I, bless the Lord!"

—A young ladies' seminary in Philadelphia has just graduated five "Sallies" and one "Sadie," but not one "Savah." Nellie, Josie, Essie, Susie, Nettie, &c., &c., make up the rest of the list.

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute.
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. IT OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

SATURDAY, FEB. 26, 1870.

FATAL MISTAKE.—Under this head, the Concord Patriot cautions its partisans against voting for the Flint Ticket, of which it apparently sees some danger or fear. It says:—

While we sympathize with and wish God-speed to the Labor Reform movement, so far as its objects and principles are such as have been proclaimed in their platform, (being identical, as far as they go, with the aims and principles of the Democracy), we have not been able to see the necessity or policy of Democrats abandoning their own organization and ticket.

That is, the Flint party being only "a half way house toward the Copperocracy, it is not desirable for the unterrified to live there. Hear the Patriot again:

"The Democracy of New Hampshire will commit a grave error if they allow themselves to be led away from their party in support of the Labor Reform ticket. Their votes for that ticket can do no good."

Exactly: the Flint Rolston movement is a gull-trap to catch shaky voters from the Republican side;—but it seems some Democrats fall into it,—and hence the Patriot's caution. But hear the Patriot once more:

"But they will commit a greater error, a fatal mistake, if through apathy or any other fault, they permit the present opportunity to pass unimproved."

Fatal! is it? Has it come to be a case of life and death with the great Democratic party? So it seems, from the Patriot.

This is regarded as equivalent to a declaration of want of confidence.

MR. CARBONELL AND SPIRITUAL MANIFESTATIONS.—Mr. Carbonell gave a second exposition of the tricks performed by the Davenport Brothers and other mediums, at the Mercantile Hall, last evening, before a very large audience. All the exploits of spiritual mediums were successfully performed by the operator in the face of many disadvantages, for the audience appeared for the most part to be composed of persons who had no anti-spiritualistic sympathies. The performance gave great satisfaction. Mr. Carbonell will give another expose to-night, when he will, in conjunction with his assistant, Mr. Lincoln, perform feats in a double cabinet, etc.—Boston Journal, Dec. 1, 1869.

Mr. Carbonell's wonderful performances have been received everywhere with astonishment and delight. It will be seen by his advertisement for Portsmouth next Monday and Tuesday evenings, that Portsmouth people are to have opportunities to witness the expose.

NEW BRIDGE ACROSS MERRIMACK RIVER.—The Newburyport City Government has adopted plans for a new bridge across the Merrimack river, connecting that city with Salisbury. It will be a truss bridge, 1000 feet in length and 26 feet extreme width, the sides rising above the carriage floor. The bed of the bridge will rest on the stone piers and wooden abutments already built. The bridge will be of the most substantial character, and will cost about $20,000. Two-thirds of this expense will be borne by Newburyport and one-third by the town of Salisbury. It is intended to have the new bridge open for travel by July 1.

CHRONICLES OF OLD TIMES.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Portsmouth Privateers of 1812.

NUMBER EIGHT.

The brig Camelion, a British letter of marque, of 262 tons, 3 guns, arrived in this port, May 16, 1814. She was a fast sailing vessel, built in Portland, Maine, after the war was declared, "on an improved model of the privateer schooner Fox." Her cargo was 21 puncheons rum, and 10 tons iron. She was a prize to the privateer schooner Mammoth, of Baltimore.

In the Oracle of July 9, appeared a notice for the proprietors of the privateer ship, built by Andrew Simpson, Esq., to meet at the store occupied by the owners of schooner Fox, on Langdon's Wharf, on that day. [This "ship" was undoubtedly the Harlequin.]

On the 14th of July, the Revenue Cutter at this port, and U. S. Gunboat No. 38, captured between this port and the Isles of Shoals, a Chebacco-boat tender to the Br. frigate Tenedos, armed with a 4-pounder, muskets, &c. She had 16 men, two midshipmen, and a lieutenant; and had in company a small vessel from Newburyport, loaded with hardware, &c., for Eastport, which she had taken. Both were brought in.

The privateer schooner Harpy, of Baltimore, a very handsome vessel, commanded by Capt. Alexander P. Gregg, arrived at this port in August, with a lot of valuables captured from the British ships Alfred and Princess Elizabeth; among them $10,000 in specie, a pipe and 4 hogsheads of wine, 10 brass-barrelled pistols, 18 muskets, two iron 9-pound carronades, and two long 9-pound brass cannon, with other articles.—These two brass nine-pounders were bought by the Town of Portsmouth, and were used by the Sea Fencibles, a military company for home defence, chiefly composed of captains and mates of merchant vessels, who were thrown out of employ by the war. The price paid for them was $1524. They had belonged to the British Post Office Department.

The following particulars of her cruise are from the Oracle of August 15.

Wednesday, arrived private armed schooner Harpy, Capt. Gregg, of Baltimore, from a cruise; sailed from New York April 15. Extract from her log-book:—May 26, lat. 3:56, long. 20:41, fell in with a King's brig, and was decoyed; after firing a number of broadsides, which were warmly returned, made sail. 4th June, captured off Madeira the ship Alfred, from Corunna, bound to Barbadoes; manned and ordered her in. 23d June, captured the brig Mary, of Portsmouth, from Trieste for Bremen, cargo raisins, fruit, sweet oil, and goods unknown, valued at 100,000 dollars. July 2, at half past 7 P. M., fell in with the ship Princess Elizabeth, from Malta and Gibraltar for Falmouth; she hoisted English colors and fired a gun; 50 minutes past 7 she commenced firing from her broadside—the action was warmly kept up on both sides with grape, double head and cannon shot, and musketry; at 11 o'clock precisely she struck,—after boarding the prize took the passengers on board,—among them were a Br. aid de camp, a navy officer, and a charge de affaires for the island of Sicily; we took from her D. 10,000 in specie, 2 long brass 9 pds., 2 carronades, 4 hogsheads and 1 pipe of Madeira wine. She being much cut up and having 40 prisoners, and we being short of provisions and water, ransomed her and took bills on New York for 2000 dolls. During the engagement we had 1 man killed and 3 wounded, 1 badly, but recovering; had both masts cut in the centre, and received a 9-pound shot in our bowsprit; our rigging and sails were much cut up. On the 7th July captured Br. ship St. Lawrence, of Dartmouth, John Skinner, master, 26 days from Newfoundland to Bilboa, cargo fish and oil, worth about 80,000 dolls. On Monday last was chased 8 hours by a large man of war brig, and five hours by another.

The privateer sch. Fox, Capt. Handy, sailed from this port on the evening of August 25, on a cruise. The Br. brig Kingston Packet, a prize to the Fox, laden with provisions, arrived at Portland early in September.

The reader may ask, perhaps, why the Fox sailed at night? Probably, that she might elude the British heavy armed ships, which literally swarmed on our coast after the fall of Bonaparte's great power, and England's consequent peace with France. Every harbor and town was menaced, all the vessels at Bangor were taken or burnt, and Washington was in ashes; our own citizens, forming a regiment of ten companies, were drilling almost daily in our streets, and preparations were making here for defending the town and the Navy Yard, where the Washington 74 was on the stocks, nearly ready for launching. In one of these preparations, the proving of a 32-pounder, Sept. 15, an explosion took place, which killed a man named Myers, and wounded a number, one of whom lost a leg.

The Fox, as usual, went on taking prizes. And in the Oracle of October 1, 1814, under the head of Important Prize, we have this announcement:

On Saturday last arrived at Salem the British ordnance ship Stranger, of between 300 and 400 tons, and mounting 6 guns, prize to the privateer Fox, Handy, of Portsmouth. She was 90 days from Plymouth, bound to Quebec, and had on board several ladies and children, passengers, 66 24-pound cannon, muskets, pistols, cartridges, sapping and mining tools, soldiers' clothing, blankets, sheets, tents, mattresses, and all kinds of camp equipage. This ship was one of four which sailed from England under convoy of a frigate; on the Banks of Newfoundland two of them foundered, the crews of which were saved by the others, and the Stranger and the other remaining ship afterward separated.

The Stranger's cargo was in great part designed to fit out a British fleet on the Lakes, at Kingston, Canada. The British brig Kingston Packet, 180 tons, a prize to the Fox, was sold at Portland, Oct. 7, with her cargo of lumber and fish.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Thursday, the following resolution was adopted without division:—

Resolved, That to add to the present circulation of the paper currency of the country would be to render more difficult and remote the resumption of specie payments, encourage and foster a spirit of speculation, aggravate the evils produced by frequent and sudden fluctuations of values, depreciate the credit of the nation, and check the healthful tendency of legitimate business to settle down upon a safe and permanent basis; and

Therefore, in the opinion of the Senate the existing volume of such currency ought not to be increased.

Mr. Fenton argued for the funding of the debt before appropriations were made, advocating for the purpose a single bond at 4 1-2 per cent. to the amount of a thousand or twelve hundred millions, free from federal or local taxation, payable in not less than 40 nor more than 50 years, at the same time retiring the five-twenties and tenforties and absorbing them in a new loan, which, he said, would result in specie payments. He advocated a reduction of taxation in both the nominal and virtual rate, so as to collect not more than $50,000,000 annually, all from luxuries. He replied to Mr. Morton's argument for an addition to the currency, showing that the latter's scheme would give a currency equivalent to a thousand millions, in place of five hundred and forty millions before the war.

Mr. Patterson of New Hampshire made an argument for the return to specie payments, free banking and funding of greenbacks at 4 1-2 per cent. For the greenbacks and other securities now held by the banks he thought it possible a change could be effected. If the loans were all negotiated it would be a saving of $39,000,000 annually in government interest, and this placed as a sinking fund would discharge the debt in 26 years, and if the government put out $1,200,000,000 of the loan we should save $18,000,000, which would discharge the debt in little over a generation. The new loan might enable a reduction of taxation to the extent of a hundred millions which now constitutes a surplus revenue.

E. A. Joy & Co. wish to call attention to their advertisement of Room Papers, &c.

What Does Reason Say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generated disease? Surely it does.

The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials, assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is impaired either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount or resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chesistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY. Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but ABSOLUTELY SAFE. CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATION, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, Can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. ja13dawlm

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. Dear Sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side, and it cured her in one week. Yours truly, JOHN Y. N. HUNTER.

25,000 SOLD BY ONE DEALER.

Messrs. J. Balch & Son, of Providence, R. I., write, Nov. 1868: "We have sold the Porous Plasters for twenty years, and, at retail and jobbing, must have sold twenty-five thousand altogether. They are well liked. ja13dawlm

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Price 50 cts. Sold by the Druggists. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. ja13dawlm

At a meeting of the class of '64 of the Boys High School held Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, C. A. Hazlett; Secretary, M. E. Spaulding; Treasurer, Taylor Goodrich; Directors, Floron Barr, Wm. C. Ham, Oliver D. Rowell.

THE COLLINS FAMILY.—The scarlet fever is still afflicting this unfortunate family. We are informed that the mother and the four remaining children are suffering severely from it, and are deserving objects of the charity of our citizens. Any money or provisions for their comfort sent to Mayor Adams or Ex-Mayor Simes will be properly disposed of. It is to the credit of Portsmouth that a number of our citizens have already extended to them sympathy and solid comfort.

This week the teachers and scholars in the public schools in this city have been busy with their annual examinations.

Mr. Gideon Beck, of Boston, (who lang syne hailed from Portsmouth,) the Federal street auctioneer, on Monday last, had his four hundred and ninety-second sale of real estate in Boston.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, (Ald. Marvin absent,) the Joint Com. on Schoolhouses reported in favor of granting the petition for a new Primary Schoolhouse near Creek, as the Cabot St. School is the exceedingly crowded. Also that the Com. be empowered to obtain the refusal of a lot suitable to erect a house to accommodate 100 pupils, on the high land above the Creek. Laid over for a week.

The report of County Tax for current year, to amount of $21,822.05, was received and referred to Assessors. An increase over last year of about $4000.

The Com. on Claims recommended that the bill of Robert Shillaber to amount of $50, for cleansing three houses after cases of small pox last year, be paid—which was done. On the claim of A. J. Penhallow, for rent lost and damage in one of same cases, laid over for one week.

The widening of Congress St. near Middle, was referred to Com. on Sts. to procure plan and estimate.

The purchasing of horses for Fire Dept. was discussed, and laid over for two weeks, in hope of hearing the report of Com. on Fire Dept. relative to reorganizing the Dept.

Calvin Page, atty. for Wm. Hammond, informed the Board that Mr. H. had requested him to commence suit for damages for land taken to extend Freeman's Point Road. Referred to Com. on Sts., with power to remove any obstructions in said road.

The Mayor stated that the County Commissioners are to paint the inside of the Court House, and suggested that the City paint the outside. Referred to Com. on City Lands and Buildings to report. Also the suggestion to cut large doors in basement of same, to allow of storage, &c.

Mr. Wm. A. Vaughan was appointed to take census of births and deaths in Ward 3, and John W. Fernald in Ward One. Wm. Bodge previously appointed in Ward 2.

The Mayor and Ald. Pendexter and Nowell were appointed a Com. to confer with the Aqueduct Co., relative to laying large pipes into the main streets for Fire purposes.

The Com. on Streets were directed to ascertain whether the Concord Railroad have encroached on City wharf property at Noble's Island bridge.

The Dover Street Bridge case was discussed, but no action taken. Ald. Pender moved that a Hearing be granted, but without pressing a vote, withdrew the motion. Ald. Nowell was in favor of procuring plan and estimate—and Ald. Pendexter thought the petitioners should furnish plans in all such cases.

The annual Reports of the School Committee were received and referred to Com. on Printing, to report as to disposition of them.

Members of the Board amused themselves by calling the yeas and nays several times; and Ald. Pender suggested that they adjourn for a fortnight, as there was not much important business, but the adjournment was for one week.

New Hampshire Items.

Robert Soutter, of Seabrook, fell from the old bridge across the Merrimack, at Newburyport, Wednesday. He was in the river about forty minutes, and life was extinct when the body was recovered. Soutter was about 55 years of age and was intoxicated at the time he fell.

At the Supreme Court, in Colebrook, last Saturday morning, Edward Harriman, indicted for an assault with intent to commit rape upon a woman 82 years old, was brought up and retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty to charge. He was sentenced to the one year in the State Prison.

Lyman H. Grover, of Colebrook, teamster for Charles Weeks, now logging in Clarksville, N. H., one day last week, with four oxen, drew at one load, over a distance of a mile, on to the place of landing, nine spruce logs, scaling in all 3100 feet.

☞ The workmen who were suspended from employment at the Charlestown Navy Yard have not yet resumed work. Workmen in this vicinity can thank Senator Cragin's promptness for their return to work at this Station.

☞ A really live man rarely if ever growls about his taxes or groans over dull business. He makes business, and keeps himself and money moving.

☞ The Manchester Union says "It was reserved for our 'Copperhead Mayor' to make the first recommendation of monumental remembrance for the dead soldiers of our city." This puts Uncle Toby in mind of a saying which was uttered 1800 years ago by the Great Teacher, who said:—"Wo unto you: for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them!" The Copperhead editor of the Union sided as far as a northern paper could do, with the rebels all through the rebellion and since;—and now his mayor does what he indirectly praises as above.

☞ The Concord correspondent of the Boston Journal telegraphs that a majority of the Democratic State Committee have decided to advise their friends to abandon Gen. Bedel, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and vote for Flint, the Labor Reform candidate. This shows how demoralized the Democracy are.

☞ Subscribers or others having copies of the N. H. Gazette of Jan. 1st 1870, which they do not care to preserve, will confer a favor by sending them to our office—and we will furnish new papers in exchange, or otherwise pay for them.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from this Daily Chronicle. ☞ Subscriptions may commence any time.

THE FOUNTAIN FILTERER.

THE PECULIAR Construction of this COFFEE FILTERER, was decided upon after experimenting a long time, and examining all those that had been offered in the market. It embraces all the good qualities that any possess, and has some entirely new ones that make it perfect in its operation, and is a

Fountain of delight to all Housekeepers.

We Warrant them in every respect, and Guarantee them to do all we claim, and give perfect satisfaction to every one.

The facts are that with the least possible amount of Coffee that can be used to obtain the required strength, you can get as strong a cup of coffee with this Filterer as can possibly be obtained the old way with from one-third to one-half more by actual weight.

Some of the Recommendations.

It never boils over.
It is simple in construction and easily cleansed.
It is the cheapest one in the market.
It is more durable, not likely to get out of order.
It will save the price in Coffee in a short time.
It can be used as a common Coffee Pot.
It is better made, better finished than any other.
It is economy in time to use it.

MARBLE MANTLES and SHELVES, Just received and for sale low by SWEETSER & CLARK,
ja31 46 MARKET STREET.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital, and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. f22dawsm

PITTY PAT'S PRAYER.

We're a dear little lassie, we're named Pitty Pat,
She's got a wee kitten she calls Kitty Cat;
Now, Pitty Pat sleeps in a gown snowy white,
While Kitty Cat wears her day-clothing all night.

But Pitty Pat says she don't like it at all,
And pulling the fur out makes Kitty Cat squall;
But still she persists in undressing her pet,
And falling to do it, quite angry will get.

While Kitty cries at what Pitty Pat does
To her one little coatee of silky soft furs,
Then Pitty Pat's sorry, and asks why she cries,
At being fixed tidy for shutting her eyes.

Nor says, "Now I lay me," when going to bed,
But curling up softly sings "pur-r," instead,
So Pitty Pat tells her in solemnest way,
"If you're a bad Kitty Cat, then I must pray."

"Her lays her—dear Father—down softly—in bed,
Her doesn't—do nuffin—and nuffin—her said—
'Cept pur-r—and pur-r—and then goes to sleep—
But never mind, Father, her little soul keep."

A PAIR OF THEM.—A friend of mine in a neighboring village is blessed with four little boys, the oldest of whom are twins. He also has in his garden a dwarf pear-tree, which blossomed last year, and bid fair to bring to maturity six or eight fine pears. He naturally felt quite anxious that they should not be molested until they should ripen. One day, when he was going away with his wife, it was decided to leave the boys at home with an aunt. He called the twins (who were about four years old,) and told them they must not pick any of the pears. Upon his return he missed one from the tree. Calling the boys to him, he asked them if they picked any. One of them, who at such times was by common consent spokesman, replied,

"No, thir; me shake de tree and him drop off."

Not wishing to punish them, the father talked to them, telling them they ought not to have shaken the tree, and let them go. A few days after he was again going away, and told them they must not pick the pears nor shake the tree. Upon his return he repaired to the tree, and to his surprise he found one pear hanging by the stem, and carefully eaten entirely around the centre nearly to the middle of the core. He was disconcerted and yet amused at the ingenuity displayed by the boys in their effort to dodge his instructions, and calling them, he asked them if they had picked any pears?

"No, thir," said the spokesman.

"Did you shake the tree?"

"No, thir."

"Well, what did you do?"

"Me bite him to see if he was wipe, and he was wipe!"

Gravity was nowhere, and the boys "camped" on the field.

WHY NOT KILL FISH?—I was, a few days ago, at Aix la Chapelle, with some well-informed Dutch gentlemen, and we were talking about the fisheries in the North Sea. While speaking of the superiority of the produce of the Dutch fisheries over our own, I remarked, without being able to explain the cause of it, that in three excursions I had made to Holland, I had found the same superiority in fresh fish from both salt water and fresh water, in taste and solidity, though these fish ought, nevertheless, to be very nearly alike in the two countries, while migrating.

They answered that the advantage I had observed was a real one, and depended on a very simple practice, which we might easily adopt.

It is the custom in Holland to kill the fish as soon as he is drawn from the water, while we let him lie in an agony which produces the effect of a sickness on the animal economy, softens the flesh and gives to it the principles of dissolution. This answer seemed to me a gleam of light. No one would eat a sheep or a chicken that had died a natural death or been drowned, and precisely for the reason that the Dutch allege in the case of the fish. Why should we be less delicate in regard to creatures that swim, than to those which walk or fly?

The Dutch kill the fish by making a slight longitudinal incision under the tail, and the operation, which is performed with a very sharp instrument, can be done so quickly that it is practiced even in the largest fisheries, not excepting those for the herring.

At Audermale, on the Rhine, there is a very celebrated salmon fishery. They kill the fish there by thrusting a steel needle into their heads. [Translated for Our Dumb Animals, from the French of Baron Baude.

ROBINS. — It is generally supposed that the robins emigrate to the South during the winter months. From the following account it would appear that such is not the case. Two gentlemen crossing the Sandwich, N. H., mountains discovered a deep valley, and approaching it, found it clothed with hemlock, spruce, fir and tamarack, growing so near together that it was with difficulty they made headway between them. Before they came to this growth the snow was over a foot in depth; after entering it was only six inches; the residue lying on the tops of the trees, making quite a roof, and excluding much of the light of day. After making their way a few rods they were surprised to find the place an extensive robin "roost," occupied by thousands, and so thickly were they congregated that they might have killed numbers with their walking sticks in crossing the premises from south to north, about thirty rods.

—An inquisitive chap asked a soldier with an empty sleeve "how he lost his arm." "In a threshing machine," answered the soldier. "Were you running the machine?"—"Well, no; Gen. Grant had charge."

—The want of money is the root of much evil.

☞ A Liquor Agent of a New England town held the office for one year, at the close of which he gave the following statement of his accounts:—

Amount of cash received on assuming the office,	$32.17
Value of liquor received at the same time,	57.54
Cash received for sales of liquor during the year,	102.97
Amount paid for liquor bought during the year,	59.91
Salary of Agent,	25.00
Value of liquor on hand at the end of the year,	31.37

Does the Agent owe the town or does the town owe the Agent? and how much?

We have received nine answers to the above. R. W. D. R. gives the following solution:—

	Dr.
To Cash received	$32.17
" Liquor "	57.54
" " bought	59.91
Amount	$149.62
	Cr.
By Cash on hand	$102.97
" Salary	25.00
" Liquor	31.37
Amount	$159.34
Agent owes town $9.72.

J. P. C. and N. D. figure as follows:

	Dr.
To Cash paid for liquor	$59.91
" Salary	25.00
" Liquor on hand	31.37
Amount	$116.28
	Cr.
By Cash rec'd of city	$32.17
" Liquor " "	57.54
" Cash rec'd for liquor sold	102.97
Amount	$192.68
Agent owes town $76.40.

D. W. M., G. H. and L. M. S. make the amount due the town, $50.23, by the following process:—

	Dr.
To Cash rec'd	$32.17
" " Sales	102.97
Amount	$135.14
	Cr.
By Cash paid for liquor	$59.91
" Salary	25.00
Amount	$84.91

A. M. H. differs from all others and reckons as follows:—

	Dr.
To Cash rec'd from town	$32.17
" " " " sales	102.97
Total cash received	$135.14
	Cr.
By Cash paid for liquor	$59.91
" " " " salary	25.00
Total cash paid	$84.91
Agent must turn over in cash	$50.23
" " " " liquor	31.37
Amount	$81.60

A solution by Book-keeping, double entry, may be seen at the Chronicle office, as performed by A. M. H.

A. H. N. has banded in a tenth solution, by analysis, the result agreeing with that of A. M. H.

J. P. C. has also sent in a solution by Book-keeping, agreeing with the last 2.

TURNING THE DEVIL TO GRASS.—So rapid is their way of doing things in Chicago, that when a man makes up his mind to reform (rather a tough job), it becomes important to fix him promptly. It is therefore necessary, at times, to cut a hole in the ice to perform the solemn ceremony of baptism. On one of these occasions a convert, who had felt the necessity of that rite, was immersed, and on coming out was asked by the minister, "How do you feel now, brother?" "Better," was the reply; "put me in again. The request was complied with, and after the second dip, the question was repeated, "How do you feel now?" "Better! better!" was the response in a solemn tone of voice—"the devil may go to grass now!"

Such is the plucky spirit of the Chicago convert.—Harper's Mag. for March.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, FEB. 24.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1790; Sheep and Lambs 5300; Swine 400; number of Western Cattle 1455; Eastern Cattle 160; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 175. Cattle left over—.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $13 50; first quality $12 25 @ $12 75; second quality $11 25 @ $12 00; third quality $10 00 @ $11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $7 50 @ $9 50 ℔ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 8 @ 8½ ℔ lb; Country Hides 8c ℔ lb.

Brighton Tallow 7 @ 7½c per lb; Country Tallow 6½c ℔ lb.

Lamb Skins $1 @ $1 50 each; Sheep Skins $1 @ $1 50 each; Calf Skins 17c ℔ lb.

The markets this week are quicker than they were last week, and prices are ½c ℔ lb lower for Beeves. There were some very nice Cattle from the Western part of the State; one pair sold for 15c ℔ lb, dressed weight, and the balance were taken at a commission, and a larger portion of the Cattle were sold yesterday. The supply from Maine was light and there were some very good Beeves among them.

Stores—Most of the Stores in market consist of Working Oxen and Milch Cows. Nearly all the small Cattle are brought up to slaughter.

Working Oxen—A fair supply in market. Most of the Working Oxen are brought from Maine. We quote sales at $162, $190, $210, $225, $240, $260, $170, $235 ℔ pair.

Milch Cows—There is not much change in the Cow trade from week to week. Prices depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser. Prices range from $40 to $115 ℔ head.

Sheep and Lambs—Most of those from the West were owned by butchers or taken at a commission. We quote lots at $5 @ $8 ℔ head; ordinary $2 50 @ $4 25 ℔ head, or from 4 @ 5½c ℔ lb.

Swine—Store Pigs, wholesale 10 @ 12c ℔ lb; retail 10½ @ 14c ℔ lb.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"

SMOKING TOBACCO, is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB

SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Merschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY

CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS

HAVE BEEN IN GENERAL USE in the United States over 110 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.

NOT ALL RIGHT.

Here I come out of the tavern, "all right," Street, tho a presentest a wonderful sight; Right hand and left hand, now this side, now that;
Street, tho't in liquor—I see it, that's flat!
What a quaint countenance, moon, hast thou One eye he opens and one keeps he shut; [oo; Clearly I see it; moon, thou must be mellow. Shame on once, shame on thee, jolly old fellow.
There go to the lamp-posts, that used to stand Spinning around like the wheels of a mill, [still, Dancing and prancing to left and to right; Seems to me everything's tipsy to-night.

KISSING.—A kiss is like a sermon: "It requires two heads and an application." It deals with the hidden spirit by means of tangible symbols. It is like faith, in that it is "the substance of things hoped for." It is the language of affection, the echo of love, and the concentrations of bliss; it is of "good report" and pleasing to our eyes; it is eloquence "dwelling with sweet accents upon the lips." It is both vocal and instrumental music giving "vocal expression" to spirited "harmonies" in a language and with a sentiment intelligible in all languages and in all ages. It is the "seal" of a father's blessing, the witness of a mother's love, the "guarantee" of a brothers protection, the "surety" of a sister's devotion, the 'gate' to a lover's heaven, and something that mere friends have nothing to do with.

It is very fashionable for Misses of a certain age to insist that "it is all foolishness, and decidedly sickening." We never hear such an expression without thinking of a circumstance that actually occurred in Indiana, if we rightly remember. A gentleman stopped at a house by the way-side for information as to the route he was taking, and found a woman ironing, with her little child trying to amuse itself upon the floor; the little one was some two and a half years old, very neatly dressed, evidently scrupulously cared for, and eminently handsome. The gentleman while talking to the mother, picked up the child and kissed it; the little one looked up in such perfect astonishment that the gentleman remarked. "Why, my little dear, one would think that you were not used to being kissed." The mother answered for the child, "I don't believe, sir, that she was ever kissed before in her life. I'm sure I never did such a thing, and never knew its father to."

The Lord have mercy on that child, and send it somebody to love it, was the gentleman's prayer, as he made sure his wallet was in its place, and took himself out of the house as fast as possible. Not to know the holy kiss of a father, the earnest lip press of brothers and sisters, is to fail in the developement of the soul in an essential and vital degree; and surely what is so wondrous holy in infancy, so refining in childhood, so worthy in parents and so prevalent upon the heartstone, is not a matter to be disposed of of with a sneer, or dismissed with a 'pooh!' Kissing, like the marriage bells or the blessed truths of the blessed Bible, never wears out; it is, like them, always new, fresh and interesting; and for the same reason, viz: it deals with the affection, which, unlike the intellect, loves the familiar; delights in the old, and is coy of the new and strange.

The variety of kisses is not small. There is the kiss paternal, the kiss fraternal, the kiss connubial (and pre-connubial), the kiss reverential, the kiss delightful (to an affiance), the kiss hypocritical, and the kiss promiscuous.

The last two varieties are the only ones to which we object. We have often thought in reference to the kiss promiscuous, one of the blessings of the man over the woman consisted in being relieved of this conventional duty; it seems to us in very many instances, like casting pearls before swine; and in illustration of the old adage familiarity breeds contempt."

A DILATORY RESPONDENT.—You know the individual who is always dilatory in making the responses? He is usually to be found in every Episcopal parish, much to the annoyance of the quiet, orderly people who unfortunately are compelled to sit near him. A man of this sort was one of the most regular (such always are regular) attendants at St. ——'s, Philadelphia; and so "worriting" had his drawling habit become, that several of the parishioners called upon the rector and requested him to "interview" the laggard, and request him to make the responses in unison with the rest of the brethren. "You see, my dear Sir," said the rector, "it is easy enough to be prompt, if you will but fix your mind upon it. If you begin the General Confession promptly, you will easily end with the commence: 'I believe,' etc., promptly, why, at the proper time, you will be able to 'descend into hell' with the rest of the congregation! Now, my dear Sir, pray be a little more prompt, and do this."—Harper's Mag.

—A gentleman of Bath, Me., who is an ardent lover of the weed, says his sex is not alone addicted to this habit. He affirms that there are by actual count, forty-seven female pipe smokers in that city.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is seen restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—it is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, FEB. 28, 1870.

☞ We don't admire Mr. Dawes' talk about economy, retrenchment, &c. There always have been and always will be, pickings and stealings from Governments of all sorts; and the larger the funds or goods handled, the greater the loss, of course. Horace Greeley says that the chief use of Governments in all ages, seems to be, to be plundered; but that the Republicans are more extravagant or dishonest than the Opposition have been and would be again if they only had the chance, is the clearest gammon. Why, the last Cabinet they had, stole everything they could lay their hands on, and got us into the war which made our great taxes.

We don't believe that the best way always for a man, a city, a State or a Nation, to make money, must necessarily be by saving it. On the contrary, we prefer, rather, liberal but judicious expenditures—and to make money by spending or investing it, is more enterprising and improving. Hence we have no sympathy with any croaking daws.

The Manchester and other papers fill their columns with debates with the copperheads as to reduction of the debt, and discussion with pretended labor reformers — but we don't consider the game worth the powder; nor do we fear that one intelligent Republican can be misled by any of the clap-trap of demagogues, whether in the pretended interest of labor, temperance, or what not.

☞ At the Supreme Judicial Court at Manchester, the case of S. O. Richardson vs. Charles H. Moore, for damages to a wagon occasioned by a dog frightening the horse, was given to the jury; but after being out nine hours, they reported they could not agree.

The following cases were brought before Judge Doe for his decision. City National Bank vs. George A. Barns, to recover amount of note. Verdict for defendant. A. H. Lowell vs. George A. Barns, to recover amount of note. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $1452.59.

The Union says that previous to the adjourning of the Court on Friday, for the reason that no cases were ready for trial, Judge Doe remarked that he should hold the court all next week. He would then adjourn over until after the State election, when he would again resume the trial of cases and continue the court in session until the first of April if all cases were not disposed of before that time. He said he was determined to try every case on the docket this term so far as possible, so that nobody could say that it was the fault of the Court that cases were continued from term to term. He said he would continue the term until June if it is necessary to effect this object.

THE BEST PRINTING PRESS.—The invention of the various patterns of low priced cylinder presses within a few years, has proved a boon to country or smaller printers, not less in importance that the original discovery of the power press, or the famous Hoe machine for the great city dailies. These presses are almost as numerous and varied as sewing machines; but after examination and discussion of many, and the selection and use of one of the Montague patent for a year or two, we unhesitatingly give our decision in favor of this press, as the lightest, handiest, most simple and satisfactory of all. Especially for hand power, does the great and unparalled ease of draft commend it; while the inking apparatus is very simple and surprisingly effective. No machine can do better work, and none will bear more neglect and still work tolerably.

We shall be pleased to exhibit our press to any of the craft, or to answer more particularly any inquiries concerning it, for we are very favorably impressed with the makers, both as workmen and gentlemen. For job work, it is unexcelled. The Messrs. Montague have recently formed a partnership with Mr. C. C. Childs, to manufacture their presses and paper-cutters themselves, at No. 57 Haverhill Street, Boston; and as the New York Printers' Companion of last month well says, they may now be relied on for turning out better finished and fitted machinery than when forced to depend on contracting builders—from whose carelessness or want of skill, the reputation of this press has no doubt suffered.

☞ Three men, taking advantage of the temporary absence of Capt. Joseph Weare, at Cape Neddick, on Saturday night week, attempted to break into his store. They were discovered, recognized, and one of them arrested, who confessed all.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Friday, Mr. Howard of Michigan introduced a bill to divide the State of Texas, and to establish the Territories of Jefferson and Matagorda. He said the proposition was to divide Texas into three parts; that portion east of San Antonio and Trinity Rivers, containing by the census of 1860 about 230,000 inhabitants, to be called the Territory of Jefferson—that portion between those rivers and the Colorado River to constitute the State of Texas, which space in 1860 contained about 250,000 inhabitants, black and white; and all west of the western boundary line of this State, embracing by the census of 1860 about 115,000 inhabitants, to be called the Territory of Matagorda. Those divisions were considered necessary in view of the present exceedingly extensive area of the State, and the incongruous character of the population. The assent of the State of Texas would be insisted upon to this arrangement before its admission to representation.

Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts introduced a bill to prevent prize-fighting. The bill provides for imprisonment for not less than two years and a fine of not less than $3000 for engaging in a prize-fight in any State or Territory, and half of said penalties for aiding such fights as seconds or surgeons, and United States courts are to take cognizance of the offence.

Mr. Revels, the colored Senator from Mississippi, was admitted to a seat by a strict party vote, 48 to 8.

☞ Congressman Johnson of California lately made an ironical speech on the proposed removal of the National Capital and recommends that it be transferred to You Bet, Red Dog or Yuba Dam, California. He closed thusly; "My cause is my excuse; let those whose excuse is their cause, cause a better cause for their excuse."

New Publications Received.

The Missionary Herald, for March, has an engraving of the Interior of the Church at Batticotta.

The Question of the Hour: The Bible and the School Fund. By Rev. Rufus W. Clark, D. D., 16mo. Paper 40 cts.; cloth 75—just published by Lee & Shepard, Boston.

Monthly Report, Department Agriculture, January, 1870.

We have received the first number of a new monthly journal, The Technologist, especially devoted to engineering, manufacturing and building, issued by "The Industrial Publication Company," New York. It has certainly made a good beginning; the contents are attractive and seem of solid merit. One is a very strong article against sunless and airless tenements and rooms. The Technologist is furnished by the American News Co.

Howe's Musical Monthly, No 8. Containing 21 instrumental and vocal pieces, $6 worth of new music. Price 35 cts. Elias Howe, Boston, publisher.

American Agriculturist for March. Beautiful, interesting and valuable.

CUBA.—The Captain-General has issued a decree which grants liberty to over two thousand negroes—prisoners of war—who had been hired out to labor by the government, with the understanding that they were to become slaves after a certain date.

The members of the Cuban Junta at Santiago, eighteen in number, who had for a long time assisted the insurgents, have been arrested and executed.

Govenche was recently badly beaten by General Jordan, and retreated to Puerto Principe. He has since abandoned that place and hurried to Santa Espiritu, at the same time making a demand on the Captain-General for 4000 more troops. Four entire Spanish camps near Santa Espiritu were recently captured by the Cubans. Santa Espiritu is closely besieged by the Cubans. De Rodas has made another appeal to Spain for 10,000 more troops.

Jordan is very popular with the people, and has reconciled all differences in the Cuban army and received its enthusiasm.

A letter from Trinadad, dated the 15th inst., says in regard to the insurrection, "Matters are rather worse than better here. On the night of the 12th inst., 8 married women were taken from their houses and placed in jail. One of them is the wife of an American merchant of this place. Up to this date they remain in confinement."

☞ The leaders of the Labor Reform party in New Hampshire have forgotten all about the eight hour law in the present political campaign, and are working day and night to advance their cause. They are finding it necessary.

What Does Reason Say?

The little mosquoes when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the lurkable poison which generates disease? Surely it does.

The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials, assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the sensitive organs should be so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

PAIN OF THE SIDE CURED.

Allentown, Penn., April 4, 1865.

Messrs. T. Allcock & Co.

Dear Sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side, and it cured her in one week. Yours truly, JOHN V. N. HUNTER.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on any pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

☞ Several hundred people were badly sold by attending the St. Clair gift enterprise, Friday evening.

☞ Mr. John P. Hart has entered upon his duties as Teller in the Rockingham Bank, vice Mr. Wm. Tuckerman appointed Cashier.

☞ Hon. James W. Nye, U. S. Senator from Nevada, will address the Republicans of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple, Saturday evening, March 5.

THE OLDEST SUBSCRIBER. — Mr. Thomas J. Rand of Rye thinks the New Hampshire Gazette has been taken by his family and that of his "fathers," from the start, 113 years ago.

☞ By special request, Mr. W. I. Trafton has decided to give his sixth Bal Masque at Congress Hall on Tuesday evening, March 22d. Mr. Trafton has arranged for his seventh Bal Masque at Central Hall, Charlestown, Mass., Friday evening, March 25th Success to him.

☞ Mr. Carbonell announces to expose the Davenport Brothers' tricks, and other Spiritual mysteries, at the Temple to-night. And all the papers except the Spiritual organs, say he can do it. The believers in that faith denounce Carbonell himself as the humbug, and insist that he is the deceiver and impostor. The Boston Transcript says all who have seen the Davenports, should visit Carbonell.

For the Chronicle.

My friend C. S. has my sincere sympathy, if, as he says, the printers have misstated his problem. This is always annoying to any writer, especially when figures are transposed or wrongly printed. So far then as the selection of his problem is concerned, there is no occasion for criticism.

But his requiring the altitude of the triangle without the slightest means of obtaining it from his data, is so unreasonable a demand upon his mathematical friends, that some apology will be due, whenever he shall be convinced that any perpendicular whatever will fully satisfy the conditions of his question.

He probably intended to have 300 for the altitude. Now let him try 400 instead of 300, with the segments of the base remaining the same, (namely 720 and 225), and he will find the squares of the sides to be 678,400 and 210,625, whose difference is 467,775, the same as when 300 is used for the altitude. So also 500 or 600, and in fact any number you please, will give the same result. A. M. H.

THE P. S. & P. RAILROAD MATTER. It is known that the directors of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad last autumn applied to the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine for directions as to which class of stockholders the $180,000 paid by the Eastern and Boston and Maine Railroads belonged. This course became necessary, because persons who were stockholders when the coin divided became due, and were paid in currency, claimed that the money now accrued, by way of adjustment, was but the balance of an unpaid dividend. Others, who had purchased their shares since the whole or parts of the dividend were paid in currency, claimed that the $180,000 belonged to the corporation, and was incident to the shares, and of course belonged to the present holders of the stock.

It has been decided that the sum of $180,000 specified in the bill, belongs to and is the property of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Company, and that it is to be divided among those who may be stockholders at the time when its distribution is ordered by said corporation and a dividend thereof declared, and the trustees will govern themselves accordingly.

W. H. Y. Hackett and Nathan Webb for the plaintiffs, and Frank W. Hackett for the defendants.

☞ The Boston Times asks why "we are paying, in time of peace, war prices for everything we eat, drink and wear." —We answer, we are not. The best of flour can now be had for $10 a barrel, and on a gold basis it is cheaper than before the war. Cotton cloths, Prints, &c., are about one-third to one-fourth the price during the war. So with almost any cloths or wearing apparel.—Groceries are nearly all much lower, except such things as our farmers produce, butter, milk, meats, &c., which have not fallen so much. On the other hand, labor still keeps its price, so that the working man can now get for his labor much more than before the war. Labor really never received so great rewards in substantial values as now.

New Hampshire Items.

At Dover, Mr. James E. Macy, died very suddenly on Saturday week. He, in company with his wife, had been to the Post Office, and when nearly home he complained of feeling unwell. Two men assisted him, carrying him the last few rods, and when they arrived at his home he was found to be dead. He was 63 years of age.

At Dover, in the trial of Dr. David McDaniel of Barrington for an alleged criminal operation on Elizabeth Currier of East Rochester, the jury disagreed, 8 being for acquittal and 4 for conviction. The case has been tried once before, resulting in a disagreement, the jury then standing 7 for the Doctor and 5 for the State.

☞ The Biddeford Democrat announces that Hon. V. D. Parris, of Paris, Me., will favor their citizens with a lecture on Numismatics, or the Science of Coins and Metals; and says, "Mr. Parris has a large collection of rare specimens of ancient coins, in the exhibition of which he connects important historical events of their date, or period, extending back many centuries." No doubt the redoubtable Virgil Delphini may have a good knowledge of coins, especially the copper ones.

THE COURTS.—Goodale's Labor Reform organ says that "an able and observant correspondent suggests that an important object to be secured by the Reform Party in this State, is a reformation in the management of our Courts." He further says: "There are four times as many lawyers in New Hampshire as there is need of." That is, a sweeping attack is to be made upon our Judiciary. Our present able and impartial judges are to be removed to make room for whom?

Are we to have a Court made up wholly of what these new Reformers call laboring men, or are they going into the camp of their Democratic allies for timber with which to construct new judges? Imagine such legal talent as William Little of Manchester, Jesse Mann of Bath, John R. Palmer of Dover, and J. M. Rolston of Concord, sitting in the seats now so ably occupied by Judges Bellows, Doe, Smith, Sargent, &c.! What a millennium for working men, and what a future good time for lawyers might be looked for!

Or take such distinguished laboring men as Thomas J. Smith, John H. George, Albert R. Hatch, Harry Bingham, &c.! Wherein will the ability, purity or efficiency of the Bench be improved? The Dispatch is counting its chickens rather early. The eggs possibly may not hatch, and it is barely possible they may turn out something else than chickens. But even if they are all they expect, what are the proposed advantages to the people?—Dover Enq.

The Courier-Journal hopes they will soon find out the author of "Shoo-Fly," and—shoot him.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The microscope shows the color of the hair due to a deposition of pigment in its substance. When the hair glands become enfeebled, this pigment fails. One after another the hairs become white, or fall out, producing baldness. Baldness is easy to prevent but hard to cure. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR stops it; even restores the hair sometimes; always restores its color. Immediate renovation is at once visible; softness, freshness and the gloss of youth. This great ornament should be preserved since it can by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which is beautifully clean and free from anything injurious to the hair.—Tribune, Springville, N. Y.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.—When the blood is well supplied with its iron element, we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vital element that makes us feel weak and low-spirited; in such cases, the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) can supply this deficiency, and its use will invigorate us wonderfully.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

NO. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 153 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,

Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. f22dawlm

THE CHARITY SCHOOL,—CONCLUDED. One thing the Charity School has done for us—it has given us the chance to boast that our navy is more aristocratic than that of any monarchy, and the common people more carefully excluded from its honors than is the case with any other; and that our nobility has privileges superior to those of British royalty even.

Her Gracious Majesty Victoria, Queen, wishing to send one of her sons into the British navy, had no such high-toned establishment prepared for his reception as our nobility have for their offspring; but the Prince was obliged to join a ship as midshipman, under one of the strictest disciplinarians in the British service, who made him do his whole duty. Yet, as the son of a queen, and that queen the sovereign of a great nation, he might have fairly claimed equality even with the young gentlemen at Annapolis.

That the school has exerted a great moral (or immoral) influence on our navy cannot be doubted. That influence is seen in the anti-democratic sentiments of its graduates, notably visible in their crusade against the rights of the staff—and in the occasionally-heard-of instances of oppression of seamen, which are far more frequent now than they were twenty years ago, if the testimony of old men-o'-war's-men can be relied on — and they probably know something about the matter.

The men who have been foremost in the fight against allowing honorable position to highly educated and invaluable servants of the nation,—who have opposed and contemned the surgeons, paymasters and engineers, (not because they were not gentlemen, nor because they had not fairly earned rank and honor by long and faithful service, nor because they were not valuable officers, but because they were not line officers,) who consider that the staff "have got no rights which a line officer is bound to respect,"—have not been the men who were gray in the service before the Naval Academy was started, but the charity scholars; the active, working oppressors of the popular branch of the service, the real aristocratic wire-pullers, are almost wholly found among the younger line officers, the graduates of the National Charity School.

Does this institution pay? Is it worth while for the people any longer to drain their Treasury in supporting the illegal Naval Academy, which has made the service a mere pension agency for an upper class, has served as an effectual barricade against the entrance of democratic principles and common people into the navy, has swallowed up vast sums of money, and — done nothing else? I think not.

The appointing of candidates by Congressmen is wholly wrong; and if the school itself is not to be "concluded," at least the present method of selecting scholars should be. The recent disclosures of corruption in Congress have cast discredit on the whole system; but even allowing that all Congressmen were virtuous! and that only those candidates who displayed ability received appointments, still this plan would compel us to select our servants—for they are the people's servants, though they think themselves their masters,—from the best of one class only; while we are entitled, not merely to the best of one class of citizens, but to the best which the whole country affords. Competitive examinations, conducted by competent and impartial professors — not naval line officers—where merit and not birth would be regarded, would give us a chance to get good naval officers for our money, and to boys of ability a chance for naval honors, even though their fathers might be mechanics. The navy has been run as a "select" concern too long; the common people ought to have a voice in it now. And no better move to secure that end can be made, than to demand of Congress the abolition of the Annapolis Academy, or the admission of the peop as students.

PAKEHA.

* RESIGNED.—It is certainly gratifying to know that in ——, Illinois, the Young Men's Christian Association is doing a good work. One of its most active members is Mr. ——, a young gentleman of position and means, who has done much in aiding the poor and unfortunate. At one time he became quite interested in a German family in indigent circumstances. The wife was quite sick, and he visited her very often, doing all he could to prepare her mind for the worst, if it should come to that. He had not seen her for a few days, when he met her husband, and the following conversation took place:

"How do you do, Mr.——? How is your wife?"

"Mein frau?—mein frau is dead."

"Dead! is it possible? Was she resigned?"

"Resigned? resigned? Mein Gott! she had to be!"—Harper's Magazine.

ANTI-RUM RAID.—The State has been duly informed, that one Mr. McIntire, of Alton, has recovered judgment against some ladies who smashed his groggery some time ago.—Now it seems these same ladies in Alton connected with the above mentioned raid, have had a grand Levee at the Town Hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 17th, called the Raiders' Temperance Levee, when the scenes that transpired at the time of the raid were reenacted in commemoration of that event.

The Wolfeborough News of Feb. 14, has a letter from Alton, giving the following account of the matter.

As the facts concerning this matter have been published, many of your readers would be pleased to see them in print. In 1868 one Samuel McIntire was running a rum shop in full blast, which, like others, was not only a nuisance, but a pest to the community, and at which place frequent disturbances occurred, much to the annoyance of the whole village. One evening in Nov. '68 a row was made, occasioned by a female being found in said shop intoxicated, and such vulgar and profane language was used as only escape the lips of the patrons of such places, and which was heard for half mile distant.

The next morning the ladies of the village, thinking that forbearance had ceased to be a virtue, turned out in large numbers, resolved to do away with the nuisance, peaceably if they could, but forcibly if they must. On arriving at the place, they entered, and after trying to persuade McIntire to sell no more liquor, and using all the moral suasion they could, and finding it of no avail, they, notwithstanding they knew they had no legal right to go farther, but still acting from an impulse of duty, made a raid on the liquors.

McIntire stood at the door with revolver in hand threatening to shoot the first that approached, but they, being possessed of strong arms as well as minds, gained an entrance to the cellar, where they found a man named Hall placed there to defend the liquors. In an almost incredible short space of time out went Hall, rum barrels and all, and when landed in the street, Hall was minus hat and coat, and the barrels minus their heads and contents.

The thing was completely cleaned out, and the community relieved of a great burden. They then offered to pay McIntire for his liquors, but he, being advised by his friends, refused to settle it. He brought a suit against them, and the whole matter was finally referred to three men, and they, after having a hearing of the case, which occupied eight days, brought in their report Jan. 6, 1870, that the defendants should pay McIntire $698, from which he had to pay the referees $450, besides his legal costs, which amounted to near $250 more, thus leaving him nothing for his liquors.

FIRES AT SEA.—There is a universal association of horror with the cry of fire upon a ship at sea; and yet that is the place where a fire should be manageable, because a great force may be immediately concentrated upon the point of danger. Some years ago, a California steamer left the Isthmus for New York. On the afternoon of the day of sailing the captain called the passengers to the deck, and made a sensible little speech. He reminded them that they were a great multitude upon a ship, and that, as they knew, fire was one of the possible perils to which they were exposed, but that a little care would deprive that chance of its sting. He then proposed that a sufficient body of the passengers should agree to act in concert with the crew, in case of necessity.

He called for a certain number of men to handle axes, who, at an alarm, were to put themselves at once under the orders of the ship's carpenter, whom he introduced. Others were to act as guards to prevent the frantic rushing of passengers, and were to be armed for the purpose, and to obey certain officers whom he named; others were to protect the boats; others were to repair to certain points and serve the hose. And so a sufficient number of the passengers were simply organized, and made to understand precisely what they were to do, should an alarm be raised.

Suddenly the next day an alarm was given; and such was the self-possession produced by the consciousness of intelligent and powerful organization, that very man went quietly to his post; there was no panic whatever, and the passengers learned, to their great satisfaction, that the cry had been raised merely to test the efficiency of the organization. There were some grumblers upon the ship, who said that it was too bad in the captain to excite by such a plain appeal and system the imagination of the passengers. But because some men choose to be ostriches, there is no reason why others should not prefer to remain men. A lightning-rod upon a house is a constant reminder of the danger of the thunder-bolt. Is it therefore "too bad" to protect the house?—Harper's Mag.

—A traveller in Georgia, down among the rice swamps, observing the sallow, sunken-eyed, emaciated appearance of the inhabitants, asked one of them if the climate was unhealthy. "Wall, no," replied the sickly-looking fellow, "taint unhealthy; we have the fever and ague all the time in these parts; but then we enjoy a powerful tundertow of health which beats the ague all to nothing."

—A man once went to an eccentric lawyer to be qualified for some petty office. The lawyer said to him, "Hold up your hand, I'll swear you, but all creation couldn't qualify you."

—The Newport News says a lobster was picked up on the beach near that city, weighing seventeen pounds, and supposed to be about half a century old. A crustaceous patriarch.

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, has secured patent applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very moderate charges. STEP BY STEP.

BY DR. J. G. HOLLAND.

Heaven is not reached by a single bound,
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round.

I count these things to be grandly true,
That a noble deed is a step towards God—
Lifting the soul from the common sod
To a purer air and a broader view.

We rise by the things that are under our feet,
By what we have mastered in greed and gain,
By the pride deposed and the passion slain,
And the vanquished ill we hourly meet.

We hope, we resolve, we aspire, we trust,
When the morning calls to life and light,
But our hearts grow weary, and ere night
Our lives are trailing in the sordid dust.

Wings for the angels, but feet for the men!
We must borrow the wings to find the way—
We may hope, and resolve, and aspire, and pray,
But our feet must rise or we fail again.

Only in dreams is the ladder thrown
From the weary earth to the sapphire wall;
But the dreams depart and the visions fall,
And the sleeper wakes on his pillow of stone.

Heaven is not reached at a single bound,
But we build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round.

—A peculiar shock follows the news of the death of Anson Burlingame, not so much because he seemed, on his last visit to his old home, to be about the healthiest, heartiest man in public life, as because we have accustomed ourselves to regard him as at the very beginning of a brilliant and unique career, of which no man could foretell the ending. History indeed furnishes no parallel to the experience of Mr. Burlingame during the last decade, and we shall have to turn to the Arabian Nights to match it.

Writers on the possibilities open to American ambition have often cited the appearance of Franklin in his plain suit, serene in his simplicity, at the glitter, ing court of Versailles. But there was nothing in the history of that shrewd, lucky Boston boy of the last century to compare in romance and bizarre splendor with the life of the cool, easy, self-poised young man of our own day, who, losing his seat in Congress by the vote of our North End wards, presently found himself the representative of the oldest and greatest of the nations, accredited to the courts of the world, travelling in a style of imperial magnificence through Europe, receiving the courtesy of kings and emperors, coping with the wiliest of veteran diplomates, and speaking for the first time after scores of centuries of silence the voice of China.

Perhaps there was no man living whose death could have in its possible consequences a graver influence on the destiny of millions of men. And while the politicians of the world are puzzling over the manifold bearings of the loss of the ambassador, there are many hearts in Boston filled with the keenest sorrow at the sudden taking away, at the zenith of his life, of the man and the friend.—Boston Advertiser.

PRINTERS' JOKES.—It is the practice among waggish printers, when a "green 'un" enters the office as devil, to play jokes on him by sending him on an errand to a neighboring office for something that he would be sure not to find, and he returns with some strange article or other, thinking that in printer's phrase he has got what he was sent for. A joke of this kind was once perpetrated in a neighboring town. A boy who was rather "verdant," went to learn the printing business, and one of the journeymen, loving sport, sent him one day with a dish to a certain editor, to borrow "a gill of editorial." The editor, understanding the game, returned a picture of a jackass. The first one, finding himself rather "come over," set his wits to work to think how he should be even with the other. At last he called the lad, and told him to go and tell the editor that "it was editorial which he wanted, and not the editor!"

WE MET MRS. PARTINGTON the next day after the protracted funeral, and asking her where she had been, she told us she had been down to "tend the obstacles of Mr. Peabody." "Well," we remarked, "you found enough obstacles, didn't you? For never were there so many to keep a poor weary body from its rest." "It wasn't his doings," said she; "the funeral wasn't his, and folks mus'n't blame him; 'twas them plagy execouted committees that was buried, and if he'd had his say about it there wouldn't have been any delay; why, if I hadn't gone to Portland, by invitation of my friend Mayor Shirtless, I shouldn't have enjoyed the funeral at all." She brought down her umbrella with an emphatic thump as she spoke, and she left us with a look as thoughshe had been injured.—American Union.

—R. O. G. of Brewer, Me. advertises in the Bath (Maine) Times that he wants a wife. Says he is a "very likely man, that follows agricultural pursuits, and is tired of living alone; wants a companion. His age is two score years, and he is in good standing in society. All letters shall be sacred."

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.
They are not a vile fancy drink. f17 4w

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Gloss or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, mufls, fringe, alpkans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, legging, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c. while expert operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND BOTTLES PER ANNUM.
THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,
Coughs, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses, Colds, Headache, Fainting Fits, Fevers, Convulsions, Palpitation, Agues, Sleeplessness, Restlessness, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Children's Troubles Diarrhœa, Consumption, &c., &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. IT OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health, and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1870.

DAWES SWALLOWS HIMSELF.—Dawes, the humbug economist, who but a few days ago switched off the main track and very nearly ran into the Democratic train; Dawes, whose overweening desire to be Governor of Massachusetts caused him to make a sensation speech charging President Grant's administration with great extravagance; Dawes, who had opened wide for a grand collision with the Republican and collusion with the Democratic party; Dawes, who furnished that party and its allies with their only capital for making any fight in the present political campaign—has quit Washington and come to New Hampshire, and the northern air has so refreshed him that his political vision is less obscure.

A few days ago he was denouncing the administration; now he is upholding it by his speeches, and tells what everyone knew before, that under Gen. Grant's administration the national debt has been reduced $80,000,000. Crowds flock to hear him, why? People are fond of sensations, a fact that Lingard and his wife learned before Dawes did. The former quarreled publicly, and their opera house was immediately crowded to see their "show." Dawes got up a family fight in the Republican party. He tried to create a division between the President and Congress—and failed. He considered himself the embodiment of the Republican party, and was mistaken. Then he backed water—Dawes did. He had been well advertised, and it was said that a great light of the Republican party had gone over to the Democracy. Then came Dawes back to the defence and he is now making his apologies. The influence of such reliable preachers cannot be very great among straightforward people. But what an influence Dawes must have on Dawes!

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE. A despatch from Concord to the Boston Journal, dated Feb. 26, says:—

The meeting of the Democratic Central Committee on Wednesday evening last, was an important one—not that any direct business was transacted, but because of the reports from different sections of the State on the political status of the party. Many of the leading men of the party were present.

Reports from Strafford county show that General Bedel could not get 25 per cent. of the Democratic vote. In Rockingham the vote was estimated at 35 per cent., and in Merrimack at 90 per cent. In Carroll considerable dissatisfaction was reported. These reports were considered as damaging, and it was represented that if some advisatory course be not immediately decided on, a large portion of the disaffected would vote for Gov. Stearns and his election by the people be made sure.

The assigned cause of the dissatisfaction to General Bedell was his advocacy of the repeal of the usury laws by the last Legislature, allowing lenders to take nine per cent. interest, and his general legislative action to defeat the election of Gov. Stearns. An opportunity was left open for the Labor Reformers to put into the disaffected districts split tickets with Samuel Flint at the head. This, it was claimed, would save some 5000 from the Stearns ticket, from that portion of the party "who would not go to Bedel any way."

They mapped the Senatorial ticket as sure for the party in districts number 3, 6, 11 and 12, and gave the Labor Reformers number 5, and claimed there would be two vacancies. The filling of these would give the political character of the Senate into the control of the House. In district number 8 Mr. Livingstone's election was considered doubtful on account of the Peterboro' Railroad question, Mr. L. being President of the Monadnock Railroad, and his election to any legislative position would be opposed by General Stark of the Boston, Lowell and Nashua and Lowell and Northern Railroads, who are contending for the 5 per cent. of the town of Peterboro' in aid of a railroad, which question is now in Court.

They claimed that A. H. Rust of Ossipee would be sure of the Councillor election. It was also conceded that ten days ago the election of Gov. Stearns by the people looked like almost a sure thing, but they hope by substituting Flint for Bedel to defeat him, but do not think Flint will get votes enough to be a constitutional candidate before the House.

This was general talk in the committee, but no action was taken, and things were left to take their course, and quietly soliciting the Labor Reformers to take advantage of the situation. General Bedel will not decline, as rumored, but will "stick." The party is nearly in the condition of being without a candidate or votes. Mr. Chapman of Nashua, brother-in-law of General Bedel, Harry Bingham, John G. Sinclair and other distinguished party members were present.

The votes of the regular ticket have been sent out by the Committee, but other tickets will follow of a mixed nature. The meeting of the Committee was not harmonious—some of the "old liners" preferring, that sink or swim, to preserve the party organization.

EFFECT OF THE "LEGAL TENDER" DECISION.—Two claims have been received at the Third Auditor's office, Washington, from Boston merchants, amounting to $71,000, the difference in the value of legal tender notes and gold at the time of the settlement of a claim for the use of the steam-vessels "Undaunted," "Merrimac" and "Mississippi." The claim is filed under the recent decision of Chief-Justice Chase. It appears the amount to be paid was $150,000, and that the sum now claimed is the depreciated value of the legal tenders at the time the settlement was made, and this claim will undoubtedly be made a test case. There are a number of claims involving the same question pending before the Auditor of the Treasury Department, and either additional legislation or Congressional appropriations will be required to meet the emergency.—Commonwealth.

If this decision shall be suffered to stand as it is, litigation will come out of it, almost without limit—chiefly benefitting the lawyers, who will reap a golden harvest.

A NEW NATURALIZATION LAW is passing through Congress without attracting much notice, perhaps because the necessity of such a law is not so generally realized now as it is about election time. The law gives the control of naturalization to the United States courts, exclusively, fixes the period of probation after an alien has given notice of his intention to become a citizen, at three years, and provides that no naturalized citizen can vote within six months of the completion of his papers. The bill has been carefully drawn and thoroughly scrutinized by members of Congress interested in the subject, and it is believed it will prove a complete bar to the naturalization frauds that have been so common of late years.—Commonwealth.

HOW TO GET SLEEP.—This is to many persons a matter of high importance. Nervous persons who are troubled with wakefulness and excitability, usually have a strong tendency of blood to the brain, with cold extremities. The pressure of blood on the brain keeps it in a stimulated or wakeful state, and the pulsations in the head are often painful. Let them rise and chafe the body and extremities with a towel or brush, or rub smartly with the hand to promote circulation and withdraw the excessive amount of blood from the brain, and they will fall asleep in a few moments.

☞ Unlicensed dog days are gone.

New Publications Received.

Health by Good Living.—This is the expressive title of a new book of 277 pages, just issued from the Riverside Press, Cambridge, at $1.50, and for sale by Nichols & Hall, Boston. It is from the sensible author, W. W. Hall, M. D., of New York, the well known editor of Hall's Journal of Health. We do not know any better way of introducing this useful and readable book, than by copying below the author's very brief preface.

This book is to show how high health can be maintained, and common diseases cured by "good living," which means eating with a relish the best food prepared in the best manner. The best food includes meats, fish, poultry, wild game, fruits, and the grains which make bread. The best cookery preserves the natural tastes and juices. As there can be no "good living" without a good appetite, how to get this great blessing without money and without price necessarily, is pointed out, and, it is hoped, in very clear and plain terms.

The Phrenological Journal, is one of the most instructive and valuable Magazines for family and general use, has in the number for March the following among its contents:—Nathaniel B. Shurtleff, M. D., Mayor of Boston; The Future Science of Man; Aborigines of the Philippine Archipelago; The Flat-Head Indians; Pure Air; Why use Spectacles; Human Spontaneous Combustion, etc, with portraits and other illustrations. Price 30 cents, or $3 a year. S. R. Wells, Publisher, N. York.

AN EASY TASK.—Mr. Trevellick who addressed the meeting in Eagle Hall, Concord, and who claimed to be the "Head Centre" of 700,000 Labor Reformers, presented a very easy recipe for paying off the national debt, "without taxing the people one cent." His recipe was the issue of a sufficient amount of greenbacks by installments, and making them absolutely money, payable and receivable for all debts, and resting on neither gold, nor silver, nor anything else. The scheme is a capital one, if it would only work, and if everybody was willing to exchange what has intrinsic value for that which has no value whatever. It is only necessary to have a universal assent to the universal annihilation of all distinctions of property, to make Mr. Trevellick's plan the great discovery of the age!—Monitor.

A FRIGHTFUL RAILROAD ACCIDENT occurred on the Mississippi Central Railroad on Friday, at Buckner's trestle, which is forty feet high and over a ravine. The engine crossed safely, but the remainder of the train ran off the track. The cause of the accident is believed to have been the unsound condition of the trestle timbers, which permitted the rail to slip out of place and thus switch off the cars, which crushed through the trestle or plunged into the ditch. Every car was utterly destroyed. The baggage, mail, and express freight broke loose and were scattered on the sides of the ravine, into which the wreck plunged. The first and second passenger cars were shattered into pieces. The remaining passenger car kept its place on the track while its forward end rested on the second car. Seventeen persons were killed and as many more badly wounded.

☞ The snow of Sunday night and Monday gave us some more sleighing; but, like white folks, the reign of the white rain is very uncertain this year. In our item on riding, the other day, stating the sleighing was nix, it should have been the German nicht signying something like nothing,—the Latin nix meaning literliry snow.

—"Mother, what did father pray to General Grant so much in church for yesterday," asked the bright little daughter of a ministerial friend lately. "I don't know that he did, sis." "Why, yes; don't you know? He was always saying, 'Grant, we beseech thee.'"

—An ingenious safety-stove for railroad cars, invented by Messrs. Cyrus Sanborn and B. F. Leavitt, of Chichester, N. H., is provided with water chambers, by which, if a car or the stove is overturned, the water will overflow and extinguish the fire.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Mothers who have been compelled to forego the pleasure of nursing their infants in consequence of ulcerated nipples, broken breasts, or any other of the painful disorders which affect those tender and delicate organs, will obtain immediate relief from the cooling, healing, and cleansing operation of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and the effect of the local remedy may be aided by moderate doses of the Pills. Sold by all Druggists.

What Does Reason Say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct, but as human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the insidious poison which generates disease? Surely it does.

The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials, assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess invigorating, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; produces the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY. Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but ABSOLUTELY SAFE. CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATION, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

PAIN OF THE SIDE CURED.

Allentown, Penn., April 4, 1865.

Dear Sirs: My daughter used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side, and it cured her in one week. Yours truly, JOHN V. N. HUNTER.

25,000 SOLD BY ONE DEALER.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it and if it did not do all I stated in my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. Pres, by many, thought crazy, and that such a medicine had to be by would see the end.

But I know my medicine was no humbug. In about one year I began to receive orders for it from all parts of the country. It was a settlement, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see each accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Price 50 cts. Sold by the Druggists. Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. ja13dawlm

☞ The Congress Block Bookstore has hoisted a new flag, but it is very much like the old one, only more so. May continued success attend it.

☞ Hon. James W. Nye, U. S. Senator from Nevada, will address the Republicans of Portsmouth and vicinity at the Temple, Saturday evening, March 5.

☞ We learn that Mr. Daniel S. Holt, Chairman of the Labor League State Central Committee of New Hampshire, will address the workingmen of this city and vicinity on Wednesday evening, at half past 7 o'clock, at the Ward Room on State Street. Mr. Holt was one of the bolters at the Labor Reform Convention, at Concord, and is an honest, straight-forward working man. Let every one, who can, attend.

PROF. EDWARD T. CARBONELL, assisted by Mr. Lincoln, pleased a goodly number of persons who went to the Temple Monday evening. They successfully performed many wonderful feats as done by the Davenports, Mr. Fay, Laura Ellis and others claiming supernatural aid, and then publicly exposed the manner of doing them. The double cabinet is similar to that of the Davenports, and Prof. Carbonell shows that apparently impossible feats may be performed by practiced manual dexterity. The last opportunity to witness the expose is announced for this (Tuesday) evening; all who saw the Davenports or Laura Ellis will be repaid by seeing for themselves.

In addition to the usual tests, Mr. Chas. W. Bailey was allowed to confine Mr. Carbonell with a new patent handcuff. A coat was put on and off speedily. Dr. Parsons and Mr. M. B. Goodrich were the examining committee. Mr. Carbonell did the best feats of the Davenports and then publicly exposed them. He offers more difficult tricks this evening. We expect to see a crowded house and do not hesitate in endorsing the entertainment as better than the Davenports offer. A believer in spiritualism, who was present, insisted that Messrs. Carbonell and Lincoln were under the influence of spirits. If any others believe it, we advise them to go to-night and see for themselves. Believers and unbelievers will be well repaid by going.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.—Mr. Durant, the Boston lay revivalist, is in this city, laboring with the associated five Evangelical Churches, to promote a revival of religion. And on Sunday last there was a peculiar arrangement of their public services, sufficiently out of the usual course to deserve special mention.

In the morning, these five churches had Sermons as usual: but at noon it was announced in them all, that at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, there would be a general assembling of the people at the North (Orthodox) Meeting House, where Mr. Durant would deliver one of his discourses, aided only by one of the five pastors: and, as that house could not hold everybody, there would be, at the same hour, a Union Prayer Meeting in the Methodist Meeting-house, which would be attended by the other four pastors, and in which the churches would join.

Both of these houses were filled to their utmost capacity, and some persons failed to find room. Rev. Mr. Alden, of the Baptist church, officiated as Chaplain in the North, and Mr. Durant delivered one of his stirring addresses to the large audience, protracting the service somewhat, and urging the danger of delay.

This arrangement, of course, closed the Christian, the Baptist and Freewill Baptist Meeting-houses for the afternoon. And as the Universalist and Unitarian Sunday Schools hold their sessions at half past 2; as the Catholics have no sermon in the afternoon; and as the Rector of the Episcopal Church was unwell and did not preach, it happened that there was no afternoon sermon in the City, except at the Advent Chapel.

In the evening, there was a prayer and exhortation meeting in the North Meeting House. The five churches that unite, are the Baptist, Christian, Congregational, Freewill Baptist, and Methodist; and they are having a series of meetings through this week.

The New York Herald thinks specie payments may be reached by July 4th.

Christmas has just been made a legal holiday in Ohio.

☞ The curse of ours in this city is near its end.

BUSINESS CHANGES.—The dissolution of the Firm of Laighton & Mugridge is announced, to-day. Mr. Benj. F. Mugridge well known as an excellent carterer to the tastes of the public, will continue at the old stand at Jefferson Market, and is ready and prompt to sell and deliver choice meats and market produce to old friends and new.

Mr. Edwin R. Laighton, the retiring partner, is a live young business man and deserves success in any business he undertakes; we hope he will find it without leaving Portsmouth.

Foster Shores has taken his father J. F. Shores Jr., into partnership, at the Congress Block Bookstore, where the genial senior members of the firm (the Jr.) has been wont to greet customers for many years. May the new firm succeed as has the senior Jr. and the junior become a partner with his own son one of those days.

ACCIDENTS.—On Saturday afternoon, a boy named Burke shot away his left thumb, at Peirce's island.

The same afternoon, Percy I. Lowd, youngest son of Mr. William B. Lowd, while playing with other boys in the barn of Mr. Silas Philbrick on State St., fell against a door which is on a level with the second floor. The door flew open, not being fastened, and the little fellow fell out, striking heavily on his shoulder and head. He was taken up insensible. Luckily, no bones were broken and nothing very serious has resulted from his severe shaking up.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

NEWCASTLE, Feb. 26th.

Messrs. Editors:—The fourth of our course of lectures (by gentlemen from your city and this village) was delivered by Valentine Doane Jr.; subject, "Laws of Progress, and Principles of Improvement." The lecture was well written and so arranged that the audience were carried through the different periods of time, noting here and there, the marked degrees of progress made by man in his generation. The subject is inexhaustible and the speaker made it very interesting and entertaining as well as profitable. We hope it may be repeated elsewhere.

The public grammar school, which has been under the charge of Miss Mary F. Hobbs, of North Hampton, for the past three months, closed on Friday, with a most successful examination. One fact was fully demonstrated, viz.; that when a teacher possesses the requisite qualifications, a good school is inevitable. Progress was marked in every branch taught. At the close of the exercises, the pupils presented their much beloved teacher with a beautiful silver token, accompanied with a very feeling and kind address by Miss Addie Doane. S.

MAPLE SYRUP.—For sale by f8 BUTLER & LAIGHTON.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH, BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK, February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, assures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 159 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of $1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the first securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and rapidly advanced.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. f22dawsm

IF YOU WOULD!

IF YOU WOULD CURE YOUR COUGH OR COLD,
At every Druggist's there is sold
A little bottle that will do it.
'TIS FREEMAN'S CURE FOR COUGH & COLD
And those who buy it don't get sold;
'Twas told to me by one who knew it.

FREEMAN'S IRON MANDRAKE SYRUP,

to impart Iron to the blood, to purify and strength on the system.

A SENSIBLE WOMAN

Told her husband, "Get me another bottle of FREEMAN'S IRON MANDRAKE SYRUP for my liver is out of order, and it does me good and I want some more." She was right, for it is just the medicine to cleanse the system, act on the liver, impart iron to the blood, and build up the health.

In addition to Iron it contains Mandrake and Vegetable Tonics, and those are the points in which it excels other iron preparations.

ALSO, FREEMAN'S CURE FOR COUGHS & COLDS. It is simple, Safe and pleasant, and is sold by Apothecaries for 25 cts. Try it.

New Hampshire Items.

A correspondent of the Monitor says "the loyal old hills of New Hampshire have furnished some of the most noble and patriotic men who have yet figured in American independence; and it is a matter of surprise to see what influence she holds over affairs of government in Washington. All eyes are now turned in your direction as the spring election approaches. Many of the faithful in Washington will visit their homes to contribute their mite towards continuing the flow of peace, freedom and liberty, during the coming contest; and it is considered certain in political circles here, that Gov. Stearns is destined to hold the reins of State for one more term at least." Of course he is.

The Monitor's Washington correspondent says, alas! that among the dazzling display and novelty of dress and fashion at Washington, "the fair daughters of the Old Granite State can be counted in the ranks of the demi-monde by the scores; whilst the 'solids,' interested more in affairs of State than fashions, are to be seen about town at all times."

The same writer says: "those enterprising and liberal gentlemen, Job Jenness & Son, the courteous proprietors of the Ocean House at Rye Beach, have just opened a new hotel at Washington, which is the general headquarters of New Hampshire people there, and is of course crowded to overflowing, it being one of the best in the city."

Andover has been much excited over an incendiary fire which took place in 1867. Henry W. Kilburn lost two barns in November of that year, with 40 tons hay, &c. Now one Frank Heath says that Eliphalet Shaw of Salisbury hired him to set them on fire, and was to pay him $3, but only had $2.88 in his pocket. Shaw is worth $7000, and was arrested, examined, and held in $2000 for trial. He had a grudge against Kilburn because he had to pay for a hive of bees his son stole from him.

About 300 men at work on the Portland and Rochester Railroad, near Rochester, on Friday, demanded higher wages, but were refused, whereupon they quit work. On Saturday they resumed to work at their old wages; the leaders of the strike, about twenty in number, were discharged.

On the 4th inst. September, just before the flood, Mr. Timothy Walcott, one of the proprietors of the Crawford House at the White Mountains, lost a fine pair of horses, which were pasturing on the Fabyan plain. They were supposed to be stolen, but on the 11th inst. some deer hunters found them, still alive, but emaciated, feeding on forest leaves and browse, about five miles northwest of Mt. Washington railway depot, near the Jefferson River. The snow in the woods there is about three feet deep, covered by a thick crust, and the horses cannot be got out until a path is broken out to reach them.

Simpson & Goodrich have lost two bridges on the Peabody River, for the third time they have been carried away this winter. They have already lost upwards of two million feet of lumber. The temporary bridge over the Peabody River, costing $500, on the road to Shelburn, was carried away. It was built last fall to replace the valuable bridge carried off by the October flood. It was so constructed that in case of high water it would part in the middle; and each side was anchored to the shore with a stout ship's cable. The result in this case was, that the ice and logs jammed against the bridge and one side swung around and was held by the cable all in good order. This can be put back for a small sum. It is the opinion of some that it is the cheaper way to maintain bridges over our mountain streams than to build expensive bridges.

Ever since Jan. 29, a man named Harris, of Hudson, has been missing. On the 23d of Feb., 125 men looked over the entire ground between Litchfield and Hudson, but found no trace of the lost man, who is thought to have become bewildered in a snow-storm and perished. Search has been given up for the present.

John Lindsey, Esq., of Lancaster has sold the American House and furniture owned by him at the corner of Main and Elm Sts., to Mr. Francis Richardson of Concord, Vt. The price paid is understood to be $8,000.

—A Letter in Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express office, says the Owyhee Wave, is superscribed as follows;

John N. Williams is the man
This letter is directed to;
Not liking Cope, from it he ran
To Silver City, Idaho.
If John keeps on as he has done
Since leaving Treasure City, O,
He'll soon fetch up in Oregon,
Or in the Bay of Biscay, O.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, Feb. 25, 1870.

Years ago I read a fable—(boys like their mental medicines thus sugar-coated,)—to effect that a man who waited for a neighbor to help him reap his grain came nigh losing his crop, by delay, until the happy thought occured to him that he might as well be doing the work with what means he could employ himself. The moral, not to depend upon others, was obvious, even without the stereotyped appendix, "moc fabula docet." Having waited for a report in your paper of the Ball of the Amoskeag Veterans, at Manchester, on the 22d, it has suddenly occurred to me that the Chronicle was not directly represented there, as is usual, and if I desire that the ball of the season in N. H. should be mentioned in your columns, I might as well mention it myself.

Contrary to the general precedent heretofore, the day for the Veterans' festivities was fine, though cold, and their exercises during the day were numerously attended. The committees to whom the arrangements for the annual ball were entrusted had discharged their duties in the most thorough manner, and when the long line of fair women and brave men [I come under one of those heads, or else I would not dare to write this] marched into Smyth's Hall, headed by the Adjutant General, followed by Governors, Ex-Governors, and other small fry, they found all needful requisites for a night of rational enjoyment. The decorations of the hall were lighter than last year and had a decidedly better effect. The company was large, including considerable parties from Hartford, Worcester, Boston, Concord and Nashua, yet the floor was rarely crowded in such a manner as to inconvenience the dancers. The music, by Dignam's Band assisted by several Boston musicians, was excellent, and the whole details of the levee in admirable taste. The dress of the ladies embraced much variety, many wearing rich garments and costly jewelry, while others were clad in simpler tissues and wore nature's jewels — fresh flowers. Trails, those abominations of the hall room, were scarce, but I managed to step upon nearly all there were there. After an excellent supper at mine host Hasselton's, the dancing was continued with great zest until nearly daybreak

I won't say that Portsmouth was not well represented, though I noticed but few of her residents in the hall.—Col. Pickering and Capt. Sanborn and lady.

To Gen. Head and Col. Clark all the visitors from other cities are much indebted, and I wish to thank them for many courtesies. Manchester may well be proud of its Veterans, and the corps are fortunate in having so many members who are alive to the importance of doing well whatever they undertake.

Fechter is winning many friends in Boston, playing Hamlet on the same stage where Booth was supposed to have so often given the character its most perfect representation. Little Em'ly, at Selwyn's, is more and more successful; the cathedral and shipwreck scenes being great triumphs of scenic art. The variety entertainments at the Howard and the Adelphi draw admiring crowds. Of the Sunday amusements, Mr. Murray's lectures at the Music Hall draw the best.

Business is quiet, and the question of a return to specie payment seems to be solving itself, so I shall not bother my head about that problem, anymore than I shall about the day of the week which July 4 of the year 2000 will fall upon. I don't expect to be there, so I don't believe it will fall upon me. M.

THE DOGS.—Hon. James M. Burbank has brought a suit against Simon Milliken of Saco, the owner of the dog which so terribly bit Miss Burbank, a week since,—laying damages at $5,000. The young lady was just leaving Milliken's house, (he being the depot master at Saco,) and it may make some difference in the case, whether the attack was made in the street or in the yard of the dog's owner. The savage, terrible brute broke his chain to get at her.

A number of boys playing near the old "Arch bridge," Biddeford, seeing a large Newfoundland dog coming along, threw some chips over the bridge. In a moment the dog was in the water after them, and the current being so swift he was carried under a cake of ice and drowned. He was a very large and noble animal.

—The Kennebec Journal says that all but five of the one hundred and nine paupers in Augusta, owe their present position directly to the use of intoxicating liquors.

—George W. Grant of Lyman, Me., has a native sheep that in Feb., 1869, gave birth to four lambs; and Feb. 12th, 1870, gave birth to four more. Prolific, that.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected and abandoned SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. THOUGHTS.

I sit, at twilight's pensive hour,
When sunset rays have fled,
And muse o'er nature's works and power,
The living and the dead.

The changing scenes of earthly life,
Its sorrow, and its joy—
What heart is fraught with pleasure rife,
Without the least alloy?

When clouds obscure the mental sky;
And shadows thickly fall,
How blest is Faith, whose piercing eye,
Sees far beyond them all!

Winter, so cheerless to the lorn,
Has sunshine in its charm;
The flimsy garb, by Penury worn,
Hides feelings deep and warm.

The leafless trees in morning ray
Bedecked with silvery sheen,
Are beautiful as spring's bright day,
With buds and blossoms seen.

I love each varied plant and flower,
In woodland field or dell;
The clustering vine, with shading power,
The morning's purple bell.

They rest beneath the wintry snow;
A power divine doth keep
The loved Arbutus, in its glow,
The first to wake from sleep.

And they whose faces never more,
Nor forms, we may behold,
Will wait as on the shining shore,
Each loved one to enfold.

Where friendship will be known in worth,
Pure as the fount of love;
No frailties, nor the sins of earth.
Will mar those courts above.

They crossed the river deep and wide—
How changed each visage seemed;
While sad farewells and rending sigh
Were hushed in bliss, Supreme.

Greenland, Feb. 25.

SPRING FASHIONS.—The importers of millinery goods have this week opened their spring importations of French pattern bonnets and hats, &c. The French bonnets are very small, with little crowns and narrow capes, and when seen off the head it is difficult to imagine how they are to be worn; but they can be arranged upon the top of the head, with the cape resting on the high chignon. It is too early in the season to decide what colors will be most worn, and which one will be the favorite. All the fashionable colors which were worn last season are still in vogue. Two new colors have been brought out in millinery; the one called capoul, a very light shade of yellowish green; the other is a blending of the two colors pink and tea-rose; but whether they will win favor or not remains to be seen.

White chipis again introduced, but it is doubtful if it becomes more of a favorite than last year, most ladies preferring the gossamer-like fabrics for summer wear.

Round hats are not attractive in shape. They have high sugar-loaf crowns, the brims turning up slightly in front. Some of them have the crowns pointed, which can be crushed if desired; but this will not make them any prettier.—N. Y. Evening Post.

TRAGEDY.—We are reminded of an incident in our own early experience, touching the stage, that had some fun in it. The tragedian Adams was performing with a company in the old town of Portsmouth, and was giving tragical representations, in which department of the drama he was supposed to excel. We remember Othello, and Macbeth, and Richard, done in the old Assembly-Room, and they were done, rare. But, of them all, Richard was the most taking. The hump on the back, combined with the length of the performer's legs and the splendor of the regal dress, formed a picture calculated to make a lasting impression.

The first night of its performance, as the tall tragedian paced the stage, his height increased by the limited capacity of the stage vertically, uttering the complaint about his malformation and saying that the very "dogs do bark at me," a little cur in the front seat of the auditorium, as if he were appealed to, set up a furious barking. The audience, convulsed at the opportune bark, roared tumultuously, and the crook-backed tyrant's points were all lost. He looked daggers at the dog, but the dog, satisfied that he had done a pretty good thing, took no further notice till the tent scene, when Richard in frenzy rushes to the foot-lights and demands "another horse."

This was too much for the dog. His voice was louder than the tragedian's, and yelping furiously he defied the tinsel tyrant as he knelt, his sword trembling in his hand. 'Twas but a moment thus, when, rising enraged, he raised his sword in the most tragical manner, and, brandishing it over his head, snarled out in the most approved stage authority, "The d— dog must go out!" The cur was removed, very much against his will, and the play went on.—Am. Union.

— The East Greenwich Pendulum records the death of Betsey Hunt of North Kingstown, and says: — "She died, apparently, early in the day, and while some of her neighbors were engaged in laying her out, the corpse, as it was supposed to be, commenced winking, and finally rallied and lived several hours, when she died again!"

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for use; fulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE AMERICAN FAMILY
KNITTING MACHINE,
Is presented to the public as the most Simple, Durable, and Compact and Cheap Knitting Machine ever invented.
PRICE ONLY, $25.
This Machine will run either backward or forward with equal facility; makes the same stitch as by hand, but far superior in every respect.
Will knit 20,000 Stitches in a minute,
and do perfect work, leaving every knot on the inside of the work. It will knit a pair of stockings (any size) in less than half an hour. It will knit Close or Open, plain or Ribbed work, with any kind of coarse or fine wooled yarn, or cotton, silk or linen. It will knit stockings with double heel and toe, drawers, hoods, sacks, smoking Caps, comforts, purses, muffs, fringe, afghans, nubias, undersleeves, mittens, skating caps, lamp wicks, mats, cord, undershirts, shawls, jackets, cradle blankets, leggins, suspenders, wristers, tidies, tippets, tufted work, and in fact an endless variety of articles in every day use, as well as for ornament.
FROM $5 TO $10 PER DAY
Can be made by any one with the American Knitting Machine, knitting stockings, &c., while experienced operators can even make more, knitting fancy work, which always commands a ready sale. A person can readily knit from twelve to fifteen pairs of stockings per day, the profit on which will be not less than forty cents per pair.
FARMERS
Can sell their wool at only forty to fifty cents per pound, but by getting the wool made into yarn at a small expense, and knitting it into socks, two or three dollars per pound may be realized. On receipt of $25 we will forward a machine as ordered.
We wish to procure active AGENTS in every section of the United States and Canadas, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered. Address,

THE NEW ENGLAND FAMILY MEDICINE.
DODD'S NERVINE,
AND INVIGORATOR.
A THOROUGH TONIC AND STOMACHIC,
And expressly adapted to the relief and permanent cure of all forms of
NERVOUS DISEASE, &c., &c.,
Coughs, Colds, Fores, Agues, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Diarrhœa, Consumption, Neuralgia, Headache, Convulsions, Sleeplessness, Female Weaknesses, Fainting Fits, Palpitation, Restlessness, Dizziness, Children's Troubles &c., &c., &c.
Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights,
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicine.
TO LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Children's Diseases.
FOR WHOOPING COUGH Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH, and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fire of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. f17 4w

To the inhabitants of Ward No. ONE in the City of Portsmouth, in said County, qualified to vote for Senators in said State:

[L. S.]

YOU are hereby notified to meet at the Ward Room in Elm street, in said Ward, on the second TUESDAY of March next at nine o'clock in the forenoon, for the following purposes:

To bring in your votes for Governor, Railroad Commissioner, Councillor, Senator, County Treasurer, Register of Deeds, and County Commissioner.

To choose by ballot four persons to represent said City in the General Court of said State the ensuing year.

To take the sense of the voters on the following questions, viz:

I. "Is it expedient to establish the county of Amoskeag, agreeably to the act introduced at the June Session, 1869, of the Legislature?"

II. "Is it expedient to establish the county of Monadnock, agreeably to the act introduced at the June Session, 1869, of the Legislature?"

III. Is it expedient that a convention be called to revise the constitution?

That said convention be limited in its compensation and mileage to that now allowed members of the legislature for travel and six days' attendance, and that the same be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and the governor be authorized to draw his warrant on the treasury therefor, and that the legislature recommend that the action of the convention be limited to the following particulars:

1st. To abolish all religious tests as qualifications for office.

2d. To diminish the number of members of the house of representatives.

3d. To increase the number of members of the senate so that the whole number shall not exceed thirty-five.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1870.

DEMOCRATIC DISORGANIZATION.—The action of the Democratic State committee in advising their followers to help the Labor Reform faction, has upset their decanter and the provisions are lying about loose. Did ever a sane man hear of such stupidity on the part of leaders of any party? The convention met and unanimously re-nominated John Bedel for Governor, and now the committee wish to ignore him and go for Flint.

The Strawberry Bank hand organ shrieks with rage and expresses itself thuswise.

We denounce this as the vilest and blackest treason to principle and the men engaged in it are traitors to both. We care not who they are, they deserve political death and damnation, and it shall be no fault of ours if they don't get both in full and ample measure. It is the most infamous of al lthe rascality we ever heard of in the politics of this country, and its connivers, sliders and abbettors ought to be branded with a mark of execration worse than that which the Almighty put upon Cain, the murderer of his brother. It is demoralization and death to the Democratic party by the hands of political parricides.

John Bedel is the Democratic candidate, fairly and legally so. No matter whether he is the best man for the place or not. The Convention settled that question. The State Committee were chosen to manage the campaign according to their best judgment so as to secure if possible, the election of Mr. Bedel as Governor and nobody else. And now do they undertake to swap him off for an old wind-broken, wheezy nag who never travelled an inch on the Democratic track in his life and don't know the road? Thirty-seven thousand Democrats of New Hampshire to be sold out for the benefit of a little noisy side-show? A loud, long, deep blistering curse and ten thousand of them too, on all such treason.

The Concord Patriot, though not so bilious in expression nor so fruitful in adjectives, wades into the the Committee with a perfect looseness. "And first and foremost of all, we do deny the authority of the State Committee to take any such action as they are reported to have taken. The State Convention appointed this Committee as their agents to carry out that pledge. Such being the case, it is not only a bold usurpation of power on the part of this Committee to assume to virtually set aside the nomination, but it is a direct violation of the pledge to its support given by the party.

The attempt to defeat Stearns and at the same time to place Flint above Bedel, cannot succeed; and if we undertake it we shall surely "roll in the dirt for nothing." Indeed, its bare suggestion has given strength and courage to the Radicals, and if it is persisted in it will, we sincerely believe, ensure the election of Stearns. The Democracy of New Hampshire will not consent to be transferred like cattle in the market, and hundreds of them, in disgust and indignation at this supposed attempt to do it, will stay away from the polls, and others, in their hot anger, will vote for Stearns. We have already heard many men declare their purpose to do so, if this scheme is adopted.

And more than all, the adoption of the scheme necessitates the disruption and virtual annihilation of the Democratic party. To give Flint more votes than Bedel and at the same time defeat Stearns, he must get at least 15,000 Democratic votes; and to "make a sure thing of it," as many more will be given him as possible. And where and in what plight will this leave the grand old Democratic party? It leaves it a disorganized body of less than 15,000 men, without a head and literally "lying around loose." It leaves it in a position of utter disruption, and in a more hopeless condition than that of their brethren in either Massachusetts or Vermont.

We believe our friends greatly overestimat the number of Republicans who will support the Labor Reform ticket, and that this scheme will tend to materially diminish that number; and we believe that the only hope of defeating the Radicals rests upon our firm and united support of our own candidate."

At an immense meeting at Phenix Hall, Concord, Monday evening, Geo. A. Pillsbury, Esq., of Concord, presided. Mr. Pillsbury said that doubtless the audience was surprised to see him occupying the position he did. It surprised himself as much as it could possibly surprise his friends, but as the democratic party had sold out to the labor reform organization, no alternative was left for honest democrats but to vote for Mr. Stearns. That he proposed doing, and he judged that thousands of democrats in the State would do the same thing.

So goes the political battle. Many Republicans who had entered the Labor Reform faction have left it within the past ten days, and prominent politicians now claim that Gov. Stearns will be re-elected, by 3000 majority over the combined Democratic, Labor Reform and Temperance candidates.

NEWCASTLE ALE RIGHT.—The Democracy of Newcastle, like their friends throughout the State, are thoroughly demoralized. Gov. Stearns had 8 majority there last March. On Tuesday last, the Republicans cast 46 votes for town officers, but the Democracy didn't put in an appearance, and the Republican candidates had an unanimous vote. Good for Newcastle and bad for the Flint-Bedel-ians. This section of the Granite State will largely increase the majority for Gov. Stearns next Tuesday. Portsmouth Republicans talk of nearly doubling their majority of last year.

☞ Rev. Nicholas Medbery has resigned the office of City Missionary, to take effect April 1. His long and faithful service here will be kindly and gratefully remembered by many friends who have been benefactors and supporters of the Mission, and by not a few of those who have been relieved or aided by his ministry.

Snaps.

A despatch from Minister Motley, Tuesday morning, announces the loss of the United States steamer Oneida and 120 men by collision with the British mail steamer Bombay, 15 miles off Yokohama. The latter was not much injured. Fifty six persons were saved.

Mr. Burlingame's remains are to be brought to this country.

The San Francisco earthquake cured a headache for Ole Bull.

☞ The Concord Monitor has come to the conclusion that there is a "possibility that there may be a failure to elect a Governor, and perhaps other State officers, by the popular vote." We don't fear any such result. We have too much faith in the sound good sense and intelligence of the people of New Hampshire, to believe that they will allow Gov. Stearns or any Republican State officer, to be defeated on the popular ballot.

A TRUE STATEMENT.—One of our democratic exchanges says:—

Upon the cry of Retrenchment and Reform, Andrew Jackson was elected to the Presidency.

Exactly: but the only Retrenchment which was actually made, was to retrench (or leave off) the title-pages of the Public Documents. Other expenses, generally, were much increased: no one diminished.

And the principal Reform was, in throwing the Post Office Department into confusion and Bankruptcy.

The great cry after Jackson's election was, To the Victors belong the Spoils. And when an officer, removed without cause, complained, the cry was Root Hog or Die.

☞ The Chicago Times has severely criticized the indecencies of the Lydia Thompson troupe which has been playing there. The managers replied by posters on all the bill boards, stigmatizing Mr. W. F. Storey, the publisher of the Times, as a liar and coward. But this action did not fill the measure of their revenge, and subsequently, Miss Thompson, Miss Markham, Mr. Henderson, the manager, and others, lay in wait for Mr. Storey near his house, with a view of horse-whipping him. Miss Thompson struck him once or twice, when he took the whip from her, and then Henderson came up, and dealt him a blow with the butt end of a large cow hide. Mr. Storey succeeded in taking this away from him, when the party retreated, but the principals in the affray were taken in charge by the police and locked up. Justice Summerfield fined Misses Lydia Thompson and Markham, and Mr. Henderson $100 each, and the other two $10 each, for disorderly conduct. The assailants were afterwards arrested on a charge of riot and furnished bail in the sum of $500 to keep the peace.

DID'NT CONNECT.—The Temperance people of Rochester were disappointed in not having Rev. Mr. Barrows to address them on Tuesday evening. Mr. B. telegraphed from Epping, that the trains "did'nt connect," and he was consequently left behind.—Courier.

That will be the way on Election day. None of these side parties will connect unless they take the regular Republican train.

☞ A Branch of the Evangelical Alliance has been formed in Boston; the committee to nominate officers consisted of Rev. Drs. Anderson (Congregationalist), Sampson (Baptist,) Nicholson (Episcopal), Mr. Haven (Methodist), and J. B. Dunn (Presbyterian). Besides those named the Alliance includes the Freewill Baptists; and various other trinitarian sects:—but no others.

☞ The Lancet denounces the medical prescription of liquor for debility, merely as such, and says "many patients are driven into drunkenness or lunacy, or both, by the careless folly of advisers who have no better reason for the prescription of large doses of alcohol, than the fact that many diseases are attended with nervous weakness. The assumption involved, that so much ingested alcohol is necessarily so much added nervous strength, is a serious fallacy."

☞ Brooks' cane has proved a boomerang, and Wise hung himself when he thought he was hanging John Brown. The logic of events has drawn conclusions quite unlike the anticipations of those who perpetrated the brutal promises. Think of a negro Senator (Revels) revelling in the seat of Jeff Davis, too! Good, so.

☞ Mr. Seward has been to Alaska, and pronounces it a very delightful and profitable country,—rich in timber, fur and seal fisheries, and of mild climate.

—A friend says he knows of but one branch of business which is very profitable and but little followed, and that is, "mind your own business," and not be meddling with other people's.

TO STONE CONTRACTORS.

PROPOSALS for furnishing the City of Boston with STONE PAVING-BLOCKS. Sealed Proposals will be received at the Office of the Superintendent of Streets, City Hall, Boston, Mass., until March 17th, 1870, for supplying the City of Boston with STONE PAVING-BLOCKS during the year 1870. The blocks to be of the following dimensions, viz:—

Width, 3½ to 4½ in. Length, 6 to 8 in. Depth, 7 to 8 inches.

All the edges to be sharp and straight, forming right angles at their intersections both horizontally and vertically. The faces to be straight split, and free from bunches or depressions.

Proposals to state the price per thousand blocks delivered on such wharf in the city proper, South and East Boston, as may be designated from time to time by the Superintendent of Streets. Also, the number of blocks which the proposer will deliver per month during the year. A sample of the blocks must accompany the proposal.

Proposals to be addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Proposals for furnishing City of Boston with Stone Paving-Blocks."

The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals. GEO. O. CARPENTER, 14tmh2 Chairman Committee on Paving.

Boston, Mass., March 1st, 1870.

THE TURF CONGRESS RULES.—The rules and by-laws framed and adopted by the Turf Congress at New York are to be submitted to the various Trotting Associations for approval or disapproval. We presume that every Association will sustain the action of the Congress, therefore have no apprehensions in regard to the final adoption of the rules. Action on the matter should be prompt, in order that the code may become the accepted law in all races that will be inaugurated with the genial sunshine of Spring.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Mothers who have been compelled to forego the pleasure of nursing their infants in consequence of ulcerated nipples, broken breasts, or any other of the painful disorders which affect those tender and delicate organs, will obtain immediate relief from the cooling, healing, and cleansing operation of HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT, and the effect of the local remedy may be aided by moderate doses of the Pills. Sold by all Druggists.

What Does Reason Say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does.

The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials, assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautiful black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen PROF. CHILTON'S TESTIMONY. Founded on a careful analysis, and certifying that Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is not only a first-class article for changing the color of the hair, but

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says; "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Numbness, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

Price 50 cts. Sold by the Druggists, Depot 10 Park Place, N. Y. ja13dawlm

☞ Mr. W. I. Trafton is to give a Promenade Concert on Wednesday evening, March 16, at Congress Hall. Music by the Cornet Band and Tompson's Quadrille Band.

☞ Among the officers supposed to have been lost on the U. S. S. Oneida, off Yokohama, were Paymaster Thomas L. Tullock Jr., of this city, and 1st. Assistant Engineer Haviland Barstow formerly on duty at the Navy Yard. Both officers had many warm friends here, who yet hope they may be among the list of the saved.

ELECTION RETURNS.—We ask as a special favor, that town clerks, selectmen, or other friends in the neighboring towns, will send us the detailed result of their vote, immediately on the closing of the polls. Give us the Governor and Representative vote in full, with the names and politics of Representatives. We should also like lists of Town Officers, with their politics.

☞ The streets of Portsmouth have never been so clear of cows as during the last year, thanks to Poundkeeper Shillaber and his backers. It is bad enough to have cows driven through the streets at all, or kept in the compact part of any city—without allowing them to range at will, at any season—which last no gentleman would ever wish to allow, in town or country, even.

☞ Some citizens think that to both tax and license Dogs, is a hardship. But why not? The tax on other animals does not permit them to run at large; and so long as dogs are kept on their owners' premises, they do not require license, more than hogs or cows.

It is only when at large in the streets, that they need this protection from destruction. We learn the City Marshal has licensed upwards of 100 dogs, at $1 each for the year, from July to next July.

☞ Speaking of Dogs, we are told that City Marshal Heald, of Portland, a couple of years ago collected more than a hundred curs in that city, and sent them to this city in a freight car, and had them turned loose here—and this for a joke on our City Marshal, to whom he sent a day or two after, inquiring the price of dogs! We wish he might have a bite from each of the (curs)es he inflicted on us.

WORKINGMEN, who are not willing to be made tools of by the half and half Labor-Reform-Flint movement, and who desire to understand the circumstances under which the Labor League of this State was formed, should attend the meeting of laboring men at the Ward Room in Ward Two, State Street, this (Wednesday) evening. Mr. Daniel S. Holt of Manchester, President of the State Central Committee of the League, who will address the meeting, is a man of the people, a workman himself, who though an eloquent speaker, toils daily, as do the people he represents. Mr. Holt is no political wire-puller, but is engaged in undeceiving the few who have been misled into supporting the new repudiation movement. Go and see him, and judge for yourselves.

☞ The Boston Transcript says that the decision of the Supreme Court of Maine, in the P. S. & P. Railroad case—that the extra dividends belong to holders of the stock at the time the money shall be ordered paid by the Directors,—that is, as we understand it, now,—accords with the views entertained by most business men.

No doubt of it—but while the event proves fortunate for this Road, it would be rather tough for the Eastern and Boston & Maine, but for the fact that their lease of the P. S. & P. is cheap enough even at gold figures. It has always been understood that the stipulation that dividends should be paid "in gold and silver coin of the currency of the United States," was inserted in the lease by the President of the Road, ex-Gov. Goodwin; but doubtless it was intended merely as a general provision of details, and not anticipating such a contingency as it actually and happily meets.

BLOSSOMS IN A BOTTLE, BUT NOT FROM "THE BOTTLE."—A neighbor of ours had a limb blown off an apple-tree, in the storm four weeks ago. He cut from it a healthy looking twig a foot long, and placed it in a bottle of water 5 inches deep. A week ago there were five or six buds about blossoming. He then added a very little phospate to the water. At this time there are two very handsome blossoms on one branch,—but the other buds have perished.—The stimulus that was borne easily by the stronger buds, was fatal to the weaker. Probably the water, with perhaps a little common earth, would have preserved all the buds, and brought forth blossoms.

AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.—The citizens of Manchester met Saturday evening, to take measures for securing the New England Fair for that city, this year. It is probable the citizens of Manchester will give two or three thousand dollars, if necessary, to secure the Fair there. How much would our citizens give to have it held here?

Messrs. J. H. Butler and C. H. Hayes were appointed, at a recent meeting of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society in this city, a committee to confer with the officers of the N. H. State Agr. Society, relative to holding the State Fair in Portsmouth next Fall. Unless it should be held at Manchester, with the N. E. Society, the State Fair will probably be held in either this city or Great Falls.

How much will our citizens give for that? There is no other city but this, that we know of, where the citizens are not called upon to contribute funds to aid Fairs; but here the Society has thus far borne all or nearly all the burden themselves.

"CLOSE" THEOLOGY.—It has always been the peculiarity of a certain kind of theological teaching, that it inverts all the normal principles of judgment, and absolutely destroys intellectual diffidence. On other subjects we find, if not a respect for honest conviction, at least some sense of the amount of knowledge that is requisite to entitle men to express an opinion on grave controversies. A complete ignorance of the subject matter of a dispute restrains the confidence of dogmatism, and an ignorant person who is aware that, by much reading and thinking in spheres of which he has himself no knowledge, his educated neighbor has modified or rejected opinions which that ignorant person has been taught, will, at least, if he is a man of sense or modesty, abstain from compassionating the benighted condition of his more instructed friend.

But on theological questions this has never been so. Unfaltering belief being taught as the first of duties, and all doubt being usually stigmatized as criminal or damnable, a state of mind is formed to which we find no parallel in other fields. Many men and most women, though completely ignorant of the very rudiments of biblical criticism, historical research, or scientific discoveries, though they have never read a single page, or understood a single proposition of the writings of those whom they condemn, and have absolutely no rational knowledge either of the arguments by which their faith is defended, or of those by which it has been impugned, will nevertheless adjudicate with the utmost confidence upon every polemical question, denounce, hate, pity, or pray for the conversion of all who dissent from what they have been taught, assume, as a matter beyond the faintest possibility of doubt, that the opinions they have received without enquiry must be true, and that the opinions which others have arrived at by enquiry must be false, and make it a main object of their lives to assail what they call heresy in every way in their power, except by examining the ground on which it rests. It is probable that the great majority of voices that swell the clamor against every book which is regarded as heretical, are the voices of those who would deem it criminal even to open that book, or to enter into any real, searching, and impartial investigation of the subject to which it relates.

Innumerable pulpits support this tone of thought, and represent, with a fervid rhetoric well fitted to excite the nerves and imaginations of women, the deplorable condition of all who deviate from a certain type of conditions or of emotions: a blind propagandism or a secret wretchedness penetrates into countless households, poisoning the peace of families, chilling the natural confidence of husband and wife, adding immeasurably to the difficulties which every searcher into truth has to encounter, and diffusing far and wide intellectual timidity, disingenuousness and hypocracy.—Lecky's "Morals," vol. 2.

☞ The Republican caucuses for the nomination of Representatives to the legislature meet on Friday evening of this week; Ward Two at the State St. Ward Room at seven o'clock.

MAPLE SYRUP—For sale by f9 BUTLER & LAIGHTON.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,

Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. f22dawsm

Morning Chronicle.

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW.—Speech of Hon. J. H. Ela in the U. S. House of Representatives, on the Public Printing. We copy from the Congressional Globe.

(Mr. Ela.) The gentleman (Mr. Dawes) is mistaken that any new printing has been ordered at the Government Printing Office since the present incumbent has held the office of Superintendent. The law provides that all the printing of all the Departments and the binding of all the Departments shall be done at the Public Printing Office; and the gentleman will find that instead of any additional burden upon the Treasury the expenditure has been actually diminished. It will be found there are $10,000 less for paper than during the year before.

The gentleman is also mistaken in the statement that the Patent Office specifications have never before been done there. They were ordered to be done there as early as June, 1868.

But what I wish to say in connection with this matter is this: that the Government printing has increased from $401,000 in 1868 up to $489,000 for the year 1869, while the amount of paper consumed in the Government printing has not increased in anything like that proportion. I wish to say further that the printing for the several Departments of the Government for the last year amounted to $291,000, while for the preceding year the amount of printing done for the several Departments of the Government was $242,000. And this does not include the item of paper at all, but merely the printing.

On the other hand, the printing done for Congress has diminished for the last year instead of increased. The number of pages printed in 1868 was 61,986, and the number of pages printed by order of Congress for 1869 was 54,258: the expense of which for 1868 was $194,259, and for 1869 $173,209 22; showing that the printing ordered by Congress has actually been diminished last year over the previous year, while that for the Departments has increased. Why this increase I cannot tell, from the fact that they have used no more paper than the year before.

But, sir, I find on looking at the reports of the Public Printer all sorts of discrepancies in stating his accounts. If we add the amount paid for the printing for the Departments and the amount paid for the printing for Congress we find it falls short by many thousands of what he states to be the amount expended for the public printing. This is a matter I have been entirely unable to account for. They have a practice in that department of charging for printing the prices that were paid before that printing office was established; and if there has been profit the cost of the printing should be less than the amount they charge.

Mr. Sargent of California (formerly of Newburyport) in his argument says:

I have only one further remark to make, and it is that recently the ten-hour system has been changed for the eight-hour system. The result is that it costs twenty per cent. more for all the labor done in the Public Printing Office, and when gentlemen vote here for the eight-hour law they must understand that they have got to add twenty per cent. to all such bills as this for the employment of laborers in the different Departments.

(Mr. Ela.) I rise to oppose the amendment, and I wish to state this fact, that instead of an immense amount of work coming down from the Post Office Department to increase the necessity for an appropriation, if gentlemen will look at the report of the Congressional Printer for themselves they will find that in 1868 there was $55,000 worth of printing done for that Department, while it was diminished in 1869 to $50,000, so that instead of there being an increase in the amount of printing done for the Post Office Department, the amount last year was $25,000 less than the year previous. And so in regard to the matter of binding. Instead of there being an increase in the amount of binding done for the Treasury Department, in consequence of these blank-books which have been spoken of, if you look at the report of the Congressional Printer you will find that the binding for the Treasury Department in 1868 cost $99,000, while for the last year it was diminished to $76,000; showing, if the report of the Congressional Printer is to be relied upon at all, that with the diminished business of these Departments comes a diminished amount of printing and binding, and that there is no necessity for this increased demand of the Printing Office.

I can account for some of the extravagance of that place. It is the place where the specifications of the Patent Office are printed. The cost is not in the work done by the printer, but in the supernumeraries packed in there and holding places at high pay.

Now, when the gentleman from California [Mr. Sargent] talks about the increased cost of the printing coming from the Department in consequence of the eight-hour system of labor inaugurated by law, if he will examine the number of pages printed during the years 1868 and 1869 he will find that the printing has cost no more under the eight-hour law than under the ten-hour law. During three months of the time reported under the year 1868 the eight-hour law was in operation in that office. Therefore, for three months of that time, while these specifications were printed at the Government Printing Office, the work was done under the eight-hour law.

In the year 1868 there were printed 61,986 pages at a cost of $194,267 88; in 1869 there were printed 54,258 pages at a cost of $173,209 22. And if any confidence whatever can be placed in this report of the Congressional Printer, then it costs no more under the eight-hour law than it did before that time under the ten-hour law.

It appears that while Mr. Ela is in favor of retrenchment and economy in our public affairs, that he also has an eye to the interest of the working-men. He favored the "eight-hour" men and successfully combatted Mr. Sargent of California and others, in the House, who desired to have ten hours substituted for the present number of hours, for labor.

His statistics relation to the Congressional printing, cannot be contradicted; to use his own expression "it costs no more under the 'eight-hour' than it did under the ten-hour law."

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Discussion on Manures.—At a meeting of the Exeter Horticultural Society, Saturday evening, President W. P. Moulton opened the discussion by saying that in 1820. farmers raised 100 bushels of corn to the acre; a great difference between that and the amount now raised. No more work is required to raise 100 bushels to the acre than 50, except the husking. The same quantity of manure will produce different results under similar circumstances; for instance, that from fat cattle, or cattle in good order, will produce more bountiful crops than an equal quantity from poor cattle. Difference in feeding cattle makes a great difference in the value of their manure, that from those fed on meal or grain being the best.

Mr. D. F. Hayes thinks the seasons being colder, open lands (not protected by trees), more wind and cold, and later springs, all tend to retard and lessen the crops.

S. D. Lane considers that marl or muck, when hauled into a pile and allowed to remain two or three years exposed to the sun, and to freezing and thawing, looses the acidity or sourness, and becomes sweet; and that when put into the barnyard and allowed to remain a year or two, and kept well stirred, it makes a dressing far superior to any patent fertilizer he ever tried. [Mr. Lane has always raised early and good crops.]

John J. Bell, Esq., enquired why some grounds will not yield good corn crops?

Mr. Lane replied that on stony, clayey ground, neither good crops of corn nor anything else can be raised.

G. Gilman said black muck is a great addition to many farms,—an almost indispensable article,—equal in some respects to a coal mine or an oil well.

W. A. Currier thought white muck as good as black. John Flanegan has dug out from under peat beds good white muck, consisting of mineral and vegetable matter, which makes a good fertilizer.

H. Kent believes that manure from the hog yard is best for corn, especially in a wet season or on moist land; but prefers to have it well sprinkled with ashes,—and also applies ashes once or twice to the hill.

Subject for next meeting, Potatoes.

EXETER, Feb. 28. C.

SHERIDAN'S RIDE.—Sheridan rode a powerfully built horse, and rode him on a gallop. When the General was in Mississippi, 1862, there was presented to him a black colt not yet four years old, of course not fully furnished, but even a very large horse every way. He was called a Morgan Black Hawk—we all know how much that means. Young as he was, Sheridan began to use him at once, and rode him, off and on with horses, all through the war. He trotted and galloped. Though bearing no traces of blood, and (probably) possessing no great speed, he showed remarkable endurance, and could keep up a hand-gallop for hours.

The distance from Winchester to the original battle-field was twenty miles, but as Sheridan's army had been driven back four and a half miles, the actual "ride" was but fifteen and a half, and the time was an hour and a half. This is hardly a pace that would require a blood horse. Indeed it sounds rather slow, especially considering that the General is a small man and a light weight; but it was fast enough to tail off all his escort of twenty men. Sheridan did not ride on the road itself, which was blocked up with men and wagons, but over the fields close to the road. (The military operations had destroyed the fences.) He was on a hand-gallop most of the way. Just before he arrived at the scene of action an orderly met him with a gray-pacer, but the General had no time to "swap horses," and remained on his black till well into the afternoon, just before his onward movement. Then he took the gray.

At Chickamauga Sheridan rode a pacing mare. At Missionary Ridge he captured a gray horse from General Breckinridge, and rode him for some time. These different horses—blacks and grays, runners, trotters and pacers—seem to have been slightly mixed up in the minds of those who knew the General, and hence, probably, the discrepancies in the accounts of his mount at Winchester.—Turf, Field and Farm.

—A school master asked one of his fair pupils, "Can you decline a kiss?" Dropping a perplexed courtesy, she readily replied, "Yes, sir, but I don't like to."

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA"

SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S YACHT CLUB

SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the Choicest leaf grown; it is anti-nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and in weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourself it is all it claims to be, THE FINEST OF ALL.

LORILLARD'S CENTURY

CHEWING TOBACCO.—This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on these rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is new pending. Such uniform success proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26.

Messrs. Editors:—This city is well known to many of your readers, thro' commercial intercourse. Thousands of bushels of potatoes have sailed down the Piscataqua on their way to a market here; and many a cargo of corn and flour left this port in ye olden time, consigned to the stately merchants of old Portsmouth. There are many very fine buildings in the business parts of the city, and the dwellings of the wealthy classes are substantial, elegant and comfortable.

The streets are well paved, and kept scrupulously clean, but the stepping stones at the intersection of many of the most frequented streets, present an appearance quite novel to a stranger; and it is an amusing sight to see a fair "brudder" hopping from stone to stone across the street. The dear creatures cross on them in dry times, to become experts in the art, so that they can cross without fear when the streets are flooded with water, as is frequently the case. The stones are about eighteen inches high, and within easy stepping distance of each other; they are an effectual check to fast driving, as a horse has to be carefully guided between two stones, drawing the wheels of the carriage between other four.

The market, where every conceivable thing in the line of provisions, including cooked food, game, poultry and fish, are exposed for sale,—with its one-story continuation, seems to be as long as your Washington Street. The space on the east side of the building is also filled with the teams of country dealers. The strictest order seems to prevail, and although the stalls and carts are thronged by every imaginable kind of people, there is no confusion; every person seems intent on business. There can be no better field for the study of human nature than Baltimore affords on a market day.

The 22nd was observed here as a holiday, business being entirely suspended. The steamer Monarch, at Annapolis, and the skating rinks, attracted the attendance of the citizens; ferry boats were run all day to and from the ironclad, carrying a great many visitors to Capt. Commerell.—The skaters and ice dealers are rejoicing together over the severe cold snap with which February is taking its departure.

A Methodist Society has bought a large block of brick houses, on a corner facing the famous Washington Monument, at a cost of $100,000, intending to erect a splendid church after the removal of the dwellings.—A New Hampshire man, Mr. E. Walton Russell, in business here, has invented and patented an "Automatic Tumbler Washer," designed to be used on soda-water stands and other places of similar character, where tumblers are constantly in use. It is an elegant and useful appendage for the counters of druggists. It is beautifully silver plated, and washes glasses inside and out, rinsing them in clean water before the customers' eyes, saving a great deal of time.

The hotels of the city are good buildings and well kept, Barnum's being the principal one. The host knows how to (and does) keep it well. It is a large and elegant brick structure, conveniently arranged, and well lighted and warmed. Within its spacious dining room, which is one of the pleasantest I ever visited, one is reminded of the superb Continental in Philadelphia, which it closely resembles; indeed it is not excelled even there, in the variety and excellence of the viands which tempt the eyes and appease the hunger of the numerous guests. Eastern men visiting Baltimore cannot do better than to call at "Barnum's;" the rooms are good, the waiters attentive and the charges reasonable.

The Masonic fraternity have a large and costly Temple, and are in a flourishing condition; and welcome visiting brethren with great cordiality.—There is an immense business in canning oysters done here, increasing every year. Why can you not start some similar enterprise in Portsmouth? Lobsters are abundant along your every shore, and are in great demand all over the country. Portsmouth has the reputation of doing well whatever it undertakes; several of your home productions stand high in the various markets to which they find access, though in limited quantities.

Yours, B.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
